Friends of the Library plan

American Homes tour and lunch

A guided tour of American Homes from 1700-1860 is one of the varied events to see at the Chicago Historical Society Thursday, January 15 when the Friends of the Library visit there. Bus transportation will be provided to the museum as well as to the unique Victorian House Restaurant for lunch, a dining experience made memorable by the beautiful collections of antiques and memorabilia from the Chrysler home, the Marbo and Century Theatres, the Pullman and Shedd mansions and Al Capone's nightclub. The completely restored Seeberg Nichelodeon is another one of many fascinating items to be found there.

At the Historical Museum, after the tour of the homes at 10:30, another special exhibit to be seen is THAT RED HEAD GAL, a collection of drawings and fashion ads of the jazz age of the "roaring twenties". Mannequins in Art Moderne ensembles from 1916 to 1936 are also part of the exhibit soon to move on to Los Angeles, having been seen in Dallas and Washington, D.C.

The inclusive cost - the bus, the museum, the lunch is $14 for non members and $12 for members of the Friends. Remember to sign up for yourself or include a friend or relative, offering the trip as a distinctive gift - a day of interesting events, including dining in an unusual restaurant.

Reservations are being taken now at the Oak Lawn Library.

Crafts are alive and well

The crafts movement is alive and well and thriving throughout the country. Art galleries, boutiques, small stores and huge department stores are tapping this valuable resource.

For those with an artistic streak or for those who like working with their hands, there are many things you can do and make which will give you a great deal of pleasure. Mixed with the usual commercial furnishings, crafts can give a home or apartment a very personal look.

Simple ceramic pots or containers can look marvelous when displayed on shelves or table tops. If you buy or make pottery with a glazed finish, you can use them as planters. These are a lot more interesting than the usual plastic containers sold all over.

Wall hangings have come a long way. A lovely batik, macrame or tied piece of fabric can be a conversation piece when hung over the mantel - especially if you create it yourself. There are some wall hangings which are so unique and intricate that a new term has been applied to them. They're called "Fiber Art" and many museums are hanging them next to well-known paintings. There are handspun yarn creations which hang from ceiling to floor. I've seen weaving and stitchery techniques combined to give the effect of a western landscape. Some artists work with layers of fine, sheer fabrics stitched together. Others work with coarse, stuffed muslin for an entirely different look.

Kiwanis funds Historical Society youth program

Students in local elementary schools will be able to experience early Oak Lawn History first hand under a new educational program announced by the Oak Lawn Historical Society. In the "Artifact of the Month" program, a certificated teacher brings artifacts from the Society's collections into the classroom and engages in an interpretive investigation with the students to see what information about early Oak Lawn the artifacts hold.

Follow-up materials are left with the classroom teacher to re-enforce the concepts shown during the visit. Society Director Bill Sullivan said that the program's development was made possible by the Oak Lawn Kiwanis Club. "They funded the program as a pilot project last year, and now that we have had the input of the instructors we have worked with last year and refined our program, the Kiwanis has been generous enough to fund the program again," said

Sullivan.

Sullivan also said that this is the first step in the development of a museum curriculum from the Society. The Society's projected sequential education program will be designed to supplement the formal school curricula. Further information about this program which is geared to the intermediate grades is available by calling the Society at 425-3424. There is a small charge for the program. Membership in the Oak Lawn Historical Society is open to anyone with an interest in the History of Oak Lawn. Membership information may be obtained by calling the above number.

Cookie party for the winners - incredible!

All-star teams for taking tests? Competition between different sections of the 7th grade with cookie parties for the winners? Can this be happening in a social studies classroom? "Why not?" asks Mrs. Karen Bansemer, social studies teacher at the Hamlin Upper Grade Center of school district 125 in Alsip.

So this year she is trying a new method to interest her students in studying hard to pass the Constitution Test that is required by state law. The 7th grade was divided into three sections, and each section became a team. Each team member is considered an "all-star", and has his name on a star displayed in the room. Students keep their stars on the wall until they make three mistakes; then they have "struck-out", and they are removed from all-star competition.

"Students really enjoy seeing their name on the wall," says Mrs. Bansemer, "and are doing their best to avoid silly mistakes on the weekly tests." At the end of the unit on the Constitution Test, only the best players will still have their stars on display. "These are the true all-stars," she added.

Besides trying to keep their name on display, each class is in competition to see which of the three sections can make the least number of errors on weekly tests. The class with the lowest number is rewarded by having a cookie party. More than half of the parents of the 7th graders volunteered to be "team mothers," and provide the winning class with goodies when requested. "The parents' support of this competition has been terrific, and I couldn't have done it without them," said Mrs. Bansemer.

What do the students think of this new teaching method? "It's a challenge," said Crystal Poole, a student in the 7B group. But it's also lots of fun."

company's right to cycle their air conditioning on and off during peak periods. The watchword, however, is to minimize any undue hardship to the customer.

Another example of a load management program now underway is off-peak ice storage systems for commercial and industrial customers. These systems produce ice at night during off-peak hours, using electricity generated from our lowest cost coal and nuclear generating units, and supplement conventional air conditioning during the day.

The company also has rates which encourage customers to curtail their consumption during peak periods and is considering other rate incentives, as well.

Other conservation programs underway include research on solar energy devices; promotion of the company's popular energy-saving booklet, "The Waste Watcher's Guide;" Peak Alert advertising campaign, informing customers to curtail demand during high

Commonwealth Edison Co.

Congratulations, Mr and Mrs Edison Customer! Your energy saving efforts are showing results. And if new efforts by Edison to further increase conservation and reduce peak load demand are successful, with your cooperation, we will be able to continue to defer the construction of future generating stations now on the drawing board. Deferral of future capacity results in cost savings to the company and the customers alike because it holds down construction and financing costs.

The key is to reduce the heaviest demand customers place on the Edison system, almost always during the worst heat waves of the summer, when virtually every air conditioner or other comfort device is spinning. If that can be accomplished, the company would not have to invest in expensive new equipment to meet increased demand.

Primarily because of the fine conservation efforts of our customers and the sluggishness of the economy Edison planners now forecast an annual peak load growth of three percent, down from 7.5 percent as recently as 1973.

The company is now expanding its efforts to manage peak load demand.

First, Edison's numerous load management and conservation programs are now being coordinated by a single manager.

Additionally, the company is experimenting with various remote control load shedding devices. Under this program, customers would be offered economic incentives in return for the

Oak Lawn Chamber 'Pressing for Progress' Electors approve sale of township Civic Center

The 34th Annual Installation Banquet of the Oak Lawn Chamber of Commerce will be held on Saturday, January 24 at the Holiday Inn - Oak Lawn, Lord Nelson Room, cocktails at 6:30 pm to 7:30 pm (open bar) and dinner at 7:30 pm. The dynamic Milt Andersen (Oak Lawn Camera Shop) will be Master of Ceremonies for the event. The Chamber of Commerce theme for 1981 is "Pressing for Progress".

Installation Officer Mayor Ernie Kolb will install: Sal Crivellone (Suburban News Marketer) as President; Vina O'Malley (Village View) as 1st Vice President; Robert Gaul (Oak Lawn Pet Center) as 2nd Vice President; David Shepherd (Heritage Bank of Oak Lawn) as Treasurer; and Linda Kotsovos (Con-

Park Lawn School for the Handicapped became the winners this past Tuesday evening when a meeting was held at the Worth Township Civic Center for the electors to decide whether the building at 5831 W. 115th Street, should be sold for $400,000.

A crowd of around 700 had to be moved to Sheppard High School to provide enough room for all of the electors.

More than the sale of the building, it appeared to be a power play between the Democratic Committeeman Harry "Bus" Yourell and Republican Committeeman Herb Huskey. After a motion to appoint a chairman, nominations were closed with only two names, Yourell and Maurice Glens to represent the Republican. On the role call Yourell was chosen to chair the meeting.

Supervisor Dr Joseph McCarthy read a complete report to the people on why the building was being sold. He explained that it was only 2.9 acres of the approximate 11 acres. He also explained that the only buyer to come forward was Park Lawn School who had attempted to expand on their property at 108th & LaPorte but was blocked by the residents.

McCarthy said he was happy to see the building go for such a worthy cause - the future home the over 18 retarded children.

The Republican party had claimed that the building was worth over $1 million but a recent appraisal set the property value at $349,000.

Chairman Yourell then asked for a role call on the motion to sell and to the amusement of some and those not very amused, over 500 electors had registered to vote but over 600 answered the roll call. The majority of the votes, discounting the approximate 70 over calls, were still to approve selling.

'Cancer Facts and Figures' with Nancy De Lap

"Forty-one per cent of cancer patients will survive at least five years after treatment," Nancy DeLap, Chairman of the Oak Lawn Unit of the American Cancer Society reported.

In the 1981 edition of its annual publications, "Cancer Facts and Figures," the society asserts that about 268,000 Americans - one third of all who will get cancer this year - will survive for five years or more. When normal life expectancy is taken into consideration (factors such as dying of heart disease, accidents and diseases of old age), 41% of cancer patients will survive.

"About two million of the three million Americans who are alive with a history of cancer can be considered to be cured." However, some patients can be considered cured after one, others after three, and in some cases, have to be followed for much longer than five years.

The society adds that many more people could be saved. "About 134,000 people with cancer will probably die in 1981 who might have been saved by earlier diagnosis and prompt treatment," says Facts and Figures. This means that with our present knowledge of the disease, as many as one-half of cancer patients could be cured.

"The 1981 edition of Facts and Figures clearly demonstrates why there is such an overwhelming concern about prevention, early diagnosis and treatment of cancer," Nancy DeLap said.

Despite the progress against cancer since the early part of this century, the total numbers of new cases each year continues to rise. "In the 70's, the publication states, "there were an estimated 3.5 million cancer deaths, over 6.5 and more than 10 million for cancer." In a section on the prevention of the disease, the Society points out that "most lung cancers are caused by cigarette smoking, and most skin cancers by frequent over-exposure to direct sunlight."

In discussing occupational and environmental factors, Facts and Figures includes examples of cancers that could be prevented such as bladder cancer among workers in the dye industry and lung cancer in asbestos workers - especially those workers who also smoke cigarettes.

"Facts and Figures is recognized as a standard reference work in its field. It is an annual publication of the American Cancer Society which presents a comprehensive picture of cancer in the United States today, and can be obtained at 9526 S Cook Avenue, Oak Lawn, or call 423-3361," Nancy DeLap noted.

SENIOR CITIZEN WINTER CLASSES OPEN

The Oak Lawn Senior Citizen Commission and the Oak Lawn Park District cooperative classes are scheduled to begin the week of February 9, 1981.

Registration is now taking place at the Oak Lawn Senior Center, 5330 W 95th Street, 499-0240.

Classes being offered are Crochet & Knitting, Macrame, Woodcarving, Needlepoint, Oil Painting, Bridge and Pinochle.

Each class meets for ten weeks and there is a $5 registration fee payable on the first meeting date.

You must be 55 years of age or older and an Oak Lawn resident to be eligible for these classes.

year program. Therapy is initially very intensive, with clients meeting for two one-hour sessions of individual therapy and one hour of group therapy each week. In the second year of the program, the number of sessions is systematically reduced until clients are only coming in once a month for group therapy.

In the individual sessions, the client learns the mechanics of his or her own speech pattern, for all stutterers do not stutter in the same way. Next, the client learns to analyze and modify his or her speech pattern thru a controlled series of steps. The final stage in therapy is developing a new easy and relaxed manner of speaking and habituating its use in every day situations.

The group discussions serve several purposes. First, they provide a place to practice the skills learned in the individual sessions.

Second, information is given to the members on the various theories of stuttering. Third, the individuals share their past experiences, reactions to their stuttering and their experiences while in therapy. Last, and the most important of all, the members form a close bond that provides them with much needed support for the duration of the therapy program.

Other aspects of this program include family involvement in home assignments and occasionally in group discussions. The members of this year's program have found it to be quite beneficial. All services are available to persons regardless of race, creed, sex, age, handicap, or national origin. For further information regarding the Adult Stuttering Program, please call the Sertoma Center at 361-2121.

Single women home buying blooming

By all accounts, single American women are buying homes as never before. They are buying them in their own names and becoming a major factor in the real estate market nationwide, reports the Southwest Suburban Board of Realtors and the National Association of Realtors.

Recent figures indicated that in 1979 more than 200,000 homes nationally were bought by single women — women who are divorced, widowed or unmarried. Indeed, single women have become and are continuing to be the fastest growing segment in the home buying market.

Women's role in the condominium market has assumed an even greater importance. Female buyers accounted for an amazing one-third of all condo transactions in 1978.

What accounts for this rise in single's ownership, especially on the part of women? The National Assn of Realtors attributes it to three primary factors:

1) A changing social attitude, which finds increasing numbers of women electing to stay single. According to the U.S. Census Bureau, the proportion of the 20 - to - 24 - year - old women who remain single has increased from 28 to 43 percent in the period 1960 to 1976. From this growing number comes a growing segment which also elects to buy homes — single family, condominiums, or townhouses.

PIANIST BATES AT CHICAGO CIRCLE

Pianist Leon Bates will perform at Illinois U at Chicago Circle (UICC) on January 21 as part of the campus Fine Arts Series.

Bates' concert will take at 3 pm in the Illinois Room of the Chicago Circle Center, 750 S Halsted Street. Tickets for the performance are available from the Center cashier's office or at the door and are $2 for UICC students, faculty and staff and $4 for the general public.

2) According to Ralph W. Pritchard, President of the National Assn of Realtors, more women are moving into better paying jobs and thus can afford to purchase homes in their own names.

3) Federal legislation in the mid-1970s which prohibits sex discrimination in the credit market and in housing and housing finance.

The availability of credit to single adults with adequate incomes was guaranteed by the Equal Credit and Opportunity Act of 1974. Other legislation that also assures equal opportunity for women in the housing market was a 1974 amendment to the Fair Housing Act, which prohibits sex discrimination in housing and housing finance.

Generally, today's female home buyers are more mature — though not necessarily older — are more career minded, and they have a stronger sense of individuality and more financial savvy than the "swinging" image brings to mind. Many are single parents as the result of a divorce; many are young professionals who want to establish roots and acquire something on their own. Overall, most single people are seeking stability, a good investment, and tax savings. A home provides all three, says the Southwest Suburban Board of Realtors.

The Southwest Suburban Board of Realtors is comprised of 200 offices serving the southwest suburban area of Cook County. The board office is located in Worth.

APPLAUDS SENIOR OPPORTUNITIES IN OAK LAWN

I think it is really great that Oak Lawn has a place for Senior Citizens to get together and have fun. It gives them a chance to get out and enjoy themselves. They make many friends and have a lot of fun, something not every senior citizen is given a chance to do.

Every Friday, at 12:00 till about 3:30, the Knights of Columbus (K of C) Hall in Oak Lawn is packed with about 100 seniors. They're called "The Greater Oak Lawn Senior Citizens," because there are 22 senior citizen clubs in Oak Lawn.

Once a month a pinochle tournament is held with cash prizes. Once a month they have a party for anyone who has a birthday or anniversary that month. They have a speaker once a month on subjects that interest senior citizens. Such as, will, Social Security, driving, real estate, etc. The last Friday of the month is just a social gathering. They play cards, bunco, and other games, have sing-a-longs, and refreshments.

Oak Lawn has a senior citizens drop in center, located at 95th and 54th Court, that provides many free services for people who can't afford to pay for such services. Someone from the State Police gives refresher courses in driving, every week paramedics offer free checking of blood pressure, eye and hearing check-ups for senior citizens. Once a month they have a pot luck dinner at the drop in center.

The Stone Church, 6330 & 127th Street, Palos Heights will host a Youth Concert at 7 pm on Saturday, January 24 in the new multi-ministries building.

Tami Chere, just 16 years old and one of the youngest soloists to be signed by a major recording company, will be featured in the special sacred concert. She is seen regularly on coast-to-coast television and has

We should be proud of our town for providing such a service. I hope many more senior citizens will get out and take advantage of it.

SPACE AGE TOYS TOO OLD FOR YOUNG

Christmas shopping is a grand occasion for children and adults alike. But these days, it is a little more limited as to what can be bought because of financial reasons.

The adults of this generation think it ideal to buy presents for children concerning the space age era. It seems fine, since the days of cowboys and Indians rode past us, but what is odd is that people think it "cute" to see a child under six or seven years of age to be in space flight shooting the asteroids or comets in their line of course.

Children up to that age are only beginning to learn the basics of what makes this world go round, and most new toys are above the limit as to what they should be learning. There is a thing such as learning too much -- and in that process something must be put aside. Guess which one they

Increase your comfort

You can increase your comfort and decrease your heating bills by adding controlled humidification to your home this winter, according to Edward Meier, Executive Officer, Southwest Suburban Board of Realtors.

Here's how: Cold air holds much less moisture than warm air. As outside air circulates into your house and warms up, its moisture-holding capacity expands. To correct this moisture imbalance, warm dry air pulls moisture from every available source. The result: dead plants, warped woodwork, peeled wallpaper, cracked plaster and dry skin.

When this moisture absorption occurs, the excess evaporation from your skin tends to make you feel chilly. That's when you turn up your thermostat. Proper humidity minimizes this absorption and makes lower room temperatures more comfortable.

In addition to allowing the thermostat to stay at a low setting, proper humidity can reduce the amount of cold air that a house "breathes" in by infiltration. Without adequate humidity, moisture is absorbed from door and window woodwork, causing slight shrinkage and allowing cold air in.

Researchers at Honeywell, Inc., indicate that their studies of a Minnesota home show heat loss from infiltration was reduced as much as 50% by raising humidity above normal levels. They estimated that savings of 5 to 15% in fuel costs during an average heating season could be realized by increasing indoor relative humidity from 20 to 40%.

To maintain a relative humidity of at least 30% recommended by the Humidifier Institute, it's necessary to evaporate water into the air daily by means of a humidifier. The quantity that must be evaporated depends directly on how tightly your home is constructed. Tighter homes will require less humidification.

According to the Humidifier Institute, about half of the air inside a relatively tightly constructed home is replaced by outside air every hour. In a loosely constructed home, two complete air changes occur hourly.

A tightly constructed 1,500 square foot home, for example, will require 6.4 gallons of water a day. Its loosely constructed counterpart will require 14 gallons.

Although portable humidifiers may help to restore moisture balance to your home, the most efficient way of maintaining proper humidity levels is the installation of a whole-house humidifier designed to meet the specific needs of your home. Central humidifiers usually are installed on the hot-air plenum or hot-air duct of your furnace. The furnace fan then circulates the humidified air. A humidistat regulates the quantity of moisture evaporated in the air.

Oak View wins volley-ball tourney

Oak View School in Oak Lawn, recently won the Intermediate Co-ed Volleyball Tournament of School District 126. The Oak View team ended the season with a 5-1 record. The volleyball coach, Miss Kathy Felt, said, "The team worked hard all year, put forth great effort in each game and won the tournament by playing as a team."

This is the second year in a row that Oak View has won the volleyball tournament.

The trophy was officially presented to the school at the School Board Meeting on December 17, 1980. Board President Reed Powers made the presentation.

choose;

"Why stick to basics," they might ask -- if they knew what it meant, "we must reach beyond what we already know!"

Not only are these space toys a hazard to their education -- some are dangerous to their physical being.

Most toys have a fancy design to recreate spaceships from movies, with which a small child could hurt him/herself. Some also fall apart after a week or two of the child's handling, and can easily be swallowed by the investigative youth.

Children's curiosity has not ceased to change over the years and the items which adults intend to give them should be questioned as to the amount of educational use it may be for them.

Huskey receives Legislator Award 'Keep The Wreath Red' program proved successful

The Illinois Association of Park Districts was proud to name State Representative Herbert V. Huskey of the 8th District as the recipient of one of its Outstanding Legislator Awards for 1980.

The Oak Lawn Fire Dept would like to thank and congratulate all village residents for their efforts in making this past holiday season fire safe. Considering Oak Lawn's population of over 60,000, with many businesses, condominiums, and apartments, plus over 14,000 single family residences, this low holiday season fire rate has shown the fire department that its efforts on public education and fire prevention has not gone unheeded.

Once again, "Thank you, Residents"! Fire Prevention Is A Family Affair.

Having Trouble Finding That Old Familiar "No Service Charge" Checking Account?

We've got it!

At Oak Lawn Trust & Savings Bank, we always try to offer services that are designed with the customer's best interests in mind.

Many new checking plans offer a few dollars a year in interest but have excessive service charges that can far exceed any earnings generated by the average checking customer.

For these reasons, we want the community to know that we will continue to offer our popular $100 minimum balance, no service charge checking account, and the other plans listed.

We offer N.O.W. accounts as well, but we feel it is crucial to point out that they are not for everyone.

Let our counselors help you decide. Keep in mind however, that you don't have to sacrifice the ease, convenience and security of a basic low minimum balance, no charge checking account.

Enjoy Melikin Puppet 'Rumpelstilskin' with the Oak Lawn Park District

On January 30 the Oak Lawn Park District will play host to the Melikin Puppet Theatre presentation of "Rumpelstilskin." The Melikin Puppets have performed in schools and childrens' theatre audiences for the past 13 years. During that time they have received 7 invitations to perform at the Puppeteers of America National Festivals and received the "Citation of Excellence" award from UNIMA-USA an international organization of puppeteers headed by Jim Henson of the Muppet fame.

Ron Swanson, North Central College sophomore cornerback, has been selected as the recipient of the 1980 Cardinal Award in football. The Cardinal Award annually goes to the player judged as most improved by his teammates.

The 5'10", 160-pound defensive back was listed as a wide receiver during his freshman year, but saw no varsity action.

He started the 1980 season as a reserve cornerback behind senior, three-year letterman Tom Martinez. But when free safety Tim Ineich went out with an injury in North Central's third game this fall, Martinez was moved to free safety and Swanson became a regular in the defensive secondary.

He suffered a broken hand in his first game, a 24-21 win over Millikin U, but played with the hand in a cast the rest of the season as North Central won five of those last six games to finish with a 6-3 record and a share of third place in the CCIW.

A graduate of Oak Lawn High School, Swanson was an all-conference SICA-

Veterans enjoy visits from sports celebrities

On a recent visit to the Chicagoland area, Baseball Commissioner Bowie Kuhn was the guest of Ed McElroy of WJJD Radio at the Lakeside Veterans' Research Hospital at 333 E Huron Street in Chicago.

This was the first time that Commissioner Kuhn had ever visited a veteran hospital in Chicago. He was met very warmly and enthusiastically.

McElroy is Director of Special Events for WJJD Radio in Chicago and a Past National Commander of the Catholic War Veterans USA. He has been taking sports celebrities, and many other prominent figures from all walks of life, to the veterans' hospitals and, under privileged children's hospitals for the past 36 years.

The trip was under the auspices of "Bedside Network of Chicago".

Smoke detectors proving disaster prevention measure

In a news release from Chief Fire Inspector R. Murray he stated that on December 24 at approximately 5:15 pm, Mrs Julie Giranda, who was returning from work, entered the hallway at 10430 S Mansfield, a ten-unit apartment building. As she entered the hallway, she heard the sound of a smoke detector and then saw smoke oozing from around an apartment door. She quickly ran to the outside of the unit and began to pound on the patio door to notify the occupant. After she received no response, she proceeded to notify another tenant who, in turn, notified the Oak Lawn Fire Department. The fire department responded in four minutes to find a large volume of smoke coming from around an apartment door and had to forcibly enter the unit.

Once in the unit, they found a couch on fire in the living room; the occupant, Dave Carstensen, was still in the bedroom. Carstensen stated that he had been working very long hours and had retired for the evening two hours before the fire was discovered. He also stated that the first thing he heard was crash of the door and then the smoke detector.

In the opinion of the fire department, a disaster was prevented because of the early activation of the smoke detector and the actions of Mrs Giranda.

The electric smoke detectors were installed in July of 1981 in compliance with the Oak Lawn Fire Department's multiple family code, and it is the hope of the fire department that all residential occupancies install smoke detectors.

Russo urges curb on specialty steel to foreign countries

Congressman Marty Russo, has written to U.S. Trade Representative William Brock urging formal acceptance of a petition filed by the United Steelworkers of America and the Specialty Steel Industry of the United States calling on the President to curb imports of specialty steel from government-owned and subsidized steel mills in seven foreign countries.

"I am particularly concerned with the impact that imports of specialty steel are having on our domestic producers," Russo said in his letter to Brock, "and would appreciate prompt and vigorous efforts on your part to consult with foreign governments to end or substantially curtail subsidization by those governments of specialty steel producers."

The petition before the USTR was brought under section 301 of the Trade Agreements Act of 1979 which forbids unfair trade practices like subsidization of exports from abroad. The petition also requested the President to take action under the Subsidy Code of the General Agreement Tariffs and Trade (GATT). Assuming violations are found and consultations with foreign governments do not remedy the situation, the President can impose duties or other import restrictions, or suspend or withdraw various benefits of trade agreement concessions under the Multilateral Trade Negotiations.

The action is believed to be the largest section 301 unfair trade practice case ever filed.

"Subsidized imports have contributed directly to plant closings, increased unemployment, and the significant financial difficulties of some of the most efficient U.S. companies," Russo commented, "and unemployment in specialty steel mills is now well over 20 percent."

"Imports have almost doubled since the first quarter of the year and will go even higher unless our government takes forceful action to enforce our trade laws and the GATT agreement. No matter how efficient our industries, foreign companies can always undercut us on price because almost all of them are either owned outright or heavily subsidized by their governments. It's time our government took a hard look at what is happening in the international trade arena and to insist that other countries abide by the same rules that our workers and industries must abide by."

The seven countries named in the petitions are Belgium, France, Italy, the United Kingdom, Austria, Brazil and Sweden.

to take a $2,000 tax deduction!

This year, for the first time, all wage earners are eligible to open an IRA (Individual Retirement Account) in an amount up to their legal limit... $2000 for individuals. Federal income tax will be deferred on this amount and on the interest earned! Imagine your tax savings or refund for 1982 - $1000 if you are in the 50% tax bracket - $700 in savings in the 35% bracket. Both you and a working spouse may contribute up to $2000, your maximum legal limit, for a total tax deduction of $4000. Best of all, you may take this tax deduction every year.

RAPID GROWTH AT HIGH INTEREST

Your IRA account compounds rapidly. For example: beginning at age 30, depositing $2000 per year, the $70,000 deposited by age 65 would have grown (assuming 12% interest), to a staggering $1,161,139! At 15% interest it would be $2,719,428! Rates may vary at renewal. IRA plans are subject to substantial penalties for early withdrawal before age 59½ and cannot be used as collateral. You must begin to withdraw funds in the year you turn 70½.

FOUR HIGH-INTEREST PLANS

We believe we have one of the most beneficial IRA plans available anywhere. We have four customized savings plans, including our 18-month floating rate account which follows the market conditions monthly. ## Huskey child neglect bill now in effect

Cook County parents can now obtain help collecting delinquent court-ordered child support. Initiated through legislation sponsored by State Representative Herb Huskey (R), the new program took effect January 3. It requires court-ordered child support payments in Cook County to be made directly to Circuit Court Clerk Morgan Finley. He will automatically notify the parent responsible for paying support within two weeks of a delinquency. If payment is still not made, the matter will be referred to Cook County State's Attorney Richard Daley for enforcement proceedings.

"At long last, the court is not going to tolerate child neglect in Cook County," Huskey said.

"Until now, too many parents who are responsible for the support of their youngsters chose to forget them," he stated. "The very large problem of clothing, feeding and in other ways caring for these children has been forced solely on the custodial parents."

"Most of these parents have been confronted with the unpleasant alternative of either bearing the financial expense and time securing the services of an attorney to collect what the court has already awarded in child support, or they are forced to go on welfare," Huskey explained. "I believe so strongly in this new program that I devoted some five long years of continuous work to see it become a reality."

Both non-public aid and public aid recipients are eligible to participate in the child support collection program. Additional information and assistance can be obtained from Finley's

Firefighter teaches kindergarten children

Firefighter Dan Czarnecki taught fire safety to the kindergarten classes at the Lawn Manor Primary Center in School District 125. Dan used a T.V. viewer to show the children a cartoon filmstrip on correct safety procedure if clothing catches on fire. The children took turns stopping, dropping and rolling to put out a paper flame the fireman placed on slacks or shirt sleeves.

I cut through the IRA confusion and opened my retirement account with an old friend-Chesterfield Federal.

I work hard and I want a secure retirement. So I decided to open an IRA Retirement Account. For anyone who's working it's a great way to save taxes now, while building a substantial retirement fund. But I'll admit I was confused about where to open my account. It seemed everywhere I looked there was someone else saying something different. I was lost, luckily I had an old friend to turn to... Chesterfield Federal. At Chesterfield they cut through the confusion and set me up with a simple to understand IRA account. They showed me how a person like myself, married with a non-working spouse, could put aside up to $2,250 a year for retirement, and that this money was completely deductible from my income tax. They explained how the tax-deferred deposits and interest allowed my account to grow at a rate much greater than a regular taxable account. Most importantly, unlike some other IRA accounts, my Chesterfield IRA is fully insured up to $100,000 by the FSLIC.

There are all kinds of IRA plans around, but why trust your retirement to a stranger? I'm staying with an old friend - Chesterfield Federal.

Associate judgeships open

Chief Circuit Court Judge Harry G. Comerford has announced that ten associate judgeships are now available in the Circuit Court of Cook County.

Judge Comerford said the vacancies will be filled by appointment by April 27, 1982, following screening of applicants by the Circuit Court Nominating Committee. Nominees for the judgeships will be chosen from applicants screened and found qualified by a committee of the Chicago Bar Association, Judge Comerford said.

The vacancies were created by three vacancies and by legislative action making new judgeships.

Additional judgeships created by the legislature will be filled later this year, Judge Comerford announced.

Attorneys licensed to practice law in the state are eligible to file for the judicial vacancies.

Applications may be obtained from the Administrative Office of the Illinois Courts, 30 N. Michigan Avenue, Room 2010, Chicago 60602. They must be filed with Chief Judge Harry G. Comerford, 2600 Richard J. Daley Center, Chicago 60602, and with Roy O. Gulley, Director of the Administrative Office of the Illinois Courts, on or before Wednesday, February 3, 1982.

Tax levy down in District 126

The tax levies made by School District 126 in July 1981, for property taxes to be collected in 1982, will result in a tax rate decline in the August 82 tax bills reported Reed Powers, School Board President. He noted that the District 126 School Board in July 81 reduced the tax levies in 4 funds and made no increases in 4 funds. Only one fund was increased. "The result will be a lower School District 126 tax rate for residents in August 1982," said Powers.

The charge of County Clerk Kuser and Assessor Tom Hynes of "local taxing bodies over levying", is not true in District 126 according to Supt Smith. "Just the opposite is true. For 4 consecutive years the District 126 tax rate has been reduced," said Dr. Smith. He noted that the $2.70 tax rate of 1974 has been reduced 16% to $2.26 in 1981.

Not only have levies in some funds been reduced, but the Special Education Building Fund levy was discontinued in 1979 and there was no Life Safety Fund levy in 1980. "We

Chicago Circle concert January 20th

Chicago choreographer Maggie Kast will present three of her works, including the premiere of a new group dance composition, at a concert at 1 pm, January 20 at Illinois U, Chicago Circle.

Costume design is by Rick Paul and lighting design is by Ken Bowen.

The program will also include "So to Speak," Kast's collaboration with the video production group After Image in which she performs a duet with a life-sized video image. Critically acclaimed following its premiere last spring, the piece includes an original score by Alan Gerber. A third work, "Dies Irae," also will be performed.

The concert will be held in the Illinois Room of Chicago Circle Center, 750 S. Halsted Street. For additional information call 996-2628.

Children find learning can be fun

Students of Miss Margaret Scott, Developmental Resource Teacher, look forward to visiting the resource room at the Lawn Manor Primary Center in School District 125. The children work individually or in small groups on specific subject areas. Miss Scott uses a wealth of games, manipulatives, and learning aids that make learning so much fun, the

First grader, David Willis, thinks mastering games seems more like play than work in Miss Kathleen McClowry's Learning Resource class at the Lawn Manor Primary Center. David finds hands on activity both interesting and rewarding.

PUBLIC NOTICE

Notice of Proposed Changes in Schedule To Patrons of Commonwealth Edison Company

Commonwealth Edison Company hereby gives notice to the Public that it has filed with the Illinois Commerce Commission on January 8, 1982 proposed changes in its rates and charges for electric public utility service in all of the areas in which it provides retail service.

Such changes involve and would effect a general rate increase, providing for estimated increases in charges for the following classes of customers: Residential - 19.5%; Residential Space Heating Customers - 19.5%; Water Heating - 19.5%; Commercial, Industrial and Governmental - 19.5%; Governmental Pumping - 19.5%; Transit Services - 19.4%; Street and Area Lighting - 14.3%.

The proposed charges would increase the bills of a residential customer using 300 kilowatthours in any month by $4.73 per month (19.0%) averaged over the year. If the customer used 600 kilowatthours a month, the corresponding increase would be $9.47 (19.5%) and if 1,000 kilowatthours, $15.76 (19.6%). The increases shown include estimated average 1983 fuel adjustment and revenue taxes but exclude charges for optional light bulb service. The proposed increases may, therefore, vary slightly from the above amounts depending on place of residence and whether the customer has chosen bulb service.

A copy of the proposed changes in schedule may be inspected by any interested party at any business office of this Company.

All parties interested in this matter or who desire further information with respect to these changes may obtain information with respect thereto either directly from this Company or by addressing the Office of the Chief Clerk of the Illinois Commerce Commission, Springfield, Illinois 62706.

STICKING OUR HEADS IN THE SAND WON'T SOLVE THE PROBLEM.

These are tough times. Inflation, high interest, recession, all at one time.

Like most every company today, we've already done every prudent thing possible to cut expenses. But like everyone else, we've been hit by one unrelenting cost increase after another during the past year.

Unfortunately, they're jeopardizing our ability to maintain reliable electric service and meet the future needs of northern Illinois. And bringing us face to face with an enormous problem.

On the one hand, we can stop our plant construction program. Or postpone it.

Or we can keep going, and ask for a nineteen-percent rate increase. Not only to help finish the plants, but also to cover those rising costs.

This won't be popular, and we know it's going to hurt; but that's the course we're forced to take.

Because popularity isn't the issue. The issue is the reason why. Why it's absolutely essential that we finish the nuclear generating stations well underway at Byron, Braidwood and La Salle.

It's not just because of the billions of dollars stopping construction now would waste. Or the millions of dollars a year it would cost every year we delay. Or that northern Illinois will ultimately need the electricity those plants will produce.

It's because those plants are the best available way to put a damper on rising electric rates. To keep future increases small when they are necessary and below increases in the cost of living.

The fact is, the nuclear fuel required to make a kilowatt-hour of electricity only costs one-fifth as much as coal. One-tenth as much as oil. And too much of our electricity is still generated from oil.

So finishing those nuclear plants will eliminate the need for a lot of that expensive coal and oil. Especially the oil. And literally save you billions of dollars in the process.

A coal or oil plant may cost less to put up, but not to operate. When you consider the huge fuel savings over the useful life of these nuclear plants, they're far, far cheaper in the long run.

So in the long run, continuing our construction program is the best solution there is.

Kolb and Petrozza vie for mayoral seat

Mayor Ernie Kolb and Village Clerk Jayne Powers making the final check on their petitions before filing.

At deadline Monday, January 26, only one candidate filed to challenge incumbent Ernie Kolb in his bid for a second term as mayor of the Village of Oak Lawn.

Trustee John Petrozza (5th District) filed his petitions with the necessary signatures on Monday, January 19, under the Oak Lawn First party banner. Peter Paullus, party co-chairman, and candidate for village clerk, completed the slate.

Thru this past week questions arose about the validity of Petrozza's petitions with only the two names and whether or not it was necessary to have village board candidates to complete a full slate. Petrozza claims that his petitions were in order. Had he believed otherwise he had a full week to reconsider and re-file and did not.

Mayor Ernie Kolb said he would not contest the petitions. "Let everyone run," he said, "it is always healthier for the people to have a choice in any election."

Oak Lawn First member Trustee John Hardek is running as an independent to retain his seat in the 4th District. Former Trustee Phil Special, running also as an independent, is one of two candidates challenging Hardek. Richard Miller will challenge in the 6th District and Police Sergeant David Erickson will challenge in District 2.

On Tuesday, January 20, the village board approved a request by Erickson to take off accumulated vacation days to enable him to pursue his candidacy. Police regulations require personnel seeking office to take a leave of absence during a campaign.

Heading the Mayor's Coalition party is incumbent Ernie Kolb, and for village clerk incumbent Jayne Powers. Also incumbents Jay Bergamini and Ronald Stancik and newcomer to the political scene Robert Bruce to complete the slate.

Filing for a six year term on the Oak Lawn Library Board were Kay Siemeck, Thomas P. Krzeminsky and Harriet Murphy.

Candidates who filed for the library board on the last day of filing were Bernadette Jacobsen, Cosmo D'Amlco, Kathleen Vorerer and James Shaughnessy.

She will compete on February 7 and 8 in the Ladies World competition in Canada and February 28 and March 1 in the Junior World competition in Norway. Dorie had also qualified to try out for the 1980 Winter Olympics, but injured her leg while in Germany for the time trials.

22nd Annual Oak Lawn Jazz Festival

Oak Lawn Community High School is getting ready for the 22nd Annual Oak Lawn Jazz Festival on Saturday, February 7, 1981. Six performing centers will run from 8 am to 4:30 pm at the school, 94th and Southwest Highway.

The unique Oak Lawn Jazz Festival will host 112 high school and junior high school groups that represent a broad spectrum of jazz, big bands, combos, show choirs, jazz vocalists, dixieland, swing and avant garde. Over 3000 musicians will perform throughout the day to an estimated audience of 10,000 jazz music followers.

Following the competition the Illinois Wesleyan U Jazz Ensemble will perform a special one hour concert in the Spartan Gym at 4:45 pm. Appearing with the I.W.U. Band will be Frank Mantooth, jazz pianist and composer from Vienna, Austria. Mantooth's amazing virtuosity has earned him a reputation throughout Europe, Canada and the United States. Admission is free to this portion of the Festival.

The evening program will begin at 7:30 pm and will feature the ten outstanding ensembles selected from the daytime competition. They will be competing for the Best of Festival Traveling Trophy, awarded by the Oak Lawn Community High School Band Parents Assn.

Tickets for the evening concert are $3 for adults and $1.75 for students. They are available at OLCHS. Telephone ticket reservations can be made by calling 424-5200, ext 60, between 1 and 4 pm.

Shown filing petitions at 8:30 am, Monday, January 19 are (l to r) John Petrozza, John Hardek, Mayor Ernie Kolb, Peter Paullus, Thomas P. Krzeminsky, candidate for 6 year library term and Jayne Powers. Present but not shown are David Erickson, Kay Siemeck and Harriet Murphy, who are also candidates for a six year library term.

Homeowners and businesses on abandoned assets list

State Representative Herb Huskey has joined efforts with the Illinois Department of Financial Institutions to locate Eighth District residents who may have abandoned assets.

"Approximately 178 area residents have personal property in excess of $100 waiting to be claimed," Huskey said. "It can consist of abandoned paychecks, cash, dividends, accounts receivable, checking and savings account surpluses, and other personal property of value such as safe deposit box contents."

According to Huskey, financial institutions and corporations thruout the state notified the department about this property after it was inactive for seven years, and after all their attempts to reach the rightful owners failed. The department will hold property still abandoned after mid-April in trust until the rightful owners claim it.

Huskey explained, "We do not know how much, or what kind of property, is involved for any individual."

Anyone on the abandoned property list should write directly to the Illinois Department of Financial Institutions, Unclaimed Property Division, 421 East Capitol, Room 205, Springfield, IL 62706. All correspondence should include a name, current address and county of residence.

Mayor Lucerto seeks second term

Mayor Philip S. Lucerto has announced that he will seek re-election for the office of Mayor of Hometown. His accomplishments during the past term in office have been many: new bus shelters were erected; the city hall was modernized; a personnel program for city employees, which includes hospital and life insurance for full time employees was instituted.

Also, the water extension program was completed, railroad crossings at 90th and Duffy and 87th and Pulaski will also be redone in 1981.

Hometown will have its own bus service in 1981, have a computerized police department, and probably most important, continue in the efforts not to raise taxes.

Taxes for Hometown residents have been kept low during Mayor Lucerto's administration. An objective Mayor Philip S. Lucerto and a promise he is proud to have kept.

Mayor Lucerto hopes the residents will help in his re-election efforts so that he may continue providing these services and striving for even better facilities and services for the people of Hometown.

Bill Gilluly noted that, "as a former partner in the largest accounting firm in the country, Peat, Marwick and Mitchell, Gary carried with him to Concordia a broad background in consulting with many savings and loan clients on operating problems and strategies. His excellent business background, complemented by a Bachelors degree in Business Administration from Western Michigan U, aided Concordia's financial operations since 1978." He added, "his executive talents have contributed to the steady growth, personnel management and location expansion of the Association."

Ten year residents of Chicago's Beverly community, Gary and his wife, Kathleen, are very involved in the activities of their 8 children. Although "free time" is at a premium, Gary shares his time and efforts in professional and community activities. A Graduate Key Holder from the American Savings and Loan Institute, Bill Gilluly's achievements led to his election as President of Concordia in 1968 and as Chairman of the Board in 1970.

Throughout the years, Gilluly has been exemplary

New food service system to benefit LCMH patients

The Little Company of Mary Auxiliary has pledged $400,000 over a period of the next five years to implement a new food service system for the hospital that will benefit patients, personnel and visitors.

The fifteen million dollar renovation program now in progress is enabling Little Company of Mary Hospital to air-condition and modernize its entire facility. All patient rooms in the north section of the hospital and on the eighth and ninth floors are completely renovated. In addition, two wings on the seventh floor and one wing on each of the other floors, the Neonatal Intensive Care Unit and the Pediatric Intensive Care Unit have also been modernized to provide the best possible accommodations for the 20,000 patients admitted each year, for more than 40,000 emergency patients and for another 27,000 patients treated in various outpatient departments.

To date, $2,690,000 has been pledged to the hospital from concerned physicians, employees, the auxiliary, former patients, corporations, foundations, contractors, fraternal organizations, business leaders and community leaders.

Looking over the new plans for this system are, (l to r) Helene Nesypor, Auxiliary member; Francis X. Gallagher, Director, Community Relations and Development; Sister M. Mildred Radziewicz, LCM, Chairman, Board of Directors; Carol Andrews, Auxiliary President; James Murphy, Food Service Director and Kathy Sullivan, Auxiliary member.

Censorship as well as charity begins at home

Guest Editorial by Pat Bouchard

Well, the leader of the Mouthy Majority rode into town last week from his headquarters in Lynchmob, Virginia, to promise local leaders of his group that they will soon have control of what we all are allowed to see on the boob tube.

The Rev. Jerry Falwell predicted, in addressing a fund-raising conference at Ramada Inn O'Hare, that television programming could be "cleaned up" within a year, with the help of his nationwide fundamentalist organization - an organization claiming four million members.

The tactics he pushes in his effort to censor our viewing, and to "protect" us from offensive programming, include the compilation of a sponsor's "hit list" which will be used for letters of protest, demands for withdrawal of advertising funds and boycotts. Congressmen will be pressured to follow the Moral Majority line or suffer the wrath of Falwell followers, and so on and so on.

Now the Rev. Falwell is free to do all these things, since it helps pave his path to demagoguery, and "bettering" one's station in life is the American way.

However, for the rest of us, there is a much easier way to clean up the offensive programming that is coming into our homes. Just operate the control button on your television set. That's what we do when Falwell's face is on the screen.

If the sexual titillation of "Soap" and "Dallas" and the other jiggly shows are not your cup of tea, just switch to something more palatable or turn the darn thing off.

Although no one claims we have an overabundance of worthwhile programming, skipping around the tube can usually provide something to while away the time.

Saturday night was a good example. Since the unctuous "Love Boat" and nutty "Fantasy Island" programs, usually drive me to read the telephone book for entertainment, it was a pleasant surprise to find a Mitch Miller special to view. A wonderful hour was spent wallowing in the nostalgia of the big hits of the forties, followed by another hour of enjoying the delightful silliness of Steve Allen and his cronies. Granted, these offerings were not cultural landmarks but everyone is entitled to a little cotton candy for the mind once in a while.

For those seeking a heavier dose of culture, there was Sir Laurence Olivier's "Hamlet" on view.

"Saturday Night Live" is dead in our house now, simply because the "talent" can't seem to discern the fine line between satire and sickness. We didn't need Falwell folks to tell us that, however, we are perfectly capable of acting as our own censors.

Then there was the hilarious five minutes we spent on Sunday morning with Dick Gregory, stand-up comedian turned social activist. We listened to him on a talk show where he explained his wild theory that John Lennon was shot as a result of a government plot against the singer. From there he went into his theory that the November election was rigged by the CIA in order to send former CIA head George Bush to the highest seat of power in the land. This guy is funnier now than in his heyday as a comic. We shut him off before he predicted just how the president-elect would step out of the picture. Again, we felt comfortable in acting as our own censor.

The point of this piece being that we resent the efforts of any self-anointed group to take our television control button out of our hands.

In other words, Rev., "Don't touch that dial."

Questions controversy on condo conversion

Why is there controversy surrounding condominium conversions? "And some tenants simply cannot afford to buy."

Misinformation and myths are frequently the culprits according to the Southwest Suburban Board of Realtors.

When many buildings in a neighborhood or community are converted, debate can be intense. According to a study by the U.S. Department of Housing and Urban Development, far too often the actual facts are lost amid charges and emotional countercharges.

It is very difficult for condominium converters to make a case for prospective buyers. Converters are skilled in creating homes but often are unable to cope with vocal opponents challenging the conversion process, according to a study commissioned by the National Association of Realtors.

The real problems, the study found, must be put into perspective. Conversion problems should be carefully identified along with their proposed solutions so that the benefits resulting (from condominium conversions) will not be lost to the community.

Tenant groups should begin to recognize that strong buyer demand exists due to changing life styles and demographics, as well as the poor financial performance of rental housing in recent years. Rents have not kept pace with inflation.

The biggest single perceived conversion problem is that of tenant displacement. "Not every tenant in a building slated for conversion wants to own a home," the study stated. "And some tenants simply cannot afford to buy."

Conversion opponents argue that alternative housing is not available to the non-buying tenant. As proof, they point to a low vacancy rate in the rental housing stock, or the evidence that many buildings in a particular neighborhood are being converted.

The National Association of Realtors study debunks this myth, demonstrating that a "vacancy rate" is not a valid indicator of rental housing availability. Rather, the "turnover" rate of apartments is a more accurate barometer, the study suggested. Rental housing turns over as frequently today as it did five years ago and, in some instances, more frequently.

The "vacancy rate vs. turnover rate" concept is an example of how statistics can be used and misunderstood, creating problems or myths which result in harmful misconceptions.

"Condominium conversions which actually result in improved neighborhood stability, increased employment opportunities, additional city revenues, and provide desperately needed, less expensive housing alternatives are thereby thwarted by attitudes based on error," the study stated.

"What we need to do is to explode the condominium conversion myths once and for all," says the Southwest Suburban Board of Realtors. "We will all benefit from having done so."

to the child support order to pay for the cost of issuing checks.

The new division could have up to six full-time judges. Each year 15,000 child support orders are issued in divorces and another 15,000 pay orders are issued on welfare cases.

Finley has created a speaker's bureau which can provide a filmed presentation about the project. Arrangements can be made by calling 443-4239.

country and around the world to guard, defend and protect personnel, equipment and facilities. "We only want top-notch people, as they will represent this area by doing an extremely important job for their country," he said.

Further information about the "Great Lakes Centurion Flight" is available from the nearest Air Force recruiter, listed in the telephone directory under "U.S. Government."

Finley special office to combat absentee parents

The Circuit Court is cracking down on absent parents who dump their children on the welfare rolls, and what the court is planning could send some of those parents to jail.

Circuit Court Clerk Morgan M. Finley has set up a special office to track down the absent parents and make them pay back to the taxpayers what has been paid out on behalf of their children. Over $15 million has already been collected in cooperation with the State's Attorney and Cook County Sheriff.

Circuit Court Judge Harry Comerford announced the creation of a new division of the court which will hear these cases as well as all child support delinquencies beginning next year.

New legislation becomes effective next January 1 which requires all child support payments be made thru Finley's office. Those who fail to pay would be brought before a judge automatically and face possible contempt of court action.

The judges in the new division would have the authority to jail those who have the means to pay their child support and refuse.

Finley's office of Child Support Enforcement, which has been limited to dealing solely with welfare cases will be expanded to handle all other child support orders.

"The scope of the problem involving unpaid child support is massive," Finley explained.

Nearly 200,000 families in Cook County receive aid to dependent children (ADC) at a total cost of nearly $575 million a year. On the non-welfare side, 85% of all child support orders fall into delinquency at least once during their lifetime.

By involving the court and the Cook County Office of Child Support Enforcement, the number of families having to apply for welfare will be reduced because the project will obtain compliance with the original child support orders.

The cost of most of the project will be underwritten by the state and federal governments.

"This project is unique because it turns a profit for the Cook County taxpayers," Finley said. "Because we are paid a commission for collecting the funds in welfare cases, we are able to turn over $1 million back to Cook County each year."

In addition to facing possible jail sentences of up to six months, those who fail to pay their child support in non-welfare cases will be charged court costs that could amount to $400 a case. A small service charge also will be added

A Sleigh Ride with St Louis de Montfort

A Sleigh Ride, the first annual St Louis de Montfort School's Christmas Show, was presented on December 17 at the school, 88th and Ridgeland, Oak Lawn. Students from kindergarten thru 8th grade participated in the show. Those in kindergarten thru 4th grades presented the various acts which were most entertaining and very enjoyable. Music was provided by the students in grades 5th thru 8th.

Opening the show was a scene entitled Toyland and consisted of three acts. This was followed by Jingle Bell Park (scene two) which featured an impressive act called Christmas in Lights. Members of the 3rd and 4th grades using ordinary flash-lites created a light show in the darkened hall that rivaled a much more expensive production. But the cutest act by far was entitled "All I Want for Christmas is My Two Front Teeth". The participants, as you well expect, all were missing those precious two front teeth.

The American Home (scene three) was followed by Bethlehem - the fourth and last scene. By the time the last act began, the crowd of over 600 people were singing along with the children. The show closed after two hours with the kindergarten children singing Happy Birthday Jesus.

The show was the brain child of Teacher Sue Mooney (Learning Center/Kindergarten, and with the capable assistance of the other teachers was a rousing success.

energy corner

by John Hogan

News Information Supervisor
Commonwealth Edison Co.

One of the more misunderstood words in the English language is radiation. Radiation is energy. Some people fear radiation unnecessarily, perhaps because it is invisible.

Radiation is a natural phenomenon in our environment, occurring in the sun, stars, air, soil, water, food, stone, wood, plastics and even our own bodies. One type of radiation cooks our food in microwave ovens. Another is used to take x-rays. A third carries sound waves for our radios. Still another type of radiation is used to transmit pictures to our television sets.

A very common type of radiation comes from the nucleus of an unstable atom, which is characterized as having an energy imbalance within its nucleus. The unstable, or radioactive atom, ejects excess energy by means of particles and/or waves until energy levels are again in balance. The ejected particles and waves are radiation. All living organisms have existed from the beginning of time in an environment containing low levels of radiation from naturally occurring sources. External radiation from cosmic rays and the earth contribute about 75% of the public's radiation dose, although this may vary by as much as 20% higher or lower over a year. Internal radiation, from natural elements within the human body, averages about 25% of the public's total dose from environmental sources.

About one-third of the internal radiation dose can vary with geographic location or dietary habits. For example, here in Illinois the average person receives about 100 millirem (radiation dose is measured in millirem) each year from environmental sources. However, people living in Colorado receive about another 65 millirem due to higher cosmic ray radiation levels from increased altitude and higher uranium concentration in the soil.

These gaseous and liquid waste products are treated first, then released in accordance with strict government requirements. An extensive and continuous environmental monitoring program is performed inside each nuclear plant as

Assistance in grants offered needy for utility bills

Springfield - The State of Illinois is accepting applications from low-income persons needing assistance in paying their utility bills, according to Senator Frank Ozinga, R-Evergreen Park.

The U.S. Department of Health and Human Services has made available $102 million for grants to Illinois residents in need, Ozinga said. The Illinois Department of Commerce and Community Affairs is administering the program here.

Persons who meet the federally established standards -- income of $4738 for a single household -- are eligible for the assistance on a first-come, first-served basis.

Assistance will vary from $60 to $430 depending on household income, geographical location in the state, the type of dwelling and type of fuel used for heating.

Senator Ozinga said more information on the energy assistance grants can be obtained by calling the departments toll-free hotline, 800/252-8643.

In addition to helping with home heating costs, the grants may also be available for persons in need of cooling their residences during warm weather for medical reasons, the senator continued.

In addition, operators of some low-income subsidized housing units who provide utilities may qualify for assistance on behalf of their tenants, Ozinga has been informed by the DCCA.

Connors again turns down raise

William E. Connors, Worth Township Assessor said recently he was once again refusing a higher salary made available to him thru a budgeting error by the past administration.

The higher salary became allowable when the previous administration passed a salary resolution one day after the legal date set by state statute. When the salary resolution was found to be illegal the Township Assessor's salary rose $3000. The level set by the

William E. Connors Township Board with passage of the Township

Appropriation Ordinance.

Connors said, "I'm refusing the extra $3000 a year, for the same reason as in the past three years. I just believe it would be improper to take advantage of an honest mistake. I simply think refusing this increase in the right thing to do."

Connors added, "I've written the Township Board of Trustees informing them of my decision."

Norfolk & Western tickets approved for Rock Island Railroad

Regional Transportation Authority Chairman Lewis W. Hill along with Mayor Ernest F. Kolb recently announced at a press conference that Norfolk & Western commuter tickets can now be used on the Rock Island Railroad.

Now in effect, those of the 2200 commuters who purchase Norfolk & Western tickets may use them on the Rock Island Railroad to an equivalent zone not to exceed zone E which is Tinley Park 80th Avenue.

"RTA realizes that sometimes emergencies can arise which force a commuter to use other than normal means of transportation," said RTA Chairman Hill.

"Since Norfolk & Western riders have only four trains, the RTA will permit Norfolk & Western Railroad tickets to be used on the Rock Island Railroad. This will give Norfolk & Western riders another 62 trains per weekday to use if necessary."

The Norfolk & Western Railway operates two trains in the morning, departing

Oak Lawn First Party holds press conference

During a press conference this past Sunday members of the Oak Lawn First party who are running for office, John Petrozza (Mayor of Oak Lawn), Peter Paulius (Clerk), David R. Erickson (Trustee, District II) and incumbent John J. Hardek (District IV) issued a general statement explaining their reasons for seeking the various seats that will be open in the April 7, 1981 election in the Village of Oak Lawn.

Stating that they are all business managers and consultants they believe that government is too detached from the people who are their employers, the residents of Oak Lawn.

John F. Petrozza

Peter P. Paulius

David R. Erickson

John J. Hardek

The candidates state that over the next two months they intend to prove to the residents that they are best qualified to run government as a business when hired (elected), as each candidate being supported from the Oak Lawn First brings special skills with him.

Issues and solutions which will be their priorities are: a pledge to hold taxes, during the next four years, at their current level per resident served. A ceiling will be placed on controllable expenditures and jobs redefined to allow expansion of services while controlling costs. There are many areas where income is provided to government other than taxes to the residents. These areas include sales tax, business license, building permits, cable television and others. They will be intensified to create additional income to offset inflation and rising costs in the day-to-day operation of government. This will allow government the ability to provide continuing and expanded services without increasing taxes.

Paulius intends to revitalize the clerks office by using day hours to focus on developing a committee to bring new business to Oak Lawn. He also proposes that the village clerk become direct liaison with the Oak Lawn Chamber of Commerce and other business organizations that put Oak Lawn first. A revolutionary advertising and public relations program will be developed to regenerate the sagging auto market and other retail sales businesses in Oak Lawn that produce sales tax revenue.

A complete reorganization of the business licensing rates and procedures is proposed, plus the establishment of an Automatic Village Auto Sticker Program, will increase resident benefits while reducing administration costs.

When hired (elected) Petrozza plans to fight drugs which is a major concern of Oak Lawn. He plans on becoming a full time mayor using the office to develop further business and community involvement.

Among the promises are to help the seniors, intensify job programs for the youth of Oak Lawn and visit schools as a guest speaker on the harm of drugs and alcohol abuse.

Traveling with... World Travel Mart

TOURS ARE A BARGAIN

Whether traveling abroad or in the United States, package tours are popular choices at vacation-time. Here is a brief description of the tours available from our office.

A PACKAGE TOUR is a prearranged itinerary which has been put together to appeal to people interested in visiting a certain place or places or people who share a common interest -- such as ski enthusiasts, theatergoers, or art lovers. These tours may be either escorted or unescorted.

The ESCORTED TOUR takes advantage of low group rates. This is a good way for the first time traveler to see a country, since a tour director travels with the group and handles all details (reservations, transportation, baggage, customers, etc.) The UNESCORTED TOUR enables the traveler to purchase a prearranged package complete with transportation, hotels, transfer, etc., yet he travels alone instead of in a group. The GROUP TOUR is one in which a number of people from a club or organization travel together. Traveling in such a group brings lower prices.

Whether you'll be travelling with a group or would prefer a specially planned itinerary suited to your own needs, we'll be happy to help. Stop in at WORLD TRAVEL MART, 5615 W 95th Street and talk with us today.

Rebuttal to Southwest Real Estate Board

GUEST EDITORIAL
by John T. Hayes

As Chairman of the Committee On Reasonable Condominium Conversions In Oak Lawn, I wish to point out the many irregularities about the article on Page 6 of VILLAGE VIEW dated February 1, 1981, submitted by the Southwest Suburban Board of Realtors. I suppose this Board comprises several hundred real estate people, over a large geographical area, that are more interested in sales than the plight of senior renters in Oak Lawn. As was pointed out about a year ago at an Oak Lawn Village Board meeting, most of them would be against "motherhood" if they thought it would interfere with real estate sales. It seems odd or kind of sneaky that the article was not signed by an individual who could be held responsible for same.

The Real Estate Board says there are myths about condominium conversions. According to the dictionary, myth means any imaginary thing or event and the following reasons for not owning a condominium are very true and real.

In Oak Lawn, the majority of renters are senior citizens and young married couples. Most of these people are not able to buy condominiums for financial reasons. The seniors are especially having difficulties securing reasonable mortgages or meeting the high monthly payments because they are on limited, fixed incomes. Then there are people who want to invest their money in other than real estate. In Oak Lawn, condominiums cost about $40,000 to over $100,000 and at today's high yields you could have a very nice apartment on the interest returns. Furthermore, if you encountered a neighbor who is hard to live with or some other unfavorable situation, it would be much easier to change rental units than sell your condo.

Then there is maintenance fees, heating costs, especially electric heat, extra assessments for major repairs, such as replacing a roof and various other hidden future expenses. Last, but not least is getting responsible people to be officers in a condo, particularly a president to listen to all the complaints and take action on them. I have talked to several condominium owners who tell me the only difference between renting and owning a condo is that it costs considerable more money to live in the latter.

Although the negative effects of the present condo situation applies to the whole country as evidenced by letters from Congressman Martin Russo and State Representative Herbert Huskey who point out that this problem should first be handled at the local level. Accordingly the Committee on Reasonable Condominium Conversions in Oak Lawn are again requesting our village board, through the 6th District Trustee Jay Bergamini to adopt a six month moratorium on condo conversions at the February 24, 1981 meeting of the Oak Lawn village board to slow down this ever worsening situation with a view to more permanent remedies in the future.

also be a written test given at this session.

Russo Reports from Washington

by Congressman Marty Russo

RUSSO ANNOUNCES LBJ INTERNSHIP

Third District Congressman Marty Russo has announced that he is now accepting applications for a two-month internship assignment in his Washington office for this summer.

Interns can be employed by Members of Congress to assist with office operations under the Lyndon Baines Johnson congressional internship program for students in institutions of higher education or for teachers of government or social studies in secondary or post-secondary schools. Russo says he is seeking a bona fide student attending a college, university, or similar institution of higher learning this academic year.

The intern must perform the duties of his or her employment in the Washington, D.C. office and job responsibilities are determined by the Member. The salary is established at the total gross sum of $1620 for the two-month period payable at the rate of not to exceed $810 per month.

"The internship provides a wonderful opportunity for first-hand experience of our government and on a day-to-day basis for learning the functions, services and demands of a congressional office," Russo commented. "I only wish we had more positions available," Russo continued, "because in the past the office also has benefitted greatly from the new insights and enthusiasm our interns bring."

To obtain an application, write: Office of Congressman Marty Russo, 10634 S Cicero Avenue, Oak Lawn, IL 60453. Deadline for accepting applications is March 20.

to 5 pm. The course is early registration is limited to 75 students, so encouraged.

Down is a 'natural' in energy shortage

Living in cooler rooms, a necessity since the energy crisis began, may actually be a blessing in disguise. Cool air is more healthful than the super-heated air many Americans have been accustomed to breathing. It's an energy wise idea to keep your home on the cool side — and it's healthy too.

For cozy sleeping, keep yourself warm with a comforter filled with down or a mix of down and feathers, and your bedroom temperature low.

A low thermostat and a fluffy comforter are the key to comfortable and healthy sleep. A comforter, filled with down or a combination of down and feathers, will drape to your body and keep you warm in the winter and comfortable in the warmer months. Its insulating qualities maintain your body temperature, so you act as your own thermostat.

Lightweight

The natural fill comforter is so lightweight that every night's sleep will be pleasant and refreshing — there are no heavy covers to weigh you down.

If you like to toss and turn in your sleep, don't worry — the comforter filled with natural materials will contour to your body with every toss and turn. And, if you're the kind of sleeper who likes to "wrap up" in your covers, go ahead. With a comforter, there are no electrical coils to worry about, and no electric bills either.

Kerry sings at Tower Inn

Singer-guitarist Kerry can perform just about any song that has been a hit in the last three decades as he presents his easy-listening, easy-dancing tunes in a new act at the 12th floor Top of the Tower Lounge in Oak Lawn Tower Inn, 9333 S Cicero Avenue, Oak Lawn. Top tunes of the 1950s, 1960s and 1970s, and some folk tunes that go back much further, are included in Kerry's unusually large repertoire of 270 songs and 80 instrumentals.

His selections include a group that were made famous by Elvis Presley, and another group featured by Ricky Nelson. Still others are originals composed by Kerry himself.

Kerry creates an intimate, comfortable atmosphere in which he makes friends with the audience, often inviting them to play musical games and lingering during intermissions to chat.

He does requests, and sometimes turns this into a "stump Kerry" game, which he seldom loses but everyone wins. He also reverses the order to "stump the audience," seeing who can name the tune.

His easy way with people and his quiz-type games may have developed partly from his experience as school teacher, before he became a fulltime musician in 1975.

Mayor's Coalition clean sweep for clean campaign

A clean campaign and a clean sweep in the upcoming April 7 Mayoral and Trustee Election in Oak Lawn is promised by Mayor Ernie Kolb, who will be running for re-election to a second four-year term.

Mayor Kolb heads a slate of candidates of the Mayor's Coalition Party. Joining Mayor Kolb were Village Clerk Jayne Powers, candidate for re-election as clerk, Trustees Ron Stancik (District 2), Bob Bruce (District 4) and Jay Bergamini (District 6).

Mayor Kolb said, "We're all going to be rolling up our sleeves for the tough job ahead. I'm proud of the progress we have made in Oak Lawn in the past four years and will be spelling out that progress and our plans for the next four years as this campaign unfolds. I'm making this pledge today: We will run an issue oriented, clean campaign. I hope my challenger will make the same pledge!"

Plea not to forget MIA's or POW's

Mary Carol Lemon (l), mother of Air Force Major Jeffrey C. Lemon still missing in action since April 25, 1971 in South East Asia and Bernadette Kurtz, legislative chairman of Johnson-Phelps Auxiliary to Post 5220 Veterans of Foreign Wars.

They express the hope that as a nation who rejoice in the return of the 53 hostages from Iran, they do not forget the Missing-In-Action or Prisoners of War in Vietnam. As the Iranian exhostages had 444 days of publicized captivity, the prisoners or missing in Asia had little coverage for over 4,000 days. The media kept the issue alive and thus the public never forgot.

They hope as members of their auxiliary never to permit this issue of honor and compassion to be brushed aside in the day to day policy concerns.

The Auxiliary President Betty Feltes and members support and contribute to the National League of Families to keep them in operation even though it is on such bare bone expenditures. They only hope all veterans share their concern because "There but by the grace of God go I..."

Little Company welcomes new members

The Little Company of Mary Auxiliary welcomed new members at a tea held recently at the hospital. One of the highlights of this event was the introduction of Sister Mildred Radziewicz, LCM as the new Honorary Auxiliary President.

Since the mid 1930's, when the Little Company of Mary Hospital Auxiliary was founded, dedicated community residents have directed their efforts in the best interests of hospitalized patients thru various volunteer and fund-raising activities. The organization is a living memorial to Mother Mary Potter who founded the order of the Sisters of the Little Company of Mary in Hyson Green, England, in 1877.

The latest projects undertaken by the Auxiliary are the purchase of a Clinac 4 MV Linear Accelerator for the Radiation Therapy Dept that provides the hospital with one of the most sophisticated and powerful tools known for the treatment of cancer and the implementation of a new food service system for the hospital that will benefit patients, employees and visitors.

Major social functions that will be sponsored by the auxiliary during the coming months include the Reflections '81 Luncheon and Fashion Show at the Martinique, a Think and Thank Day of Reflection and the Installation.

Past presidents of the LCMH Auxiliary include Mrs Stanley Ruzich, Mrs Charles Stumpf, Mrs John B. O'Donoghue, Mrs Thomas Leahy, Mrs Robert E. Lee, Mrs Edward Roche, Sr., Mrs Clarence Engdall, Mrs Russell Streff, Mrs Richard DeTamble, Mrs John Leahy, Mrs Joseph Nesypor and Mrs Walter McDonough.

Outstanding Legislator

State Representative Herb Huskey, (c), recently received an Outstanding Legislator Award for 1980 from the Illinois Association of Park Districts. Association Governmental Services Director Peter M. Murphy (l) and Executive Director Ted Flickinger made the presentation.

Huskey was recognized for his "ardent support" of parks and recreation on both the state and local levels. During the 81st General Assembly, he passed legislation to bring park employees within the prohibition against conflict of interest in contracts. He also continues to provide a playground for the Oak Lawn Park District and a ball field for the Orland Park Youth Commission.

Multimedia strings first cable line in Oak Lawn

History was made last week when the first strand of cable was strung in Oak Lawn by all-union workers. Multimedia Cablevision has become the recognized leader in the Chicago area for cable television using labor from the International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers unions 9 and 134. Through the efforts of Multimedia management and union business representatives, far-reaching agreements have set the stage for hundreds of new jobs and quality installation of cable television in all communities being served by Multimedia.

Oak Lawn became the site for the first cable stringing. Service to the residents of Oak Lawn is expected to begin in April of this year. The antenna site or head end for Multimedia is located at 97th and Central Avenue. All cable will start at that point and run throughout the community for individual resident hook-ups. Multimedia will be installing a 54 channel system which is the largest in the Chicago area.

"There are still many misunderstandings about cable television," stated Ben Sciortino, Director of Corporate Development for Multimedia. "The entire strength of Multimedia Cablevision is being employed around the clock to provide the most comprehensive system possible to all the communities where we hold the franchise. Cablevision for urban areas is still relatively new and the future holds more promise and excitement than the invention of electricity itself."

Condo moratorium fails fourth try

An ordinance providing for a condo conversion moratorium was turned down by the Oak Lawn board Tuesday, by a vote of 4-2.

Trustee Jay Bergamini, composer of the ordinance and before roll call, said that it was made clear in the President's speech that there would be no help on the federal level and said that we must get "down to the local level and do something about the housing for seniors and young married couples. He said that time was needed to implement a plan or investigate a means to develop some way that rental units can be provided in Oak Lawn.

Trustee Ron Stancik, who seconded the proposal, said that he believes an owner has a right to sell his property as he chooses. He said that he voted "yes" on the ordinance because it was for a short time and to buy time to make studies. If in the six months, solutions were not found the moratorium would have to be dropped.

William Groebe, member of the Southwest Board of Realtors, who was in the audience said that this was a "negative" moratorium and violates the owner's rights. He said the board would be doing a disfavorable service to the property owners.

Bergamini said, "The major reason for the moratorium is to have a plan that may come from this that may be a benchmark for this village and perhaps the state."

Trustee John Petrozza said that if taxes were cut from 32% for rental unit owners to the 16% for homeowners the problem would be solved.

John Hayes, spokesman for the Committee on Reasonable Condominium Conversion in Oak Lawn said, "Jay Bergamini has taken nothing but abuse for bringing this up so often, but on the other hand the village has not done anything about it.

"There has been no construction of rental units. A moratorium is not unique," he said. "Just recently it was mentioned in Business Week that Philadelphia had an 18 month moratorium." Hayes asked them to vote for the moratorium and come up with a plan to alleviate the problem.

Mayor Kolb then suggested that a committee be formed and many there were eager to serve.

Trustee John Hardek, who had voted against the moratorium, suggested that they write to the state legislator to set up a taxing district in Oak Lawn and allow builders who would built the buildings one-half the regular rate of assessment for five years. The Village of Oak Lawn could use its revenue bonding power to encourage builders to built 12 unit or more rental units.

Bergamini said that this was part of the plan that was to be implemented using our Industrial Revenue bonding power.

One positive note was Mayor Kolb's committee suggestion. Trustees Bergamini, Hardek and Stancik offered to serve. Kolb asked Groebe and Hayes to join them and said that he would also attend meetings as ex officio.

Standard Federal steady growth Mayor's Coalition Grand Opening

Justin Mackiewicz, Jr., President and Board Chairman of Standard Federal Savings & Loan Association recently announced that the association continued its pattern of steady growth and profit in 1980. Assets reached a record amount of $542,801,777.38 at the close of business on December 31.

Savings accounts climbed to a new high of over $459,600,000, an increase of more than $46 million in savings and certificate accounts during the past year. Surplus and reserves, which provide additional protection for savings accounts, rose to over $32 million.

Justin Mackiewicz, Jr. Mackiewicz noted Standard Federal paid out a record $36,639,935 in dividends to over 80,000 savings account holders. In spite of fluctuating interest rates, he stated that the association granted over $53 million in mortgage loans.

As part of their expansion program in 1980, Standard Federal opened its newest branch in Oak Lawn last fall. With the addition of this full-service facility, the association now serves Chicagoland with ten locations.

"With the addition of the new 5 1/4% interest bearing checking account to our list of services for 1981, Standard Federal will function as a more complete financial center - a convenience we are happy to offer customers who prefer to transact all their savings business under one roof," said Mackiewicz.

Lenore Colson and John Cleveland, Co-Chairpersons of the "Mayor's Coalition Party '81 Campaign," announce the official opening of the headquarters, 4951 W 95th Street, phone 424-9613. They are planning an open house on Saturday, March 7th from 2 until 5 pm and invite all the residents of Oak Lawn to drop in and meet the candidates: Mayor Ernie Kolb, Clerk Jayne Powers, Incumbent Trustees Ron Stancik and Jay Bergamini and newcomer to the team, Bob Bruce.

Candidate Siemeck speaks out against library censorship

Catherine Siemeck, candidate for the Oak Lawn Library Board in the April 7 election, talks out against "censorship" in relation to the library.

Siemeck, who is running with candidates Harriet Murphy and Tom Krzeminski, said that it is too bad that this has become an issue. She said that the board performs numerous functions to maintain the standard of the library both in and outside.

"These are the issues that should be addressed," Siemeck said, "once you begin taking books off the shelf for each person that may have an objection to a certain book, we would soon have no library."

She went on to say that during the time of the controversy, the spokesman for those that were requesting a book be taken off the shelf, was allowed to speak at great length with no interruptions. She spoke on radio and all over the city and no one tried to take away her right to speak.

"We (the library board) even provided her with a podium and a microphone. We have not deprived her of any of her views or opinions," Siemeck went on, "but, don't deprive me of the same privilege."

"By the same token, when people advocate books based on their own moral judgment, this is censorship and should not be allowed."

Siemeck went on to say that she, and the other board members who voted in unison to re-open the library on Sundays, were delighted. Just recently the board found an additional $9600 in the budget, allowed by the Oak Lawn Board of Trustees, due to the higher assessed valuation of the village.

Oak Lawn Trustee Les Anderson is the campaign manager for the threesome and intends to work hard toward the re-election of incumbents Catherine Siemeck, Harriet Murphy and the election of Tom Krzeminski.

Opposition candidates are Kathleen Vorderer, Cosmo D'Amico and Bernadette Jacobsen.

'Walk America'

Dennis Spicer, of Spicer & Spicer Realtors Ltd. in Oak Lawn, appears above with 1981 March of Dimes National Poster Child, Missy Jablonski, age 5½, of St. Louis, Missouri.

Several national corporate sponsors, such as Zayre and 7-11 stores, will be involved and national television and radio advertising will support "Walk America".

All across America young and old will be walking 30 kilometers on Sunday, April 26, 1981. In the southwest suburban area, Chairman Dennis Spicer and his co-workers have set a goal of 5000 individual workers and 300 corporate teamwalkers.

An organizational brunch meeting will be held from 1 to 4 pm on Sunday, March 1 at Fox's Pub in Oak Lawn. All local business people and residents interested in serving on the Superwalk Committee are welcome.

Imagine...

- if every salesman made one more sale.
- if every teacher aided one more student in need.
- if every soldier trained one more day.
- imagine how many problems our country could solve if every American, from every walk of life, lifted his or her acceptable level of achievement just one notch.

The following message, taken from President Ronald Reagan's January 20th Inaugural Address, is more than a wish for the future. These words offer a personal challenge to every public official and private citizen in America.

"The crisis we are facing today requires our best effort, our work, and our willingness to believe in ourselves and in our capacity to perform great deeds; that together and with God's help we can and will resolve the problems which confront us. Why shouldn't we believe that? After all, we are Americans."

Come on friends, answer the challenge!

If you're having problems paying your heating bills, you may be eligible for financial aid through this year's Low Income Energy Assistance Program (LIEAP). The federal program, offers grants of up to $430 for qualified applicants on a first-come, first-serve basis. In Illinois alone, the program has approximately $101 million to distribute to eligible residents.

The grants will range from $90 to $430 per household depending on your gross income, household size, primary heat source, and type of dwelling. For example, in metropolitan Chicago, a one-person household can qualify if gross income, before taxes and deductions, does not exceed $4738 a year. A two-person household can have a gross total of up to $6088; four-person, $10,312; and six-person,

Test child proof packages at Garden Preschool

The Environmental Research Group, located in Bridgeview, visited Garden Preschool as part of its child safety research program. # Weatherproof energy.

In winter. For the past several winters, many parts of the country have experienced energy shortages. The oil and coal needed to make electricity couldn't be delivered. Rivers were frozen. Stockpiled coal was frozen solid. The machinery to move coal was frozen.

As fuel ran low, electricity had to be rationed. Plants and schools were closed. People were laid off. Shivering became the national pastime. But not in northern Illinois.

Commonwealth Edison electricity is made mostly from abundant coal and uranium. That helps to conserve the scarce fuels and natural gas.

It wasn't luck that got us through those winters: it was nuclear power. Over 40% of the electricity we make comes from nuclear fuel. Because no matter how much it snows or how cold it gets, nuclear fuel is available—weatherproof. Enough uranium to provide all the electricity we need for an Illinois winter can be stored in a one car garage.

In summer. Nuclear power gives us the reliability we need to respond to summer peak demands without brownouts. In the last decade, when growth of air conditioning helped increase demand for electricity more than 35%, Edison's nuclear stations had an unbroken record of summer availability.

And nuclear power is today's great energy bargain. It costs about a penny and a half a kilowatt hour less than coal and over four cents less than oil. If we'd replaced our uranium with low sulphur western coal in 1980, it would have cost an extra $460,000,000 in fuel expense. Using oil or gas instead of uranium would have driven the cost up to almost 1.5 billion dollars. Instead, the nuclear fuel we used, the equivalent of 46,000,000 barrels of oil, saved over 10% on your electric bill.

With our strong nuclear capability, we're ready for the weather. Let it snow. Let it sizzle.

English named to United States Tourism and Travel Board

Congressman Martin Russo from the 3rd Congressional District of Illinois, announced the appointment of Joseph J. English, General Manager, Vice President of the Holiday Inn Hotel of Oak Lawn as a member of the U.S. Congressional Travel & Tourism Caucus Advisory Board, during a luncheon Saturday, February 28, 1981.

The overall purpose of the Caucus will be to develop more awareness concerning the importance of tourism to our economy and to promote tourism. Energy and how it is regulated and allocated will be one of the foremost concerns of this caucus as it begins its work.

Areas of concern other than energy are the adoption of a national tourism policy, improving transportation services, the promotion of international travel and tourism, federal tax policy and other special projects.

Blue ribbon committee to study village condo ordinance

Oak Lawn Village Mayor Ernest F. Kolb recently announced the formation of an eight person blue-ribbon committee to study the village's condominium ordinance and to make recommendations to strengthen the ordinance to help senior citizens and young married couples.

"While helping senior citizens is our most pressing objective, I believe we must make some long range plans to help keep our younger people in Oak Lawn.

"According to the latest U.S. Census, Oak Lawn has lost over 2000 people over the last decade, mostly young people. We should be taking steps to encourage our young people -- our children -- to stay.

"Not only is this of great importance to many of us personally -- keeping our young people near us -- but as we lose population, we also are losing state and federal funds because so many of the grants and funds we receive are based on population."

Named to the committee were LeRoy Corradino, President of the Oak Lawn Trust & Savings Bank; Harold Miller, Architect; Ed Meier, President of the Southwest Suburban Board of Realtors; John Hayes, representing Senior Citizens; Charles Meloun, Trustee from the 3rd district; and Jerome Bergamini, representing the 6th district; Mildred Sujka, Vice President of George Washington Savings & Loan Association; and one more person to be named later, someone to represent the interests of young married couples.

Trustee Bergamini will be acting Chairman. Mayor Kolb will serve ex-officio.

The first meeting, an organization meeting, will be held later in March -- at a date to be determined -- to set up rules of procedure. Norman Bacon, Director of Quality Control, will be the committee secretary to make the needed arrangements and to provide necessary staff. All trustees will be invited to participate and present arguments.

After the rules are formulated, members of the public who wish to testify and present arguments will be advised as to procedures.

"I will ask the committee to look into three specific areas and make recommendations dealing with these three areas. The minority, in any case, will be permitted to submit dissenting opinions.

The specific subject areas submitted by the Mayor are:

1) "To study condominium ordinances in other communities in the Cook County area to see whether others have enacted steps that might be useful here,

2) "To study the feasibility of issuing municipal bonds to provide prospective home buyers with mortgage funds at lower interest rates. Similar bond issues have been approved in other municipalities such as Chicago, Morton Grove and Downers Grove,

3) "To study the merit and drawbacks of a moratorium."

Mayor Kolb continued: "Almost 50% of our rental units have been converted to condominiums. This has worked a great hardship on (Continued on Page 13)

Multimedia to furnish lock-out keys to parents with installation of service

Oak Lawn Mayor Ernest F. Kolb recently announced that Multimedia Cable Television Company, Inc., has agreed to provide Oak Lawn Pay-TV subscribers with parental control lock-out devices effective with the installation of service.

The lock-out control device will permit parents to lock out programming they feel might be harmful or injurious to their children watching.

In a letter dated February 3, Ben Sciortino, whose films are devoted director of corporate development for Multimedia wrote Mayor Kolb:

"While Multimedia realizes that it is not the intent of you or your board to censor programming for your residents I do feel you have the obligation to insure as much as possible against programming dealing primarily with sex, violence and crime. To that end, Multimedia hereby agrees not to show or make available for viewing any channel primarily to sex, violence and crime."

Sciortino said the device will be available to subscribers free as subscriber lines are installed. The device is capable of locking out all premium movie channels.

Sciortino's letter was prompted by a call from Mayor Kolb because of concern about the possibility of x-rated type films being seen by Oak Lawn children.

At a meeting with Mayor Kolb, Sciortino reaffirmed the availability of the devices. Although April 1 is the commencement date for installation, Sciortino said he is hopeful that some hook-ups might begin earlier.

Mayor Kolb said: "We are pleased with Mr Sciortino's prompt attention to this matter which concerns us all. With these devices, parents can make the decisions as to what their children will be able to watch. This is as it should be; it places responsibility where it belongs -- on the parents."

Yourell bill would set dope street value as amount of bail bond

Rep Harry "Bus" Yourell has introduced legislation which would mandate posting of a bail bond in an amount equal to the street value of drugs seized during an arrest. Under House Bill 249 there would be no appeal for smaller bond because a judge would have no alternative except the total value of narcotics confiscated.

The Oak Lawn legislator said his personal experiences in the Bahamas last summer and knowledge of widespread drug trafficking in the United States prompted his introduction of the legislation. He has received widespread national attention in the news media since he took pictures of a boat owned by a Florida couple murdered in a drug-related attack near the Bahamas.

Yourell cited the case of a drug runner named Guterrez in a Florida court where he appeared after his arrest with $10 million in cocaine by the Federal Drug Enforcement Agency. Bail for the Colombian national was set at $3 million, later reduced to $1 million.

"Guterrez walked in the court, paid the million in cash, walked out and hasn't been seen since," Yourell says.

While sailing in the Bahamas area last summer, Yourell found the abandoned boat belonging to Bill and Patty Kammerer of Ft. Myers Beach, Fla., took pictures of a body in a life boat and the interior of the blood splattered vessel before reporting his find to Bahamian authorities.

The legislator reported he received no cooperation from these officials as they delayed their search of the boat, from which the photographed body had disappeared. The Bahamian law enforcement officials demanded a large cash payment for the release of the boat, but Yourell in December gained its release.

"I received little cooperation from the Bahamas government or the U.S. State Department.

"The federal Drug Enforcement Agency is doing its best; but is understaffed with fewer agents than it had a year ago."

Yourell said authorities are unable to stem the flow of narcotics into this country despite the brazen methods used by drug runners.

In addition to citing a rising number of planes crashing with their overloads of drugs, he says at night off the coast of Florida bobbing lights pinpoint dropped shipments of drugs waiting to be picked up by fast boats.

"All of this -- the Kammerers murdered by the drug industry and the obvious increase of narcotics reaching Illinois -- makes it imperative that a counterattack be launched so that the traffic can at least be slowed.

"The bill I have introduced is one avenue of attack -- an attack on the profitability of this dirty business. If our top authorities and those in other countries are not willing to head such warfare then at least we can make a start here in the state of Illinois," Yourell concluded.

Yourell's crusade has been noted in stories by the national media, such as Time Magazine, the radio and television networks and nearly every publication devoted to sailing."

Larson bows to Yourell law

It isn't often that the Republicans and Democrats agree on anything but it has happened. In a news release Cook County Commissioner Ronald R. Larson (R) hailed the Consolidated Election law initiated thru great effort by State Representative Harry "Bus" Yourell (D).

Larson said, "As of December 1, 1980, all elections are to be governed by the general election law of the State of Illinois (Election Consolidation):"

Further, "This year, for the first time, on Tuesday, April 7, the suburban voters will be casting their ballots to elect municipal officers, township or road district officers, park district, library district and certain school district officers."

"No longer will the voter have to concern himself with numerous dates for referenda and special election," Larson continued. "The consolidation of the elections will not only make it easier for the voter, it will also standardize filing dates for candidates, and the publication of election notices. Further, precinct polling place locations and election judges, in most cases, will remain the same as during the last general election."

Larson further stated, "The County Clerk and the Board of Election Commissioners will be responsible for the administration of all elections within their jurisdiction. However, local municipal and township clerks will be cooperating in order to insure the effectiveness of the election process."

It is our duty, and our privilege as citizens of the United States, to exercise our right to vote. As suburban residents, you will be voting for your city village officials, as well as township officials. You will be electing your park district board members and your library district board members.

One day conference on communism

The Cardinal Mindszenty Foundation will hold a one day conference on the Challenges of Communism, according to Michael M. Bates of Oak Lawn, area coordinator for the event. The conference will be held Saturday, March 14, from 9:30 am to 4:30 pm at the Holiday Inn-Mart Plaza in downtown Chicago.

Speakers will include W. Mark Felt, former Associate Director of the F.B.I.; General Daniel O. Graham, USA (ret.), currently serving as Chairman of the Coalition for Peace Through Strength; and Father Vincent P. Miceli, S.J., professor, author, and frequent contributor to the Vatican's official newspaper L'Osservatore Romano. Persons interested in tickets or further information should contact Bates at 425-9084.

Each of these elections is important. And this year, for the very first time, you have the opportunity to cast your ballot for all of these very important offices by going to your precinct polling place on Tuesday, April 7. The polls will be open from 6 am to 7 pm.

In the April 1, 1981 issue of VILLAGE VIEW will be listed all the candidates for the various elections. Be sure to cast your ballot, your vote does count.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

BEAUTIFUL BUILDING OR LOWLY PUP TENT?

The current GOP contretemps about the advisability of selling the Worth Township building and relocating all the services in the Annex at 11601 South Pulaski is a graphic demonstration of the thinking of the Republican group that held control of Worth Township for too many years. They are into buildings and material things. They find real estate more important than real people and their needs.

The present administration, on the other hand, in their four year stewardship of Worth Township business, have a proven record of providing service. They know that a hungry child, a lonely senior, a troubled youth does not care if the answer to their problem comes from a beautiful building or a lowly pup tent.

Service has become the symbol of the present administration in Worth Township. They should be commended, rather than condemned, for their efforts to make people the number one priority in their jurisdiction.

THE POWER OF DEMOCRACY—THE FREEDOM TO READ

I have been a resident of Oak Lawn for 32 years; I raised my children here and we have been frequent library users for all those years. In growing up my boys read a lot of good books and a fair amount of trash. They have grown into discerning and honorable citizens.

Being exposed to a wide spectrum of ideas is an important way for young people, or people of any age, to learn what is possible, what works and what doesn't, what is suitable for their lifestyle and what has no appeal. Through books we can experience vicariously all manner of ideas, ways of life, philosophies, more than an individual could try out in a lifetime. The essence, the power of democracy, is the freedom to read. It is strengthened by the freedom of its citizens to choose widely from conflicting philosophies and opinions offered freely to them.

I am proud of the stand the present library board has taken on the availability of books and ideas in the Oak Lawn Public Library. I will support Harriet Murphy and Catherine Siemack for re-election and Tom Krzeminski, who is running with them, for election.

SPECIAL TAX BENEFIT INFORMATION

It may be hard to picture it in the midst of winter snows, but spring will return again -- and along with it the requirement for paying taxes. Jonquils are a happier image than tax forms, but, as the old saying goes, nothing is certain but death and taxes.

As part of its Taxpayer Information program, the IRS is distributing the following information:

WIDOWS, WIDOWERS MAY QUALIFY FOR SPECIAL TAX BENEFIT

A taxpayer who became a widow or widower in 1978 or 1979 may be entitled to a special tax benefit for 1980, the IRS says.

The benefit allows the taxpayer to use the "Married Filing Jointly" tax table (or tax rate schedule) with tax rates significantly lower than those in the "single" category.

To qualify for the benefit, the taxpayer (1) must have been entitled to file a joint return with the deceased spouse for the year of the death, even if one was not actually filed; (2) must not have remarried before the close of 1980; (3) must have a child, stepchild, or foster child who qualified as a dependent; and (4) must have furnished over half the cost of maintaining the taxpayer's home, which was the principal residence for that dependent child for the entire year.

FREE TAX HELP FOR SMALL BUSINESS OWNERS

Publication 334, "Tax Guide for Small Business," is a 176-page free book that goes into detail on such subjects as setting up a tax records system, determination of net income, tax credits and business assets. Publication 583, "Recordkeeping for a Small Business," explains what a small business-person needs to know to meet tax obligations. The third free item, "Your Business Tax Kit," includes publications, blank forms and instructions. This tax kit is "customized" by the IRS to fit a particular business, upon request by the business owner.

Taxpayers can obtain these free publications by mail, using the order form in the tax package, or by calling the IRS Forms Tax Information number listed in the telephone directory.

TAXPAYERS MAY BE DUE BREAK THROUGH INCOME AVERAGING

Taxpayers whose incomes increased substantially in 1980 may be eligible for a tax break by using the income averaging method of tax computation when filing their federal income tax return, the IRS says. In income averaging, part of an unusually large amount of taxable income can be taxed in lower brackets.

Generally, the taxpayer uses the four years prior to 1980 to compute the tax in averaging income.

For detailed information on how to compute income averaging, taxpayers should ask the IRS for free Publication 506, "Income Averaging", available by using the order form in the tax package or by calling the IRS Forms/Tax Information number listed in the telephone directory.

Award is the highest award given high school publications.

More than 2900 publications were entered in the contest. Three consecutive issues of each publication were rated comparatively on a point system. First-place publications, 10% of the first-place winners received the Medalist Award, scored within a range of 850-1000 points. The Spartanite received 948 points.

In last year's contest, "The Spartanite of Black Oak Grove" was awarded second place.

An All-Columbian honor for exceptional achievement in feature stories was also awarded "The Spartanite of Black Oak Grove" for a feature story written by 1980 graduate Sue Leach on Alcoholic Parents in the March, 1980, issue.

IF YOU OWNED A $24,000,000 COMPANY, WOULDN'T YOU HIRE THE BEST QUALIFIED PEOPLE TO RUN IT?

Think about that on April 7

If you're a resident of Oak Lawn, you're a shareholder in a $24,000,000 "company," the Village government. In fact, this year the budget will run in excess of 24 million dollars. That's not small change. To properly manage this size "company" is a full-time responsibility. There is no place for non-qualified figureheads.

FACT: Under the present administration, the Village bond rating has dropped from AA to a B rating.

FACT: While a number of local businesses have been struggling and some have even folded or left town, there has been no leadership from the Village government to help the business community.

On April 7th, the voters of Oak Lawn will have a real choice regarding the direction the Village will take during the next four years. The Oak Lawn 1st Party offers an alternative, with candidates and ideas to run the Village like a responsible business.

A team to meet the challenges of the 1980's

The candidates of the Oak Lawn 1st Party are professional business managers and consultants. Each brings particular strengths and skills with him. As a group, they make up a management team capable of dealing with the major problems facing the Village of Oak Lawn. They will work to hold taxes at a current level, restore the Village bond rating, create a better business environment to provide increased sales tax revenues, offer new ideas for our teens and senior citizens.

Mayor's Coalition party slate for Tuesday, April 7 election

As a resident of Oak Lawn for 3-1 years, as village clerk for 1-1 years and as mayor for the past four years, Mayor Ernie Kolb knows Oak Lawn -- the village, its people and its needs.

In only four years in office, Ernie Kolb has wiped out the impairment in the municipal pension fund, cut more than 1 million dollars from the deficit he inherited in the road fund and returned Oak Lawn to a sound fiscal basis.

A man you can count on -- when it counts, Ernie has given Oak Lawn four years of balanced budgets and has maintained Oak Lawn's impressively low village real estate tax rate, one of the lowest in the country. Truly a man you can count on -- when it counts -- and where it counts.

Ernie has been a hard worker all his life, serving as a market analyst for a number of national livestock journals before assuming the full-time duties as Village Clerk in 1964.

A veteran of the Armed Forces during World War II, Ernie served in the United States Navy from 1942 to 1945 where he saw active duty in the Pacific Theatre of Operations.

As Village Clerk, Ernie earned the respect of his municipal colleagues, a fact reflected in his being named or elected to major posts in various governmental associations, including appointment to the legislative committee of the Illinois Municipal League; Chairman, International Clerks Association; Vice President, Municipal Clerks of Illinois; and President, Clerks Association of South/Southwest Cook County.

In addition, Ernie always has been active in community affairs, including, Director, Oak Lawn Chamber of Commerce; the VFW; and the Lions; and has served as a member of the Oak Lawn Board of Appeals; Chairman, Oak Lawn Heart Fund Drive (1970) and Chairman, Oak Lawn Cancer Fund Drive (1972).

Ernie is a member of St. Gerald's Church, Knights of Columbus and St. Gerald's Holy Name Society.

Ernie and his wife of 36 years, Peggy, have four adult children and two grandchildren.

For dedicated public service, for an enthusiasm and good nature unmatched in Oak Lawn, the Mayor's Coalition Party of Oak Lawn submits the name of Jayne Powers. That's a contest Jayne would win in a walk.

The Coalition also submits Jayne's name for village clerk. And to win re-election she'll need your help.

A 21-year resident of Oak Lawn, Jayne knows Oak Lawn and its residents just about as well as most of us know the back of our hands.

A full-time clerk since she took office four years ago, Jayne not only carried out her many duties required under the law, but also finds the time to step right up to the counter in her office and handle citizen queries -- without giving people the runaround.

Jayne's efforts were rewarded recently when Mayor Kolb appointed her village ombudsman.

Jayne and husband, Joe, were married in August, 1960, and moved to Oak Lawn at 10644 LeClaire Avenue the following months. They've been there ever since raising Tom, 19; Kevin, 17; and Sharon, 16.

Jayne is currently Vice-President of the South West Suburban Clerks Association and the designated president for the 1981-82 term. She also is a member of the Municipal Clerks of Illinois Association, the International Institute of Municipal Clerks and the Illinois Municipal League, and a member of the Executive Board of the Worth Township Regular Democratic Organization and its publicity chairman.

A graduate of St. Xavier College with a Bachelor's Degree in Education, Jayne taught school for six years -- up until the birth of her first son, Tom.

A member of St. Linus Guild since 1965, Jayne has served in a number of guild posts, including

Ronald M. Stancik

President. In the St. Linus Parish, she has served as a member of the parish council, as secretary of the council, as a member of the social and recreational committee and as a member of the Confraternity of Christian Doctrine Board.

In addition, she has been a member of the Queen of Peace Parents Club, the Richards High School Booster Club, the Oak Lawn Business and Professional Women's Club, the Christ Hospital Women's Auxiliary and the St. Xavier College Alumni Association.

Through his 11 years of residence in Oak Lawn, through his service on a variety of village boards, commissions and committees and through his far ranging civic endeavors, Trustee Ronald M. Stancik brings a knowledge of government unsurpassed in the village.

Ron is seeking a second term as trustee from the 2nd district.

And, his wife, Patricia, is an elected member of the School Board of District 123.

Their two children, Randy, 14; and Julie, 11; attend local schools -- Oak Lawn Community High and Brandt Elementary.

Ron has been a member of the Board of Trustees since 1977, during which time he has served on the Finance Committee, the Traffic Review Committee, the Legal and Ordinance Committee and Chairman of the Public Relations Committee.

In addition to service on the Board of Trustees, Ron has been a member of the Oak Lawn Development Board and the Board of Local Improvements.

Earlier, as a member of the Albert H. Brandt PTA, he served as the Organization's Treasurer and Legislative Chairman.

As a member of the Joseph Covington PTA, Ron

Robert W. Bruce

served as Co-chairman of the Annual Fund Raising Carnival.

Ron also has been active in Oak Lawn baseball -- as a sponsor, team manager, coach, and umpire as well as a vice president and director.

Ron is currently a member of the Oak Lawn Community High School Booster Club and is a precinct captain in the Worth Township Regular Republican Organization.

Ron is a graduate of Gage Park High School in Chicago where he was senior class president; an honors student; a recipient of the Chicago Daily News Silver Knight Award and a member of the 1959 All-City High School baseball team as picked by the Chicago Tribune.

Ron also attended the Illinois Institute of Technology.

Ron is a member of the Pilgrim Faith Church of the United Church of Christ and is a former director of the Christian Education Board.

Ron is a 21 year employee of R.R. Donnelley and Sons, one of the nation's largest printing firms. He is a journeyman Gravure Engraver, a pre-press photographer and is currently process controller for his department.

Ron also is a member of the Legislative Committee of the Illinois Municipal League.

One of the most promising newcomers to public life in Oak Lawn, Robert W. Bruce, brings impressive scholastic and business credentials to his candidacy for the Oak Lawn Village Board of Trustees.

Bob is seeking his first term as trustee from the 4th district.

An honors graduate from Brother Rice High School and a graduate of the University of Illinois, Bob received his bachelor's degree in Mechanical Engineering and a Masters degree

Jerome A. Bergamini

Cum Laude in Engineering Mechanics. Bob also made the dean's list scholastically in each of his four undergraduate years, and made such honorary societies as Sigma Xi Honorary Engineering Society and Pi Tau Sigma Honorary Research Society.

In addition, Bob also has published over 30 articles in professional engineering journals.

In the business world, Bob has been a research engineer at the Illinois Institute of Technology; a marketing consultant for the ITTEL Corporation and is currently a manager for the ROLM Corporation, a manufacturer of telephone equipment.

After his graduation from the University of Illinois and before entering the business world, Bob served a two year hitch in the United States Army where he also distinguished himself. Bob attained the rank of staff sergeant, a rare promotion for only two years in service.

Bob was also given an award as Outstanding in Advanced Infantry Training at Camp Polk, LA, and the Proficiency Service award given by the Army, and the American Legion Award.

Bob and his wife, Sandie, have one child, Patrick.

Jerome A. Bergamini brings a distinguished record of public service to his candidacy for re-election to a second term as member of the Oak Lawn Board of Trustees from the 6th District.

Jay, as he's better known, has been a resident of Oak Lawn for 23 years, 12 of them as a member of the Oak Lawn School Board of District 126.

Jay's other civic contributions and service include serving as an officer and member of St Catherine (Continued bottom next page) young families and senior citizens, particularly on our seniors.

"The composition of the committee will give us a very balanced approach to the problem with representatives of senior citizens groups, realtors, mortgage money providers and trustees to represent the public interest.

"Hardly a week goes by seemingly, without hearing of another condo conversion. Often, that announcement also means some senior citizens are going to be forced out of their apartment or rental unit.

"We must be careful to preserve the rights of property owners, a fact that the courts have repeatedly pointed out. At the same time, we have to be sure that we are doing the best we can to preserve tenant rights. It is a delicate balance.

"We should not be afraid to find out whether other communities have struck a better balance than we have," Mayor Kolb said.

Under the municipal mortgage bond issue concept, the village can issue municipal bonds which are sold at a lower interest rate because the interest is non-taxable and the saving is passed on to the home or condo buyer. The bonds are retired thru the revenue from mortgage money repayment and represent no indebtedness against the village or its taxpayers.

"This relatively new system of providing bond money is used extensively throughout the country," Mayor Kolb said.

Although such a bond issue and moratoriums have been discussed before in Oak Lawn, and rejected, "perhaps it's time to take another look," Mayor Kolb said. "Perhaps this might help senior citizens. We owe it to our senior citizens to take this step."

Mayor Kolb said he would expect the committee to call in experts and take testimony. "We should hear from other villages to learn about their experiences in dealing with these problems; bond experts; administrators and builders.

"I would hope that all the trustees will take the time to attend the public hearings as well as speak to the issues. This committee could well provide us with landmark recommendations which will affect our housing for years to come."

The Worth Township Republican Party recently held an open house which was declared "a huge success" by Campaign Manager Ron Larson. The event was held on Sunday, February 15, at their campaign headquarters located at 10842 S Cicero, Oak Lawn.

Larson noted, "The turnout at this event was overwhelming. This is indicative of the broad support these candidates have among Republicans, Independents, and Democrats thruout Worth Township. This grassroots support, coupled with the strong backing by elected officials all over the township points to one thing - victory on April 7th."

"The quality of our candidates and the feeling by the Worth Township electorate that it is time to turn to the Republican Party on the local and national level for strong, effective leadership, are key ingredients for electoral success. The unity in the Republican Party is a factor of major importance. In this election Republicans are putting forth a concerted

Let's put our cards on the table...

We just got straight "A's" on our economic report card.

Not many communities can claim strong economic growth these days. Oak Lawn can, thanks to the no-nonsense approach of the Mayor's Coalition Party. Through hard work and a thorough understanding of the complexities of municipal finances, the Mayor's Coalition Party has accomplished a lot for Oak Lawn—sensible, conservative, balanced budgets; incentives to lure business; new jobs in the private sector; freezing jobs in the public sector; holding the line on taxes while improving village services. All this in the 11th largest municipality in Illinois. Now that's some economic report card!

- Oak Lawn's tax rate is among the lowest in all of Cook County for municipalities of comparable size.
- Over 350 new businesses opened in Oak Lawn in the past three years, making a major contribution to village revenues
- Over 3,000 new jobs created in Oak Lawn during the last three years

St Louis de Monfort to offer first Annual Religion Fair

For some time the parents, faculty and students of St. Louis de Montfort have been involved in "building a Church". Bricks and mortar are the fabric of the new building. However, sacrifice, cooperation and personal relationships are the fabric of those who are "building the Church," for an essential aspect of the education program of St. Louis de Montfort School is the nurturing of loving relationships among the adults and the children. Some math skills may become obsolete due to computerization. Social Studies maps may be altered with the emerging Third World, but loving personal relationships continue into eternity.

St. Louis de Montfort School is a Christian learning center in which all members of the school community - students, staff, parents - deepen their faith in Jesus through their interaction within the teaching-learning process.

Parental involvement and communication are essential to sustain healthy home and school relationships. Once a month, Sr. Therese O'Donnell, the principal, meets with interested parents at a Koffee Klatch. During this meeting, parents are invited to make specific recommendations which might aid in furthering their relationship with other members of the school community. One result of these sessions has been mid-quarter communications alerting parents that their child needs special attention academically or personally. In response to requests made during a Koffee Klatch, Sr. Therese has offered two courses for parents entitled "Children the Challenge" and "The Complexities of Adolescence".

On a deeper level, parents are virtually involved in their children's Sacramental Program as faculty members assist them in nurturing the Christian life they have chosen for their children. Interaction between teachers and parents begins early in the preparation period and continues through the reception of the sacraments of Reconciliation, First Eucharist and Confirmation.

Children are also involved in planning for their liturgical experiences. "Suffer the little children to come unto me" is concretized in the simplicity of their petitions and the formulation of their prayers, whether at Sacramental Programs, Prayer Services or the Eucharistic Liturgy.

"Building the Church" through the development of loving relationships is exemplified in a variety of student activities. In preparation for the St. Louis de Montfort first Annual Religion Fair, students cooperate to plan and implement their ideas. Culminating activities are shared with parents and friends. Fledgling scientists have their projects on display at the Annual Science Fair when, working individually or in a team of two, they explain their material to produce parents on the night of the Fair.

During the month of May, hidden talent surfaces at the yearly Talent Show. Vocalists, dancers, and mines are part of the entertainment which captivates the parish audience.

Many young people at St. Louis de Montfort School respond to a call to personal leadership. Several activities mentioned above are coordinated by the Student Council. Student Council Officers also participate in the Southwest Student Council Leadership Program. On January 30, nine students attended the Student Government Workshop at Marist High School. A former St. Louis student answered the leadership call two years ago when Kathy Meuman Mantsch, a member of the first graduating class, chose to return to her alma mater as a member of the faculty.

One of the most important relationships to be nurtured is a healthy, realistic self-concept. Early childhood thru adolescence is the ideal time to begin discovering the answer to the universal question "Who am I?" During this process of personal discovery, youngsters become aware that their developing relationship with the Lord God calls them to labor at more than a Church of brick and mortar. They grow in the understanding that there is a personal call to be a participant in the building of a Christian community based on loving human relationships which will continue into eternity. St. Louis de Montfort Parish does not limit itself to just building a structure; rather, the Parish School provides the atmosphere within which a Christian community may be built.

LOOK AT THE RECORD

WORTH TOWNSHIP OFFICIALS RUNNING ON THE PREFERENCE PARTY HAVE ACCOMPLISHED MUCH THE PAST FOUR YEARS

- * Held the line on the levy — Economy, efficiency and concern for your hard earned tax dollars was the primary motivation of Worth Township Government
- * Refused excessive salaries — Dr. Joseph McCarthy, Supervisor of Worth Township, and William E. Connors, Assessor of Worth Township, refused a total of $27,448.72 over the past four years — the money they turned back went into direct services to our youth and senior citizens. Their refusal to take advantage of the last minute salary increase engineered by the former Republican administration has earned the praise and admiration of all Worth Township citizens.
- * Earned record high interest on township deposits — Unlike the previous Republican administration, your Worth Township government the past four years earned more than a quarter of a million dollars in interest rates as high as 18% on township funds, and every penny was deposited in banks in Worth Township.
- * Distributed almost one million dollars in revenue sharing funds to 154 organizations and local units of government for effective direct services. The Worth Township government doesn't believe in creating a bloated bureaucracy — they believe in getting results at the lowest cost.

And there are many other positive reasons to vote for the PREFERENCE PARTY!

AN OPEN LETTER TO THE CITIZENS OF OAK LAWN

We are very disturbed over the recent turn of events in the upcoming April 7 election for mayor, clerk, and three of the village trustee posts.

We had thought that the days of name calling, deceitful charges, half truths, downright misrepresentations and character assassination were over. Finished. Behind us.

Now, to our dismay, we find out that we're right back where we were four years ago - and it probably will be even worse by the time the election is over.

Good people, decent people, family people like Ernie Kolb and Jayne Powers are being viciously attacked by their opponents. It is gutter politics, unfit for Oak Lawn.

Thousands of copies, probably tens of thousands of copies of a "Smear Sheet" made up to look like our newspaper, "Village View," were being distributed throughout Oak Lawn, stuffed in mail boxes, handed out on corners and dropped in bundles in retail outlets and restaurants.

The smear sheet attacks personally. It misrepresents facts. It strongly implies illegal activities. The attempt to smear and destroy good people is clear. Without doubt, it is the foulest piece of campaign literature I have seen in my lifetime.

It was prepared, printed and distributed by the opposition candidates and signed by them and their party. It is a disgrace to Oak Lawn. They are a disgrace to themselves. Such a lust for power must be stopped.

It implies that Ernie Kolb entered into a burglary conspiracy against Oak Lawn. It says the village bond rating has dropped from Double AA to B, (please see advertisement Page 16). The village bond rating was, and is, A. Moreover, the village has never lost a cent because of a change in rating.

Anyone who knows Ernie Kolb personally, or Jayne Powers personally, also knows they would never enter into any kind of conspiracy, let alone one that would hurt Oak Lawn. The smear sheet is filled with those kind of charges.

We believe Ernie Kolb and Jayne Powers and all the candidates of the Mayor's Coalition Party of Oak Lawn and that includes Jay Bergamini, Ron Stancik and Bob Bruce, are all honest, decent people. We may disagree with them personally from time to time on various issues; but we know they are good people.

We also know that the incumbent's record in office, on the whole has been a good one, even an excellent one. Oak Lawn is attracting new business and some of it is big business.

At the last Board of Trustees meeting approved was an Industrial Revenue bond in the amount of $875,125. Owner, Dick Lyons, said that he plans to move Barab Inc., a wholesale hardware business from Midlothian to 5040 W. 111th Street and intends to use the finances to expand.

Trustee Jay Bergamini asked Lyons why he chose Oak Lawn as the site for his business.

"Because Oak Lawn is a good place to live," was his prompt reply. This statement would deny that the village is suffering loss of business due to the present administration.

Even more important than the election of a few individuals, decent as we believe they are, more important is that once and for all, Oak Lawn must reject the smear campaigns, the dirty campaigns and the turmoil that has marked Oak Lawn in the past.

Desperate people say desperate things. Desperation knows no limits. But desperation and burning ambition are no excuse. We in Oak Lawn must defeat those tactics April 7, so that in the future, candidates using those tactics will know it will invite defeat.

This election will be a referendum on decency.

Vote for Mayor Ernie Kolb, Village Clerk Jayne Powers and Jay Bergamini, Ron Stancik and Bob Bruce for trustees.

Yourell speaks out

State Representative Harry "Bus" Yourell (D-8), Campaign Manager of the Preference Party of Worth Township stated that he is prepared to make public payment vouchers for Republican Trustees who were part of the previous administration of Worth Township. These vouchers will document the fact that the Republican Trustees were paid for over 200 meetings which they did not attend.

Yourell charged that campaign rhetoric coming from the Republican candidates for township office, using slogans such as "Honesty in Government" and "It's Time for a Change", sound fine but their performance in the years they held control of township government is in direct contrast to their own slogans. "Not only were trustees paid for meetings they never attended, but township funds were allowed to languish in non interest bearing accounts in banks outside of Worth Township.

"The present Road Commissioner, a Republican incumbent, cleared of charges that he accepted a bribe is quoted as saying he still has the TV set given him. The Supervisor during this time was Ronald Larson, who should have been aware of these ongoing practices. Larson is presently the Campaign Manager for the Republican Candidates," said Yourell.

"The 'time for change' happened in 1977 when the present administration took office. Under the supervision of Joseph McCarthy, funds were immediately transferred to interest bearing accounts within the township, which has resulted in the addition of $263,000 in earned interest by the new administration. Services to the people were instituted and expanded at the same time the tax levy was lowered."

"The people of Worth Township are too sophisticated to be taken in by campaign slogans and will judge the candidates on their performance," stated Yourell.

Park, was recently elected by the membership of the Illinois Association of Merchandise Warehousemen, to serve as a director.

The association works actively to improve communications and methods within the industry.

Grant is married, and the father of four girls. He is President of the Grant Warehouse Co., 6135 W. 65th Street, in Bedford Park.

He is presently serving as a Trustee of Worth Township.

Spring caution advised

Spring is here! Time to cut the grass, till the garden, clean the pool and accomplish a good spring clean up. Remove all old paints, varnishes, aerosol cans, papers, etc. Summer is also the best time to clean and tune up the heating system.

Be cautious when storing gasoline for motor-driven garden tools. Always store gasoline away from the house, basement or garage and in a "safety can". Never fill lawn mowers or other motor-driven tools when engine is hot.

Keep pool chemicals out of the reach of children. Never store chlorine near oil or petroleum products. Oil and chlorine create an instant ignition source.

Time to cook out! Do not use gasoline, naphtha, benzene, or kerosene to start the charcoal. Use only products designed for the purpose; close container and remove from grill area before lighting the charcoal. Never add starter when coals are burning.

Going camping? Make sure fire extinguishers go with you, and why not a smoke detector in the tent, trailer or motor home? Your home away from home can also burn.

The Oak Lawn Fire Department will be conducting home fire safety surveys again this summer.

Library board candidates

Catherine Siemeck

Seeking re-election on April 7 for the Oak Lawn Library Board is Catherine (Kay) Siemeck.

"As costs continue to rise and need for services grow, the library board will be accepting even greater responsibilities to the residents of Oak Lawn. I have the time, the experience and the enthusiasm to serve in this capacity if re-elected," Siemeck said.

She sees the utilization of existing facilities as an economy. "The use of our meeting rooms is an example of how residents can enjoy the free use of the facilities they built and maintain."

Harriet P. Murphy

She said that during the month of January, '33 groups used the rooms and 12 library events were held there for the community.

"I also believe that in the future we will have to cooperate fully with other governing bodies. We'll have to learn to share rather than duplicate services or the purchase of equipment," she concluded.

Siemeck has lived in the community for 28 years. She is married to Gene Siemeck, the mother of two grown children and five grandchildren. She has worked in Cub Scouts, Campfire Girls, Harnew PTA, Oak Lawn Safety Council, Oak Lawn Youth Commission and has served 10 years on the Worthbrook Civic Association Board of Managers, 2 years as secretary, 1 year as youth advisor and president in 1980-81.

Harriet P. Murphy, incumbent, is running for the Oak Lawn Library Board on a ticket sponsored by the Committee to Save the Library, which is also backing incumbent Catherine Siemeck and Thomas Krzeminski.

Harriet and her husband, John, have lived in Oak Lawn over 33 years. Their children are grown and married, and the Murphys are proud grandparents of 2½ grandchildren. She is a graduate of UCLA.

She has long been active in Oak Lawn civic and community life. Harriet was charter member and past president of both the League of Women Voters of Oak Lawn, and the AFS Foreign Student Exchange program at Richards High School. She has been a volunteer driver for Christ Hospital's Home Delivered Meals program since its start in 1973, and is serving her second three year term as Trustee of Pilgrim Faith United Church of Christ. She is also a Life Member of the Illinois Congress of Parents and Teachers.

When asked why she is running, Harriet said, "I believe the library is the cultural mainstay of Oak Lawn, and I believe with my 6 years experience, and with my understanding of the library's purpose and policies, I can help keep it a strong and independent institution with a staff devoted to providing a wide range of materials on many issues and subjects for its patrons."

"The Oak Lawn Library brings a continual flow of people into our community, who then visit our retail stores and business establishments," said Thomas P. Krzeminski, candidate for library director. "This produces additional revenue for both our businessmen, thru increased sales and our village, thru increased sales tax collections. This all helps to keep our property values high and helps make Oak Lawn a more desirable place to live," he concluded.

Krzeminski, who graduated from the Evening Division of Roosevelt U, in 1979 and attended DePaul U School of Law, is beginning a Master of Science program in Management and Development of Human Resources at the National College of Education this spring. He said he used the library extensively during the past 8 years and will continue to use it as he furthers his education. He has also attended Library Board Meetings for the past two years. "I became interested as a user, but now I am also interested in the policy making which has made this library such an outstanding part of Oak Lawn."

Krzeminski is president of Stevens and Co. Realtors in Oak Lawn, and a partner in Stevens Construction Co. in Oak Lawn. Also he is a licensed Illinois Real Estate Broker and a Union Carpenter with the Untied Brotherhood of Carpenters, Local 13.

He is a member of the National Association of Realtors, Illinois Assoc. of Realtors, Southwest Suburban Board of Realtors, Oak Lawn Chamber of Commerce and the Friends of the Oak Lawn Library.

Chesterfield has been like a member of our family ever since they opened in 1924. And now this youngest Thompson will be sharing the Chesterfield tradition as well.

Just yesterday, my Chesterfield savings counselor helped me open a passbook account for Jeffrey III. We'll put a little away for him until he starts to learn the responsibility of money.

On Chesterfield's advice, my son Jeff II has been investing in Chesterfield's high-interest certificates of deposit for years. In the stock market, some win and some lose, but my son knows he'll always come out ahead investing in Chesterfield's certificates.

Now my wife and I are enjoying the benefits of Chesterfield's Individual Retirement Account, IRA. Now that we're retired, it's providing us with a great income during our best years.

Mayor's Coalition Party endorsed

We strongly endorse MAYOR ERNEST KOLB for re-election because we believe he clearly demonstrated not only the leadership qualities and ability for the job, but has shown all of us that government in Oak Lawn can be effectively run with a sense of purpose and dignity.

During the last four years Mayor Kolb has steadily improved the quality of service in our Village and has aggressively sought new business thru the use of Industrial Revenue Bonds.

All of this was accomplished without the three ring circus atmosphere that we almost began to accept as normal. Mayor Kolb has reminded us that decent hard working people do not need a brass band to trumpet even the smallest achievement. The quiet has been wonderful.

Mayor Kolb's opponent, John Petrozza, has shown nothing to commend him to the high position of Mayor of Oak Lawn. During this campaign Petrozza has shown little knowledge of the issues, no leadership qualities, and a temperament more suited to destruction than progress.

(We hasten to add that we have a personal ax to grind due to what we view as an unauthorized and malicious use of our proud masthead, VILLAGE VIEW, in connection with a particularly scurrilous campaign piece).

All factors considered, MAYOR ERNEST KOLB should be the overwhelming choice of all right thinking voters of Oak Lawn.

JANE POWERS has done a marvelous job as Village Clerk - even her opposition has failed to come up with a meaningful complaint. She is probably the best known and one of the best liked people in Oak Lawn. There is no reason why she should not also be overwhelmingly re-elected.

RON STANCIK, Trustee 2nd District, has worked as hard as anyone to make Oak Lawn a better place to live. He has been responsive to his constituents and courageous on the bond issue. Ron is not a man that is only seen at election time but can be reached at any time to handle problems both large and small. He deserves to be re-elected.

BOB BRUCE, Trustee 4th District, will provide a new, and articulate voice to Oak Lawn government. He will be a big plus to the Village. His opponent, John Hardek, is well known and will be a formidable foe. Hardek is not without some merit but his recent actions, particularly his alliance with Petrozza, convinces us that he views politics as more important than government and that he should be replaced.

*****

JAY BERAMINI, Trustee 6th District, has also done his job well and there should be no question about his re-election. His constant and unrelenting concern for the senior citizens housing problems has not been a "pie in the sky" during a campaign. Jay recognized the need shortly after having been elected into office four years ago. Just recently a committee was formed to struggle with the problem and a first meeting was held on Tuesday, March 31. His progress should not be interrupted. Re-elect Jay Bergamini.

Driving age raised

The House Motor Vehicles Committee has approved legislation raising Illinois' legal driving age from 16 to 17, and the minimum age for drivers' education from 15 to 16.

The proposal, House Bill 274, is sponsored by State Representative Herb Huskey, who is the committee chairman. It was approved by an 11 to 1 vote.

"House Bill 274 will save lives and money," Huskey said, "Drivers' education will still be available to high school students, but at a time when they are more mature and have more school electives other than just drivers' education to take. At the same time, the cost for administering the program would be significantly reduced.

"By having the license age at 17, students will first get a license during their senior year, closer to graduation," Huskey stated.

"They would have more time to spend on their studies, and they would be more apt to participate in school sports and other activities instead of driving a car around; getting a job to pay for the car, gas and insurance, and maybe even quitting school."

Huskey says he is "alarmed" by the number of accidents involving teenage drivers.

"In one Illinois community, two memorial plaques have been filled with the names of students who have been killed in car accidents during the last 20 years," he said, "and that's from a high school of 100 students.

"Moreover, one recent national safety study concluded that approximately 4,000 fatalities per year nationwide involve 16 and 17 year old drivers," he

Election candidates

Each election we try to make it as easy as possible for the voters when they go to the polls. As this is the first test for the "Consolidated Election" the people in Oak Lawn will be voting for representation in Worth Township, the Village of Oak Lawn, the Oak Lawn Park District and the Oak Lawn Library Board.

After well over a hundred years of control by one administration we believe that the PREFERENCE PARTY deserves another four years for a total of eight years. This is not the time to interrupt the many programs that have been initiated in Worth Township and especially those for the youth and senior citizens.

However, Huskey says he is "not convinced" that driver education programs should be eliminated in Illinois, or that the legal driving age should be raised to 18, which, he says, is the popular sentiment.

Crime, accidents, fire damage, emergency death rate all down in Oak Lawn.

When you get right down to it, nothing is more important than the personal safety of you and your family. Safety menaces don't disappear on their own. They must be attacked with strong, comprehensive programs—action programs. That's the way the Mayor's Coalition Party has tackled the job in Oak Lawn. The results: drug traffic down, homicides down, accidents down, fire damage down, paramedic response time down, deaths due to medical emergencies down. The people, streets and homes in Oak Lawn are safer now, thanks to the leadership and action of the Mayor's Coalition Party.

- No homicides in 1980
- Oak Lawn's fire insurance rating is the best in the Southwest suburbs
- Accidents down 21%
- Fires down 28.1%
- Auto fatalities down 25%
- 421 paramedic resuscitations in 1980

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

WRITER LIKES THINGS AS THEY ARE

I am a citizen of Oak Lawn, planning on raising a family and contributing to our village and neighborhood. I am appalled at the audacity of some of the candidates running in the upcoming elections. The promises they are making to obtain support clearly indicate that they do not intend to let anything stand in their way to get elected. Don't we have any say relative to our safety?

I was recently talking to several Police Officers of the Oak Lawn Police Department and even THEY are disgusted with the promises of several of the candidates. They indicated by their conversation with me that they have pride in their department and are sick and tired of the few "cry babies" among them. They are also resentful of anyone basing their campaign on the fact that as soon as they are elected, their first official act will be to fire department heads.

John Petrozza, John Hardek and Dave Erickson are promising the dissident Policemen that they will fire the Chief. WHAT RIGHT DO THEY HAVE TO DO ANYTHING THAT WOULD JEOPARDIZE THE SAFETY OF OUR VILLAGE! The present chief is one of the most dedicated police officers I have ever seen. His dedication to the citizens of our village is beyond reproach. According to my police officer friends, Dave Erickson took his pension at the minimum time because the Chief made him go to "WORK". The officers said that about a year ago, Petrozza called the Police officers burglars and then made a public apology when confronted by a large group at a village meeting. The officers laughed when they saw the statement by Petrozza that he was going to clean up drugs in Oak Lawn. What does Petrozza think the Chief has been doing for the past several years. Is Petrozza aware of the hundreds of extra hours spent by the Chief to fight this menace to our community.

According to my Police Officer friends, their promises are not fooling or swaying the majority of the department. They said that the dissidents are the ones who have had to go to work and resent it.

Their promises to remove a number of department heads can only have a deterring effect on our village. I am proud to identify myself as a citizen of Oak Lawn to my friends. Our snow removal and cleanliness of the streets is outstanding. Our Fire Department has the finest Paramedic unit in existence. Our Police Department is a matter of pride throughout the metropolitan area. These accomplishments are due not only to the personnel in each department, but, to the administrative ability, leadership and dedication of the department heads.

I think the voters of Oak Lawn had better be aware of the effect the upcoming election will have on their safety and well being. If we become apathetic and not vote, we have only ourselves to blame when we lose the tremendous leadership and organization we now have.

/s/ A Concerned Oak Lawn Citizen

TIRED OF MUD SLINGING CAMPAIGN

As a friend and admirer of Mayor Ernie Kolb, I protest the recent flood of hate literature distributed by John Petrozza, John Hardek, and the rest of the OAK LAWN FIRST PARTY. I am writing because I know that Ernie is too much of a gentleman to get into a mud slinging campaign with the likes of John Petrozza.

I have watched Mayor Kolb serve Oak Lawn as Clerk and Mayor for many years. He has been a fine, honorable and hard working public servant whose top priority has always been the citizens of Oak Lawn.

Mayor Kolb and Jayne Powers have worked hard these past four years and have left Petrozza without any real issues. In order to get some attention they are engaging in a campaign of innuendos, half-truths and out right lies.

It is a shame that a fine village such as Oak Lawn has to be subjected to such nonsense.

/s/ Dave Tebo

DIGNITY IN GOVERNMENT DIMS MEMORY

I had almost forgotten the rampant lunacy that has long characterized Oak Lawn election. The last four years of a dignified government in Oak Lawn dimmed the memory.

The recent handout of the Oak Lawn First Party with all its innuendos and misleading statements were reminders of the "old times".

For me, the "old times" are better forgotten. Oak Lawn is a major municipality and needs a professional approach to its politics. Let's leave these and the "dirty trick" campaigns in the past where they belong.

/s/ Bonnie Sagan
District II - Oak Lawn

AN OPEN LETTER TO EVERGREEN PARK RESIDENTS

Will the decision of Mr. DeSantis to sell his Martinique Restaurant and his Drury Lane Theater and move elsewhere (where no amusement tax exists) bring upon Evergreen Park the same result as old Mrs. O'Leary's cow upon Chicago?

Wake up before you find your village in shambles! Without business and industry, who'll supply the majority of the tax base if not you with higher and higher taxes?

You can do something about it! On April 7, vote for those who were and are against the hideous tax - the Good Government Party under the leadership of Mayor Vacco.

Having Trouble Finding That "Old Familiar" "No Service Charge" Checking Account?

We've got it!

At Oak Lawn Trust & Savings Bank, we always try to offer services that are designed with the customer's best interests in mind.

Many new checking plans offer a few dollars a year in interest but have excessive service charges that can far exceed any earnings generated by the average checking customer.

For these reasons, we want the community to know that we will continue to offer our popular $100 minimum balance, no service charge checking account, and the other plans listed.

We offer N.O.W. accounts as well, but we feel it is crucial to point out that they are not for everyone.

Let our counselors help you decide. Keep in mind however, that you don't have to sacrifice the ease, convenience and security of a basic low minimum balance, no charge checking account.

Republican Worth Township candidates watch as U.S. Senator Charles H. Percy signs his formal endorsement of their candidacies. Seated (l to r): U.S. Congressman Edward J. Derwinski (4th Ill.), Richard W. Withers, GOP candidate for Worth Township supervisor, Senator Percy and Arlyne Justus, GOP candidate for township clerk.

U.S. Senator Charles H. Percy has formally endorsed the nine Republican candidates seeking election to Worth Township offices on April 7th.

At a recent meeting with the candidates, Senator Percy, together with U.S. Congressman Edward J. Derwinski, expressed his support for the Worth Township GOP ticket headed by Richard W. Withers, candidate for township supervisor. At a later date Governor James R. Thompson announced his support also. The other candidates nominated by the Republican Party and running with Withers under the GOP banner are Arlyne Justus for clerk, William H. Fullerton for assessor, Edward P. "Bus" Bishop for highway commissioner, Gregory P. Munzell for collector, and trustee candidates Harry A. Dinaso, Herbert F. Elzinga, Steven F. Rosenbaum and Robert H. Telander.

Worth Township. "All of us know that governmental services don't simply appear because they should," Percy said. "It takes capable and dedicated leadership to make government work for us."

"Worth Township government is no exception," Percy continued. "If you are to receive the services you should from township government - general assistance, road maintenance in the unincorporated areas, programs for seniors and youth, services of the health clinic and the assessor's office - then you must be sure the people elected to Worth Township offices are the right people for the job. Dick Withers and his Republican running mates are unquestionably the best people to get the job done in Worth Township," Percy concluded.

Last week all four

Republican state legislators whose districts include part of Worth Township, State Senator Frank M. Ozinga (R-8th), state representatives Jane M. Barnes (R-8th), Herbert V. Huskey (R-8th), and J. Theodore "Ted" Meyer (R-28th), also publicly announced their endorsement and support of the Republican candidates seeking election in Worth Township on April 7th.

We've turned the tide on water supplies.

You tend to take some things for granted. Like water. Yet, municipalities everywhere are facing future water shortages of crisis proportions. Not Oak Lawn. That's because the Mayor's Coalition Party foresaw this problem - and did something about it. The Mayor's Coalition Party has increased Oak Lawn's water resources by 100% over the past four years. Now, negotiations are under way with other communities to buy water from us. That's a sign of strong leadership.

- 3 million gallon reservoir and pumping station added to the Reich plant
- 4 million gallon reservoir expansion at the Harker plant

Vacco named to NLC post

Anthony Vacco, Evergreen Park Mayor and Village President, and the Good Government Party candidate for re-election, has been appointed a member of the Community and Economic Development Policy Committee of the National League of Cities (NLC).

As one of 27 committee members representing urban centers across the country, Vacco will formulate and develop community and economic programs for the NLC.

"I am honored to accept this membership," Vacco said. "I welcome the opportunity of joining this committee, which is one of 6 such study groups working on behalf of the NLC."

"Participating with other mayors, councilmen and community leaders from various cities across the nation, I look forward to applying my expertise toward developing goals and policy for the League," Vacco continued.

"The problems of our nation's cities are pressing; it is only by consolidating our efforts and ideas thru organizations like NLC that we can move confidently toward the future."

Vacco, who was nominated for committee membership by the Illinois Municipal League, has been Evergreen Park Mayor and Village President since 1968. Prior to 1968 he was Deputy Sheriff of Cook County for 2 years.

Long active in community development, Vacco is a member of the Executive Board of the Council of Governments of Cook County, and the Cook County Development Advisory Council. He is also former Chairman of the Zoning Board of Appeals, and past President of the Evergreen Park Regular Republican Organization.

Candidates running with Vacco and the Good Government Party are: Hamilton B. Maher, Village Clerk; and Robert M. Norris, Stanley A. Porucznik and Arthur N. Bliss for trustees.

Chesterfield Federal sponsors Art of Loving Seminar

Author and nationally renowned lecturer on personal money management, Dee Dee Ahern (c) autographs a copy of her book "The Economics of Being a Woman" for Carol Pudil of Beverly (l). Peg Lowery, Chesterfield Federal's Community Service Director and founder of the Art of Living Seminars stands at the podium announcing the other winners of Ahern's book.

"Very often it isn't until someone goes through a crisis change that they become aware of the true economic facts of life," said author and personal finance expert Dee Dee Ahern at the most recent Chesterfield Federal sponsored Art of Loving Seminar.

The seminar, entitled Financial Vision Clinic, was held at the Beverly Art Center and concerned the financial, legal and psychological influences money has on people's lives.

Ahern, author of "The Economics of Being a Woman," and nationally renowned researcher, writer and lecturer on the subject of money management conducted the workshop before a capacity audience of 500.

"The six major reasons for financial planning today," stated Ahern, "are inflation, taxes, larger estates (due in part to inflation), longer life expectancies, the complexities of the current economy, and a general uncertainty about employment and unexpected emergencies."

Her first suggestion was organization. Ahern recommends that all financial matters be broken into three categories; personal, business, and governmental. These have very different variables, each effecting your life separately.

The first part of the Financial Vision Clinic discussed the emotions behind money and how people can change them. It also examined money crises during illness, unemployment, divorce or death.

The next section concerned the importance of knowing your financial worth and good record keeping. It included a graphic view of peoples' personal, business and governmental money sources.

IF YOU OWNED A $24,000,000 COMPANY, WOULDN'T YOU HIRE THE BEST QUALIFIED PEOPLE TO RUN IT?

Think about that on April 7

If you're a resident of Oak Lawn, you're a shareholder in a $24,000,000 "company," the Village government. In fact, this year the budget will run in excess of 24 million dollars. That's not small change. To properly manage this size "company" is a full-time responsibility. There is no place for non-qualified figureheads.

FACT: Under the present administration, the Village bond rating has dropped from AA to a B rating.

FACT: While a number of local businesses have been struggling and some have even folded or left town, there has been no leadership from the Village government to help the business community.

On April 7th, the voters of Oak Lawn will have a real choice regarding the direction the Village will take during the next four years. The Oak Lawn 1st Party offers an alternative, with candidates and ideas to run the Village like a responsible business.

A team to meet the challenges of the 1980's

The candidates of the Oak Lawn 1st Party are professional business managers and consultants. Each brings particular strengths and skills with him. As a group, they make up a management team capable of dealing with the major problems facing the Village of Oak Lawn. They will work to hold taxes at a current level, restore the Village bond rating, create a better business environment to provide increased sales tax revenues, offer new ideas for our teens and senior citizens.

A team to meet the challenges of the 1980's; Peter Paulius, John Petrozza, David Erickson and John Hardek

It's time to run Oak Lawn like a responsible business.

THESE GUYS CAN MAKE YOU LOOK LIKE A GENIUS.

There are builders and there are builders. The builders in this ad are the crème de la crème. They're the ones who can make you look like the smartest guy on the block because they can put you in the smartest house on the block. The energy-smart house.

The energy-smart house has double-glazed windows. The layer of air trapped between them will help you keep comfortable when cold winds blow or sidewalks sizzle.

The ceilings and walls are packed with insulation to help you stay warm when you should be warm and cool when you should be cool.

There's caulking and weather-stripping around every door and window so you won't waste money heating and cooling the great outdoors. Instead of an air conditioner and furnace, there's an electric heat pump. In summer, it pulls heat from the warm air inside and forces it outside to keep you cool. In winter, it reverses itself, drawing residual heat from the cold air outside and pumping it inside to keep you warm.

Happy too, because all winter long this amazing little machine actually provides at least fifty percent more energy than it uses. And nobody has to tell you what that means.

All in all, a house that's energy-smart costs less to operate than one that's not so smart. And since the price of energy isn't going down for any of us, it'll be worth that much more should you ever decide to move on.

If you're in the market for a new home, talk to one of the energy-smart builders. It could be the most smart thing you ever did.

Amnesty Week at Oak Lawn Library

The Oak Lawn Public

Library will hold an Amnesty Week from March 30 to April 5, following action by the Library Board of Directors for their March 10 meeting.

All overdue library materials, books, records, tapes, etc. may be returned during this week with no penalty.

On April 6, a new increased fine structure for overdue materials will go into effect. In the Children's Department, fines will go from 2 cents a day to 5 cents. Adult books and audio-visual materials will increase from 5 cents to 10 cents a day when overdue. Fines for late art prints and sculpture will remain the same at 25 cents a day.

The Library Board has directed that any increase in revenue from the new fines be put into the book budget. The book budget was cut 24 per cent in January.

The increased fines are expected to generate $10,000 in additional revenue, bringing the book budget for 1981 to $60,000. With the average book costing $10, only 6,000 books can be purchased compared to the 14,000 purchased in 1979.

Choosing a Tradition at St Linus

Sister Adria and seventh grade students admire the St. Linus Catholic School Week display.

Every recipe has a main ingredient. At St Linus School, 10400 S Lawler, Oak Lawn, this "ingredient" is the Religious Education Program; not only as the primary emphasis, but also as the foundation for all activities, both curricular and extracurricular. With Monsignor Cardiff as Spiritual Director, and Sister Mary Adria as Principal, along with the 34 members of the teaching staff (both Religious and lay), three professional aides (consisting of a school psychologist, learning disabilities teacher, and speech therapist), and the many volunteers, they share the philosophy to "Teach as Jesus Did" and give to each child the human dignity that is his. With Christ as their focal point, they provide the best in education both spiritually and intellectually; from the excellent preschool for both three and four-year olds, to the kindergarten, and thru the first thru eighth grades with a combined total of 800 students.

This common goal can be seen in all aspects of instruction. Not only in group instruction, but also in individualized instruction. Class sizes are kept to a minimum to provide each child with maximum opportunity for individualized instruction. Classrooms are equipped with the latest in teaching materials; including reception facilities for the Catholic Television Network. Outside the classroom the Learning Center houses the most modern equipment, such as filmstrips, slides, cassettes, records, learning kits, and research material; along with individual study corrals. The Father Burns Memorial Library offers an abundance of reading materials for every age group. Special programs include an excellent Music Program which this fall included an entertaining program featuring the primary grades. An equally entertaining program is scheduled this March for the intermediate grades. The elective band program for grades four thru eight has gained recognition since its establishment in 1972. Along with gym and art, the school hopes to provide each student with a well-rounded curriculum. This excellence in education is proven over and over again each year as seen thru various test results and in honors which St Linus students have received thruout each school year.

For those with special needs, St. Linus School has established Learning Disability and Speech Programs. Combined with the Family Life Counseling Service, the needs of all children have been carefully screened and provided for.

Many volunteers have made it possible for the School to provide many extras. The excellent "Picture Lady Program" introduces the children to art appreciation. Individualized attention is provided by volunteers in the Math I G.E. Program and in the Guided Reading Program. Once a month volunteer mothers treat the students to a hot dog lunch. There are also the nine School Board Members, who along with Monsignor Cardiff and Sister Adria, meet during the school year to discuss and make decisions regarding school policies. Volunteers also make possible the comprehensive sports program which includes football, boys' and girls' basketball, girls' volleyball, and cheerleading; with all teams gaining recognition thruout the years.

Though St. Linus is made up of all types of children, they all share one thing - love and respect for their school and their teachers; as seen here by a few selected quotations from the students themselves: "The teachers put so much time and effort into helping the children," "The priests visit our room often. . .," "Principal has spice," "The parents make it a special school. . .," (fourth graders); "I have been shown how God's love keeps us close to each other," "School is clean and organized," "The teachers even make it somewhat enjoyable and fun to learn," "In Science we dissected the frog and the worm," ". . . terrific activities the students are permitted to participate in," ". . . enable me to discover to a greater extent about God," (seventh graders).

The theme for this year's Catholic Schools Week was "Choosing a Tradition". Parents who themselves attended Catholic schools are choosing to send their own children to Catholic schools. Many of them are choosing St. Linus.

Let's put our cards on the table... We just got straight "A's" on our economic report card.

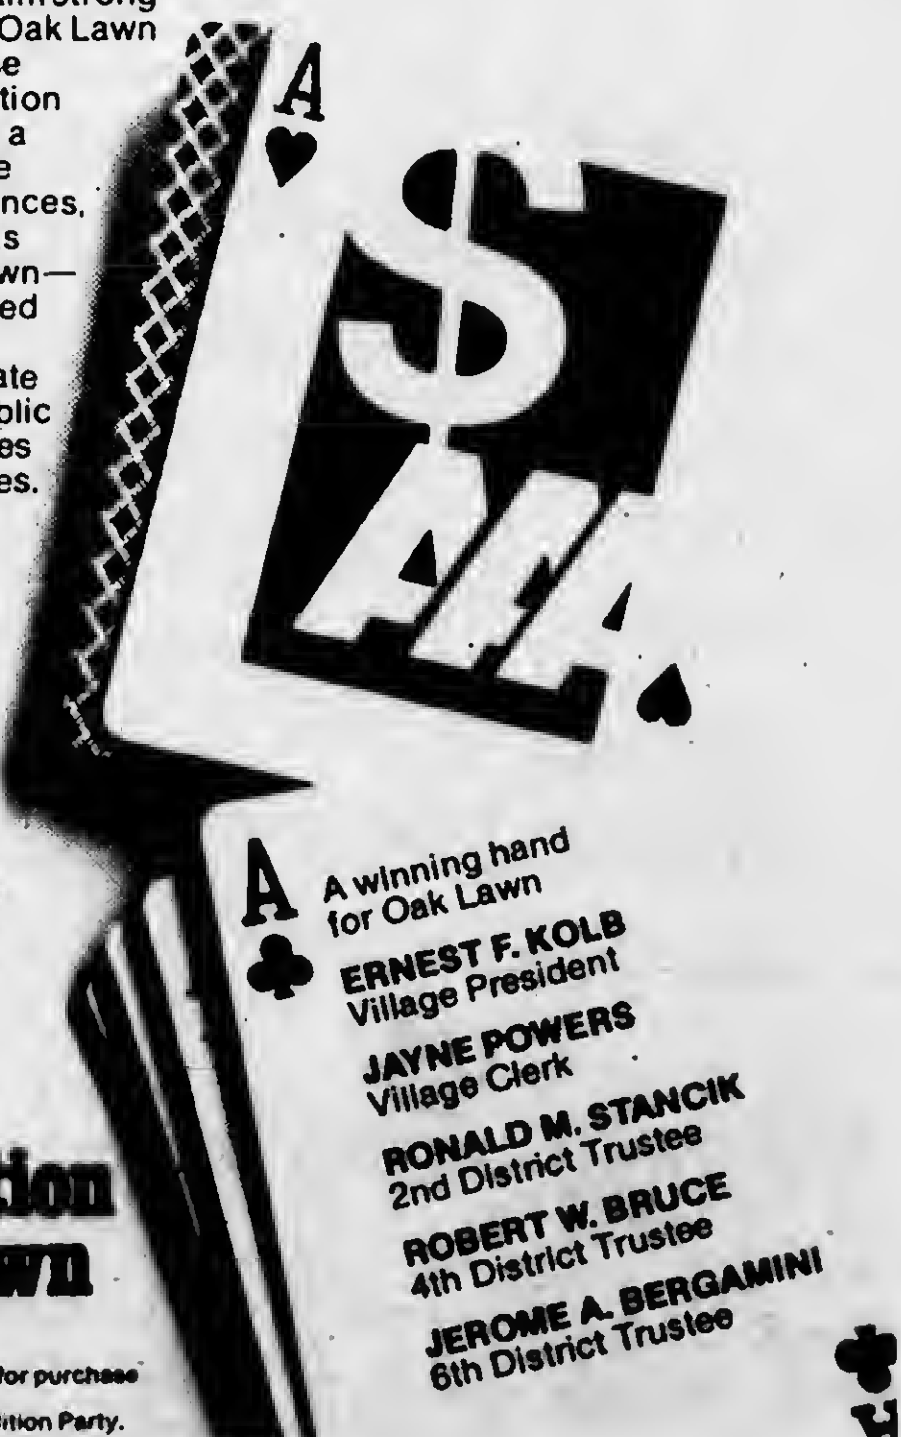

Not many communities can claim strong economic growth these days. Oak Lawn can, thanks to the no-nonsense approach of the Mayor's Coalition Party. Through hard work and a thorough understanding of the complexities of municipal finances, the Mayor's Coalition Party has accomplished a lot for Oak Lawn—sensible, conservative, balanced budgets; incentives to lure business; new jobs in the private sector; freezing jobs in the public sector; holding the line on taxes while improving village services. All this in the 11th largest municipality in Illinois. Now that's some economic report card!

- Oak Lawn's tax rate is among the lowest in all of Cook County for municipalities of comparable size.
- Over 350 new businesses opened in Oak Lawn in the past three years, making a major contribution to village revenues
- Over 3,000 new jobs created in Oak Lawn during the last three years

Meeting highlights condo impact on seniors-young adults

The Rental Development Committee held the first meeting on March 31, 1981. The matter of rental units in the Village of Oak Lawn being converted to condominium units was discussed. The causative brokers associated with the conversions and the impact that the conversions were having, especially on the senior citizens and young adults of the community, were highlighted.

The original intent of the first meeting of the Rental Development Committee was to prepare a Statement of Purpose and to outline plans and target dates towards the realization of the committee's goals.

The Statement of Purpose agreed to by members of the Committee is as follows: "The Rental Development Committee has been created by the Oak Lawn Village Board of Trustees to review the reasons for the dramatic increase of condominium conversions, determine the impact which the conversions are having on the citizens of Oak Lawn, with particular attention to its senior citizens and young adults, and advance proposals and plans for implementation to the Village Board of Trustees which will lessen the burden, if any, that the reduction of rental housing has on the Village's target citizen population."

The deadline, or the plan of attack, to resolve the question was also laid out to assure reaching the objective.

John Hayes nominated Village Trustee Jerome Bergamini to be Chairman of the Committee. Motion was seconded by Leroy Corradino and received the unanimous approval of the Board.

Meeting dates were established to be the fourth Thursday of every month in the Oak Lawn Village Hall.

In attendance at the meeting of March 31 were: Jerome Bergamini, Village Trustee; Leroy Corradino, President, O.L. Trust and Savings Bank; John Hayes, Senior Citizen Representative; Edward Meier, South-west Suburban Board of Realtors; Charles Meloun, Village Trustee; Harold Miller, Architect; and Mildred Sujka, Vice President, George Washington Savings and Loan Assn.

In attendance representing the Village Administration will be John Crois, Administrative Assistant, and Norman Bacon, Director of Quality Control.

In conclusion, the formation of this Rental Development Committee, its Statement of Purpose and Objectives, will be forwarded to the area State Legislators and Cook County Assessor. The intent of this action is to keep them apprised of the Village of Oak Lawn's direction in condominium conversions, and the need for rental units. The Committee will be soliciting their support and assistance towards the resolution of our local problems.

Crusade kick-off April 26th

April is National Crusade Month for the American Cancer Society and discussing plans for this year's local activities are Mrs. Barbara Smith, Chairwoman of the Oak Lawn Unit, and Ed Kasper, Committee Chairman for Income Development (both shown above). The crusade focuses not only on fund-raising but also on public education. Thus, this year's theme - "You Are The Key To Cancer Control" - emphasizes everyone's individual responsibility to educate themselves and others as to the seven warning signals and the need for cancer check-ups. "Support of research is one way to fight cancer," stated Smith, "but I wonder how many people realize that we could save many more lives from cancer right now with just the knowledge we already have, if only everyone understood how important it is to detect cancer in its early and most curable stages."

In Oak Lawn, the neighborhood crusade will kick-off on Sunday, April 26. Two million volunteers will be ringing doorbells nationwide to ask for much-needed contributions and to leave with everyone a pamphlet outlining New Cancer Checkup Guidelines.

According to Kasper, the goal this year for the 7th District - of which Oak Lawn is a part - is $3,961,000. "To meet this goal, we will need volunteers to help organize our crusade and to ring doorbells on April 26. Please join with us in our fight to wipe out cancer in your lifetime." If you would like to donate a few hours of your time, please call 499-0482 any day after 1 pm.

Unemployment bill would end vacations

The House Labor and Commerce Committee has approved legislation requiring unemployed individuals to report in person at a state employment office every two weeks as a condition for collecting compensation.

State Representative Herb Huskey is sponsoring the proposal (HB 229).

"Presently, claimants only have to apply in person on their first initial claim," Huskey explained. "Thereafter, they need only mail in certification slips as proof they are looking for work."

"Claimants can be vacationing, or even move to another state, and still collect unemployment benefits under the present system," he stated. "My proposal will enable claims to be studied more carefully so undeserving persons do not receive unemployment benefits."

Easter bunny visits Standard Federal colorful balloons and goodies from his basket.

All Standard Federal offices will close at 1 pm on April 17 in observance of Good Friday, and will reopen at their regularly scheduled times on Saturday, April 18.

"Unemployment insurance is to help people between jobs, not for them to have extended vacations."

House Bill 229 is currently at second reading (amendment state) in the House. Additional information is available from Huskey at 424-5000.

Tom Halm, (l) vice president and branch manager of Standard Federal Savings, 10350 S Pulaski Road in Oak Lawn, recently donated two Lithuanian books to the Oak Lawn Public Library.

Nancy Steffen, (c) adult services librarian and William Goodfellow, (r) head of the fine arts department, accepted "Lithuanian Writers in the West" and "Lithuanian National Costume" to the shelves of public reading material.

The donation was made as a community service by Standard Federal in observance of Lithuanian Independence Day, which was celebrated on February 16. Lithuania's independence from Russia came in 1918, along with a new freedom of expression that is reflected in the pages of both books. The newly donated books acquaint American readers with the creative talents and folk art of Lithuanian artists.

Sheriff Elrod holds Superwalk reception

A Superwalk reception for the March of Dimes was hosted by Cook County Sheriff Richard Elrod, who designated March of Dimes Poster Child Augie Cahue an honorary deputy of the sheriff's department.

Governor of the Division's 7th Circuit, is the son of Louis and Elvera Mirabelli, formerly of Oak Lawn. He is a 1974 graduate of Brother Rice High School and a 1978 graduate of St Mary's College in Winona, Minnesota.

The reception was held to rally adult team support for the Superwalk which will be held in more than 1000 communities from coast to coast on the weekend of April 25-26 with more than 2,000,000 people of all ages and backgrounds expected to take part. In Chicago, the event, with the theme "Walk America," will take place along a 30 kilometer (18.5 miles) lakefront route on Sunday, April 26. All proceeds will go to the March of Dimes for the prevention of birth defects.

After presenting 8 year old Augie with the gold star sheriff's pin, Elrod said: "I am very pleased that sheriff's department volunteers are participating in the Superwalk this year with many of them walking as a team. The fight against birth defects is a challenge that must not go unanswered." Birth defects strike an average of 250,000 babies each year in the United States.

So, mark your calendars for July 22 and plan to join the Oak Lawn Chamber at Palos Country Club for golfing and Grecian delights.

THESE GUYS CAN MAKE YOU LOOK LIKE A GENIUS.

There are builders and there are builders. The builders in this ad are the crème de la crème. They're the ones who can make you look like the smartest guy on the block because they can put you in the smartest house on the block. The energy-smart house.

The energy-smart house has double-glazed windows. The layer of air trapped between them will help you keep comfortable when cold winds blow or sidewalks sizzle.

The ceilings and walls are packed with insulation to help you stay warm when you should be warm and cool when you should be cool.

There's caulking and weather-stripping around every door and window so you won't waste money heating and cooling the great outdoors. Instead of an air conditioner and furnace, there's an electric heat pump. In summer, it pulls heat from the warm air inside and forces it outside to keep you cool. In winter, it reverses itself, drawing residual heat from the cold air outside and pumping it inside to keep you warm.

Happy too, because all winter long this amazing little machine actually provides at least fifty percent more energy than it uses. And nobody has to tell you what that means.

Oak Lawn voters just too smart!!!

The signs are coming down, the offices swept clean and the bitter taste of one of the worst campaigns Oak Lawn has ever gone thru will soon fade away when the triumphant winners start moving and shaking for the betterment of the community.

Mayor Ernie Kolb is in command, a pleasure he has not enjoyed in his four years in office. With an opposition board that tore down efforts at progress, it has been difficult to move forward. Kolb, with two articulate and well informed members of his own group, has had to swallow many defeats. With the addition of the many credentialed Bob Bruce to the team with Jay Bergamini and Ron Stancik it is small wonder that Kolb is smiling from ear to ear. The ball is in his court now!

This commentary is not intended to slight Trustees Les Anderson and Charles Meloun. Meloun votes as an independent, stays much to himself and probes into areas of his own choice with seemingly less concern for the issues at hand. This is not an all bad route to take - one has to watch the back of the store too!

Anderson, former member of the Oak Lawn First Party, has been a fine trustee for District 1. However, when it comes to push and shove, it follows that you vote with the party one has been affiliated with. These are people that have been also put in office by the voters.

Anderson, who has now had the heady experience of seeing his campaign for the "Committee to Save the Library" win a resounding victory with a positive and clean campaign, may find that the regulars at the Oak Lawn Village Board meetings will be watching his vote more closely than before. The winning library candidates were: incumbents Catherine (Kay) Siemeck, Harriet Murphy and newcomer Tom Krzeminski.

Just as important as the candidates themselves were co-chairpersons Lenore Colson and John Cleveland who not only worked hard for Kolb, Powers, Bergamini and Stancik but concentrated their strongest efforts to elect Bruce over entrenched eight year Trustee John Hardek. "This" they were told "could not be done". When the votes were tallied Colson just kept smiling and shaking her head in disbelief - they had won it all. Cleveland took the mike and said "This is one of the happiest days of my life".

Sitting on the sidelines watching the vote totals coming thru was the political master himself, former Mayor Fred Dumke. It gave him pleasure to see many of the faces from his many "hurrahs" at the Kolb victory party.

This election, as much as a mandate for the Mayor's Coalition Party, was also a mandate by the voters that dirty tricks, maligning good people, lies, half-truths and false innuendos cast upon others, will no longer be accepted in Oak Lawn - they are just too smart!

SPEAKS TO CONDO CONVERSIONS

In an effort to stabilize the number of available rental units, some municipalities have enacted ordinances to restrict condominium conversions. Such controls have been of little, if any, benefit.

366,000 apartments were converted to condominiums over the last ten years. According to the Department of Housing and Urban Development, these conversions resulted in a net reduction in rental availability of less than 5 per cent. The reason for this limited impact is that the majority of those purchasing the converted units are first-time home buyers who must vacate apartments in order to move into their condos.

More than half of these first-time buyers have household incomes of under $30,000 and almost half are 35 years old or younger. Significant percentages of females, blacks, and single persons purchase the converted units. The conversion of apartments to condominiums has clearly expanded home ownership opportunities for many people.

More importantly, controls on condo conversions represent a serious limitation of personal freedom. An individual has the right to do with his property as he sees fit. It is, in my opinion, a dangerous precedent for any level of government to infringe on this basic right.

Regulations, restrictions, and ordinances will not solve our nation's housing problems. The marketplace, if given the opportunity, can succeed where government intervention has failed.

OAK LAWN PARK DISTRICT WANTS TO SET RECORD STRAIGHT

Delinquent child support Speakers Bureau set for next year

A major new program that will help divorced women collect their child support will go into effect next year and a special Speaker's Bureau has been set up by the court to explain it.

Circuit Court Clerk Morgan M. Finley has offered to send speakers to community organizations, civic groups and religious and fraternal clubs in an effort to explain the legislation and how women can avail themselves of the services of the court to help collect delinquent child support.

"Many women are forced to turn to their families or to welfare to support themselves and their families when child support is not paid," Finley said. "This then becomes a drain on the resources of families or on the taxpayers when it should remain the legal and moral responsibility of the father of the children."

Effective January 1, 1982, new child support orders will be made payable thru the Clerk of the Circuit Court. When the orders are not followed, the clerk and state's attorney will automatically bring the non-payer to court to seek enforcement. Cases from prior years will become eligible on showing of delinquency to the court.

Not only will the defendant be responsible for paying up all delinquent child support, the court also may require him to pay the costs of bringing him to court, Finley said.

Those who have the ability to pay and refuse face the possibility of being sentenced to jail for contempt of court.

Circuit Court Chief Judge Harry Comerford has already announced that he will create a special division of the court to enforce all child support orders. The new division will be created and a presiding judge named to it prior to the effective date of the legislation.

State's Attorney Richard M. Daley will handle all prosecutions and Sheriff Richard J. Elrod will have special deputies to serve summonses and arrest warrants for defendants.

A film and lecture explaining the project is available thru Finley's Office of Child Support Enforcement by calling 443-4239.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

LARSON REBUTTAL

I sincerely appreciate your interest in printing my press releases and articles, which I forward from time-to-time. However, the March 15th issues of VILLAGE VIEW, which has just been delivered to my office, carries a "Commentary" on page 6 "Larson bows to Yourell law."

I was surprised to see this heading, which I feel is misleading to your readers, with the press release forwarded from my office. The release was not necessarily an endorsement of the recent legislation, but rather a respect for the statute regarding the new election laws.

Whether a piece of legislation is introduced by a Republican or Democratic member of the general assembly, if it is ultimately passed and becomes law, it should be adhered to by all of our residents.

The press release was intended as a public service to our constituents, informing them of the new State of Illinois Election Consolidation law.

attempts made in the Cook County District Court, the Illinois Appellate Court and the Illinois House of Representatives were not a try to stop the right of the people to cast a vote, but rather were made to allow all the voters in the Oak Lawn Park District that right. Under Section 3-12 of the Illinois Park District Code, that right is not allowed to all people concerned. The overwhelming majority of voters of the Oak Lawn Park District were not allowed a voice in this matter. As the duly elected representatives of all voters in the Oak Lawn Park District, we attempted to have the right to vote allowed to all our constituents. Unfortunately, the courts and the Illinois House of Representatives did not allow that right and thereby all the people in the Oak Lawn Park District have lost approximately twelve million dollars of tax base without the right to vote.

Another matter mentioned in recent statements was that when the properties were originally annexed into the Oak Lawn Park District all voters in the area were not considered. In fact, the property owners themselves were the ones that petitioned the annexation question to the Oak Lawn Park District in 1965 through 1967. In this recent disconnection, the request of the property owners to remain with the Oak Lawn Park District was not even considered.

"We, the Board of Commissioners, do not intend to enter into a "paper battle" and also do not intend to choose sides between the elected officials in our area. We asked all the officials from our district for their assistance in this matter, and we would like to thank those who did render their help.

Tickets, which are available with a donation of $20 are available thru Jean Blasi, First National Bank of Evergreen Park, 422-6700, or any of the Evergreen Park financial institutions. An early bird prize drawing will be conducted that evening for those who have purchased their tickets early in the month of April.

This "country western benefit roundup" is one of two related events being sponsored by the Evergreen Park unit during the month of April. A second fund raiser, an old-fashioned country auction, is in the process of being planned for the Saturday following the dinner dance, April 25, from 11 am until 3 pm in the American Legion Hall. The nominal admission charge is 50¢ per person.

Oak Lawn Convalescent Home joins inservice program with Blake-Lamb

Betty Murray, a manager from Blake-Lamb Funeral Homes, and Brian Fitzgerald, embalmer at Blake-Lamb, conducted a presentation on the practical aspects of funeral practice and care of the deceased recently at Oak Lawn Convalescent Home.

In cooperation with Oak Lawn Convalescent Home, Blake-Lamb Funeral Homes has developed an inservice program for the nursing staff at the Oak Lawn Convalescent Home. The program consists of a presentation given in two sessions. The first session includes "Practical Aspects of Funeral Practice and Care of the Deceased." The second session is on "Mourning and Grieving."

Given on March 4 at the Oak Lawn Home, the first session was conducted by Betty Murray, a manager at Blake-Lamb Funeral Homes, and Brian Fitzgerald, embalmer at Blake-Lamb. They discussed, with the staff, practical information on funerals and matters concerning families and the patient. Literature was also available to help answer any questions the staff may have and to further enable the staff to handle the deceased in preparation for funeral service.

The second session of this presentation, "Mourning and Grieving", was conducted on April 8 when the staff learned how to work with families involved during time of grief. Betty Murray conducted this session with Reverend Edmond Hood from St. Raphael the Archangel Church, Oak Lawn. The group coordinator from Oak Lawn Convalescent Home is Mrs. Catherine Hartley.

If any nursing home might be interested in cooperating with Blake-Lamb Funeral Homes to institute such a program, please contact Betty Murray at 636-1195.

Crestline Arms sales pleases Maras

A. Thomas Maras, pictured at right, developer of Crestline Arms Condominiums in Oak Lawn, appears with sales leaders, Barry Dunkel (left) and Geri

Dassie. The two sales associates have combined to sell forty condominium homes in approximately five months. Total sales at the 230 unit Crestline Arms community now exceed 7.5 million dollars.

"Considering the market conditions, we are very pleased with the sales results achieved by our condominium specialists," stated Maras. Present 11 3/4%, 30 year permanent financing is very affordable and has been very instrumental in the success of Crestline Arms Condominiums. Crestline Arms developers have worked very hard to keep home ownership available to many in the southwest suburban area. Down payments of 20% are required with two bedroom condominiums priced from $42,490. Many units have elevator access and all have laundry, storage and recreational facilities in the lower level of each building. Only sixty choice two bedroom condominiums remain in the Crestline Arms development. One car garages are also available for purchase at additional cost. Models are located at 9722 S. Karlov and are open Monday thru Friday from noon to 6 pm, and 11 am to 5 pm on Saturday and Sunday.

Trinity Presbyterian to celebrate charter date

Mrs. Eleanore Sefcik, clerk of session, announced on January 25 that this was the 25th Annual Congregational Meeting to be held by Trinity Presbyterian Church of Oak Lawn located at 10600 S. Kostner. The church will celebrate its chartering date of July 15, 1956 with an Anniversary Week celebration this July chaired by Clay Hayes.

Stewardship chairperson, Richard Misiorowski reported that pledging to the current expense and building fund is up 22% over last years pledging.

Harold Petersen, finance chairperson, advised that 17.2% of the church's income was given for World Mission.

LaVerne Orton, treasurer, reported that a forty thousand dollar mortgage on the south addition building was paid off this past year. This addition was built in 1972. Orton announced that all outstanding debts on the church property should be paid by 1984.

Reverend Henry J. DeGraaff, who was installed as the new pastor of the church this past June, said he hoped to see the Youth Club and Adult Bible Study Class be successful as weekly groups with their first meetings being held this January. Reverend DeGraaff says he will visit each family home this year, not to ask for money or service but to visit.

energy corner

by John Hogan

News Information Supervisor
Commonwealth Edison Co.

A number of years ago there was a bakery commercial on radio which informed us that at three in the morning when we were in bed the company's bakers were baking bread.

That I should recall the jingle after all these years is more of a tribute to the bakery and its advertising agency, I suppose, than to my own memory for trivia. The words came to mind as I sat down to write this column about energy cold storage systems -- a concept which is becoming increasingly attractive to large commercial and industrial electricity customers.

To put the system in perspective, Edison has to build its system to satisfy the electrical needs of its 3 million customers. The highest customer demand of the year occurs on the hot days of summer, when air conditioning and other heat relief devices are in heavy use. Usually to meet the high demand, Edison must use every generating unit available -- regardless of how small or how old.

Some of these units are expensive to operate, which means the cost of producing each extra kilowatt-hour of electricity rises sharply above what it would cost to make the same kilowatt-hour at an Edison nuclear unit.

Enter the cold storage system, which consists primarily of an "ice-making machine." During the evening and nighttime hours demand for electricity subsides (no matter which time of year). That's when the ice maker, like the bakers, goes into operation, manufacturing ice with energy from Edison's low-cost units. Then, during the peak hours of the next day when electricity demand is highest, cold water from the ice builder is circulated to air condition the building, requiring next to nothing in electricity.

Edison's new Bolingbrook District Headquarters has a cold storage system, as will the new State of Illinois Center, located on the site of the old Sherman House in the Chicago Loop.

posed of four solar collectors and a solar water heater which is used to preheat an electric water heater. The system is designed to supply at least 50% of the office building's water heating requirements.

In retrospect, those bakers were doing their part to reduce electricity use during the peak daytime period by doing their baking at three in the morning.

Now, if I could only think of a jingle for energy storage just as catchy...

Steam engine proves success

Oak Lawn High School Senior Marty Safstrom has successfully test run the steam engine he built from scrap as a project in the Machine Shop Class.

Constructed of 18 pieces of steel, aluminum and brass, the engine when test run developed an estimated 1000 RPM, according to teacher Larry Land. "If the engine runs, it must be constructed correctly and deserves an A grade", said Land. "This is the type of work that should be shown at a job interview."

The completed engine measures 3 inches square with a piston diameter of 7/16 inch with a one inch stroke. Land commented that "all of the projects constructed in machine shop at OLCHS are designed to challenge and motivate the students and there is nothing more motivating than building something that really works."

Tax rebuttal from District 126

In response to the charges by Governor Thompson and County Assessor Hynes that school districts are responsible for higher taxes, Reed Powers, School Board President outlined the record of School District 126. He noted that the School District 126 tax rate is the lowest in 12 years. "We've reduced the tax rate 20¢ in just the last year," said Powers.

In the past 3 years, 90% of the Districts 126 tax levies have remained the same or decreased according to Clark Alford, senior board member. He noted that from a $2.70 tax rate in 1973, the rate has been significantly reduced to $2.32.

Board President Powers concluded his remarks by stressing that "overlevying" or "raising the tax rate" does not apply to District 126. "We have restrained our levies and our tax rate and thus have reduced the tax rate that our citizens pay," said Powers.

Supt William Smith pointed out that lower tax levies and lower tax rates did not mean less revenue for District 126. The increased tax base due to higher assessed valuation has generated more revenue. Dr Smith also cited 4 non current tax levy and tax rate sources of revenue that have added 1 million dollars of revenue to District 126 in the past 2 years.

Those revenue sources are the Corporate Personal Property Tax Replacement Tax Revenue, a windfall of 1976 taxes received in 1979, Special Education 94-142 monies, and greatly increased interest income.

Evergreen Park cooperates with Oak Lawn to assist auditorily handicapped persons

Mayor Tony Vacco and the Village of Evergreen Park have set a perfect example of villages working together in the recent effort made to assist those persons in Oak Lawn afflicted with communicative disorders.

A portable solid state teletypewriter machine placed in the home and plugged into a simple phone jack can now be used by the handicapped person to reach the Evergreen Park police emergency phone number making communication simple without sight or sound.

The fact that Evergreen Park and Oak Lawn are on the same radio band makes the whole operation possible. The police department in Evergreen is equipped with a teletypewriter (TTY). When a signal comes in on the emergency number 422-2141, a light on the TTY that is attached to the network telephone, alerts the radio dispatcher that a message is coming thru. The operator then notifies the auditorily emergency exists, will come thru the TTY in Evergreen Park. Within ten (10) seconds the message can be relayed to the Oak Lawn Police Department who will then handle the emergency immediately.

Mayor Ernie Kolb said that this is the true meaning of villages working together for the betterment of both communities.

necker, Janet Sienko, Mary Hayes, Colette Gallo, Helene Ashton, Karen Naresso, Eileen O'Malley and Susan Pappas.

According to Sister Mary, the response from students, faculty, parents, PTA advisory board and hospital staff has been most enthusiastic. So much so that the course is being continued to rave reviews.

'Suiting Everyone' at Historical Society

The Oak Lawn Historical Society is pleased to announce the opening of "Suiting Everyone: The Democratization of Clothing in America," organized by the Smithsonian Institution Traveling Exhibition Service. The exhibition will open on May 6 and remain on view thru August 17.

"Suiting Everyone" illustrates the key factors that led to the mass production and merchandising of clothing in America, emphasizing the historical and industrial factors which have led to the current state of the clothing industry in the United States. The exhibition also shows how the availability of clothing for "all of the people" has affected our social relationships.

This exhibition, thru photographs, illustrations, text and supplements of actual examples from the society's collections, compares the deep economic and class distinctions made evident by the personally-made clothes of the Colonial Period, with the wide range of fabrics, styles and prices available today, when most Americans are well-dressed and have the freedom of choice in what we now wear.

Claudia Kidwell, of the Smithsonian Museum of American History, and organizer of "Suiting Everyone" has found several interesting facts in the exhibition. Her research showed that the first American ready-made clothing was for men. Proportional sizing for men was undertaken long before similar sizing for women due to the need for military uniforms. Tailors began to make up advance orders for their male clients in the 1850s. The traveling version of "Suiting Everyone" is based on the permanent exhibition of the same title at the Smithsonian.

A bill that deserves your opposition

Guest Editorial

State Rep. Jane Barnes (R-8) has jumped on a bandwagon and we hope she jumps off before she gets hurt. Or worse yet, hurts someone else. Stirred by the much blown out of proportion controversy over the book "Show Me", Barnes has taken to the legislature with a bill ostensibly aimed at preventing librarians from putting what some consider "smut" on their shelves.

The bill (HB 462) would make librarians guilty of a Class A misdemeanor or a Class 4 felony, punishable by imprisonment of up to one year in jail, for circulating any materials which are considered obscene or pornographic to persons under the age of 18.

What Barnes and her senatorial cohort Jeremiah Joyce (D-28) are proposing is nothing less than censorship of the worst kind. The bill would present a dangerous precedent leading to anytime a person or group of persons decide that the library has objectionable material on its shelves, the librarian would be held responsible.

One doesn't have to go back too far to remember the cries of "Obscene!" to such now recognized classics as J.D. Salinger's "Catcher In the Rye" and the works of D.H. Lawrence.

While both Barnes and Joyce have said they are not "on a witch hunt or book burning expedition", that is exactly what the legislation could turn to, given the atmosphere in Oak Lawn during the "Show Me" controversy.

We urge each and every reader to write Rep. Barnes and other members of the legislature to put a quick and painless end to this piece of legislation.

Russo Reports from Washington

by Congressman Marty Russo

TEEN SURVEY I

We are a country that loves to take its pulse, test its opinions and look for answers in accumulated statistics. Certainly here in Congress, as the institution designed to reflect the views and moods of the people, we are particularly attuned to data that might reveal the mind of the people.

But always, one must keep in mind the limits. We have to try some planning for the future based on present trends, for example, but with an awareness that their predictive ability may prove as dependable as a misty crystal ball.

Having said that, I nevertheless was struck by an opinion survey I read recently which is being distributed by "Who's Who Among American High School Students". Speaking of "future", what are the thoughts of the people who will get us there?

This particular survey was conducted among 24,000 high achievers, teen leaders, the majority 17 years old and 74% from the suburbs or rural areas. These specifics should be kept in mind as you review the results because they are not presented here as a reflection of the views of the 25 million teenagers in the country.

It is instructive to hear the views of the teen leaders who are listed in Who's Who. I will not comment here on the findings because you can draw your own conclusions, except to say that I think that young people's lack of trust in our institutions is especially disheartening. It's a situation that deserves our attention.

BUSINESS ATTITUDES

The teen leaders lack trust not only in American government, but in business as well, with nearly half of them convinced that companies within an industry fix prices to reduce competition and increase profits. Two-thirds think companies care more about how their products are advertised and sold than how they are made.

Fewer than 20% feel companies charge fair prices. This contrasts with 1976, when some 37% thought pricing was acceptable.

Almost 55% of the teens have had either no economics training or a little economics information as part of another course. Some 30% feel the surest way to raise America's standard of living is to limit profits and increase wages.

PUBLIC POLICY

Eighty-eight percent of the teens set fighting inflation as a top priority for the government. Seventy percent want unemployment reduced. Sixty percent want to increase America's defense budget while almost half mandage a decrease in foreign aid.

During the Vietnam War, only 4% of the teens felt that the U.S. should supply military aid to the southeast Asian country. Today 63% would send aid or military "advisors" to a country in which a communist nation was lending support to one of the factions.

INSTITUTIONS

Who's Who students have more faith in the FBI than in the Presidency -- 27% for the Bureau, 19% for the Chief Executive. More than half trust doctors, while only 14% believe in Congress.

A majority say government should be responsible for everything from health care to housing. The only matter left to individual choice is abortion (73% think it is a private matter) and 47% think business should be in charge of guaranteeing jobs.

Seventy-four percent would vote to limit property taxes. When asked which services they would give up if property taxes were lowered, a majority of the teens were only willing to cut back on three out of 10 on a list of services.

ISSUES

For the first time in the survey's history, a majority of the nation's teen leaders are against passage of the Equal Rights Amendment. Two-thirds favor mandatory draft and registration and just half would support the draft if it were reinstated.

Some 57% are anti-legalized abortion. In 1971, nearly three-quarters were in favor of the issue. Sixty one percent favor the use of nuclear power in an energy source.

I think these surveys provide important insights into the thinking of our nation's young people -- and I think those of us in government need that as well as parents and teachers. In a future column I will be sharing with you information on young people's outlook for the future and attitudes on parent-teen relations.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

"WHAT PRICE FREEDOM?"

This past election for Mayor of Oak Lawn really gave me a few things to think about.

One is about the great many lives lost in past wars, given in the hopes that we may continue to live under a free government.

And another on our elections. The last time the mayor ran for election in 1977, 60% of the voters, or 21,522 out of 35,282, turned out to vote. This year, 48% or 16,458 out of approximately 35,301 turned out.

Now, I am not a great mathematician, nor do I have to be to figure that losing 13% of the voters every 4 years, that by 1994, we might be hearing Hob Nail boots, or see the Hammer & Sicle replace the Stars & Stripes.

And that's not just idle conversation. Ask the Poles, Czechs, Swedes, and the rest of the European countries about 1937.

We will have no one to look at but ourselves. As it was more important to watch T.V., stop for a drink, or any of the thousands of excuses you hear on election day, come the next election. If I were part of the 52% who didn't vote, I would have to have a look at my home and life and head for the polls.

What Price Freedom? . . . Your Vote!!

/s/ Lou Novinson

TO THE CITIZENS OF HOMETOWN:

At this time, my complete and heartfelt "Thanks" for reelecting me as Mayor of Hometown. Special "Thanks" to everyone who worked hard and put in long hours during my re-election effort. It was a great victory, and I share with you a tremendous pride of accomplishment in a job well done.

We are a great City, made great not only by our resources and boundaries, but also and more importantly, by the will and the spirit of our people.

Again, "Thank you" for supporting my re-election.

WINNING CANDIDATES OFFER THANKS

Thanks so much for your editorial support during our campaign and also for your loyal support all through the book controversy and ensuing events.

We fought a fair battle for a principle we believe in and the voters said they do too!! It is a privilege to have the freedom to voice our opinions and these opinions can differ from far left to far right and anywhere in between -- this makes us almost unique in the world today.

Thanks again for keeping in close touch with village issues through the VILLAGE VIEW.

Through your effort I am your public servant; through all our efforts we will have a park district admired and emulated by many other communities as a model.

OL Lions offer free screenings

The Oak Lawn Lions Club invites all adults to take advantage of a free screening program for glaucoma and visual acuity. The club is in the final stages of organizing the event, scheduled for 9 am - 12 pm and 1 to 4 pm on Monday, May 4 in front of the Oak Lawn Library, 95th & Cook Avenue, Oak Lawn.

The screenings are for adults.

"Everyone owes it to himself to be screened," said Roger Hannapel, club president. Glaucoma is one of the leading causes of blindness, and the Lions want to do their share to protect the people of this community." Glaucoma is an eye disease characterized by a build-up of pressure from the fluid within the eyeball, damaging the optic nerve.

The screenings will be held in the Lions of Illinois Mobile Glaucoma (Eye) Screening Unit, a self-contained unit that travels the state under the adminis-

DICK WITHERS THANKS VOTERS

On behalf of our Republican candidates for Worth Township office, I would like to thank the more than 38,000 voters who cast their ballots in the township election April 7th. Their active interest and participation in choosing the nine successful candidates who will comprise their township government for the next four years is proof that democracy is indeed alive and well in America.

Though not all of our Republican candidates were elected that day, the residents of Worth Township will again be assured of a responsive government through the leadership of the newly-elected Republican Board of Township Trustees.

Our collective best wishes go to all of the successful candidates in their coming terms of service to the residents of Worth Township. There were only nine winners, but there were no losers on April 7th.

A PROFILE IN COURAGE

It now appears that President Reagan was much more seriously injured than originally disclosed. The President "definitely was in a life-threatening situation," according to an emergency room physician. Nevertheless, Mr. Reagan was able to walk into the hospital on his own power, joke with the doctors on his way to surgery, and minimized the severity of his injury. Such actions were comforting reassurances to a nation trembling with apprehension.

Ronald Reagan's strength, composure, and bravery should serve as an inspiration to all Americans. Our President is truly a profile in courage.

There are builders and there are builders. The builders in this ad are the crème de la crème. They're the ones who can make you look like the smartest guy on the block because they can put you in the smartest house on the block. The energy-smart house.

The energy-smart house has double-glazed windows. The layer of air trapped between them will help you keep comfortable when cold winds blow or sidewalks sizzle.

The ceilings and walls are packed with insulation to help you stay warm when you should be warm and cool when you should be cool.

There's caulking and weather-stripping around every door and window so you won't waste money heating and cooling the great outdoors. Instead of an air conditioner and

Heritage Standard Bank in Oak Lawn celebrates first anniversary

Employees of Heritage Standard Bank "kick-off" the one-year anniversary celebration of the bank's Oak Lawn office. Marketing officer Laure Kresse (second right), assistant vice president, discuss the festivities with personal bankers from the facility. From (l to r) Darlene Mathius holds a Sunbeam iron, one of the many prizes to be given in the lucky number drawings, Sylvia Kress drops an entry blank for the grand prize drawings into the box, while Dana Schat looks over one of the three grand prizes, an Odyssey home-video game. Mary Swan (far right) shows the packets of flower and vegetable seeds.

The newest office of Heritage Standard Bank, located at 4001 W. 95th Street, Oak Lawn, is celebrating their first full year of operation, and a good one at that, with festivities to begin May 16. Customers and members of the community are invited to stop into the 95th and Pulaski location to join in the anniversary festivities which are planned.

In honor of spring, and because the bank is celebrating their growth, free packets of flower and vegetable seeds will be distributed to those who visit the office during the month. Those who participate in the celebration may also choose a free pen or button.

Sunbeam appliances, Kodak cameras, and 14 karat gold jewelry will be awarded to the many winners in the lucky number drawings. And, as a finale to the celebration, grand prize drawings for a Zenith color television, a Sunbeam lawnmower, and an Odyssey home video game will be conducted on Saturday, May 30. Entry Nicholas Lembares, M.S. Radiological Physicist represented Christ Hospital at a public hearing held this past Tuesday, May 12 before the Oak Lawn President and Board of Trustees.

Christ Hospital is asking permission to incinerate certain clinical radioactive waste material carbon 14. This is a product used to detect infections in the blood. Lembares pointed out that the substance can be easily burned in the hospital's incinerator without adding significant amounts of dangerous radiation to the atmosphere.

In a memorandum by Norman L. Bacon, Director of the Oak Lawn Office of Quality Control, he points out that the Nuclear Regulatory Commission (NRC) claims that disposal of radioactive waste is preferable to burial because of the dwindling availability of nuclear burial sites.

However, Christ Hospital must receive approval of the Village of Oak Lawn before NRC will give permission for incineration.

Bacon said that should Christ Hospital's request be considered favorably by the board the following stipulations should be included for safety measures.

1) That only those wastes generated at Christ Hospital will be incinerated. No other wastes will be permitted to be brought to this site for incineration.

2) That only Carbon 14 radioactive waste will be incinerated.

3) That the "burns" will occur every other Friday at approximately 10 am (maximum, 26 "burns" a year).

4) That the "burns" be monitored by the Village of Oak Lawn Health and Sanitation Inspector. No "burn" is to take place unless the Village of Oak Lawn inspector is present.

5) That no more than 5 millicurie of Carbon 14 be incinerated at any one time.

Carl L. Klein, Oak Lawn lawyer and former Assistant Secretary of the Department of Interior asked to speak and told the small audience that he did not believe we can take a chance on anything radioactive and especially one that has a half life of 5370 years. Also he said, "There is no ban on shipping it to Hanford, Washington where there is storage for medical waste." This has been the procedure used by Christ Hospital.

The trustees asked many questions and asked why Bruce Malek from NRC wasn't present. He had been at a previous meeting and was to appear at the meeting Tuesday with answers to questions posed by the trustees. One in particular was the concern about any other hospital using incineration.

Trustee Ron Stancik asked, "If more hospitals burn in this manner what will happen to the over all atmosphere?"

Trustee Les Anderson asked, "Highly experienced persons have had accidents, what if your people dumped

Huskey bill would allow Illinois car dealers to close on Sunday

Legislation closing car dealers' sales departments on Sundays has been approved by the House Motor Vehicles Committee in Springfield. The proposal, House Bill 1363, is sponsored by State Representative Herb Huskey, who is the committee's chairman.

"Car dealers thruout the state have requested this legislation," Huskey said. "Low car sales have put many dealers in serious financial trouble," he explained. "Illinois dealers are not asking for government help like the Chrysler bailout, but they are asking us for assistance to help them contain their overhead costs."

According to Huskey, House Bill 1363 will reduce dealers' energy costs and keep "high caliber" sales people in the car industry.

"Top people will be attracted to, and stay in, the car sales field instead of working in other areas if they can be assured of having one day off each week to spend with their families. In return, the customer will receive more professional service and also a monetary savings because dealers' fixed costs will be reduced by approximately 10 to 18 percent by the Sunday closings," he stated.

"Dealers in surrounding states are already required to close on Sundays, so Illinois' border dealers will not be hurt by this legislation."

House Bill 1363 is now on second reading (amendment stage) in the House. Additional information is available from Huskey at 424-5000.

something much more serious by mistake?"

Trustee Charles Meloun asked, "How would the incinerator be cleaned and would ash still be active?"

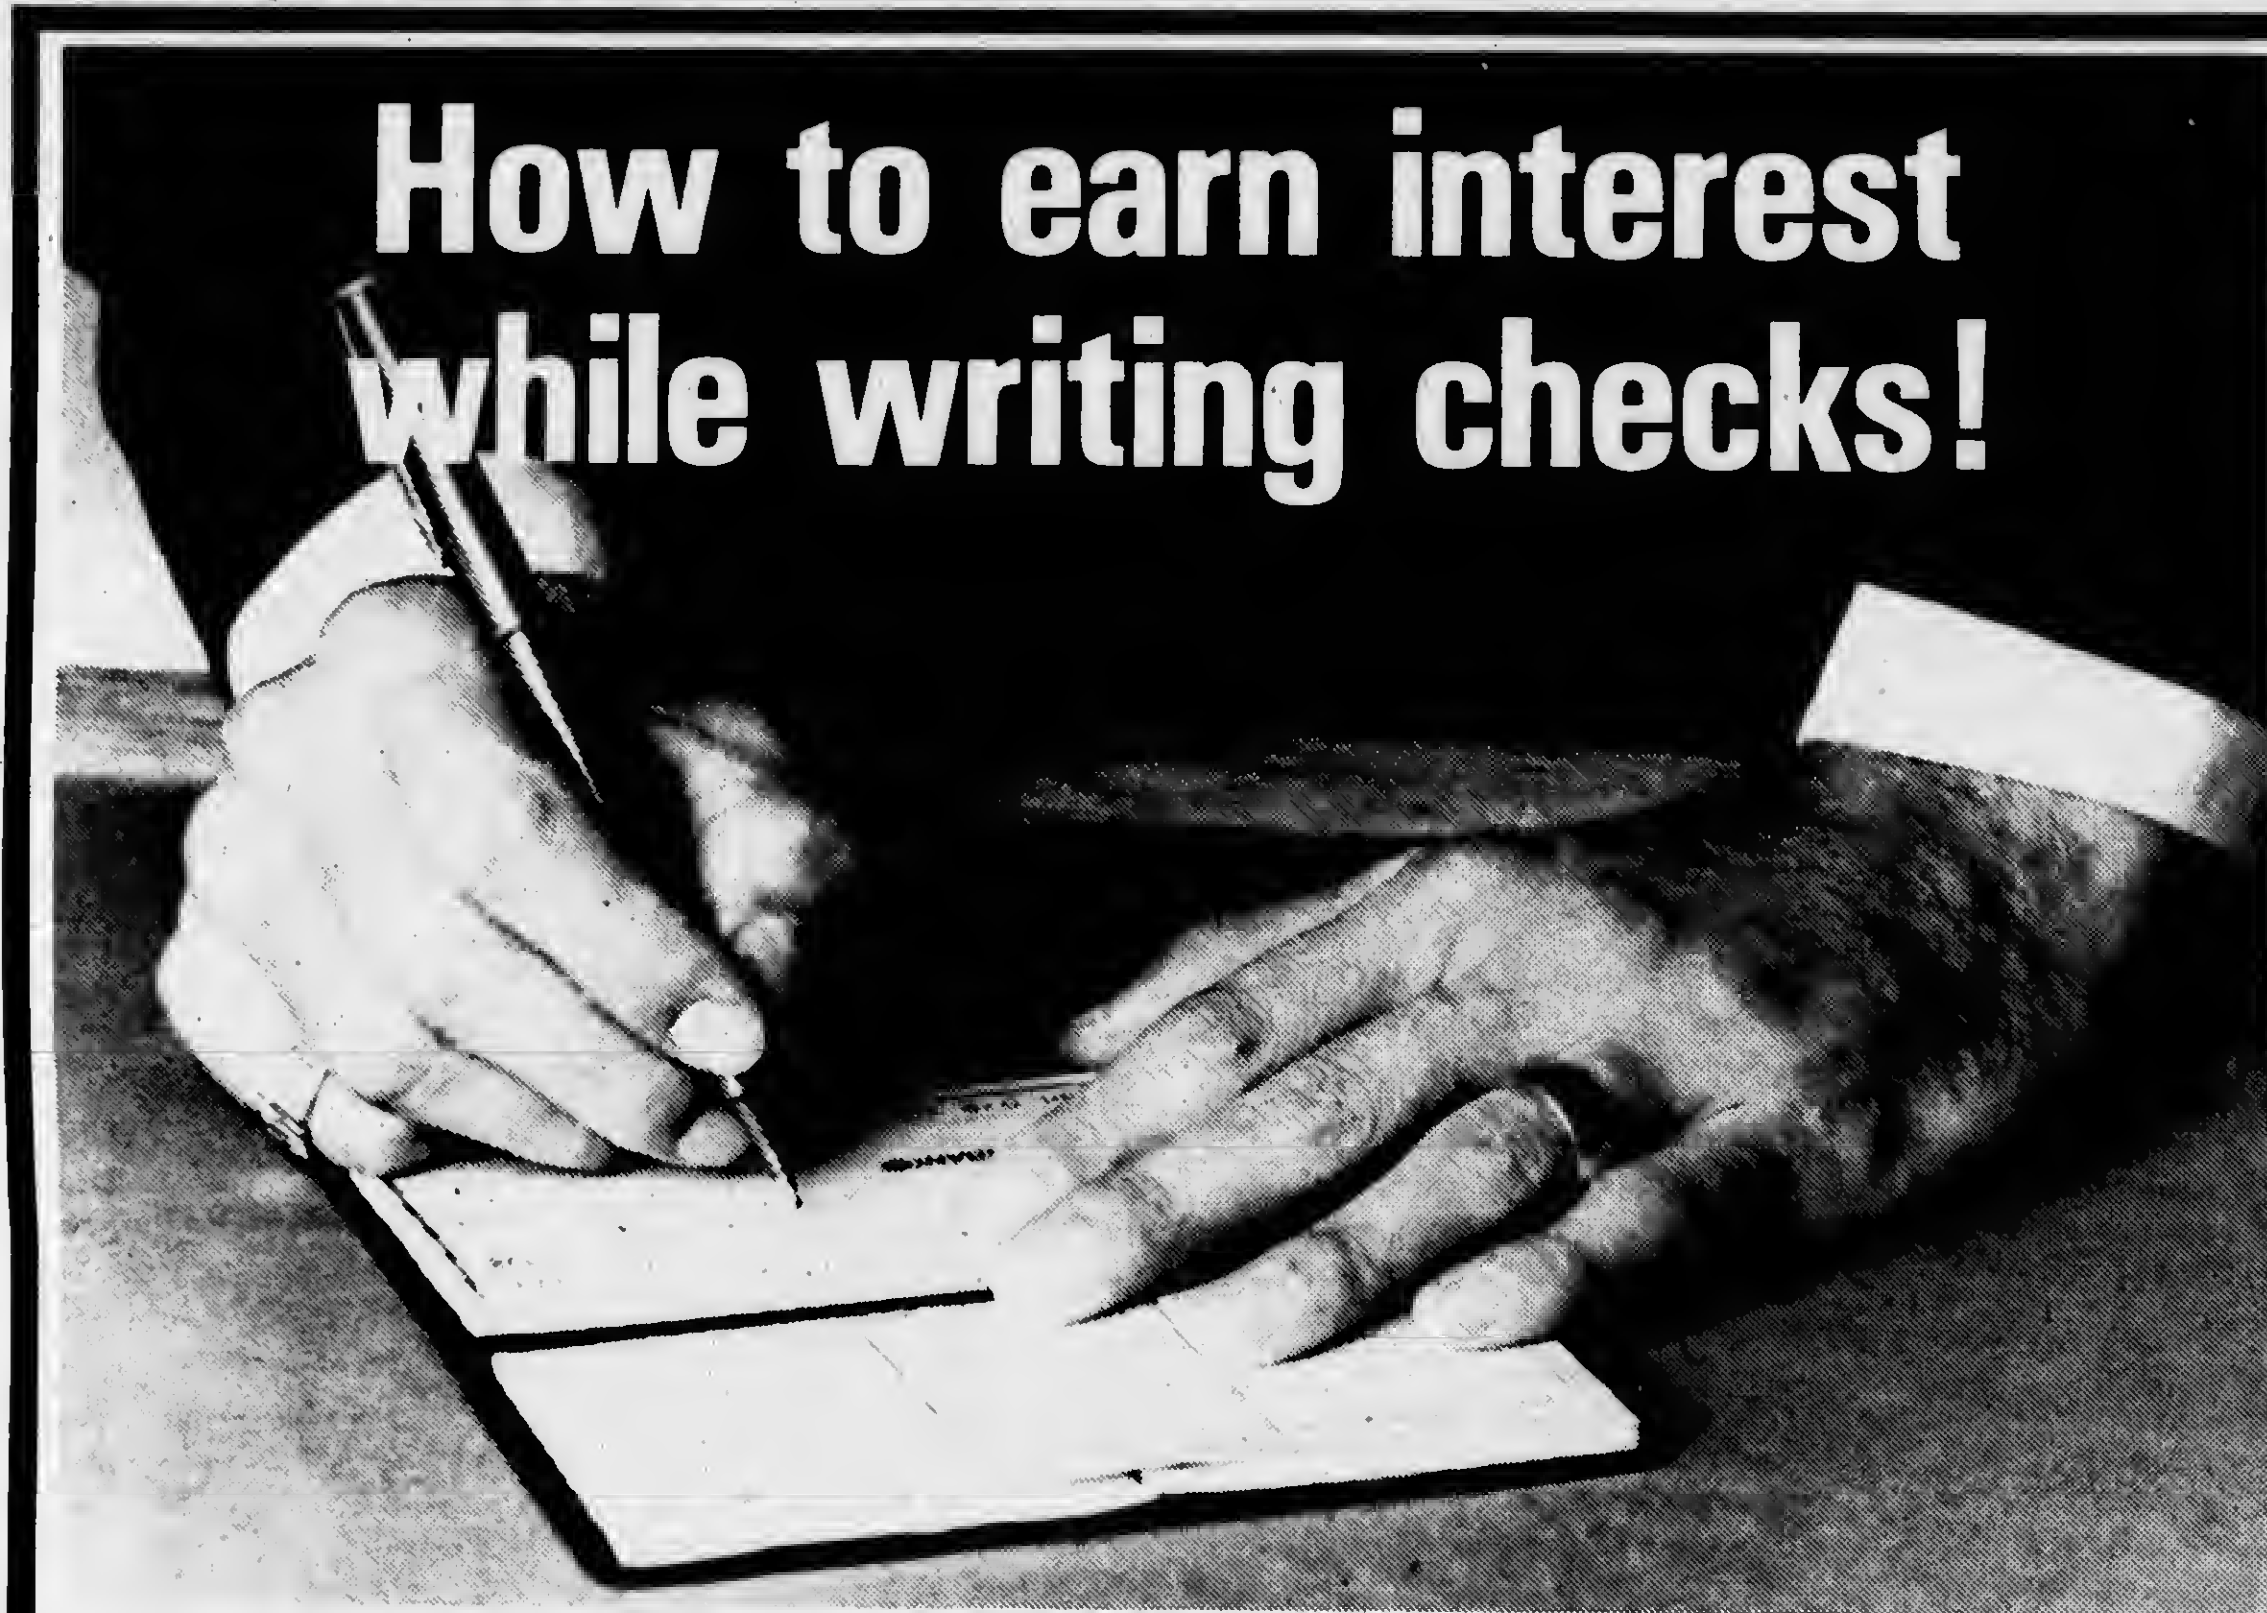

Trustee Bob Bruce asked, "If this is as simple as burning logs why don't you just throw it out? Why should we be pioneers. So many pioneers caught arrows and I don't want to be the one to catch an arrow."

Trustee Jay Bergamini asked, "Does the Food and Drug Administration get into this along with NRC?"

Anderson was keen to turn the request down without further consideration. He said that he saw no advantage for the Village of Oak Lawn and possibly a disadvantage.

Stancik said that basically he agreed with Anderson but thought they should wait for answers from NRC that had been asked by Bruce, and give them a chance to reply.

Board action will be taken at the next meeting Tuesday, May 19, 8 pm, in the Oak Lawn Village Hall, 5252 W. Dumke Drive.

Finley expertise secures court funds

Circuit Court Clerk Morgan M. Finley announced that the Federal Deposit Insurance Corp., which closed the Des Plaines Bank, March 14, has sold the securities posted by the bank as collateral against the clerk's funds and repaid the entire principal and interest without having to use federal deposit insurance. Interest was computed up to today.

The check for $418,082.53 was given to Finley's office by FDIC officials at the bank.

A number of public agencies which had funds on deposit at the bank stand to lose out either on their interest or a part of their principal or both as a result of the bank being closed. Finley's office did not lose either.

The clerk's selection of banks in which to deposit funds allows any bank to receive deposits if it agrees to post securities in a face amount equal to 110% of the value of the deposit.

Banks are chosen from a list on which the banks are placed according to when they apply to become a depository.

Elrod established a superb record as an attorney in Chicago prior to his election as the Sheriff of Cook County. He has served one term in the Illinois House of Representatives.

Circuit Court Clerk Morgan M. Finley (r), receives a check from Michael Ridings, Controller for the Clerk's Office, in the amount of $418,082.53 in full payment for money held for Finley's office by the now defunct Des Plaines Bank.

Finley's office has over $22 million on deposit in more than 100 banks and savings and loans, all bearing the top interest rates available. In 1980, the office earned nearly $3.1 million in interest.

GOP addresses plans for Worth Twsp

The Republican Party scored a significant gain when on May 4, three of their trustee candidates were sworn into office recapturing control of the Worth Township Board of Trustees. The opposition Preference Party placed only one member on the four member board.

This means that on all matters of importance coming before the Town Board, the Republican officials will control the direction of the legislation by a 3-2 majority. (The Supervisor also votes on all Town Board matters).

The three successful candidates, Harry A. Dinaso, Herbert F. Elzinga and Robert H. Telander, have noted that the Township should, and must, be efficient in its operations. Vital services will not be cut, but purely political activities will be eliminated.

The control of the legislative body by the Republican Party is important. All other elected officials must answer to the Board. Observers from both political parties concede that it is the Board of Trustees that holds the real power in the Township form of government.

Harry Dinaso stated, "I believe we were elected because of our firm belief in fiscal responsibility. The Town Board sets the budgets for the elected officials in the administrative branch. I can assure the residents of Worth Township that we will do all possible to reduce spending and hold down the tax levy."

Herbert Elzinga added, "As a team of three of us will bring forth innovative approaches to the Township. Our expertise in governmental affairs will be utilized to the fullest extent. We are compassionate individuals who will do all we can to provide vital human services to the truly needy."

Robert Telander concluded, "All employees on the Township payroll will be closely monitored to ensure that their employment is based upon merit. The taxpayers of Worth Township are entitled to prompt, courteous, and informed service. We will strive to improve Worth Township in every conceivable manner."

The three successful Trustee candidates, along with Greg Munzell (who was elected Collector), extend their sincere appreciation to the voters of Worth Township who placed them in office. The newly elected officials have pledged to serve in an honest and open way during their terms.

Traveling with... World Travel Mart

CATCH OF A LIFETIME

If you're a fisherman who's looking for real adventure, why not head for Alaska's beautiful panhandle region? Offering a mild, pleasant climate, this area has some of the finest fishing you'll find anywhere.

Located in the southern part of the panhandle is the town of Ketchikan, known as the Salmon Capital of the World. As well as large runs of salmon, its waters also attract red snapper, sea bass, cod, halibut, and others. Trout flourishes in nearby lakes and streams. If you visit Ketchikan between April and July, you're sure to find a fishing derby in progress. These usually offer fine prizes to the lucky winners.

Ketchikan offers excellent lodging for every taste and budget. There are both rustic and modern hotels and motels, plus campgrounds surrounded by spectacular Alaskan scenery. Fishing equipment and boats are available for rental. If you're planning a lengthy fishing trip, you'll need a seasonal fishing license priced at about $10. Fishermen staying ten days or less need a less expensive visitor's permit.

Would you like to visit our 49th state and try your luck in some of the best fishing waters in the world? Come in at 5615 West 95th Street, and let us help you plan your Alaskan adventure.

No extra charges for our services and we have many plans to offer saving you money and giving you good ideas for your trips anywhere. We are here to serve you, the traveler.

St Paul Lutheran Church to host magician

"The hand is quicker than the eye," says Dave Mayer, "that's why there are so many black eyes!" and he will test the speed of his magical hands against the wits of young and old on Sunday, May 24, 9:15 am at St Paul Lutheran Church & School Fellowship Hall, 4660 W 94th St., Oak Lawn, 423-1040. Anything might happen and usually does as Dave causes a live bird to appear in a popped balloon and disappear again. 4844 for any of the above events.

Flowers often appear from the air and "out of the hat" comes his famous hare, "Rabbit E. Lee".

Mayer is not only a performing professional magician, but has opened schools on the magician's art of sleight of hand for business men and almost anyone who wants to see a mean little sister disappear.

Dave also uses the medium of magic to present the "Good News" of Christ... that real faith in Christ, unlike magic, is not an illusion.

Capture two of three trophies

These two students know if it's "i before e except after c." Congratulations to Hamlin Upper Grade Center, District 125 students Teresa Davisson and Tom Ossmann, who captured two of the three trophies awarded in their division at the Worth Township Youth Commission Lenon Wisdom Memorial Spelling Bee held at the Prairie Jr. High, Alsip. Teresa represented her eighth grade class and Tom represented his seventh grade class.

Long string proves dangerous for birds

This time of the year our bird population is busy making nests so they can set up housekeeping. In their zeal to gather suitable materials for preparing sturdy nests, they will often pick up long pieces of string found lying on the ground - string that might have broken loose when kites become tangled in trees or caught in public utility wires. Unfortunately, this can lead to trouble that occasions many calls to the Animal Welfare League in the spring of each year. If the string a bird might be carrying should become caught in wires or trees, a bird can easily become entangled. Struggling only makes the situation worse and the bird will soon be exhausted, powerless to release itself. When the Animal Welfare League is alerted to such predicaments promptly, every effort is made to rescue the bird.

Persons concerned for our dwindling numbers of birds should keep this in mind and pick up and dispose of any long pieces of string they see laying outside. Another suggestion is for pet owners to brush their long-haired dogs outside where the birds can pick up loose hair, as this

Webb to resign District 218

The Board of Education and Superintendent William O. Webb of Community High School District 218 March 23 announced the resignation of Dr Webb, effective July 1, 1981.

In a letter to the board, Dr Webb expressed his wish to participate in the State's early retirement program.

This request comes after more than 30 years of service in the field of education. Dr Webb started his career as a teacher and had worked his way up to the chief executive position as Superintendent of Schools.

During the early part of Dr Webb's tenure in CHSD 218, he developed and presented to the board a sound financial program, which enabled the district to operate with a balanced budget for the past three consecutive years. Dr Webb stated he "takes great pride in leaving an educationally and financially sound system with an excellent staff" for his successor.

The board accepted his resignation with regrets and wished him well for his retirement years. Board President Vernon Lentz will announce plans to start a Superintendent search program at an early date.

Dr Webb pointed out that he has provided strong leadership for the district for the past five years and it is now time for a change. He said he believes the board should be looking for a highly experienced and Spring means robins, Smart House. You'll find a dandelions, baseball and for many people, the search for a newly constructed home. Before you begin that search, think smart -- energy smart.

First of all, look for a home displaying an Energy Smart House sign outside. That means the home has met a number of rigorous, energy-saving standards that could reduce heat loss by up to 65%. Before he can hang that Energy Smart shingle, the builder must install a number of conservation features which have been reviewed by an engineer. Nowadays, builders are realizing that many home buyers are willing to pay a little more for quality so they can get their money back and then some by saving on operating costs.

Step inside the Energy well-trained person to provide the leadership the district needs and deserves.

Basically, the heat pump moves heat from one place to another, extracting it from outside and transferring it indoors, and when it's extremely cold outside electric resistance heating elements supplement what can't be provided from the solar heat in the outside air. In summer, the heat pump works like an air conditioner, transferring indoor heat and humidity outside. The heat pump can produce more than one-and-a-half units of energy for every unit it consumes.

If you decide to buy an Energy Smart House, you'll be investing in the best protection against rising energy costs and dwindling fossil fuel supplies. It's also a good idea to equip the house with energy smart appliances. For the short term, you should be able to negotiate a larger mortgage commitment because of reduced operating costs. For the longer term, all of the energy saving benefits will speak for themselves if and when you want to sell the home.

The Energy Smart House was developed as part of the National Energy Watch, a program of the Edison Electric Institute, the national association of investor-owned electric utilities.

If you can't find one of the Energy Smart model homes, call 294-2974 for a location convenient to you.

Hospitalized War Vets Fund Drive planned for July 11-12

Sunday can be the lonliest day in the week for hospitalized war veterans. It is true that the government provides the best medical care available, but one area which is sadly neglected is their social life. This is where the Hospitalized War Veterans Organization comes in -- the goal is to fill the void.

The Hospitalized War Veterans (HWV) is a non-profit organization, staffed entirely by volunteers, and was registered by the State of Illinois on May 18, 1972. With the assistance of sponsors and honorary chairmen, outings are planned for the veterans on weekends and holidays such as picnics, boat excursions, snowmobile rides, golfing, Christmas and other holiday parties, plus other activities. They also visit the veterans in the hospital.

On Thursday and Friday, June 11 and 12, 1981 the HWV will be soliciting funds on various corners in Oak Lawn so that they may

Heritage Standard winners

First and second place winners in four categories in each of seven area schools gather with their "award-winning" entries in the annual Heritage Standard Bank Easter Egg decorating contest at the main office of the bank, 2400 W. 95th Street, Evergreen Park. Participating schools included Christ the King, Queen of Martyrs, Saint Barnabas, Saint Bernadette, Saint Germaine, Saint John Fisher, and Saint Thomas More Schools. On hand to greet the winners and their families and take those interested people on a tour of the bank are (far left) Laura Kresse, assistant vice president and marketing officer, (middle) Robert Conlan, vice president and cashier, and (far right) Anthony O'Grady, auditor.

Heritage Standard Bank, in recognition of each student's hard work and efforts, the bank presented candy to all who entered the event and decorated an egg. First and second place winners were chosen in several categories in each school, with first place artists receiving $10 and a "Heritage hare," and second place artists receiving $5. The entries were decorated with many different materials: crayons, chalk, paints, paper, and fabric, and were judged on originality, creativity, and neatness. The winning eggs were displayed during the week before Easter at the main office of Heritage Standard Bank, 95th and Western, after judging at the school by bank officers. First and second place ribbons were then placed on the works of art, and the winners and their families were invited to view the full display, have their photographs taken with their entries, and take a tour of the bank, before picking up their eggs to bring them home.

Yourell supports bill opposing resident requirements for teachers

The Chicago School District would be prohibited from imposing a residency requirement for its teachers under legislation passed this week by the Illinois House and supported by Rep. "Bus" Yourell, D-8th.

House Bill 174 prohibits a residency requirement as a condition of employment for school districts with populations of more than 500,000 which would apply only to Chicago.

Also, HB 174 says residency shall not be considered in determining compensation, retention, promotion assignment or transfer of a teacher.

"No other school district in Illinois is allowed to require residency for its teachers and it about time Chicago dropped this requirement," Yourell said.

"Chicago teachers should not be treated as second class citizens. They should be allowed to choose freely where they want to live.

"As it is, most Chicago teachers live within the city anyway. Those who don't, however, should not be forced to sell their homes, uproot their families and bear the unreasonable expense of moving just to satisfy a residency requirement.

"Furthermore, Chicago school administrators should not be allowed to discriminate against those teachers who do choose to live outside the city."

HB 174 now goes to the Senate for action.

Oak View champs for fifth year in row

The boys intermediate-grade basketball team from Oak View Elementary School, Oak Lawn, won the District 126 Championship for the fifth consecutive time. Playing a 6 game season against Lane, Stony Creek and Hazelgreen Elementary schools, the Oak View team compiled a 6-0 record. The season was not without its close calls according to Bill Boucek, Oak View coach. "In our first game against Hazelgreen we trailed for all but the last minute and felt fortunate to come away with a 39-35 victory. In our game at Lane 2 of the starting five fouled out and another played with 4 fouls."

The team presented the championship trophy to Jerry Vrshek, Principal, at a recent assembly. At that same assembly, thanks to Oak View parents, team members were presented with individual basketball trophies and Coach Boucek was presented with a plaque for his coaching efforts.

Invitation to 'ride-along' in beat cars

Guest Editorial
Chief of Police John Haberkorn

One of the most expensive items in any budget is the expenditures for police services. Our society today demands this service and, as much as I hate to say it, it has become a necessity.

Most citizens are totally unaware of the functions and operations of their Police Department. Their knowledge is mainly derived from those fantasies emanating from our TV screens. I feel that you, the Citizens of Oak Lawn, not only have a right, but also probably have a desire to see your Police Department in action.

I have instituted a program which will afford the residents this opportunity. There are several requirements which are necessary, but should in no way deter you from participating in this effort.

You, the Citizen of Oak Lawn is hereby invited to go on ride-alongs with the beat cars. You will be able to see, first hand what we do to earn your support. You will also see the dedication of the Police Officers of Oak Lawn in making this a safe village for all the residents.

Requirements are as follows: 25 years of age or older (women will not be asked to give their true birthdate); be a resident of Oak Lawn; sign a waiver prior to the ride-along relieving the village of any responsibility should an accident occur during ride-along.

To participate in this program call the following: Deputy Chief G. Taylor, 636-4400, ext 223 or Chief of Patrol J. McNichols, 636-4400, ext 227.

We will attempt to schedule your ride-along on the date you request, but it may be necessary to, at times, change your requested date due to either operational problems or an over abundance of such requests. In these cases, we will work out a schedule convenient to you.

Come out and see first hand what is happening "while you sleep".

Finley driver improvement program proves successful

A State of Illinois evaluation of a suburban driver improvement program conducted by Circuit Court Clerk Morgan M. Finley shows that the project may have prevented as many as 2125 accidents and saved $6.3 million costs to Cook County drivers.

The evaluation, carried out by the Illinois Dept. of Transportation which funded the three-year, $643,000 project, indicates that the program not only reduced accidents but also substantially cut the number of people who were convicted of additional traffic violations.

Titled the Driver Improvement Program, the project is no longer receiving state financial support but Finley's office continues to conduct the program thru the five suburban districts of the Circuit Court. Over 60,000 people have taken the classes.

Based on a model developed by the Aetna Life and Casualty Co. the Driver Improvement Program tries to help people understand why they drive the way they do.

Using role models identified by a school of psychology called Transactional Analysis, the program shows people that the way they drive is often an extension of the way they feel.

TA says that most human behavior falls into three role models: child (impulsive), parent (dictatorial) and adult (rational). The idea of the school is to convince people to behave in an adult (rational) manner when behind the wheel.

The program is conducted in 15 suburban locations each week. Each student attends two three-hour classes. Students are assigned by judges after having been arrested for a traffic violation.

The state also said that reductions in drunken driving resulted from the project but it could not isolate the specific number because of a lack of statistical support.

An interesting sidelight to the state evaluation is that knowledge of traffic laws apparently has nothing to do with whether people get tickets.

Students in the program were tested for their knowledge of traffic laws and got uniformly high grades, both before taking the course and after.

The study also urged the continued use of the Aetna model for driver safety programs, citing the fact that persons taught with this approach were more likely to improve their driving habits than those who received training based purely on safe driving techniques.

Russo Reports from Washington

by Congressman Marty Russo

TEEN SURVEY II

In a recent column, I gave the results of a survey taken among teenage leaders in the country (those listed in "Who's Who in American High Schools"). Today I want to present some further findings.

As I said in the last column, we can only view such findings as general indicators, and particularly when limited to a specific group. There are, after all, over 25 million teenagers in the land. But I am concerned, as many of us are, in ascertaining who our young people are becoming and what they are thinking as they move towards the day of responsibility for the running of the country. It is worth gleaming what information we can from surveys.

Dr. George Gallup in a nationwide survey and in certain targeted surveys, came up with the following findings.

OUTLOOK

The majority of teenagers feel it is possible to get ahead in America; it is possible to do what you want if you work for it. Three in four young people plan to go to college (only about half actually make it). Forty-three percent say they are very happy; 53% are fairly happy and 4% are not happy.

Thirty-four percent say the world will be a better place in which to live in 10 years, but 53% say it will be worse. Five percent feel it will be the same.

PARENT-TEEN RELATIONS

Seventy-five percent of teenagers reported that their parents talked to them about their day's activities; 58% said their parents praised them. Fifty percent say their parents hugged or kissed them; 46% said that during a 24-hour period their parents said they loved them. Twenty-one percent helped them with their homework.

ALCOHOL AND DRUGS

A total teen sample of 39% said they have tried marijuana at some time in their lives. Three in ten of this group have tried it once and have used it at least once in the last month. One-fourth of younger teens (age 13 to 15) have tried marijuana.

In terms of alcohol consumption, 38% say they drink on occasion or more frequently. Beer is the typical drink. Twenty percent of teens on a whole, in a national sample say that liquor is a cause of trouble in their families.

VALUES

Teenagers say that in terms of social changes in the 1980's, they would like more emphasis on the family, on hard work, on authority. This was the feeling of the majority of teenagers.

KNOWLEDGE

Half the teenagers surveyed, by their own admission, watch too much television. Whatever the source of the problems, Dr. Gallup says the level of knowledge of teens is shockingly low. Here are percentages on correctly identifying various people - 60% identify Picasso, 48% identify Robert Frost. Only 6 in 10 could name the vice president and only 52% know that one does not have to be literate to vote, only 23% know the length of a senator's term, only 18% know the presidential succession and only 11% could name the Chief Justice of the Supreme Court.

A majority of teenagers have exaggerated ideas about the profits earned by corporations in this country. They cite as a median average for profit 36%, when in reality is fluctuates between 4-6%. They underestimate the number of taxes paid.

Only three in ten teenagers can name all Ten Commandments, 15% cannot name any and one-fourth have never read the Bible.

DIRECTION

Dr. Gallup concludes that far from being the "self centered" generation, young people still have a very strong social conscience and they indicate a strong interest in the helping professions - nursing, teaching, social work. They show an interest in national service programs, even mandatory ones. They show a degree of tolerance for persons of other races, religions and backgrounds, often not found among their elders.

Success to You Graduates!

A message for the Graduates

Best wishes to the graduates on their very special day. May all the good things in life be theirs as they step into their wider horizons that now await them. VILLAGE VIEW has not listed all the names of the many, many graduates as we tend to think in terms of high school and forget about the little "kindergartners" that have graduated to 1st grade — the elementary grads that have left 8 years behind them! the high school grads that will leave their homes, towns and villages to go to various colleges all over the country. Last but surely not least, those grads who have completed college and may be coming back to where it all began.

The list of names would be prohibitive.

We do want them all to know that the persons, businesses and organizations on these pages of VILLAGE VIEW are very proud of all of them and wish them "Godspeed" in all of their future endeavors whether it is continuing on the higher education or going into the world of business.

Dr. Thomas Patricoski, Medical Staff President and Sister M. Mildred Radzewicz, chairman of the Board of Directors, read the notification letter with Wozniak.

This accreditation is the result of an on-site survey made by representatives of the Joint Commission. Accreditation is a voluntary process. Little Company of Mary Hospital's participation in this process demonstrates to the patients and to the community the hospital's dedication to maintaining high professional standards for quality patient care.

Refreshments consisting of coffee, punch, and cookies were served after the program.

Purchasing a home?

How much home can you afford?

In years past, the rule of thumb was your monthly housing costs should not exceed one-quarter of your gross monthly income. In other words, if your salary was $1000 per month, your payments should be close to $250 to be comfortably handled.

But with housing costs rising faster than family incomes, these formulas are changing. REALTOR NEWS, the newspaper of the National Association of Realtors, reported that Mortgage Guarantee Insurance Corporation (MGIC) recently lifted its allowable debt ratio from 25 to 33%. According to the new formula, if you earn $1000 per month, you can handle a housing payment of $330, $80 more than before. MGIC, the nation's largest private insurer of home mortgages, also raised the allowable total indebtedness to 38%. Total indebtedness means the total amount a person pays for housing, car and furniture payments, school loan payments and any other long-term obligations. Remember, a lender generally considers only those obligations that extend for more than 10 months after purchasing a home.

Likewise, the Federal Home Loan Mortgage Corporation (Freddie Mac) also eased its debt formulas. Freddie Mac now will place less reliance on meeting the 25% of income criteria and more attention to other factors that may suggest the buyer is able to meet his home mortgage payments.

According to Freddie Mac, these factors may include the ability or willingness to make a larger than minimum down payment, the existence of other assets and the potential for increased earnings.

For instance, if you are certain of a 10% pay raise within six months or if you own land somewhere or have a sizeable portfolio of stocks and bonds, the lender may consider them rather than basing your eligibility on a salary formula.

Although the National Association of Realtors is pleased that mortgage guidelines are gradually becoming more realistic and more buyers will be able to qualify for loans, Realtors urge homebuyers to exercise caution before overextend-ing themselves with housing payments. Even if the formulas work in your favor, careful thought must be given to the sacrifices involved with such an obligation.

An historic occasion occurred in Oak Lawn on Wednesday, May 13 at the Oak Lawn Tower Inn. Oak Lawn's second Kiwanis Club, named the Kiwanis Club of Oak Lawn Area Golden K, was officially organized. Jack Sundberg, District Secretary of the Illinois, Eastern Iowa District of Kiwanis International, from Rockford, Illinois, chaired the meeting and officially welcomed 29 men into the fellowship and service of Kiwanis.

Kiwanis is a worldwide service organization appealing to men who have the desire to become personally involved in making their communities better places in which to live. Kiwanians are motivated by a common desire to serve, and to achieve an appreciation of good fellowship. They join over 300 Kiwanis Clubs in Illinois and Eastern Iowa with over 12,000 members.

Frank McGee, attorney, was elected charter president. McGee served as president of the sponsoring Oak Lawn Kiwanis Club in 1955. In accepting the gavel of leadership, McGee reinforced his belief in the first objective of Kiwanis, "to give primacy to the human and spiritual rather than the material values of life."

Elected along with McGee were: Ray Ristow, Secretary; E. Gordon Stubbe, Treasurer; and Directors: Roy Becker, Munro Gerrie, Tom Haggerty, Ray Patten, Ted Roseen, Verlin Van Klavern and Bob Williams.

Chief Murray accepts key to public education vehicle

Pictured is Chief Harker presenting the keys to the new public education vehicle to Chief Fire Inspector R. Murray. This new innovative concept was created for two reasons. First, this size vehicle is needed to transport the public education material used by the Fire Prevention personnel; and second, it is Chief Harker's hope that the public will notice and read the Fire Prevention slogans that are displayed on the vehicle.

Sniffy the Smoke Detector, which was created by one of our firemen, is displayed on one side of the vehicle, reminding everyone of the importance of testing their smoke detectors weekly. Sparky the Fire Dog, which is known world wide, also is displayed, telling everyone that in fires seconds count and that we should all have an escape plan. The other display shows us the easiest way to extinguish a grease fire is to put a lid on it.

Flag Day celebration at Village Hall

College students lack ESP Park Lawn to hold Shop & Share benefit

Daniel Keating, son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Keating, Oak Lawn, presented a paper recently at the Eighth ILLINOIS Undergraduate Psychology Conference on a research project conducted at Monmouth College. Keating is a sophomore English and psychology major at Monmouth.

Keating's paper dealt with the study of extra-sensory perception (ESP) in college students. As expected, Keating found no evidence for the existence of ESP. Because some people have claimed that belief in ESP is necessary to demonstrate it, Keating also tested students who hold the belief and found no positive evidence. Keating entered Monmouth College as an All-

Oak View cheerleaders-cheer on victors

If cheerleading squads measure their success by whether or not their team wins, the cheerleaders from Oak View Elementary School, Oak Lawn, can rightly claim that they had a very successful season. Oak View's squad cheered the boys basketball team on to a perfect 6-0 season and maintained its record of championship cheering.

According to Maureen

Fournier, Oak View cheerleading coach, this is the fifth consecutive time that the boys have captured the District 126 Championship. Oak View Principal, Jerry Vrshek, said, "We are proud of our cheerleaders and the fine job that they did in cheering our boys on to the championship. Our girls and Mrs. Fournier are to be commended for the time and effort that they put into their cheerleading."

ment staff, Terry Lydon and John Hurley, Emergency Department Technicians and Barb Serovy, R.N., Assistant Clinical Supervisor, little Mary and her mother were formally admitted.

Mrs. Anderson met with Ken a few days later in the nursery where she formally introduced her little daughter to the "doctor" who assisted at her birth.

"An outside delivery sure adds a little excitement to your life," said Mrs. Anderson, "but I'm glad Mr. Labuda was there to help."

Baby makes own plans

When Mrs. Virgil Anderson decided it was time to come to Little Company of Mary Hospital to deliver her fourth child, she and her husband planned on a routine experience in labor and delivery.

However, baby girl Anderson had other plans, one of which was to cut down on her ETA (Estimated Time of Arrival) and get on with her life. Thus it happened that Mr. Anderson pulled up to the California entrance, ran in and excitedly announced to the first security officer in sight that his wife was "having a baby".

Officer Ken Labuda responded coolly, accompanying Anderson to the entrance with a wheelchair for the expectant mother. That's when Ken discovered that "having a baby" meant present tense, not future.

Ken has had paramedic training and knew the procedure for birthing babies but this was his first actual try at being a midwife.

Officer Ken Labuda
Seeing that birth was imminent he responded with a cool head and quick hands and little Mary (named after the hospital) Anderson was born in the car - a healthy 6 lbs. 4 oz.

Better 'Buy in Oak Lawn'

by Vina O'Malley

This may not be what you would call a classy or brilliant editorial but it is the bare bone facts.

The Chicago Ridge Mall is moving in on us like a giant octopus. There is no doubt that it will have a great financial effect on the businesses of Oak Lawn.

Perhaps many of the residents don't realize that shopping elsewhere will have a negative effect on them also. The sales tax derived from the various businesses provide the largest portion of support for your administration. Thus, if the administration doesn't get those necessary dollars there is only one other source - you the taxpayer.

Many residents think their taxes are high now. The whole total is usually laid at the village door.

Do you ever turn over your tax bill and see where your money goes? If you do one can readily see that very little of that huge tax bill actually comes in to operate the village. But now, that is the portion that will jump if we lose our sales tax.

There are many stores in Oak Lawn, we have it all. There are some of the very best dress shops, men's stores, shoe stores, drug stores, food stores, office supplies, department stores, restaurants, car dealers, etc. You name it - we have it! Did you ever really realize that part of every dollar you spend in Oak Lawn comes back to the village to keep your taxes down.

Another thing to think about is the gas you will save. Oak Lawn has plenty of parking places other than the shopping centers that is just yours for the looking.

Speaking of car dealers, did you know that they have the largest return of sales tax. Car sales are down and is being felt already. People shop for cars and the biggest deals I ever heard of was 25 to 35 dollars. Purchase your car outside of Oak Lawn and you will soon be paying that 35 dollars extra in taxes every year.

This is a problem that will affect all of us. Oak Lawn is now the largest and one of the most prestigious of the southwest suburbs. Somehow all of the residents must be made to understand that keeping our businesses alive and solvent will keep Oak Lawn alive and the value of our homes high. If our businesses die - Oak Lawn will die also and the value of your homes will be less.

Please remember, and make it a practice, BUY IN OAK LAWN, and keep it the great village it is now!

What do you think?

Officer and citizen commendation

Officer John Lesniewski received a commendation from the Oak Lawn Police Department this past Tuesday for his outstanding work. James McMeekin received an honorable Citizens Award for performing in a heroic way, and quick thinking with regards to details that later proved helpful in a successful capture of two men.

An armed robbery was attempted at the Guys & Dolls Beauty Salon, 4919 W. 95th Street on May 29 at 9:30 pm.

Tommy W. Borden, 5125 Cernak in Cicero (18 years of age) and Jackie H. Bates, 2715 S. Harvey, Berwyn were both charged with armed robbery, armed violence and theft.

Borden, who was later identified, had gone into the beauty salon and confronting a woman with a gun asked for all of her money. She said that there was none as the manager had taken it. Another employee entered the front of the store and Borden turned the cocked gun on her and she fled from the store. Meanwhile, the first woman fled from the rear of the store screaming "robbery".

James McMeekin, who was in a store next door heard her, saw the subject running and he gave pursuit on foot. Upon the arrival of Officer Lesniewski, McMeekin identified himself and gave the officer information as to where the robber had gone.

A short while later the officer found the subject hiding in the bushes and he was taken into custody. Bates who drove the getaway car was taken into custody that same evening.

At 10 am Sunday, May 31, a line-up was held in the Oak Lawn Police Dept. At that time 42 victims positively identified the subjects in 19 other robberies. One of the victims was a 45 year old woman who had been shot in the abdomen.

On Monday, June 1, in the 5th District Court bond was set on Borden for $350,000 and $50,000 on Bates. The case was scheduled to go to the grand jury on June 2.

Funding approved for NIPC

At the May 26 meeting of the Council of Governments (COG) of Cook County, the Executive Committee passed a resolution calling for passage of Senate Bill 326 and its provision for continued state funding of the Northeastern Illinois Planning Commission (NIPC), the regional planning agency for the six county Chicago metropolitan area.

COG Chairman Gwendolyn Trindl, President of the Village of Winnetka, stated that the need for regional planning in the six northeastern

questions and answers

Q. I get social security checks but I am still working part time, and I hope to earn a little more in 1981 than I did in 1980. Should I tell social security this early in the year?

A. By all means, you should tell social security of any expected changes in your earnings, otherwise you may end up paying back an incorrect payment to social security. If, later in the year, you find you are making less than you reported, you can always adjust your earnings estimate.

Q. Last year I was self-employed in two different businesses. My store lost money but I made over $2,500 as a house painter. How do I figure how much social security tax to pay?

A. You have to pay social security tax only if you have a net profit from self-employment of at least $400. To determine the amount of your net profit, subtract the amount of your loss from the amount of your profit. If the result is less than $400, you will not have to pay any social security tax; if the result is $400 or more, your social security tax will be 8.1 percent of your total profit.

Q. Last year I worked for two employers and earned over $20,000 from each. Since each employer withheld social security tax on the full amount of my salary, I paid well over the maximum tax for the year. Can I get a refund?

A. Yes, you can get a refund or you can have the excess social security tax you paid credited toward your Federal income tax for the year. You make this claim when you file your Federal income tax return. The refund will not be made automatically.

Q. I do not receive any social security checks because I have not worked long enough under social security to get monthly payments. I recently decided to return to work. Should I notify social security?

A. If you do not receive any monthly benefits, it is not necessary to notify social security. If you are working under social security, however, you will want to keep count of the credits you earn—you may eventually earn enough credit to qualify for monthly social security payments.

Illinois counties still exists, and that this is no time for the State, which was instrumental in establishing NIPC, to now abandon its support.

The Council of Governments of Cook County is a voluntary association of local governments within Cook County founded in 1967 to assist in resolving major community problems and to promote the general welfare of Cook County residents and governments.

RUSO WITHDRAWS SUPPORT FOR SUNDAY VOTING

I have decided to withdraw my support for the Sunday Same-Time Voting Bill, HR 84. In an earlier press release to you I announced by cosponsorship, and today I want to announce my reasons for withdrawing this cosponsorship.

The reason I originally chose to support the Sunday Same-Time Voting Bill was because I am very concerned about the low voter turnout in national presidential elections throughout the past decade. These alarming statistics, coupled with the fact that other western Christian countries which hold national elections on week-ends, almost without exception, have voter turnout, which exceeds 80% of the electorate indicated to me that Sunday voting would act as a catalyst to maximize voter participation.

My cosponsorship was based on a commitment that hearings should be held to try and find an alternative method of stimulating voter turnout in national elections. However, judging from the reaction to this bill, Sunday voting would significantly disenfranchise many voters who consider Sunday a day of religion not government. I therefore am withdrawing my support for the legislation that would make Sunday the sole day for voting in presidential elections.

Fashions Today

By Helene Marshall

I love fashions!!! That's quite a statement, isn't it? Well fashions are an important part of our total environment; they encompass a complete spectrum of our everyday life -- fashions in our homes, new design in hair fashions, today's look in make-up, fashions in clothes; everywhere we go we see fashions.

I like diversification in my studies so that I can acquire as much knowledge and research in as many areas as I possibly can -- at the same time I like variety in my fashions, this way you are able to achieve different fashion looks. Today's fashions have a diversification of style.

I think womens fashions today are super looking. There is so much variety in color, in style, there's a look for every figure and taste.

I'm going to introduce you to a woman who has been involved with womens fashions for eighteen years. Esther Zegart is the owner of Esther's Fashions at 2914 W. 95th Street in Evergreen Park.

"Esther, what are some of your favorite looks this summer?"

"Well Helene, the suit look is very big, also the jacket dress can be so versatile; wear the jacket inside for the cool air conditioning and remove it when you're in the summer heat. Also sundresses and summer knits are also very popular."

"I know Esther, you have such a variety of sizes and styles in your shop. Do you personally help women find the proper style to enhance their figure?"

"Well certainly Helene, that's the object of having a personalized service so I can have all sizes including half sizes to help the women select the right sizes and styles for their figure."

"Thank you Esther, it was a pleasure interviewing you on womens fashions today."

What I would like at this moment would be a beautiful summer suit that I could co-ordinate with different blouses.

Treat yourself to a new outfit. You'll love the new looks in fashion today.

The dinner dance, held on a Wednesday evening at the Martinique Restaurant, was attended by more than two hundred people. The American Legion Hall was the location of the auction, conducted on the following Saturday. The events, raised a total of over $6000 towards the unit's 1981 goal of almost $22,000.

Many of the members of the "old-fashioned country auction" committee were present the evening of the dinner dance, including (l to r) Carolyn Lyons, Colleen Gallagher, Janet Ozinga, Helen Thode, Shirlee Kennedy, Meg Baldermann, Lois Sharp, Barbara Sherman, Laura Kresse, Virginia Wrobel, Dorothy Fenner, Jean Blasi, and Barbara Dovgin. In addition to lending their assistance to Genevieve Bartley, chairman of the events, they enjoyed an evening of music, dancing, and good food at the dinner dance, and excitement at the auction.

IT'S THAT TIME OF YEAR AGAIN.

Summer rates are in effect to encourage conservation. And, in case you've forgotten, that means four months of higher electric rates than you're used to paying the rest of the year.

What's more, the fuel adjustment charge will be higher, too, because the cost of fuel is getting higher.

Especially oil.

There's no denying it's going to hurt. All we can say is that if you really conserve, if you cut back during the summer when it costs the most to generate the extra electricity for air conditioning, it won't hurt nearly as much.

If enough of you give it a try, we won't have to burn as much expensive oil. The more of our electricity we can make with coal and uranium, the less it'll cost us all.

In the long run, holding down summertime use can hold down the number of new generating stations we'll need. And they're a big reason for rate increases in general.

So please, send for a free copy of our Waste Watchers Guide and use it for all it's worth. (Write: Department AV, Box 767, Chicago, IL 60690.) It'll show you 101 ways to keep electric bills under control.

Maybe, just maybe, the summer can be just plain fun again.

energy corner

by John Hogan

News Information Supervisor
Commonwealth Edison Co.

The arrival of warm weather probably means you'll be spending more time away from home. A vacation trip or even an outdoor concert or evening stroll can be a tonic to anyone who has spent the past six months developing a severe case of cabin fever.

While you're away, however, your home is vulnerable to burglars. There is little you can do to stop a determined burglar, but you can take steps to reduce the possibility that your home will be hit.

Ordinary locks are no problem for a pro. If he wants to get into your home, he'll pick it in seconds. This is not to say that locks are useless or that it is a waste of money to buy the best available. The more deterrents you place in a burglar's way, the better. If nothing else, they delay him and force him to spend more time on the "job" and increase his chances of being caught.

Dead bolt locks offer the most security. An additional chain lock improves it. Window locks also are a good idea, and silent alarm systems are rated highly by the police.

Keep in mind that many more illegal entries are gained through back doors or through doors inside a garage than through a front door. Many people are careless about closing garage doors, and one way to solve this is to install an automatic garage door opener. This makes it more convenient to keep the door closed, and there is the added safety in being able to switch on garage lights and open the door without having to leave your car.

Speaking of the garage, if you're going to be away for an extended period, try drilling a hole in overhead door rails and placing a padlock in it to add an extra measure of security. Also, make sure ladders and the like are secured inside, rather than left outside where they may be used to gain entry through a second floor window.

Once you've upgraded your home's security, the best insurance against burglary is to make your home appear occupied. Cancel newspapers and milk deliveries and have your mail held at the post office or forwarded.

By definition, burglary is the entering of a home when no one is there. If someone is home, the crime becomes robbery and the penalties are more severe. This is one reason why housebreakers will go somewhere else if they think you are home or likely to return soon.

Many people "advertise" their absence by switching off all lights. Worse, some leave on an outside light. This is the clearest possible signal to a burglar that the coast is clear.

Leave some house lights on while you're away. Some burglars aren't fooled by a single light; they'll phone to see if it's a ruse or even knock on the door. Two lights are more realistic and convincing. Make sure they are at least 40 watts and in two separate areas. Better yet, have lights that are controlled by timers or photo-electric cells, which are available at reasonable cost from your local hardware or electric appliance store.

If you want to pull shades or draw curtains, don't overdo it. Make sure outsiders can't tell if anyone's inside, but don't obscure the effect of the lights.

Oak Lawn to receive $50,202 windfall to up-grade traffic signs in the village

Chicago Police Wives sponsoring judicial panel discussion

Senator Frank M. Ozinga (R) announced recently that the Village of Oak Lawn will be reimbursed from Federal funds made available to the Illinois Department of Transportation. Oak Lawn will receive $50,202 for up-grading traffic signs thruout the village.

Senator Ozinga said the contract for the work was approved on June 22 and that Oak Lawn will begin about one month. Since up-grading the signs in nearly 2500 traffic signs need to be replaced it will take about one year for the work to be completed.

Oak Lawn officials say that most of the signs involve changing the speed limit from 30 to 25 mph. Other signs are rusted out and others do not conform to State and Federal Standards.

"I'm very pleased that Oak Lawn will be partially reimbursed for replacing signs thruout the village," said Senator Ozinga. "The Legislature has actively sought additional funds under the Federal Highway Safety Act of 1966 and made those funds available to communities throughout the State from the Governor's Traffic Safety Coordinating Committee."

Oak Lawn officials estimate the project will

On Tuesday, July 7, at 8:30 pm, the Chicago Police Wives' Association is sponsoring a judicial panel discussion. The program will be at the Chicago Police Academy, Jackson & Racine, in Chicago.

Yourell House Bill reimburses Moraine

Moraine Valley College will finally get partial reimbursement from the state for a classroom building completed seven years ago under legislation sponsored by Representative Harry "Bus" Yourell (D-Oak Lawn).

House Bill 530, which passed the House and is now in the Senate, appropriates $170,545, to Moraine as part of a $3.3 million appropriation for several Illinois community colleges.

The appropriation represents 10% of the state's 75% share of the costs of community college buildings constructed after July 1, 1972 using only community college funds. In all, the colleges are due $32.8 million.

"Because of the tight state budget, we could only get approval to appropriate 10% of the money due Moraine," Yourell said.

"However, the colleges understand that as soon as the state's financial picture improves, we will appropriate the remaining 90%."

The reimbursement was made possible by legislation approved by the General Assembly in 1978.

"These colleges went out on their own, built the buildings with their own money, with only a hope they might get reimbursed," Yourell said. "Now, we finally have begun the process of paying the reimbursement money they deserve."

Tourism Board plans future meeting with Illinois officials

The third meeting of the United States Congressional Travel and Tourism Caucus Advisory Board was held at the Holiday Inn - Oak Lawn on Friday, May 15.

Joseph J. English, General Manager, Vice President of the Holiday Inn, who was appointed as the 3rd District representative by Congressman Marty Russo, is also chairman of the board.

The purpose of the Caucus is to promote the importance of tourism to our economy and especially in the Midwest where it is felt that this area has been short-changed in the amount of funds provided by the Federal Government.

English reported on his trip to Washington where he met with the other members appointed to the various Congressional Districts in Illinois, who are intent upon forming a National Tourism Policy that would not only be acceptable to the Federal Government but also to insure the release of funds now under governmental control.

English said that a copy of the Resolution to Encourage Enactment of a National Tourism Policy was presented to the Chairman and Steering Committee of the U.S. Congressional Travel and Tourism Caucus.

Many thoughts, ideas and questions were discussed at the meeting on May 15 at the Holiday Inn.

It was determined by members of the board that a good sales job was needed in Washington and that strength in numbers, and pressures by people of importance, would be helpful in convincing the Government that tourism is an export - a billion dollar business and we are not getting our fair share.

It was also determined another meeting be planned at a later date with Russo, along with other Congressmen in the area: that Mayor Jane Byrne be contacted and asked to attend; also representatives from the state, the Convention Bureau, the Governors Office, a foreign carrier, the Chambers of Commerce, American Express and Thompson Tours. The point being to prove that being able to stimulate that kind of interest, and the board can marshal that kind of immediate resource, Congress would have to pay attention.

The date for the next meeting has not as yet been set.

federal funds, have come back to Oak Lawn to fund a village commuter parking lot.

IDOT revealed that it had allocated $689,700 and will be turning over this amount around October. The funds will be used to purchase the property on 51st Avenue and 96th Street. An additional amount of $573,000 will be made available the next year to pay for the cost of construction.

The temporary gravel lot that houses about 100 cars, and services those persons taking the Norfolk and Western, would be converted to hold 300 to 400 commuters.

Kolb said he was hopeful that the parking lot would be completed sooner but that 1982 is the more practical date.

Disappointed over the discussion not to fund the lot promoted two years of lobbying for the village officials.

"Those many trips to Springfield, all those meetings Norm Bacon and I had with Senator Ozinga have now proved fruitful," said Kolb. (The reference was to Senator Frank Ozinga (R) 8th District and Bacon, who is top banana of Quality Control for the Village of Oak Lawn.)

Russo 3rd District up for grabs?

We would certainly be remiss in not keeping the voting public aware of the attempted political folly of the congressional redistricting map proposed by the Illinois House GOP leadership.

The unsuccessful ploy would have split Democratic Congressman Marty Russo's 3rd District in two and deliver the spoils to Representatives John Fary (R) 5th District; Edward Derwinski (R) 4th District and George O'Brien (R) 17th District.

The GOP moved the 3rd District to the North Shore area which seems not only "unfair" but "incredible".

The totally "unfair" part of this maneuver is that most everyone in the 3rd District knows and respects Marty Russo. He has been more visible than any previous representative. His workshops have been a "port in the storm" for disgruntled, troubled people. It gives them a chance to vent their anger at the establishment, or to praise, whichever the case may be. He has aided the seniors with a force of intelligent people who answer their many questions. Russo has spent his allowable expenses for opening an office - on opening an office - in areas available to everyone. When Russo is in Washington his administrative aide, Bob Macari or Jim Sherman are on call. Where else do constituents get that kind of service?

THANKS FROM THE "HEART" FROM HEART ASSN.

As president of the Chicago Heart Association, I want to extend a public thank you to local students, sponsors and school personnel for their outstanding support of the third annual Jump Rope for Heart.

As a public education program in the schools, the Jump Rope for Heart encourages students to adopt a program of life-long cardiovascular fitness that is fun, as well as healthful.

In all, 340 public and parochial schools participated

The "incredible" part of the whole issue is that in a Republican area Marty Russo beat his opponent to win a fourth term with a 75,000 vote margin. When you think of this many voters showing constant approval it also means that very many of those same voters had to vote for our two Republican State Representatives and our Republican State Senator in the 8th District to also insure their winning. It is also well to remember that Russo received 30,000 more votes in the 3rd Congressional District than our Republican President Ronald Reagan.

For some unexplainable reason the GOP still believes that the southern suburbs should be an all Republican area. All we can say is that the voters have come a long way since the days of horse and buggy and vote for the person of their choice - this is common knowledge.

On Sunday, June 28, the Illinois Senate approved two Democratic bills to redraw the state's and congressional districts. This action came after the House adjourned for the day not giving the House enough time by midnight Tuesday to have had the bill read, according to law, three separate days in each chamber.

The legislative map will now go to a special redistricting commission. The congressional map, if not approved at this writing, will be under legislative control until that time when they can reach no satisfactory solution. They will need 3/5ths of the majority of the house and senate to reach a positive agreement. Should this fail the congressional maps will then be decided by the courts.

Write to Springfield, Washington, your Senator, State Representatives and anyone else you can think of to make your feelings felt. It is only "ourselves" that can make the difference - we put them all in office - only we can put them out. WE are the VOTERS!

What do you think?

Funds raised help support research, education and community programs aimed at reducing premature disability and death from heart diseases and stroke. Local volunteer support benefitted the Heart Association of South Cook County, a division of Chicago Heart Association.

The annual Jump Rope for Heart sparked an enthusiastic response from students and the community at large. The Heart Association is grateful for this broad base support and for the visibility provided by OAK LAWN VILLAGE VIEW thru its excellent editorial coverage. Along with providing encouragement for the children and teachers involved, media coverage also helped inform your readers how regular exercise and recreation can also enhance their lives.

"You can never do a kindness too soon because — you never know how soon it will be too late."

That quote from Emerson haunts one as this column is prepared, for it points up the guilt and grief felt over the loss of a dear friend.

Rose Shelton, who was friend, co-worker, confidante, and wit extra ordinaire, left this vale of tears on Saturday. A heart attack struck her down. Merciful for Rose but monstrous for her family and friends. Especially this friend, who fully intended to drop in to share a cup of coffee and a few laughs about the events of recent days in our lives.

This intent, like so many others, was postponed due to the press of other business and now it is too late. All the good intentions in the world, and all the guilt one feels for neglecting a dear person, will not change the course of events.

Thus you see the poignant proof of Emerson's quote as we mourn the death of a talented woman of words who shall be missed.

Rose was our good right hand, and assistant editor, for many years at the Worth Palos Reporter. Despite the fact that we disliked one another on first meeting, our working relationship blossomed into a tight friendship. Shelton's sharp wit and sense of humor saw us through many tense press days.

We recall an instance when a seedy looking thug burst into our office demanding to see the person who wrote the story which outlined his alleged assault and beating of his girlfriend. (The girl was hospitalized due to the beating and the fact that she had been thrown out of a moving car that nearly ran over her.) Shelton stared down the steely-eyed young man, who made menacing moves in her direction, and said, "I wrote the story and it was taken directly from the police blotter, so if you have any complaints I shall call the police and you can threaten them."

Taken aback, the thug said: "Well I took a diamond ring to the hospital and proposed to the girl and she is dropping all charges, so the story you wrote is wrong and I won't go to jail."

As he spoke, Rose just kept shaking her head indicating disagreement with his complaint. Then he shouted, "The girl's dropping the charges and marrying me, doesn't that prove something?"

With a disdainful look, Rose replied, "Young man, that only proves that your fiancée has supreme bad taste."

A few more curses spewed forth and he left the office ranting about the persecution of the press.

As we all sighed with relief at his departure, Shelton broke the tension with "I meant to ask what their silver pattern is, but I suppose I won't be invited to the wedding anyway."

Her talent was not relegated solely to the satirical for she was a fine reporter. But she dearly loved to deflate the pompous and bombastic. She served on two other newspapers and was, for a time, public information officer for Dist. 218. She left that position because, as she put it, "Bureaucrats are like purple cows, I'd rather see than be one."

In recent years she stayed at home as she recovered from a stroke. She could even poke fun at herself in that circumstance. Suffering some asphasia and difficulty in remembering names she told me, "I'm baptizing everyone 'Whatzname' until I get my act together."

Though she walked a little slower, she did not allow her brain to turn to silly putty as she stayed active and interested in what was going on in the world.

We had a little inside joke over the years, resulting from a dumb joke she told about a princess kissing a frog, etc. Long after we forgot the joke we were trading frog statues, cards, cartoons, and other froggy memorabilia.

In fact, my wallet stores a cartoon showing a princess kissing a frog that turns into a dog and bites her for her trouble. Knowing Rose would appreciate the irony of it, it was to be shared this week over a cup of coffee in the Shelton kitchen.

That cup of coffee tastes salty as it is sipped alone.

Russo Reports from Washington

by Congressman Marty Russo

BUDGET IMPACT ON FROSTBELT

Now that Congress has set its budget, the committees are going about the tough business of deciding where the specific cuts will be made in order to stay within the spending limits. One area I am taking a specific interest in is the impact of the cuts and goals of the President's Economic Program on the Midwest.

Our nation's economic problems are complicated. Although high unemployment and high inflation are supposedly incompatible, both continue to rise. Major cities are hovering on the brink of bankruptcy and entire industries face extinction. Rising costs of food and energy are an immediate threat to the elderly and poor.

The states of the Midwest and Northeast -- the region known as the Frostbelt -- are the principal victims of America's shifting fortunes. Most of our older cities are ravaged by unemployment, deteriorating neighborhoods and aging factories, and are losing jobs, population and wealth to the resurgent states of the South and West. But in spite of the overwhelming evidence of decline, federal policies are still tied to the assumptions of the 1930s, when the South was impoverished and the West was undeveloped. Today, after 50 years of change, these policies can no longer be justified.

I am a member of the Northeast-Midwest Congressional Coalition, a bi-partisan alliance formed five years ago to stop federal discrimination against the Northeast and Midwest. This alliance, the largest caucus in the House, will play a key role as Congress considers President Reagan's budget priorities. While most of us strongly support the President's basic objective -- to fight wasteful spending -- we want to make sure that the cuts are fair to every region.

The question of fairness is an urgent one for Illinois.

1) For every dollar Illinois taxpayers sent to Washington in 1979, the state got back only 73 cents in federal spending. The state's $7.6 billion deficit in this federal "balance of payments" was the largest in the Northeast-Midwest region.

2) Between 1970 and 1979, 542,000 Illinois residents moved to other states.

3) The state lost more than 151,000 manufacturing jobs during the past decade.

The situation is true throughout the 18-state region of the Midwest and Northeast with the human costs of unemployment and economic decline mounting while state and local governments are losing the tax base they need to provide basic services.

The Frostbelt cannot afford to fill the vacuum if Washington abandons vital programs. And federal tax cuts would be illusory if local governments are forced to increase their taxes to compensate for reduced federal spending.

There is a way to cut the budget while showing compassion for the poorest people and the regions where they live.

Young Careerist places second in district competition

The Business and Professional Women's Club of Evergreen Park is pleased to announce that their "Young Careerist" for 1981 placed second in district competition. Gail Stlaske (second left), a secretary for the Group Pension Office of Connecticut General, in downtown Chicago, represented the Evergreen Club this year, and was awarded runner-up at the Business and Professional Women's Club district level. The decision was based on preparation of the topic materials, essays on past accomplishments and future goals, and personal interviews.

Looking over Gail's winning speech are other members of the Evergreen Park Club, (l to r) Laura Kresse, assistant vice president - marketing for Heritage Standard Bank, the "Young Careerist" for 1980 and chairman of this year's selection at the club level, Joan Cullen, a teacher, and president of the Evergreen Club, and Pat McNicholas, also a teacher, and chairman of the district competition.

In addition to her full-time position at Connecticut General, Evergreen Park's "Young Careerist" is attending Moraine Valley College on a part-time basis in pursuit of an associates degree in business. An active member of the Business and Professional Women's Club, she has served on numerous church groups at St. John Fisher Parish, where she is a member. A resident of Evergreen Park, she is a graduate of Evergreen Park Community High School.

Murphy accepts new post

Joan P. Murphy, Clerk of Worth Township, was recently appointed Legislative Chairman for the Oak Lawn Business and Professional Women's Org. She said "The only way we can do this is by being actively involved in the political process."

Today is Great!

By Helene Marshall

This coming 4th of July reminds me of a great experience worth telling about during this wonderful holiday.

From all over the United States people flocked to the Presidential Inauguration to see history in action.

Since I was going to be in Washington for only a day, I knew I better have a plan so I would be able to see and enjoy as much as possible. I flew to Washington the morning of the inauguration, grabbed a subway upon arrival, they had a special rate for this special day and an itinerary of all the stations and what was happening there.

Going through Virginia was a delight, but I couldn't wait for my first stop - the Capitol Building. As I walked to the sight of the Capitol, I was in awe. The soldiers were parading in the streets. What a beautiful experience! Looking at the Capitol, sent excitement up and down my spine.

From the Capitol my next venture was the White House. On my way back to the subway, I noticed many Federal Buildings were open for viewing. My curious nature brought me in to one of them, and it was just a delight to get a glimpse of the place where many government actions for all the individual states are discussed.

Back to my plan, seeing the White House. Not quite as beautiful as the Capitol, but there is a certain elegance naturally to the White House.

Those were my main tours for the day, naturally I saw other sights, but to conclude the day I went to the Watergate Hotel and from there to the Inaugural Ball. The ball gowns were breathtaking. There were several balls, and would you believe that when I arrived at the ball, they announced that President and Mrs Reagan will be arriving at this ball shortly.

Flying home in the early morning, I thought to myself I'll never forget this day - I was able to see history come alive.

If you thought about going to the Inauguration, but were unable to make it, don't wait four years for another Inauguration; go anytime to see Washington. You, your children will love the live history book; even if it's only for a day.

Clash of steel on steel to again Recognition Dinner honors staff echo thru Oak Lawn

The clash of steel on steel will again echo in Oak Lawn as the Oak Lawn Historical Society joins with other community organizations in celebrating the centennial of the Wabash Railroad coming to Oak Lawn. At 10 am Saturday, July 11, dignitaries and village officials will drive a silver-spike in front of the Oak Lawn railroad station in commemoration both of the completion of the main line 100 years ago and the fact that most of the early laborers were later to become Oak Lawn officials and businessmen.

Following the spike driving, the Irish contribution to the laying of the rails will be recalled by local travel agent Noel Gaffney and his Irish singers at a program to be held in the Oak Lawn Senior Center with refreshments courtesy of the Oak Lawn Senior Council. Later, at noon, a community fair will be held in Lake Shore Park with the cooperation of the Oak Lawn Park District.

Highlighting the railroad era will be the steely clang of horseshoes as participants attempt to discover who is the champion horseshoe thrower in Oak Lawn. For a nominal entry fee, anyone may enter the tournament and compete for the title as did the railroad layers of old when a few spikes and thrown horseshoes were the only recreation available after a long day. Also there will be several games for the sure of hand and eye thru the courtesy of the Oak Lawn Kiwanis Club and the Indian Princesses.

Also in the park will be an arts and crafts fair of local artisans. A limited number of spaces are still available at no charge with the exhibitors furnishing their own tables and chairs. All handmade craft articles are welcome, anyone wishing to take part in the fair should contact the Historical Society at 425-3424 before July 8.

Picnic tables will be provided and thru the courtesy of the Oak Lawn Historical Society and Kiwanis Club light refreshments will be available. You are encouraged to bring your lunch and eat by the lakeshore. After lunch you may try your hand at nail-driving at the fair.

This event is the kick-off of several events planned for the Centennial of the Wabash Railroad in conjunction with the Centennial of the Village of Oak Lawn. Mayor Kolb proclaimed the period until December 31, 1982 as the "Wabash Centennial Period" last year. It was the coming of the railroad which was primarily responsible for the laying out and platting of the Village of Oak Lawn and it adopting its present name from "Black Oaks Grove."

Assistant Superintendent - Instruction, Dr. Paul Davies, and Assistant Superintendent - Finance, Steve Lebrecht, made the awards to the 15 and 20 year recipients.

Superintendent Wiltshire recognized two staff members who are retiring: Philip Bamberger (custodian) after 15 years and John Lewis (physical education) completing his 29th year at OLCHS. Each received a gift certificate and a plaque.

THIS IS A PRACTICE PEAK ALERT. FOR THE REAL THING, LISTEN TO YOUR RADIO.

If today were a real Peak Alert, we'd be on the radio asking you to conserve as much electricity as you could between 9 a.m. and 10 p.m., when the use of air-conditioning is greatest.

To keep your home at 78 degrees, no lower. (The colder you make it, the more electricity your air-conditioner has to use.)

To postpone washing, drying or ironing clothes during the day.

To cook outdoors if you possibly can.

To vacuum early or not at all.

To read a book instead of watching a lot of TV.

To run your dishwasher after you go to bed.

To take a shower instead of a bath. (A bath uses more hot water and makes your electric water heater work overtime.)

Anything you can add to the list would be greatly appreciated.

Now, the world isn't going to come to an end if you don't conserve. Your electric bill is just going to go up.

For instance. Say we have three or four scorches back to back and everybody turns the air-conditioning on full blast.

When you add that to the normal daily demand for electricity, it's easy to run short. Unless we start every backup power plant that's available, regardless of how small or how old.

Worse yet, some of them use awfully expensive fuels, like oil. Which means the cost of producing each extra kilowatt-hour of electricity goes up to more than 14 cents. That's 18 times more than our nuclear generators can do it for, and the extra fuel costs get passed along to you in the fuel adjustment charge on your electric bill.

Besides, if everybody can just cut down a little on Peak Alert days, we won't have to build as many new plants in the years ahead. And they're a big reason for rate increases in general.

So in peak demand periods, we'll go on the radio to warn everybody that we're having a Peak Alert and it's time to conserve every way they can.

It pays. If we all conserve, we all save.

In case you need practice, make a dry run today.

Dumke authors curb, sewer, and street program

Fred Dumke, who had been appointed to assist in an assessment program to complete the street, curb and sewers in areas of Oak Lawn where this work has not been done, put forth his proposal at a Board of Local Improvements meeting this past Tuesday.

He said the first part of the program should be the inclusion of plans, specs, estimates and have a target date for all engineering to be completed for the boards approval. "A tentative date should be set, possibly October 8," he said.

Dumke said that by that date the attorney will have the spread roll and allowing another 60 days to get confirmation will bring the date to about December 8 when the village can go to bid and let the contract in January 1982, and with this program on its way it will lead to the next timetable.

Dumke proposed selling $4,900,000 in General Obligation Bonds for the whole area but only the Northwest area would be completed first. The funds would then be invested in high return certificates and the interest along with motor fuel tax and the residents portion would pay off the bonds. The bonds would be sold in 1982, interest will be paid in 1983 and '84 and following that both interest and principle will be paid another 10 year period.

Dumke said that it will be a 65-35 program for the residents and their pay-out should be $22 a foot direct and a minimal extra amount for indirect.

Ray Bliss of Hancock Engineering showed on the map the Northwest area which encompasses Ridgeland to Oak Park, 93rd to 87th and three (3) streets west of Oak Park. After explaining the particulars the board moved to have Hancock proceed with the engineering details.

Mayor Ernie Kolb commented that the village is buying the bond issue in its entirety. He also said that exceptionally good prices can be expected when contractors find out they will be paid in cash.

The date for the next Board of Local Improvements was set for September 17. At that time it is expected the resolution will be adopted.

This philosophy not only works for adults but leads to happier children's dentistry by teaching children how to care for their teeth from an early age. ## Chesterfield's 'Art of Living' program to resume in September

"It is seldom too early to establish a financial plan. It is more often too late." "Too few people consider insurance as an element of a balanced financial program." "A will is not only for the wealthy; rather it is for the healthy planner to control the disposition of his other assets at any age."

The statements quoted above are excerpted from Chesterfield Federal Savings and Loan's most recent Art of Living workshops entitled, "The A. B. C's of Financial Planning" (for 20-40 year olds). The workshops were held at The Beverly Art Center.

Karen Cassidy, Ernst & Whinney Tax Supervisor, in conducting the first workshop "Introduction to Financial Planning" addressed the following: components of planning; establishing goals; budgeting; necessity-type investments (including personal residence, savings accounts, and investment funds); and tax-motivated investments.

Workshop B entitled "Insurance and Its Uses"

Terrence Riccio (l), speaker for "Long Range Planning" in Workshop C; and Chuck McNellis, speaker for "Insurance and Its Uses" in Workshop B at the Art of Living Workshop. "The A. B. C's of Financial Planning" sponsored by Chesterfield Federal Savings and Loan.

was conducted by Chuck McNellis, President of McNellis & Co., Inc., who stressed emergency accounts and life insurance accounts. Emergency accounts included: cash, hospitalization and major medical; disability income; homeowners and auto insurance; the personal umbrella (this area proved especially interesting to the group in attendance). McNellis in explaining the life insurance account discussed the proper amount, proper type, and combining investments and insurance.

Terrence P. Riccio, Ernst & Whinney Tax Manager, addressed "Long Range Planning" in Workshop C. His concentration was on objectives: flexibility; liquidity; minimizing income, estate, and gift taxes. Riccio stressed the need to periodically review a financial plan and alter it according to changing personal, economic, tax and legal considerations.

In conclusion, the panel emphasized the importance of getting a financial plan started immediately. The old adage "Don't put off until tomorrow what you can do today" applies NOW! When the habit is established of sitting down annually or at least periodically to review the plan, intelligent money management is most likely to follow.

O L squad cars to test natural gas

Oak Lawn Police Chief John Haberkorn convinced the board of trustees this past Tuesday to test two squad cars using natural gas as an alternative to gas. He said the conversion of the 23 squad cars will cost about $75,000 and a year's supply of fuel would cost about $27,000. He said the conversion would save about 66 per cent of fuel cost and as the converter units age, the savings will be much greater. Natural gas cost is about 50 cents a gallon against the $1.39 or more now.

Mr. Jack English, representative of Tri Fuels System, Inc., and lives in Oak Lawn, said the main target has been on the Police Department. He said the unit, consisting of two tanks per car, will cause added weight eliminating the use of snow tires. There is very little amount of emission and has been generally accepted thruout the country. English said that the sealed unit is safe and the batteries will last four times longer. He said it is the fuel of the future and he would like to see the village take the advantage.

The final decision came about when Trustee Jay Bergamini said he would like to see one car tested and thought it was incumbent upon the sponsors to do this.

Trustee Ron Stancik asked what would be a fair trial period for two squad cars. He added that he would like to see a complete report within a month.

Trustee Les Anderson said that about a year ago he came upon the system and found it impractical. English said the problem at that time has since been eliminated.

Today is Great!

By Helene Marshall

A good friend and associate passed away and I believe this man gave a valued gift to many generations of time and generations of people. Eddie Honesty lived most of his life on the south side of Chicago, but all over the southern suburbs you could hear the Sounds of the Big Bands of the thirties, forties and the fifties. Many radio stations carried this music with this marvelous host Eddie Honesty. Always a gentleman, Eddie looked like he walked out of a band box, an old phrase that describes Eddie to a tea.

I know the listening audience must have felt like floating around their home, thinking they were in a huge ballroom with their gowns waving to the music. Listening to the beautiful voices of Nat King Cole and Frank Sinatra, and the unusual voice of Louis Armstrong had to be a treat to everyone tuned in.

I'll never forget the time when Eddie came to the broadcast so ill; I was so worried, but no one would have known.

Eddie was a kind good man, and I am extremely pleased that he had the opportunity to entertain people with his music for so many years; not only did he entertain people with his music, he gave everyone that knew him a good feeling just being around him.

As soon as I heard of Eddie's death, I called his lovely wife Eleanor to express my condolences and just to talk to her for a while. Eleanor Morris Honesty quoted an artist, Johann Wolfgang Von Goethe and I will relate that quote to you, "He who is plenteously provided for from within, needs but little from without."

What makes "today great" for me is having the opportunity to put in words, and share with others, thoughts of Eddie Honesty - a great man!

The importance of music, dancing and entertainment

The 30's - 40's and 50's was, and still is, a popular and fun way to socialize and Bob Updegraff, of the new Fred Astaire Dance Studio, 7016 Indianapolis Blvd., Hammond, teaches ballroom dancing and all the new craze dances. Stop in, ask him about all the social parties. Music, dancing and entertainment are great.

APPRECIATION TO MARTY RUSSO

I want to extend our appreciation to you for all the help you are giving in resolving federal legislation on the repayment of the debts of the various states to the government for unemployment insurance borrowing.

Without your help, and that of Ways and Means Committee Chairman Dan Rostenkowski, Illinois employers will face a huge burden over forthcoming years.

Thankfully business and labor in Illinois were able to reach a compromise on a major legislative package which, hopefully, will bring our U.I. Trust Fund back into balance; but this alone would not have done the job. Hopefully, this has set the stage for resolving the terms of the legislation now before Congress.

Taxidermy Showcase in the plans for Jerry's Furs

Jerry Gautsch, original owner of "Jerry's Furs of Elegance" located at 5366 W. 95th Street, started in the fur business when he was a young man living in Europe over 12 years ago.

Jerry started in Prague, then moved on to Germany, Australia, Canada and finally settled in Chicago. Gautsch maintained a successful business in each of the countries in which he lived.

Jerry was sole owner when he opened his first fur shop in the U.S.A. The business, opened in 1960, was located in Berwyn, Illinois.

After five years, searching for a stable community, he moved to Oak Lawn and has been in the same location since 1965.

In the following years customers and business neighbors got to know Jerry Gautsch as a well respected businessman in the community.

As of June 1981, Jerry's son, Robert Gautsch, took over the beautiful fur shop, as sole owner following his father's retirement.

Robert, who had been in and around his father's shop in Oak Lawn for eleven years, served as an apprentice in the fur businesses while attending elementary and high school.

Robert then went on to school to further his business knowledge. He went to Loyola University where he received a B.S. degree and continued on for his masters.

Robert Gautsch, taking over a new challenge, will be starting a showcase in September for his "taxidermy" business. The showcase will be located at the same address, 5366 W. 95th Street, Oak Lawn.

Jerry's Furs of Elegance has multiple services, pick your own style and have a garment made to order, of man-made or animal furs. Or, take that out of style fur coat or jacket and bring it in for restyling. Cleaning of furs, leathers, suede and cloth is done in a professional manner always thoughtful of the customer. Tailoring and repairs are done by a master craftsman. Fur storage, and also cloths, is another of the many services along with free pick-up and delivery in Chicago and the suburbs. All garments are stored in air-conditioned vaults.

The store hours are Monday thru Friday 9 to 5 and Saturday 9 to 3.

Mayor Anthony Vacco committee 'get in swing' for September 16th

Following a recent announcement by Mayor Anthony Vacco that Administrative Assistant Richard DeBoer has been appointed General Chairman for the annual golf outing and dinner sponsored by the organization since 1961 and designated as "Mayor Anthony Vacco Day" guidelines were formed for working committees to supervise the ever-growing event.

In addition to acting as General Chairman, Richard DeBoer also will assume the duties as Ticket Chairman, and Village Clerk Hamilton B. Maher as Public Relations and as Prize Chairman. Golf is scheduled at Gleneagles Country Club, Lemont on Wednesday, September 16 with tee-off times from 7 am thru 2 pm to qualify for prizes. Most golf awards will be on the popular "Peoria Handicap" which affords the duffer the same opportunity as the expert. Dinner will be served at the Martinique, 2500 W. Drury Lane, Evergreen Park where a galaxy of door prizes will be available.

Chairman DeBoer, 9546 Clifton Park Avenue stated that "even at this early date, exceedingly high interest has been manifest in ticket sales, which reflects the interest and enthusiasm of our local residents and friends from neighboring communities who support the continued efforts of the United Home Owners and Good Government Party to maintain high-level programs for all village residents."

Worth Twsp Road Race August 16th

Dr. Joseph J. McCarthy, Supervisor of Worth Township has announced that the Worth Township Youth Commission Road Race is scheduled to start at 9 am on Sunday, August 16th. The 6.2 mile run will start from the Worth Township Office, located at 11601 S Pulaski. The course will go thru the surrounding neighborhood.

The $5 entry fee includes a tee shirt on the day of the race. All runners and joggers, male and female are welcome to join the race. Runners will be divided into age groups, and trophies will be awarded. Pictured left to right is Matt Mangold, Staff member of the Worth Township Youth Commission; Joseph J. McCarthy, Supervisor of Worth Township; John Herman, Chicago Ridge, who is the first person to register for the 1981 Annual Road Race; and Tom "Bud" Gavin, Trustee of Worth Township.

Public Hearing on Oak Lawn levy

A special meeting was called on Tuesday, August 4, at the Oak Lawn Village Hall to discuss and take action, on the new State of Illinois House Bill No. 1048 entitled "Truth in Taxation Act".

According to Village Attorney Patrick Lucansky, if the current year levy is in excess of last years extension, it is necessary that a Public Hearing be held.

Each year the tax levy is set at a higher figure during the September filing and is then abated (reduced) at the end of the year.

The reasoning behind the higher levy at the earlier date is due to the fact that the actual amount of the levy has not been finalized and will not be completed until the President and

Board of trustees have studied all expenses against the income for the coming year.

For the year 1980 the early tax levy was in the amount of 6.1 million dollars. The abatement brought the tax levy down to $4,990,405 at the end of the year. The levy proposed for 1981 is 6.5 million dollars or an increase of 30.25%. According to Mayor Ernie Kolb it will be abated at the end of the year. The law allows that the levy may be reduced but cannot be increased and it is therefore necessary to make allowances for unseen costs at this time.

Trustee Ron Stancik was concerned with the amount of pressure that may be caused by the announcement of the higher levy.

"Historically we have abated," he said, "but let's go with the safe figures. We do want a certain amount of latitude for some programs that have been proposed."

Trustee Jay Bergamini said, "It is almost unthinkable that we would go to 6 million even with any new programs."

Stancik said that he hoped the news media would make it clear that "we picked a number out of the air arbitrarily so as to speak."

Trustee Les Anderson made the motion to approve the tax levy of 6.5 million for 1981 with the understanding that this amount will be abated before the end of the year. The motion passed unanimously. Trustees John Petrozza and Robert Bruce were absent.

The date of the Public Hearing is set for Tuesday, August 25, 7:30 pm in the Oak Lawn Village Hall. At that time, all interested parties desiring to be heard, will be given the opportunity to speak and ask questions with regards to the subject. It is incumbent upon the President and Board of Trustees to explain and make clear the reasons for the proposed increase in the tax levy at this time.

Youth Commission Tournament of Beds

rider, with competition in heat races. The winner of each heat will qualify for semi-finals, and semi-final winners competing in a final run-off. Activities begin at 12 noon with inspection of the beds; 12:30 pm for "Parade of Post" and racing competition begins at 1 pm.

If you are interested in entering a team, or would like additional information please contact Karen at the Oak Lawn Youth Commission, 636-2929.

Two area men join Golden Prairie Flight

Two Oak Lawn area men recently became members of a special group of Air Force recruits called the "Golden Prairie Flight."

Michael Knar and Tony Connolly are part of the 23 man unit sworn into active duty July 23, and currently training at Lackland Air Force Base, San Antonio, Texas, according to Staff Sergeant Steve Thompson, area Air Force recruiter.

"After their initial 12 weeks of military and security training," said Thompson, "flight members will be assigned as security specialists at Air Force installations thruout the United States and around the world."

Sergeant Thompson explained that the members of the "Golden Prairie Flight" will experience the numerous opportunities and challenges that the Air Force affords young people today.

Huskey throws hat in ring for Lieutenant Governor

State Representative Herb Huskey is entering the field for the Republican Party's nomination for Lieutenant Governor.

"That office can, and should be, a very active, productive part of the Executive Board of government," Huskey said.

"You don't need a constitutional mandate to be an ombudsman for the people of Illinois as long as you're willing to work," he stated.

"For example, I was instrumental in starting the state's first drug court without changing the Constitution.

Huskey says he would continue the same "people and service oriented philosophy" that he's used in his legislative office. He feels that the state's new child support collection program is one that should be administered by the Lieutenant Governor's office.

"For six years, parents throughout the state relayed their problems to me about collecting court-ordered child support from an ex-spouse that's content to neglect the children," Huskey said.

"I responded by passing legislation that will, starting in January, allow circuit court clerks to automatically monitor all court-ordered child support, and then report delinquent payers to the State's Attorney for legal proceedings," he explained. "The custodial parent will not be charged for this service.

"The same type of positive response to other problems, especially those affecting senior citizens, can be obtained," he said. "I feel that I can be a responsive, responsible Lieutenant Governor."

Elected to the House in 1972, Huskey is currently chairman of the House Motor Vehicles Committee. He served as a trustee in the Village of Oak Lawn, and was founder of the Oak Lawn Senior Citizens Commission, the first of its kind in the state. He was also instrumental in establishing similar senior citizen organizations in other suburban communities.

Huskey, 65, is committeeman of the Worth Township Regular Republican Organization, and is a member of the Cook County Republican Committee's Executive Board.

Double honors for O'Malley

William O'Malley, attorney residing on the south side of Chicago, has received two major honors after having celebrated fifty years in pursuit of his profession.

O'Malley, who graduated from Notre Dame, was honored with a special citation recognizing his Golden Jubilee Year during the recent commencement exercise at the university.

In recognition of his more than fifty years of honorable service, The Illinois State Bar Association conferred the privileged title of "Senior Counselor" on him at the Annual Convention in Springfield.

William O'Malley is well known in Oak Lawn through association with his peers, financial institutions and realtors.

Rosenweig installed as I.A.A.I. president

Joseph Y. Rosenzweig, (l), was recently installed as President of the Independent Accountants Association of Illinois. Rosenzweig succeeded Norman B. Stivers, of Decatur as President. Tom Hynes, Cook County Assessor, (c), was a guest speaker at the Chicago convention. Hilda M. Schultz, (r) of Downers Grove, is the first woman to be elected to the office of First Vice President. Second Vice President is Earl Levit, of Chicago.

Other officers elected were Bob Lohman of Quincy, Secretary; and Alvin Woolridge, of Edwardsville, Treasurer.

Cooling grants offered to needy

State Representative Herb Huskey (R., Oak Lawn) says financial help is available to low income households which have a medical need for cooling. The cooling energy utility grants, Huskey says, are part of the Low Income Energy Assistance Program (LIEAP) being administered by the Illinois Department of Commerce and Community Affairs. They range between $70 and $180, with amounts varying according to income and geographic location.

"To be eligible, persons must have a medical condition which would be improved by cooling," Huskey explained. "These include respiratory and cardiovascular problems, allergies requiring filtered air, strokes, skin diseases, diabetes and heat exhaustion.

"The medical condition must be certified by a licensed physician," he stated. "Moreover, the applicant must meet LIEAP's income and other requirements, too."

Additional information is available from the LIEAP Energy Hotline, 1-800-252-8643 (toll-free). The hotline and cooling energy program will remain in effect until September 30.

New jury system proposed

Chief Circuit Court Judge Harry G. Comerford announced recently the implementation of a One Day - One Trial program in the new mini court complex in Markham.

At the same time, he detailed the initiation of a new Circuit Court rule allowing registered voters to be called for jury duty from three geographic zones.

"This is the court's third One Day - One Trial program," Comerford said, "and we anticipate it will be a complete success, as are the programs in Maywood and in the Criminal Court."

Prospective jurors drawn from the "south zone" which includes residents south of Roosevelt Road will begin receiving summonses this week for One Day - One Trial jury service at Markham, starting in August.

The south zone, south of Roosevelt Road, will serve in courts located in suburban Districts 5 and 6. Enabling legislation for the new Circuit Court rule was introduced by Rep. Michael Getty (Dolton) and passed last year by the General Assembly.

Under the new jury system, jurors are called to serve one day or for the duration of one trial. Jurors who are not called to a trial on the day they are asked to appear, are dismissed and paid at the end of the day. Once assigned to a trial, however, a juror must serve until the trial ends.

Yourell urges letter campaign veto-SB477

Fair representation asked for suburbs

County Commissioner Carl R. Hansen (R. Mt. Prospect) recently asked the Legislative Reapportionment Commission for fair treatment for the Cook County suburban area in the drawing of new Illinois legislative districts. His request was made at hearings held by the Commission in the State of Illinois Building in Chicago.

"The Cook County

suburban area is an entitled to fair treatment in the creation of its new legislative districts as is every other area of Illinois," Hansen said to the members of the Commission, "and I urge that it be given such consideration. The suburban area, while it has problems in common with all of Illinois, is faced also with problems specific to its population and geography.

Therefore, it needs and is as entitled to legislative districts which clearly are suburban in nature if it is to be properly represented."

"Districts drawn for state senators and representatives should, of course, be kept as compact as possible," Hansen continued. "There should also be minimum overlap between Chicago and the Cook County suburbs, and similarly minimum overlap between these suburbs and other counties. If this precept is followed, and if ward, township and county lines are respected wherever possible, much better representation in the Illinois General Assembly will result."

"Our Cook County suburban area has good reason to be concerned about the drawing of district lines," Hansen added. "In 1971 our area was deliberately underrepresented by the creation of nine legislative districts along the Chicago boundary with two-thirds of the population of each of those districts in Chicago. That gerrymandering cost our suburbs four to five legislators in each house of the General Assembly for a decade. This must not be allowed to happen again."

"The Cook County suburbs have particular reason to be concerned however," Hansen concluded. "The Commission set up to draw district lines does not include one representative from our area. Chicago has three members; or one for each one of its three million residents. Downstate has five members, or one for each 1.2 million of its six million residents. The Cook County suburbs have no representatives at all for its 2.3 million residents. The composition of the Commission is hardly reassuring to Cook County suburbanites. It is hoped that the Commission will overcome this deficiency and nevertheless give fair representation to our area."

(VRA) would be extended for another two years. Under the VRA program, a Vietnam veteran who had completed no more than 14 years of education, could be hired non-competitively in a position thru GS7 or equivalent, by a department or agency of the executive branch.

The third area which was addressed by the new legislation concerns the availability of loans for businesses. Under the Veteran's Training and Business Loan Act, passed by the House, a veteran's business loan program would be established which would allow for loans of up to $200,000 from the VA to Vietnam veterans for investment in a business. Another bill expands and improves Guaranteed Home Loans to veterans for the purchase of one-family dwelling units which include condominiums or mobile homes and to authorize graduated payment plans. I have supported this legislation because I believe that with the current rate of interest that must be paid on home loans, the proposed change in law should provide some relief for young veterans who would otherwise be unable to purchase homes.

I have always felt very strongly about the need to assist young vets in making any readjustments to civilian life and to provide them with the health benefits they need. The government has a responsibility to repay the Vietnam veterans for the dedicated service they gave to their country during a very difficult period in its history. My votes on these issues and similar ones in the past attest to my commitment to assisting veterans and I will continue to support efforts in their behalf in future discussions in the House.

Huskey seeking information

State Representative Herb Huskey is seeking Eighth District residents who have sent him cards and letters without sufficient mailing information for a response.

"Some of this mail has an illegible name without an address, and other pieces have no name or street address," Huskey explained.

"Then there are some letters that have an address without a name," he said. "The Post Office has returned several of my replies when I've mailed them to 'constituent' because the address is for a trailer lot or apartment complex with several residents.

"I recently finished answering all of the letters that

State Rep Harry "Bus" Yourell, D-8th, reports on SB 477 and its impact on Units of Local Governments and School Districts.

SB 477 authorizes an investment credit to be taken against the Personal Property Tax Replacement Income Tax, meaning another reduction in the revenues of our local governments and school districts.

The bill is structured so that there is a basic credit and an additional credit. The basic credit is for manufacturing, mining and retail operations in the amount of .5% of the cost of investments in building and personal property. Such buildings and personal property (i.e., tools, machinery, equipment, etc.) would have to be used "principally" (meaning 50.1% of the time) in manufacturing, mining and retail enterprises and the credit could be taken beginning July 1, 1983 and ending December 31, 1988.

The additional credit would be a 3½ year program (beginning 1/1/85 and ending 12/31/88) which is loosely linked to employment growth. If a manufacturing, mining or retail enterprise showed employment growth of 1% or more, an additional .5% credit could be taken.

SB 477 creates, in essence, an unfunded state mandate. The legislation, which takes money away from local units of government, school library and park districts, should qualify as a reimbursable tax exemption mandate.

SB 477 enacts yet another change on the constitutionally mandated tax that was just passed 2 years ago. That tax, the Corporate Personal Property Replacement Tax, recently underwent a major reduction (2.85% to 2.50%) on 1/1/81. Now the bill is being changed again. The Replacement Tax should be left alone.

The cost to local governments and school districts could approach $50,000,000 statewide. 60% of that total is money that goes to local school districts. This is just one more example of the state trying to solve its problems at the expense of local units of government.

If you believe, as I do, that this bill can only hurt our local governments, please write a short letter to Governor James Thompson, urging him to veto SB 477.

NEW BENEFITS OUTLINED FOR VETERANS

In recent weeks the House of Representatives has considered several pieces of legislation concerning veteran's benefits. Four bills of particular concern to Vietnam era veterans were passed by the House effecting some major changes in the availability of health benefits, educational assistance and loans. I supported all four of these proposals and would like to outline, for your review, the changes they would provide.

In the area of health legislation, a number of provisions have been made which expand the benefits available to Vietnam veterans. Of particular importance is the Veteran's Health Care Act of 1981 (H.R. 3499) which is the first bill to approve long delayed medical treatment for veterans suffering from exposure to Agent Orange. I had previously co-sponsored legislation which would allow for the presumption of a service-connection disability in cases in which exposure to Agent Orange is a possible cause for a symptom.

A second bill (H.R. 1100) concerning the expansion of eligibility criteria to certain benefits and health care on a priority basis both in-patient and out-patient, for former prisoners of war was also passed by the House. Unfortunately, it happens that some former POWs have had difficulty when they apply for health benefits or establishing that their present disabilities are service-related. Often inadequate service records hamper the documentation of a service-connected ailment. Also, if a service-related condition manifests itself or becomes more aggravated later in life, it becomes more difficult to prove that the condition is indeed service-connected and health care benefits are often denied.

The newly passed bill would assist former POWs in two ways. First, it would reduce the period of imprisonment necessary to receive benefits from six months to 60 days. Secondly, it would provide benefits to those vets showing symptoms of psychosis, post traumatic stress neurosis or psychophysiological disorders regardless of when the symptoms first become apparent unless there is evidence of an intervening cause. In general, the bill lessens the burden of documentation previously required by the Veteran's Administration to prove a service-related illness.

An extension has been granted in two areas allowing for educational assistance and vocational training for Vietnam veterans. The Veterans Training and Business Loan Act of 1981 extended from 10 to 12 years the time in which military personnel have to use the GI Bill to complete their secondary education or obtain vocational training. Eligibility for this extension would be determined for the individual by a Veteran's Readjustment Counseling Center, State Employment Security Office, U.S. Veteran's Assistance Center or VA Medical Center.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

FUND RAISER FOR WAR VETERANS A SUCCESS

On June 11 and 12, the Hospitalized War Veterans had their fund-raising drive in the Village of Oak Lawn. The money raised is to be used for the blind and disabled veterans from a local veterans hospital for such outings as a pig roast to be held August 30, Wheaton, and for the 12th annual Lake Michigan Cruise to be given by Capt. Stan Dawson, Park Magnavox TV, Evergreen Park and his fellow yachtsmen in September. Some of the funds is also delegated for the men at Hines Hospital for their use on the lonely Sundays when they are unable to leave the hospital due to inclement weather. The Hospitalized War Veterans arranges such outings which also include picnics, dinners, golfing and sometime snowmobiling. This is usually once or twice a month and the money raised helps defray expenses due to the planning of these social activities.

On behalf of the blind and disabled veterans, I want to thank my committee headed by Gene Swanson, Mal's Mens Shop, Oak Lawn; Hank Latas, co-worker, who stayed with his volunteers while they worked the corners so hard under the hot sun; the newspapers that published all articles on the fund raiser; the businessmen who co-sponsored and especially to the many friends who, by their generous donations, make our organization workable.

Peggy's Dance Studio 'back to school' season

Even though the summer has yet to reach its midpoint, parents of school-aged children are already gearing up for the "back to school" season. Concerns are turning to clothing, books, school supplies and the like-all things that will aid in creating the proper learning environment for the proper scholastic development of their children.

We all realize the importance of the educational process that our children participate in at their schools. However, how many of us realize that education is not totally mental development and expansion of one's knowledge of his or her world, but a balanced program of scholastic training and physical training and development. The mind has to have a healthy, disciplined body in which to function. Self discipline, coordination, confidence and poise are physical attributes that are so important in today's life style.

One of the best ways to achieve this well-rounded program is to further enhance your child's physical education thru the art of dancing. Dancing provides all the necessary attributes mentioned above. Dancing improves your child's self discipline - it teaches your child to practice, to study, to persevere, which not only makes a better dancer, but also makes your child a better student.

Dancing also improves your child's coordination and agility. Again, this facet will go beyond the dancing and be applicable to many other aspects of your child's life. Improved coordination is a great benefit in swimming, cheerleading, basketball, baseball and yes, football. Many of today's professional athletes have at one time, or are currently, enrolled in dance classes.

Dancing will increase the self confidence and poise in your child. We all know how important it is to have confidence in one's self in order to succeed in one's endeavors. If your child does not have confidence in himself or herself, no one will be able to provide him or her with it. It has to come from within and be developed. With the proper development of poise and self confidence that the child learns from dancing, he or she is better able to face the public and handle himself or herself with dignity.

In order to derive all these benefits that dancing offers, it is imperative that the school of dance that you select be a dependable, well established and progressive one. The dance school that has this reputation and the one that is recommended most by satisfied parents in the southwest suburbs is Peggy's Dance Studio at 5143 West 95th Street in Oak Lawn. Peggy's Dance Studio, under the direction of Peggy Konrath Gordon, has been educating students in the fine art of dancing for 14 years. Jazz, tap, acrobatics, ballet, and aerobic dance are taught by well qualified, very pleasant teachers that really care - care about your child and his or her development. This is important for your child. The teaching staff, which is headed up by owner, director and teacher Peggy Konrath Gordon, who herself has over 25 years of dancing experience, is careful to provide the attention your child needs to learn and not make it an "assembly line" experience and all the while maintaining an enjoyable atmosphere and environment for the children which is so important in any educational process.

Your child's growth and development are very important and everlasting. Be sure your child gets the best out of life. Supplement your child's scholastic program with a good, strong, physical program of learning. For the best available, contact Peggy's Dance Studio, at 423-1229 or 389-8685. Your child will be forever grateful.

Fashions Today

By Helene Marshall

Have you ever been attracted to Oriental fashions? I have always enjoyed incorporating a touch of the Orient in my dress at times for added flair, and also in my decor. I remember when I decided to make a black oriental hanging lamp with green stones plus three oriental letters to accent the lamp; I didn't realize at the time what a delicate, tedious project I had undertaken, but my determination made the project a success, and to this day I enjoy viewing these oriental designs. The mandarin collars and gold braiding seem to be part of the fashion scene in some way or another from season to season.

Two people who could tell you about oriental fashions and culture are Abe and Grace Lee. They are both fascinating people with their own interests and likes. Abe Lee is a former Program Officer with the United States Office of Education, a Lake Forest College Graduate, and a A.A.U. (Amateur Athletic Union) and Golden Gloves Title Holder. Abe grew up in Chicago, but later met Grace in England where she was studying art. Grace Lee is an accomplished artist, but also knows a different type of art - the art of face reading, which she learned from her father in Hong Kong.

According to Grace, the face has three zones. Zone one, from the hairline to the eyebrow, shows intelligence and family background. Zone two, from the eyebrow to the tip of the nose, demonstrates the personality, and zone three, from the nose to the chin, shows emotional and physical characteristics.

This unusual art of face reading that Grace has learned from the Orient can be very entertaining, but she can also entertain you with her excellent art of cookery. Her husband Abe can tell you about the giant egg rolls she enjoys preparing at their fashionable restaurant, The Egg Roll Hut at 1207 E. Ridge Road in Griffith, Indiana.

Now don't you feel like putting a little fashionable Oriental influence in your life?

News Information Supervisor
Commonwealth Edison Co.

Who says doctors don't make house calls anymore? There may not be many MDs who will visit your home, but HDs - house doctors - are expected to make thousands of visits over the next few years to conduct low-cost, on-site energy audits.

The house doctors will be working for a not-for-profit organization called the Illinois Utility Conservation Services Assn. (IUCSA) which has been formed by Commonwealth Edison and other Illinois electric and gas utilities.

Audits will be made available to customers in single-family dwellings and small apartment buildings of up to four units at a cost of $15. The actual cost of each audit is expected to be more than $100, with the balance being covered by the utilities.

Specially trained house doctors will examine the home and recommend measures to improve its energy efficiency. A house doctor will also be able to give the resident an installation cost estimate. For example, if ceiling insulation is needed, he can take a few measurements, enter the data into a portable micro-processor and come up with the approximate cost of materials and labor.

At the time of the examination, the HD also will provide the customer with a list of state-approved contractors, suppliers and lenders who have agreed to participate in the program. Homeowners will be able to finance improvements thru these lenders. The IUCSA also will provide a post-installation inspection program to ensure workmanship and materials meet standards.

Approximately 3 million Illinois residents - 2 million of them Edison customers - will become eligible for the energy audits. All parts of the state are expected to be visited by teams of house doctors during a two-year cycle.

The IUCSA will mail announcements this fall to eligible customers, outlining the program and explaining a wide array of useful energy saving steps the home-owner can take while waiting for the arrival of the HD. (No, you won't be told to take two aspirin and call him in the morning.) At the same time, the IUCSA will begin mailing audit offers containing a reply card.

The information will include many energy saving tips such as adjusting thermostat settings on furnaces, air conditioners and water heaters; installing flow restrictors on shower heads and faucets, and sealing leaks in pipes and ducts.

Measures include caulking, weatherstripping, furnace modifications, replacing oil burners and inefficient air conditioners, installing insulation in ceilings, walls and floors, and other steps which generally would require the services of a contractor.

The new program, in effect, enlarges Edison's long-standing conservation efforts. Taking just one example, since 1973 the company has provided, free of charge, more than 450,000 energy conservation booklets to help residential customers keep a tight rein on their energy use.

Edison will continue to make the booklet, "The Waste Watcher's Guide - 101 ways to conserve electricity at home," available to customers. Free copies may be obtained by writing to: Commonwealth Edison, Dept. AV, P.O. Box 767, Chicago, IL 60690.

THESE GUYS CAN MAKE YOU LOOK LIKE A GENIUS.

The builders in this ad are the crème de la crème. They're the ones who can make you look like the smartest guy on the block because they can put you in the smartest house on the block. The energy-smart house.

The energy-smart house has double-glazed windows. The layer of air trapped between them will help you keep comfortable when cold winds blow or sidewalks sizzle.

The ceilings and walls are packed with insulation to help you stay warm when you should be warm and cool when you should be cool.

There's caulking and weather-stripping around every door and window so you won't waste money heating and cooling the great outdoors. Instead of an air conditioner and furnace, there's an electric heat pump.

In summer, it pulls heat from the warm air inside and forces it outside to keep you cool. In winter, it reverses itself, drawing residual heat from the cold air outside and pumping it inside to keep you warm. Happy too, because all winter long this amazing little machine actually provides at least fifty percent more energy than it uses. And nobody has to tell you what that means.

All in all, a house that's energy-smart costs less to operate than one that's not so smart. And since the price of energy isn't going down for any of us, it'll be worth that much more should you ever decide to move on.

If you're in the market for a new home, talk to one of the energy-smart builders. It could be the most smart thing you ever did.

Dr Smith reports loss on State Aid and Federal cutbacks

The School Board of District 126 at a special meeting July 29 heard a report from Supt. William Smith on the reduced revenue caused by the recent amendatory vetoes of Governor Thompson. "Bottom line is that District 126 will receive $50,000 less revenue in 81-82 due to the vetoes," said Smith.

The budget cutback will be in Special Education Personnel reimbursement where only 85% funding will result $25,000 less according to Dr Smith, only 90% funding of Special Education Transportation and 85% extraordinary Special Education costs will total another $5,000 revenue loss for District 126.

The exact State aid for 81-82 is still unknown, but Supt. Smith predicted, at best, it will be 245,000 the same as last year. He noted that despite the inflationary increases in expenses last year, District 126 received less State Aid (245,000) in 1980-81 than it did in 1979-80 (252,000).

The State Aids cutbacks are coupled with Federal aid reductions in both Special Education and Title 1. "We received 80,000 in 1980-81 and will only receive 50,000 in 81-82," Smith estimated. He noted that in at least one dozen revenue sources, District 126 will receive a total of $100,000 less in 1981-82 than last year.

Registration for Prairie Junior High students will be held at Prairie Junior High, 11910 S. Kostner Monday, August 24 and Tuesday, August 25 from 9 am to 2 pm. District 126 schools will reopen for students on Thursday, September 3 with an early dismissal. A full day of school will be held Friday, September 4.

Order polygraph tests for Oak Lawn officials

Mayor Ernie Kolb, Clerk Jayne Powers, Chief of Police John Haberkorn and Trustees Lester Anderson, Jay Bergamini, Bob Bruce, Charles Meloun, Ronald Stancik and Village Manager Dick O'Neill, will all take polygraph tests in the near future.

Bergamini, who made the motion that was seconded by Ron Stancik and received a unanimous vote, said that he was very disturbed over the obvious leaks coming from a closed session that was held last week. He also said this was not a first and accused the party responsible of trying to gain political favors from the newspaper by leaking information.

The subject being discussed by Attorney Sally Hanson, who was also present, was the status of the Employee Political Activity Ordinance that is now in court and concerns personnel. It is understood by all that this is private business and the entire story, including statements made, appeared in a local newspaper a few days later. By law, only land acquisition and employees is not affected by the "Open Meetings Act" because of the very nature of the topics.

In other business the Public Hearing on the recent tax levy ordinance drew less than one hundred persons. It was very obvious that passing an ordinance with an increased levy with the promise to abate at the end of the year is not only hard to understand by the taxpayers but doubt of the promise to abate is also obvious.

However, after the hearing, an ordinance was passed which abated the property portion of the levy reducing the proposed 30% increase to 24%. This amount should be greatly reduced after the budget is set at the end of the year.

Trustee Bob Bruce said that he plans to have workshops to discuss the budget while preparation is in progress. He said that at the meeting of September 8 he will know the dates, hours and location.

George Burns guest star at Christ Hospital 'The Horizon Event'

Shown is Art Myron (l), Director of Development for Christ Hospital, with Lyle Brooks, Task Force Co-Chairman for Christ Hospital's 20th Anniversary Celebration.

This year marks the 20th anniversary of Christ Hospital and the 75th anniversary of the Evangelical Hospital Association. Christ Hospital and the other four hospitals in the Evangelical Association have joined together to sponsor a major anniversary party for all residents of the hospitals' service areas. The spectacular party is called "The Horizon Event," and will take place on Saturday, September 12 at the Rosemont Horizon. The feature guest star that evening will be none other than George Burns. The "Horizon Event" was established to give the supporters of the hospitals an opportunity to see Mr Burns and join in the part at only $15 per person.

According to Lyle Brooks, Task Force Co-Chairman for the "Horizon Event," everyone is invited to this spectacular party. "It's going to be an unbelievable night for the entire family," stated Brooks. "How else could we see George Burns in person for only $15. Refreshments will be served, a special memento of the event given to everyone and a dynamic multimedia presentation made. It's Christ Hospital's way of saying thanks to everyone for their support."

Ticket request order forms can be obtained by calling Art Myron at 425-8000, ext 5056, or picked up at the following Village Halls: Oak Lawn, Hickory Hills, Crestwood, Worth, Summit, Stickney, Justice, Evergreen Park, Hometown, Chicago Ridge, Bridgeview and Alsip.

Sertoma Center offers unique therapy for speech defects

The Sertoma Center for Communicative Disorders in Palos Heights offers a unique therapy program for adult stutterers. For those completing this program, the result has been fluent speech in a variety of situations. The Adult Stuttering Program involves a two year therapy plan. During the first year, clients receive individual therapy twice a week and meet once a week as a group. All sessions are one hour in length. Individual sessions focus on teaching the client the mechanics behind his/her own speech pattern, for all stutterers do not stutter in the same way. Following this, the client learns to change those speech patterns to produce more easy relaxed speech. The second year of the program focuses on systematically decreasing the number of therapy sessions while teaching the client to transfer his/her newly acquired fluent speech to a variety of speaking settings. This enables the client to become more independent in his/her production of fluent speech and gives him/her experience using it in difficult situations.

therapy can be practiced in a non-threatening environment. Second, information is given to the members concerning various theories of stuttering. Third, the individuals are able to share their past experiences and their experiences from therapy. Last, and most important of all, the members form a close bond that provides them with the much needed support for the duration of the therapy program.

The Adult Stuttering program will be starting a new group in September, 1981. For further information regarding the Adult Stuttering, please call the Sertoma Center at 361-2121. All services are available regardless of race, creed, sex, age, handicap, national origin or ability to pay.

Each week, all the adults involved in the program meet for discussion. This serves several purposes. First, speaking skills being learned in individual

Traditional Convocation at Trinity College

It is a tradition that has lasted for years and takes place each fall. Parents, students, professors and administrators gather together to celebrate the beginning of a new academic year. It is Convocation at Trinity Christian College.

What is Convocation? The dictionary defines convocation as "an assembly." But for Trinity this word takes on a slightly different meaning. Convocation becomes a time of fellowship, a time of thanksgiving and praise, and a time to recognize scholarship recipients.

This year's convocation will be held on September 2 at the Reformed Church of Palos Heights, in Palos Heights. Dr. Gerda Bos, acting academic dean and professor of English, will give this year's convocation address. The ceremony will begin at 8 pm and everyone is welcome to attend.

Pet Center donates rabbit to Garden Pre School

Children at Garden Pre School, Central Avenue and 100th Street, are thrilled and delighted as Peter Center, the three to five year olds learn from first hand experience, the fun of caring for, loving and handling the small white rabbit.

As part of a science unit on pets, the children were urged to be gentle when handling small animals. The pre school feels this type of experience is important to the growth and development of young children. Learning to respect and being kind to people and animals is stressed at the pre school's comfortable learning atmosphere.

General Assistance tax levy reduced by watching dollars

Joseph J. McCarthy, Worth Township Supervisor submitted his General Assistance tax levy to the Board of Trustees recently at a special meeting for levying taxes for 1982-83. The General Assistance levy which is for emergency relief for township residents, has been lowered to a ten year low! Dr McCarthy has lowered the General Assistance Levy by $105,000 in the last two years. The $200,000 tax levy for 1982-83 is the lowest levy in this decade for General Assistance. "This is about $1.27 per person in Worth Township," Dr McCarthy said, "which is a great deal when you realize any resident of the Township could receive thousands of dollars in aid in an emergency situation."

Dr McCarthy stated the flood victims, the apartment building fire in Alsip are recent and obvious examples of how General Assistance can assist victims of emergency disaster.

Joseph J. McCarthy

"My pride is in my case-workers, General Assistance Investigators, and auditing staff who removed the greedy and only serviced the needy of the Township!"

Dr McCarthy concluded by saying, "the stewardship of tax dollars in these days is a demanding responsibility and by taking less dollars from the taxpayers is the most efficient way of serving the taxpayers - 'efficiency and compassion are our guidewords in General Assistance.'"

Kim, a senior at Morgan Park Academy in Chicago, plans to pursue a career in Business or Physical Education at Stephens College in Missouri, after graduation in June 1982.

Today is Great!

By Helene Marshall

You have probably heard Erik Soderholm being interviewed on the radio. He is a super guy with a super wife Jenny and super children. Well, maybe I did use the word super too much, but that's the best description I could give. Now for those of you who do not know who Erik is; let me give you a little run down.

Erik Soderholm was born and raised in the nice warm climate of Florida, but now he lives in the suburbs of Chicago and loves it. His career in baseball with the New York Yankees has made traveling a major part of his and his families life.

I asked Erik to give me a little history of himself, and in his friendly outgoing manner he told me he was involved in little league for seven years. He went to college in Georgia on a scholarship for sports, never believing he would be in the big league. In 1972 he played his first big league team -- The Minnesota Twins; later came the White Sox, the Texas Rangers, and now the New York Yankees, and involvement of eight years.

We'll have to spend a few minutes with Jenny Soderholm; after all she is an important person in her own right. She not only gets involved with her husband Erik's activities, her children's activities; she's a darling, outgoing, and quite intelligent young lady.

Back to Erik, a traumatic incident happened in 1976, he had a double knee operation and it looked like his career in baseball had ended. He was at the Florida Rehabilitation Center, and spent a great deal of time in physical therapy.

Would you believe that in 1977, Erik Soderholm made a comeback and won "The Player of the Year Award" for the White Sox.

There's pros and cons being a professional baseball player; sometimes on the road with your family and sometimes home, good financial reward; Erik says it's a different kind of a life, but with all the pros and cons he says "I love it."

Gala 10th Annual Holiday Inn Open

Topping all others the evening affair climaxing the 10th Annual Holiday Inn Open was one of perfect planning and culinary artistry.

Much like a scene from Fantasy Island, the festivities began with hors d'oeuvres and cool cocktails poolside at the Holiday Inn-Oak Lawn.

The ice sculptures were a thing of beauty with perfect weather that treated them kindly. One a large "10" reminded the guests that this was the 10th anniversary of the grand and gala affair.

The beautiful ice carved shrimp boat with smoke coming from the funnel caused much curiosity as the shrimp and sauce were sampled. Imagine a large carved ice bowl with frozen flowers holding caviar. A carved ice dolphin holding sway over the oyster bar, crab legs and clams on the half shell.

Two large stuffed salmon on a fish plank pleased the fish lovers along with stuffed crab meat. Barbecued ribs, bacon wrapped water chestnuts, cocktail franks, a tartar mold, chicken livers, pizza bread, and much more were spread out on the beautifully decorated serving tables.

General Manager/Vice President Joseph English and Director of Marketing Art Alaniz can be proud of their show of hospitality.

English can also be proud of the banquet room with the beautiful cloths of gold fabric on the tables, lovely fresh flower centerpieces, the lovely dining room crystal and the beautiful crested blue and white serving plates that reminded one that this was a very special affair.

Joseph J. English

The dinner planned by Art Alaniz started with sliced melon wedge garnished with wedges of lime. The salad was of crisp and fresh Kentucky lime stone lettuce, hearts of palm, sliced tomatoes, hard boiled eggs and served with the Holiday Inn clear French dressing.

The main course was sliced beef tenderloin with bearnaise sauce complimented with baby Belgium carrots and broccoli hollandaise. The piece de resistance was the desert of Vacherine of Ice Cream smothered in strawberry sauce and the ever tempting petits fours gracing each table.

Alaniz performed as MC and introduced the many dignitaries present and the winners of prizes from the earlier golf outing.

Winner of the Holiday Inn Perpetual Trophy: Low Gross, Ron Bull; 2nd Low Gross, Dr. Richard Cahill, Holiday Inn Trophy.

Peoria System: 1st, John Mikkelsen, Holiday Inn Trophy; 2nd, John Flavin, Aer Lingus Trophy.

Winner of the Ladies Holiday Inn Trophy: 1st, Elma Jiganti and 2nd, Else McDermott.

No matter how successful an event it does not just happen. It takes many people working together along with English and Alaniz such as Assistant Manager Gerry Mulloy; the behind closed doors, Chef J. L. Walls, Celia Corr, Pearl Arger, waitresses and the entire staff.

Muscular Dystrophy once and for all. For more information on this event or club membership, call Betty Kennedy at 458-8122 or Ken Muzel at 735-7274.

Reduce Dist 126 tax levy

The School Board of District 126, the Alsip, Hazelgreen and Oak Lawn Elementary Schools will again reduce its tax levies, in action to be taken on September 16. The tax levies in 5 of the 10 funds will be reduced according to Supt William Smith. Only one fund, Life Safety, will be increased $+80,000, because of extensive roof repairs to both Stony Creek and Lane Schools.

The tax levy reductions are in Liability Fund -40,000, in Transportation Fund - 70,000, Illinois Municipal Retirement Fund -40,000, Rent Fund -19,000 and Bond & Interest Fund -30,000. The $199,000 of tax levies reductions and the $80,000 of increases will result in a net -119,000 of tax levie reductions. In 4 funds there will be no increase or decrease.

"The charges by Governor Thompson and County Assessor Thomas Hynes that school districts are responsible for higher taxes, just is not true in District 126," said Clark Alford, Chairman of the School Board Finance Committee. He noted that in District 126 tax rate in 1980 was the lowest in 12 years. "The 1981 tax rate will be lower and the tax levies we make next month will further

LCM School receives scholarship

"The strength and safety of a community lies in the intelligence of its youth" is a quote as valuable today as it was when first used in the late 18th Century.

Members of the Evergreen Park Kiwanis Club, fully realizing the importance of education for young people, have for the past four years, presented the Charles W. Taylor Memorial Scholarship to the Little Company of Mary Hospital School of Nursing. Robert Conlon, president of the club, is shown here presenting the 1981 check to Sister M. Michael Murray, Director of the school, and Linda O'Reilly, a recent graduate of the school and former Kiwanis scholarship winner. The recipient of this year's fund has not been announced. For information on enrollment or how your club can help a deserving student, please contact Sister Michael, 422-6200, ext 5410.

reduce the 126 tax rate in 1982," concluded Clark Alford.

In the past 3 years, 90% of the District 126 tax levies have remained the same, or decreased according to Board Secretary Janet Dal Ponte. She noted that from a 2.70 tax rate in 1973, the rate has been significantly reduced to 2.32 in 1980. Supt Smith predicted at 2.25 rate in 1982.

Smith stressed that the charge of "over leveeing" or "raising the tax rate" does not apply to District 126. "We have restrained our levies and reduced our tax rate. If the taxes next month are up, then it is due to either the County multiplier set in Springfield, or higher tax rates of other taxing bodies," stated Smith.

The 4.3 million dollar 81-82 budget of School District 126 is now available for public review at the Administrative Center, 5201 W. 115th Street, 8 am to 4 pm.

The Public hearing on the budget will be Wednesday, September 16, 7:30 pm at the Administrative Center.

Challenging career change

Changing careers at any age can be a challenging step forward. Dan Callham, 27, of Oak Lawn took that step in a wheelchair. Seven years ago Dan was a bass player for the rock group Spyke. Then, because of a car accident, Dan lost permanently the use of his legs and arms.

Last month Dan embarked on his new career as a computer programmer. "It was challenging adjusting to another lifestyle," says Dan. "The fact that I am both organized and a strict perfectionist is advantageous and useful in my new career. Also, my strong motivation for returning to work was most beneficial."

While most of the credit for Dan's success must go to Dan himself, he is the first to admit that he couldn't have done it alone. Lift, Inc. is helping Dan thru a grant from the Private Industry Council of Cook County (PIC).

Lift, Inc., of Northbrook, is a not-for-profit organization which trains and places severely handicapped individuals in the field of computer programming. Dan finished his three-month training program (ordinarily Lift's training programs are 26 weeks, however, Dan had previous computer experience but was unable to find a job) at the end of July and thru a home terminal began his on-the-job training.

With the use of a mouthstick - a baked wax mouth impression connected to an arrow shaft - Dan can hook up to a rubber tip to punch the keyboard. The mouthstick can also be hooked up to pens and pencils. Dan uses a two-way desktop speaker phone operated thru an environmental sipping sequence thru penu-

Announce Fall Senior Seminars

The Moraine Valley College Fall Senior Seminars have been announced. They will begin on Friday, September 11 and continue on alternating Fridays until November 20. This year's theme is "Other Worlds - Other Cultures".

The series includes a bus

After one year one-the-job training Dan is eligible to be hired permanently by the Chicago firm for which he now works. "I couldn't be happier about my job placement," said Dan. "I'm very appreciative to Lift and The Private Industry Council for this opportunity." The PIC paid for the cost of Dan's training.

The PIC is composed of 20 volunteer members representing local business, unions, and community organizations. It is funded by the Department of Labor.

PIC'S were established in 1978 by Congress to shift the responsibility of job training from the public sector to the private where five out of every six jobs are located.

Dan lives at home with his parents, sister and brother. "My family support was a tremendous boost in achieving what I have," Dan said. "They lifted much of the burden that would have held me trip to Cantigny, a photographic safari of Africa, a bus trip to Baha'i Temple and Chicago Botanical Gardens, a talk on the changes and dilemmas in Central America, an explanation of Indian culture and a view of Poland today.

Refreshments are served at each seminar. A $2 hospitality fee covers the expenses for all of the series food costs. Bus trips require an additional fee.

Milt Andersen's Oak Lawn Camera Shop

Milt Andersen proudly announces that the Oak Lawn Camera Shop is now in its thirty-fifth year and that he has been sole owner for thirteen years. "It is a family-run business," Milt said. "My ten year old son Jason even sweeps the floor."

Andersen, who moved to Oak Lawn in 1939, entered first grade in Cook School in 1940.

In 1955 Milt and Joyce Krause, an Oak Lawn resident since 1938, were married and now have four children, Beth Ann (20), Mark (18), Wayne (13) and Jason.

In 1963 Andersen formed his own company, Andersen Builders, Inc., and performed as a carpenter contractor. He has built homes both in the Oak Lawn area and other suburbs.

The Oak Lawn Camera Shop is now operated by the whole family. Mrs. Andersen, Beth Ann and Mark work daily at the shop. Wayne washes windows and helps with the stock.

Andersen takes pride in the fact that he has hired many students from the Oak Lawn High School and Richards High School work program. Within the 13 years of ownership they have had the opportunity to learn about photography.

Milt Andersen, very civic minded, served as president of the Oak Lawn Chamber of Commerce in 1977 and becomes involved as chairman, or serves in some capacity in many organizations in the community. For several years he has been chairman of the Oak Lawn and Richards High Schools "Homecoming Parades". Having once been a member, he still assists in the Pilgrim Faith Boys Scout Troop 682.

Andersen, who in 1957 was a volunteer in the United States Army Paratroopers, also served as the National President of the 82nd Air Borne Division Association. He is currently in the HHC of the 12th Special Forces Group in Arlington Heights as a Recruiter/Retention NCO.

Milt Andersen is a fine upright citizen of our Oak Lawn Community and a respected businessman who sincerely believes in the family unit.

The Oak Lawn Camera Shop specializes in equipment and camera sales, processing, dark room supplies, repairs and rentals. The hours are: Monday, Thursday and Friday, 9:30 am to 9 pm; Tuesdays and Wednesdays, 9:30 am to 6 pm; Saturday, 9:30 am to 5:30 pm.

The Oak Lawn Chamber of Commerce is sponsoring the Fifth Annual Childrens Pet Parade & Carnival, to be held Sunday, September 20. Parade entry is FREE! Entry forms are available at Oak Lawn Pet Center, 5301 W. 95th Street, or the Chamber office, 9526 Cook.

Bob Gaul, Parade Chairman, announces there will be prizes galore. The lucky first prize winner will be treated to a fabulous fly-drive vacation for four to Disneyland. This grand prize is generously provided by the First National Bank of Oak Lawn, Heritage Bank of Oak Lawn, Oak Lawn Trust & Savings Bank and Heritage Standard Bank of Oak Lawn. The trip, with an additional savings, is being planned by Jim Buschbach of World Travel Mart.

The second grand prize is a $100 Savings Bond from Vlna O'Malley of VILLAGE VIEW and Chamber President Sal Crivellone of The Suburban News Marketer. Third grand prize is a cash prize of $50 from Mary Lotz of the House of Mary. There will also be trophies and awards for winners in all sections and divisions of the parade.

Categories are: The Old West, Jungle Animals & People; Space Age Characters; Childrens Story Book Characters and Circus Clowns and Hobos. A sixth category for those marching without costumes or a pet is not eligible for awards.

Judging of entries will be made by representatives from Oak Lawn service clubs. Initial judging takes place prior to the parade at the line-up at 12:15 pm, so be sure to be on time! Entries will be judged on uniqueness and originality in costuming of pet and owner (16 years and younger). Children 6 years old and younger must be accompanied by an adult.

The parade will kick-off at 1 pm from 95th and Mansfield, and travel east to 95th and Cook Avenue. Immediately following the parade will be a fun-filled carnival located in the VFW parking lot (1/2 block south of parade ending), where awards will be presented to the winning entries. The carnival will have thrilling rides for the kids, along with games, a petting zoo, refreshment booths, a puppet show featuring the ever popular "Garfield Goose", also, the wet and wild "Dunking Booth" with our own Oak Lawn Village Trustees and other volunteers urging onlookers to try to dunk them.

The Oak Lawn Chamber of Commerce invites all to participate in the parade, or come out and share the thrills at the carnival. Anyone wishing to enter the parade with an antique car or float, etc should contact

Last Dahlia Show of the season at the First

Pretty Margie Nelson, executive secretary, is pictured admiring prize winning Dahlias which will be placed on display at the First National Bank of Evergreen Park, 3101 W. 95th Street, Friday, September 25 and Saturday, September 26. Twenty other Southtown Dahlia Club members will participate in this two day exhibit with their select blooms.

The last Dahlia blooms of the season are usually of exceptional quality. This year visitors to First National will be pleasantly surprised to learn that they will be able to take home a gorgeous Dahlia simply by donating one dollar to the American Cancer Society. Special Dahlia offer will be made only on Saturday, September 26 between 12 and 1 pm while the supply lasts.

Taste of Oak Lawn for Westhaven

Mayor Ernie Kolb announced at the regular board meeting this past Tuesday that Director of Public Works Don Canning, Village Manager Dick O'Neill and Ray Bliss of Hancock Engineering should be congratulated for the execution of a water supply contract with the Citizen's Utilities of Westhaven. Kolb also introduced Tom Fricke, Chief Engineer for Citizen's Utilities, who was in the audience.

Marty Russo Workshop

You are invited to a "Congressional Workshop" with your Congressman Marty Russo and his staff.

Come and discuss your views, relay your problems, ask questions and make suggestions.

The date is Saturday, September 26 from 1 to 3 pm in the Oak Lawn Council Chambers, 5252 W. Dumke Drive.

Kolb said, "Years before the Oak Lawn water system had been over designed and again people before our time made possible these final programs where water is brought to other towns."

Canning explained the latest installation of the 40" water main, the putting in of new pipes and pumps that now allowed the village to supply the water to Westhaven. He also explained that the route would be from Harker Pumping Station, 105th & Lockwood to Oak Forest, from 163rd to Tinley Park, thru Tinley Park to Westhaven.

"We are happy to have Westhaven as another account," Canning said, "and we should be supplying within six (6) weeks."

The contract which is of a three year temporary term and when it would become permanent, others are expected to join in.

Approval is still needed from Oak Forest and Tinley Park for the water route thru the towns but apparently presents no immediate problem.

Chesterfield breaks ground for new drive-in project

Chesterfield Federal has a new drive-in facility in the making to be completed by the end of the year.

The new drive-in facility will be conveniently located just one block north of the main office. It will have four drive-in lanes, plus a walk-up lobby. Customers will have easy access to and from the facility which will be located on the corner of Western Avenue and 107th Street.

"We chose this particular location for several reasons. First of all, it's close to the main building. Next, it's easily accessible. Customers will enter the facility from Western Avenue and exit onto 107th Street. And finally, we believe in renovating in the community wherever possible. We felt that we could best serve the community by renovating an existing structure rather than building an entirely new structure," says Michael DeHaan, vice president of Chesterfield.

The new drive-in facility will be able to accommodate customers' routine financial transactions, get travelers' checks, notary public services and Chicago vehicle stickers.

Also relocating to the new drive-in facility at 107th and Western will be the Chesterfield Service Corporation, a full service insurance agency that is a division of Chesterfield Federal. Chesterfield Service Corporation provides all insurance needs for its customers - life insurance, automobile insurance, homeowner's insurance and business insurance. The Chesterfield Service Corporation will continue to operate from their present offices located on the second floor of the Chesterfield Main office building until the move is completed to their new location.

The September meeting of the Our Lady of Loretto Phoenix Group for Separated and Divorced Catholics will feature Rev. James O'Connor explaining the annulment process and the operation of the Marriage Tribunal. The meeting will be on Friday, September 18 at 8 pm in room 115/116 of the parish hall. Our Lady of Loretto is located at 8925 S. Kostner, Hometown.

A "Phoenix Group" is a part of a ministry that provides support for those going through the crisis of separation and/or divorce, and on-going help to rebuild lives and families that have been victims of this tragedy. It offers information and insights from both professional sources, and from people who have "been there." One need not be a member of a particular parish to participate. Members of any faith are welcome.

Other Phoenix Groups in our area include those at: the Longwood Cenacle, Chicago; St. Bede's, Chicago; St. Albert the Great, Burbank; St. Alexander, Palos Heights; and St. Linus, Oak Lawn.

INTRODUCING THE NIGHT SHIFT.

Maybe you never noticed it, but during the day people use a lot of electricity.

It usually takes everything we've got, even our expensive oil burners, to keep up with the demand. So electricity costs a lot more to make. And people have to pay more for it.

That's why Ice Storage, a revolutionary cooling system for big buildings, is better than regular air conditioning.

It works at night instead, when the demand for electricity goes way down and our main generating stations, the ones that run on low-cost coal and uranium, hardly work up a sweat. And electricity costs up to four-and-a-half times less to make.

All night long, it creates ice. And cold. And more ice. And more cold. Enough to keep an army of Eskimos feeling right at home. So when 8 a.m. rolls around and the day shift is ready to face another hot one, all that cold is ready too. Ready to circulate through the building and keep everybody cool till the sun goes down.

For sure, we'll all be a lot better off when there are more innovations like the Ice Storage system. That's why we're researching and developing other ideas to slow the growing daytime demand for electricity, especially in the summer.

In the meantime, if we can all do a little something to put off using electricity during the day, like not running the dishwasher or clothes dryer until 9 or 10 p.m., it can make a difference now.

Shifting some of the demand to night can keep costs down. And just maybe, help us all get some control over tomorrow.

Caution leaving animals behind

With the vacation season drawing to a close, the Animal Welfare League is asking all pet owners at resorts, summer homes and lake cottages not to leave their pets behind when they return to their city homes. Many vacationers have befriended dogs and cats that have wandered to their doors and have kept them as summer pets for the children. It is not fair to wish these unwanted pets onto farmers as most of them already have all the dogs and cats they can properly care for. Abandoning any animal is a violation of the Illinois humane laws and is punishable by a fine up to $500.

Any unwanted or lost dogs, cats or other pets can be brought to either of the League's shelters, located at 6224 S. Wabash in Chicago or 10101 S. Ridgeland Avenue in Chicago Ridge, where they will be cared for in a humane manner. Animals are received any time of the day or night.

Animal Welfare League vehicles make pickups in Chicago and nearby communities. Call 667-0088 for information regarding pickup. Those living outside of the area serviced by the League should contact the local police, sheriff's department, or the animal control officer of the county for advice on facilities available for the care of unwanted and lost animals.

Russo Reports from Washington

by Congressman Marty Russo

I have recently joined the fight to secure the release of American-born Benedict Scott (Vytautas Skuodis) from a Soviet prison camp, by co-sponsoring House Resolution 200. I have also signed a letter of Congressional concern to Soviet Chairman Leonid Brezhnev regarding Mr Scott.

The Soviet Union has not been successful, nor will it ever be, in extinguishing the desire for freedom among the Lithuanian people. The power of an idea-like faith or freedom is always greater than repressive force. Scott may be one person, but what he stands for and represents are the ideas of thousands of proud people.

Scott was born in Chicago in 1929 to parents of Lithuanian heritage. They moved back to an independent Lithuania in 1930, which was invaded and occupied by the Soviet Union in 1940. Scott developed into a highly respected scientist and in 1969 joined the faculty of the University of Vilnius as a lecturer in geological engineering.

Scott has actively participated in the movement for religious freedom and independence in Lithuania. It was for this participation that he was convicted on December 22, 1980 on charges of "anti-Soviet agitation and propaganda". He was sentenced to serve seven years in a Soviet hard labor prison camp.

In 1979, Scott wrote former President Carter, stating that, "No matter what difficult trials await me in the future, I will always remain faithful to the principles of the defense of human rights, by the same token defending the honor of the land of my birth, the United States of America." Reports from the Soviet Union indicate that Benedict Scott may have since begun a hunger strike to call international attention to the continuing violation of human rights by the Soviets.

The Lithuanians have never accepted oppression without resistance. Dissent against the Communists, as exemplified by Scott's actions, has become a way of life. We, as Americans, must continue to condemn the Soviet Union's unjustified and unconscionable treatment of Lithuanians, not only for Scott's freedom, but until all Lithuanians gain the independence and sovereignty they rightfully deserve.

House Resolution 200 calls for the President, in the sense of the House of Representatives, to "express to the Government of the Soviet Union the deep concern and opposition of the United States with respect to the unjust imprisonment of Benedict Scott (Vytautas Skuodis) by such Government; and take every appropriate action to secure the release from prison of this American citizen..." The letter to President Brezhnev expresses the same sentiments.

As a firm believer in human rights and liberty I co-sponsored House Resolution 200, and signed the letter to President Brezhnev. The United States throughout its history has always come to the aid of those whose human liberty is unjustly denied. It is even more important to do so where an American citizen is concerned as is the case with Benedict Scott. I shall continue to follow this matter very closely until favorable action is taken by the Soviets regarding Mr. Scott.

Homestead Exemption Act renewal forms available

State Rep Harry "Bus" Yourell, D-8th, announced that renewal forms can be picked up at his office for the Cook County Homestead Exemption Act.

The Senior Homestead Exemption allows the Assessor to deduct $1500 sema, and diabetes screening tests as well as podiatric, blood pressure and height and weight check ups. Medical counseling is also offered and, for the young participants of the fair, two speech therapists will be available. If, as a result of the screening, there is an indication of an unusual condition, the interested participant will be advised to seek a physician for further examination and treatment.

The majority of those who work at the fair are bilingual Greek speaking volunteers. This is an important key to the success of the fair which averages an annual attendance of 300 men, women and children.

from the equalized property. Rep Yourell added that any senior citizen registered for the Senior Homestead Exemption Act will automatically receive the benefits of an additional savings from the Homeowners Exemption Act.

Local organizations such as the American Cancer Society, the Heart Assn., the Diabetes Assn., the American Red Cross and many others are gathered in one place and can have their services explained in Greek.

There will be an added attraction this year! Ronald McDonald will be appearing at the fair from 12:30 to 2 pm.

For further information about the fair call the Hellenic Foundation at 233-5800.

This can mean a deduction of up to $3000 from the equalized assessed valuation of a property equalling an added savings of up to $300.

Rep Yourell added that it is extremely important that persons who qualified for the exemption in 1980 file a renewal form with the Cook County Assessor's office, so they may continue to receive benefits of both the Senior Homestead and the Homeowners Exemption.

Rep Yourell added that any person who turned 65 as of January 1, 1981, applications can be filled out so they will benefit on their 1981 property tax bill payable in 1982.

Persons eligible to apply for the exemption or those who need a renewal form can stop by Yourell's office at 4740 W. 95th Street, Oak Lawn or call 422-9300.

JERUSALEM: CITY OF HISTORY

Jerusalem, one of the oldest cities in man's history, is a truly holy city for three of the world's religions. It is the sight of sanctuaries sacred to Christians, Jews, and Muslims.

Visitors to the Old City of Jerusalem, which is within the city walls, can see the Western Wall or Wailing Wall. A holy Jewish site, this is all that remains of the walls which surrounded The Temple in Biblical times. The Jewish Quarter is also in the Old City. Christians flock to visit the Church of the Holy Sepulchre, built on the site believed to be where Christ was crucified, buried, and arose. Leading to the church is the Via Dolorosa, the road taken by Christ as he carried the cross.

Outside the Old City are many other sites of importance including the Garden Tomb, Gethsemane, the Pool of Siloah, and the water tunnel built by King Hezekiah in 700 B.C. Mt. Zion is sacred to both Christians and Jews. Another attraction is the Biblical Zoo. Here you'll find all of the animals, reptiles, and birds mentioned in the Bible. We can arrange tours to include the Upper Room of the Last Supper; Birthplace of John the Baptist, truly a fine religious tour trip.

Would you like to make your next vacation the best one ever? To insure its success, stop in at 5615 W. 95th Street, and let us help you with the planning.

Western sounds with SAS

Garden Club winners

The Oak Lawn Garden Club chose the beautiful yard of Robert Sronski, 9231 Tripp as 1st place winner in its annual "Beautiful Yards" contest. The Sronski yard featured sculptured evergreens against a dark fence background which held bright, potted flowers. White stone contrasted with lovely begonias, marigolds and geraniums forming a border pleasing to the eye.

Second place winner is the Adron Crouse family of 8705 Sproat. Their lovely yard includes an interesting cactus garden and a productive vegetable plot. A bird bath surrounded by flowers is the center feature of their yard. The entire Crouse family participates in their gardening hobby.

The judges chose the yard of Mr and Mrs Martin Rochford, 9941 Mansfield for 3rd place. The tall spires of evergreens add interest to their landscaping. The Richfords are encouraging their son in his hobby of rock collecting by allocating a section of the yard for a small rock garden.

Mrs Clarence Veague is contest chairman and Mrs. LeRoy Anderson is club president.

Groundbreaking for Blake-Lamb

Recently the corner of Rt. 53 and Short Street was the site for the Ground Breaking Ceremony for the newest facility location of Blake-Lamb Funeral Homes. This new location in Lisle will become Blake-Lamb's tenth chapel to serve Chicago and suburbs.

The gala affair hosted, among other dignitaries, Mayor George Varney of Lisle; Blake-Lamb staff and many friends. Abbot Valentine Skluzacek from St. Procopius Abbey gave the invocation followed by a speech from Richard Lamb, of Blake-Lamb, telling of the growth and goals of Blake-Lamb Funeral Homes.

Ground was broken by Richard Lamb with an inscribed shovel given to his father, Matthew J. Lamb, Jr., in 1967 for Citation of Merit on the occasion of the 50th Anniversary of his dedication and untiring efforts in behalf of the funeral profession. Wine and cheese was served to all guests.

With the coming of the beautiful chapel for the western suburbs, come services and programs they feel people of the community should have. Some of these unique programs developed by Matt and Richard Lamb include having a full time specialist on their staff to aid survivors after the funeral in Social Security matters, pension funds, insurance, etc. Another service is a small lending library in each funeral home with professionally written books and pamphlets on how to cope with grief and other related problems. Blake-Lamb offers audio-visual programs for schools, churches and also has staff participation in a "Speakers Bureau" for conducting informative seminars/discussions on funeral related subjects.

Blake-Lamb Funeral Homes have also been leaders in striving to freeze costs at today's prices by offering a complete Pre-need Program and adding a full-time pre-arrangement counselor to their staff. These programs keep prices from skyrocketing with inflation.

The new chapel is scheduled for completion in January or February of 1982.

Oak Lawn Lions plan Candy Day October 9th

Imagine the frustration of being blind . . . and knowing that you could see again if only corneal tissue were available.

The Lions of Illinois are aware of that frustration; they are aware of devastation that can come from blindness.

They are doing something about it.

People eligible for corneal transplants faced with long waiting periods, frustrations in the transporting system for eye tissue, and the chronic need for eye tissue for medical research and other medical needs, the Illinois Lions Club organized the Lions Eye Donor Registry thru its Lions of Illinois Foundation, the club's charitable statewide arm.

The Eye Donor Registry, begun in 1975, has grown to more than 16,000 signatures on eye donor pledge cards. The Lions formed their own transportation network to rush the fragile eyes in special containers to cooperating eyebanks throughout the area. Eye donor collection centers were set up, special enucleation (eye removal) courses were offered, and pledge cards were distributed.

The program is supported by Candy Day, scheduled for Friday, October 9, statewide. The goal is $1.2 million to support a variety of programs to benefit the blind, visually handicapped, deaf, and hearing impaired.

Since the program began, approximately 600 eyes have been delivered to three eye banks, all members of the Eye Bank Association of America: Illinois Eye Bank in Chicago, the St. Louis Eye Bank, and Watson - Gailey - Mennonite Hospital Eye Bank in Bloomington. At least 300 people in Illinois are on waiting lists for corneal transplants.

Any person at least 18 years old may sign a pledge card. Appearance is not changed. Eyes cannot be designated for a specific person. They are used for the next patient on the eye bank's list.

Any adult may sign a pledge card, no matter what condition his or her eyes are in. The entire eye is not transplanted. Various parts of it are used for various procedures.

For example, healthy corneal tissue is used for transplants. The sclera, the white portion of the eye, is used for grafts. Eye tissue not suitable for direct medical needs is utilized in research and education, so that it, too, contributes to the fight against blindness.

Police, airlines, and others cooperate with the Lions in the transportation of eye tissue. Because time is of the essence in working with eyes, a pledge is necessary. Mentioning the desire to donate organs in a will does not work because too much time elapses between the time of death and the reading of a will.

For more information about becoming an eye donor, contact your local Lions Club or the Lions of Illinois Foundation, 1515 N. Harlem Ave., Oak Park.

TODAY THIS HOUSE IS JUST SMART. TOMORROW IT'LL BE BRILLIANT.

Nobody has to tell you what's happening to the cost of energy today. It's all up, up, up.

So if you're looking for a new house, it makes a whole lot of sense to look for one with an Energy Smart sign out front. One that uses energy like a miser. That keeps the cost down, down, down.

That means a house with double-glazed windows.

With ceilings insulated to a minimum rating of R-19.

With walls insulated to at least R-11.

With exterior openings carefully weather-stripped and caulked.

And with an Electric Heat Pump instead of a central air conditioner and furnace.

That's the key. The Heat Pump.

All summer long it works just like central air conditioning. But in the winter it reverses itself. It takes heat from the air outside and pumps it inside to keep you warm.

What's more, the Heat Pump does that so efficiently it provides at least 50 percent more energy (heat) than the energy (electricity) it uses.

And that's very, very smart when you consider that the cost of natural gas has gone up 52 percent faster than electricity since 1967, and oil has gone up 113 percent faster.

Better yet, it'll be downright brilliant when natural gas gets deregulated or OPEC bumps up the price of oil a few more times.

The Energy Smart house. It can make tomorrow a lot easier to live with.

Commonwealth Edison
Don't take tomorrow for granted.

Employee politics poses problem

Should the village employees be allowed to participate in the election process either "for" or "against" those that are responsible for approving the budget from which they are paid, or, by restricting the employees from participation, are you taking away their rights as citizens of Oak Lawn.

The question is now in the courts brought about by a police union lawsuit objecting to the Political Activity Ordinance introduced by Trustee Ron Stancik and passed by the Oak Lawn Board of Trustees.

At a recent meeting, Trustee Les Anderson proposed that the suit be dropped and this was seconded by Trustee Charles Meloun.

Adding that the attorney fees for the complainant were already about $2200. Anderson suggested that an Evergreen Park attorney be paid $750, the partial payment he was willing to accept. Meloun immediately withdrew his "second."

Anderson went on to say that he had checked with three attorneys and each said the board could not win the case and it would cost the village in excess of $20,000. "Even if we win, it is going to cost us about $7000 for our own attorney just to try and save face rather than spend $750," Anderson said.

Meloun said that this is a "no win" situation. "Win or lose," he said, "they have to follow their own ordinance which is a lot harder than ours." Police regulations already prohibit police political activity.

Stancik said that he would like to go on with the suit. "There were abuses I can pin point all over the place," he said, "they were even using the police station to do their work. Police cars were used to follow me with the intention of intimidating me. It was extremely poor judgment on the part of our own employees."

Trustee Jay Bergamini said, "I believe the ordinance is sound and is constitutional, and it adds substance to the rules for our police department. They (the police in question) worked in a part open and overt manner causing the village employees to be counterproductive in their operations and besmirched the reputation of our village." He proposed that "we" not reverse ourselves at this time.

Meloun then added that, because of a few policemen, we are now involving the entire village employees.

The question of whether the village could win the case was asked of the Village Attorney Pat Lucansky, and he said "yes." In that case there would be no fees to the village.

Trustee Robert Bruce said, "Some of us are being sued and we should discuss this with the attorney." He then asked for a five minute recess. After talking to the attorney, Bruce returned to his seat stating that he had nothing more to say.

Mayor Ernie Kolb asked for the roll call. Bergamini, Bruce and Stancik voted not to rescind the ordinance with Anderson and Meloun voting to rescind making a 3-2 vote. What do you think?

"THOUGHTS" ON TOURNAMENT OF BEDS

This is a letter expressing my thoughts and feelings on the Second Annual Tournament of Beds. The tournament was held on Southwest Highway, in front of the Village Annex, and was a great success.

Many spectators enjoyed seeing this different athletic event.

Of course there were a few exceptions. Some of the spectators, as well as the bars and businesses that were involved in the tournament, got quite carried away. They made protests to the Chairman after almost every race. They obviously forgot that this was meant to be a day of fun and charity.

I'd also like to add the fact that most of the people who put this event together were volunteers. Also, none of the money that was made, went into our own pockets. All of the proceeds went to the American Cancer Society for Childhood Related Cancers.

The people that put this tournament together worked hard and long to get everything in order.

I believe that if people of Oak Lawn want to see those beds rolling again next year, some people owe a very big apology to the planning committees and volunteers.

Or do you think you could do a better job yourself?!

Yourell law regulates drug dealers bond

State Representative Harry "Bus" Yourell announced that Governor James Thompson has signed into law legislation that would increase bail for suspected drug dealers. The bail would be set at the same amount as the street value of drugs seized during arrest.

House Bill 249 also provides that upon conviction judges shall set the fine at the full street value of the drugs seized in addition to any other fines.

"This law will hit the dope pushers where it will hurt them most -- in their pocketbook," Yourell said. "Anyone caught with thousand of dollars worth of drugs will pay a stiff penalty under this law."

Yourell's bill provides that fines paid the state under this law will go into a special "Drug Traffic Prevention Fund" that will be used to fight drug trafficking in Illinois.

"Drug dealing is a 67 billion dollar business that requires lots of money and time to stop," Yourell said. "With my bills, state and local law enforcement authorities can use the dope pushers own money collected as fines to put the pushers out of business."

Yourell's interest in this matter was sparked by preparing for mission service, with assignment to Spain, as our speaker for the evening. The public is invited to all these inspirational meetings.

finding two dead bodies while vacationing in the Bahamas last year in a drug related matter. Because of his persistence, the U.S. State Dept. and Bahama officials are now investigating this matter.

Because of this incidence, Yourell was named Yachtman of the Year by his fellow peers.

Funeral Home provides TTY

Pictured using the TTY system at Blake-Lamb Funeral Homes are (l to r) Faye Matcalf Muth, Shirley Ference and Rose O'Brien, all of Blake-Lamb Funeral Homes.

Chicago's Blake-Lamb Funeral Homes are utilizing a TTY (Teletype) phone system to assist persons with impaired hearing.

This TTY unit sends and receives messages to any person having a TTY unit of their own. For persons calling Blake-Lamb, the general number is 735-4242.

The call is transmitted to Blake-Lamb's main office where the message is received and answered.

Instead of voice communications, a message or reply is typed by using the keyboard on the TTY unit. This message/reply is transmitted to the other party on their TTY unit's visual

The TTY (Teletype) unit is just one of many services provided by Blake-Lamb, which they feel the people in their communities should have available.

Unclaimed guns destroyed by sheriff

Sheriff Richard J. Elrod views more than 300 firearms recently on display in his Daley Center office prior to their court-ordered destruction. The weapons consist of rifles, pistols and shotguns taken into custody by deputy sheriffs, primarily during evictions throughout the county. When a gun is encountered by a Sheriff's Eviction Crew and the owner is either not available or cannot produce required state and local permits, the weapon is impounded. It can be reclaimed when the owner appears at the Sheriff's Office with a State of Illinois Firearms Owner's Identification Card and a local permit, if required. Sheriff Elrod noted that the various police agencies within Cook County confiscate and destroy thousands of illegally possessed or abandoned guns every year.

Fashions Today

By Helene Marshall

Some people's interest in their career and personal pursuits change from a child to their adult life; my goals have developed, but they haven't made a change. I have always been interested in theatre, music, the media, and my interests still tend to move in this direction.

When I was a very small child, I always loved the movies especially with elaborate stage scenes. One movie in particular stayed in my mind, "An American in Paris". I've never exactly realized until recently what a wonderful experience it would be to see the fashionable parts of Paris to even study the language at the university; one university, that many people who have been to Paris or who have heard about in Paris mention, is Sorbonne University. I also enjoyed the information about the university from the French Consulate.

Recently some friends related their European vacations to me. Dorothy Peddycord told me that her next trip would be to Paris. Dorothy and Don Peddycord in the past enjoyed a wonderful trip to Europe where they observed all the fashionable parts of Italy, and if anyone could tell you about fashions, this couple could surely be able to elaborate together or individually. Don has been involved in interior design for approximately twenty years. As President of Tilles Interiors in Munster, Indiana, Don buys furniture that is exquisite, some of which demonstrates a European accent. Don was extremely impressed with the scenes of history that were so visible in Italy; he was in awe over the beauty and architectural structure of buildings that were standing for two thousand years. Dorothy commented on the family cafes and with her interest in today's fashions, noticed the many courtiers like Gucci.

Another friend Bruna Christopher, who has a distinguished gift boutique in Munster under her name, saw Paris this summer. She talked about the many vineyards she saw in Paris, the restaurants, and of course with her fashionable taste she observed the designer shops, small perfumeries, and boutiques, like Halston, Estee Lauder, Oscar De La Renta.

Are you getting excited about taking a European vacation? Well if you're planning a trip to Europe, stop in and talk to Don, Dorothy, and Bruna. They will be happy to tell you all the fashionable places to visit.

"Bon Voyage"

'The Bard' at Trinity College

"Sing, O goddess, The anger of Achilles!" That's the dramatic opening that Frank Fowle uses to get the attention of audiences young and old, in rock band clubs and school gymnasiums. ## 126 adopts ledger levy-lower tax rate

The School Board of District 126, the Alsip, Hazelgreen and Oak Lawn Elementary Schools, at its regular September board meeting announced that the District 126 tax rate has been reduced once again. The tax rate in 1974 was 2.70 and was reduced last year to 2.32 and this year is 2.26. It is estimated that it will go even lower next year, possibly 2.20. The lower tax rate of District 126 helped lower Alsip's 126 residents tax rate from 9.02 to 8.93.

The board also adopted the 1981-82 budget along with lowering the tax levy. The total budget for 1981-82 will be 4.3 million of which 3.1 million is the educational fund. The School Board also ratified the new Teachers agreement which was settled on September 2. Over the three years of the agreement, the teachers will receive increases of 14% the first year, 11% the second year and 10% the third year.

The Board increased administrative salaries +12%. The review of Board Policies will continue on Wednesday, October 14, 7:30 pm at the Administrative center. The District liability insurance will be based upon a $500 deductible rather than a $300 deductible.

Board secretary, Janet Dal Ponte, reported that there are 3 candidates running for 2 seats in the November 3 school board election. Candidates are Reed Powers, 10 year incumbent, George Lehman, 7 year incumbent and Carl Ceretto.

March of Dimes Reading Olympics underway

Starting this month, the 1982 March of Dimes Reading Olympics campaign gets underway, and this year some new attractions have been added.

James Gagerman, President of the Community Currency Exchange Assn. of Illinois has agreed to ask his membership to display Reading Olympics posters in 600 metro area currency exchanges.

As an added incentive to the young readers and their families, the currency exchanges will not charge the participants for money orders they use to send in the pledges.

Serving as Reading Olympics co-chairmen are former Olympics athlete Scott May, who now plays for the Chicago Bulls; and Dr. Alice Blair, Deputy Superintendent of Schools for the Chicago Board of Education.

In addition, the 24 top readers, their families and teachers will receive free tickets to a Bulls basketball game, as guests of the team.

Last year, more than 300 youngsters from thruout the metro area took part in Reading Olympics, and more than $48,000 was raised to fight birth defects.

Joins Illinois Benedictine Scholars Program

Michelle Szum, graduate of Oak Lawn Community High School Class of 1981, is among ten incoming freshmen who have been invited to participate in a new Scholars Program at Illinois Benedictine College, between Lisle and Naperville. Michelle is the daughter of Mr and Mrs M. Szum.

The goal of the program is to recruit and retain talented and highly motivated scholars who want a liberal education, according to Dr Phyllis Kittle, associate dean of faculty and instruction at the college. There will be a special emphasis on learning with a global perspective and enhancement of leadership capabilities among the students.

Scholars were selected on the basis of their college board scores, high school rank, an interview and an essay. Each scholar will receive an annual $1000 scholarship.

Father Philip Timko, O.S.B., will serve as program director.

News Information Supervisor
Commonwealth Edison Co.

Reminders of last November's elections remain on many utility poles, where posters and notices still urge us to vote for the various candidates. Utility workers, too, remember the elections, but their recollections are of a more personal nature. Too often they suffer cuts and gashes from encounters with nails and tacks used to affix the posters.

Most of the notices have been removed by the utility workers, but some remain, showing the ravages of winter snows and summer rains. Anything tacked on utility poles - campaign posters, promotions for garage sales, or whatever - can cause trouble. The hardware lurks, awaiting the chance encounter with an unsuspecting utility worker's hands or legs on a dark, stormy night.

Although utility crew members carefully inspect each pole before climbing, it's easy to miss a nail or tack on stormy nights when power must be restored. Climbing spikes need the soft wood of a utility pole to be effective, but nails and tacks defeat them, often causing the wearer to slip and injure himself. This can delay the restoration of service. So please - never tack anything on a utility pole.

The average person can help Commonwealth Edison serve its customers in many ways.

By being observant and reporting abnormal conditions to the company, you can help avert a possible service interruption - perhaps to your own home or your own neighborhood - or correct a potentially dangerous situation. downed power line, report it immediately. Failure to do so could result in serious injury or even death. Never touch a fallen line, and caution children to stay away, too.

Likewise, keep an eye on equipment located atop poles. If you notice any leaking fluids, this should be reported to Edison.

Edison has a substantial amount of equipment mounted outdoors and protected by fences and locks. Give a call if you observe broken or missing locks or sections of fence. Children are curious and could wind up hurting themselves or damaging equipment that could cause a service interruption.

Broken meters are something else that should be called to the company's attention.

This list is by no means all-inclusive. In a system as large as Edison's, covering more than 11,000 square miles in northern Illinois, equipment problems can and do occur. Obviously, company employees can't be everywhere, so that's why Edison counts on members of the public to keep an eye out for trouble situations and report them by calling the local Edison office listed in the white pages of the telephone directory.

If you do report a problem, chances are you'll be helping yourself and your neighbors as much as the utility.

Soccer season at Brother Rice

The first kick of the Brother Rice varsity soccer season is delivered by Br. John P. McGraw, the school's new principal. Flanking him are the Crusader captains, Ken Brynda (l) and Mike Martin (r). Br. McGraw, an avid soccer enthusiast, watched as Brother Rice toppled Rich South 2-0 in the season opener.

The Brother Rice varsity soccer season got off on a winning note with a 3-0-1 record to date.

The Crusaders opened the season hosting Rich South who they downed 2-0. James McNulty and Ken Brynda scored the goals for the victors.

Two days later, Brother Rice dropped Argo as center-back Tim Casey and mid-fielder Jim Shannon put in the points for the winners.

Brother Rice then battled to a 1-1 tie against the strong Quigley South squad. Sean Keohane scored the lone goal for the Crusaders with an impressive shot outside the penalty box.

Rice then hosted Thorn-wood and won this close one, 3-2. Tom Mientus was credited with two goals while Ken Brynda scored one.

Said Coach Nick Markulin about his 1981 Crusaders, "They're a senior oriented team with good prospects to go far. They're overall size, skills and dedication make for a fine team."

Oak Lawn Chamber welcomes Judy Grant

The Oak Lawn Chamber of Commerce is pleased to welcome Judy Grant (pictured second left) as its new executive director. Judy was previously the president of the Woman's League of Voters in Evergreen Park.

Judy has diligently entered into her new position and her energy and cheerfulness will prove an asset to the Chamber. She has indicated that her "primary goal will be to increase membership in the chamber in order to promote the economic growth and well being of the community".

Board of Local recommends Northwest paving program

The Oak Lawn Board of Local Improvements held a Public Hearing on October 8 and recommended that the proposal to complete the street, curb and sewers in the Northwest area be adopted. Phase I of the program is bounded by Nashville on the west, Ridgeland on the east, 87th Place on the north, 91st Street on the south and includes Crescent Court.

Fred Dumke, who has been hired by the village to assist in the program, introduced consultant Ray Bliss of Hancock Engineering who, he said, were experts on special assessments. Bliss explained the engineering phase to those from the area who were in the audience and there were few questions about the procedure.

Dumke said the estimate for the work was about $1,200,000. He said that the homeowners portion would be 26.78 percent with the public benefit at 73.22 percent, and it was a "fair and equitable deal."

Dumke went on to say that the cost was predicated on front footage with the exception of odd shaped lots that were large in front and small in back, and that the cost had been equalized.

He explained that it was impossible to go into each notice until after the roll is filed. At $22 per foot, predicated on 60 feet, the cost would be $1320 plus each homeowner would be assessed $2.50 for the indirect. In order to avoid those on corners getting hit too hard Dumke said, they have set the side charge at $4. Some businesses on Ridgeland will also get an indirect charge as they also use the streets.

Dumke said that they expect, from direct, $285,681.24, indirect, $22,668.31 and side $13,047.36, or 26.78 percent of total cost. The charges will be extended over 10 years. The first charge in January, 1983, will be 13 percent of the total and 9 equal installments at 10 percent interest. He said the rate could fluctuate but will be no higher than that of the village which is excellent.

Dumke told the people they will get one more notice but it will not be finalized until the spread is approved by the court. He said objections would be heard by the attorney before the roll is confirmed. Dumke said that it is easy to make a mistake in a spread of this magnitude.

Mayor Ernie Kolb said that he wanted to express his appreciation to this group of people (the homeowners) in the way this was handled. "You are to be commended," he said.

Christmas shopper holiday

Shoppers interested in avoiding the holiday rush can buy unique Christmas gifts and other high-quality novelties at a reasonable cost at the Love To Shop extravaganza benefiting the Chicago Heart Assn.

This holiday shopping spree is set for 10 am to 4 pm Wednesday, October 28, upstairs at Crickets, 100 E. Chestnut Street, Chicago. Gift items run the gamut from clever, handpainted little curios to more sophisticated specialties.

"Love To Shop is like having the most interesting merchandise from four or five quality gift boutiques at one location," said Kathy Miller, co-founder of Love To Shop, Inc. In addition to the large assortment of merchandise, she added, accent is on variety and selectivity at better than competitive prices. Engraving and monogramming is also available to personalize the gifts.

Mrs. A. Rush Watkins, president of the Chicago Heart Assn's. Women's Council, explained that a "big plus" to Love To Shop is that customers can take their purchases with them. "Another plus is having a potpourri of high-quality gifts in one location for the working woman, which can be a great time-saver." She noted that much time is often lost when shoppers travel from store to store searching for the right gift.

With a percentage of the total sales benefiting the Chicago Heart Assn.,

shoppers are encouraged to drop by and bring their gift lists for what appears to be a one-stop shop affair. Colorful displays will be arranged thruout the room so that shoppers can leisurely browse at the gifts ranging from $1 to $250 while socializing with their friends.

Refreshments will be served and the general public is welcome to take advantage of this opportunity to shop to their heart's content while helping the Heart cause. For further information, contact the Chicago Heart Assn. at 346-4675.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

What's good for the goose . . .

GUEST EDITORIAL

During the last session of our General Assembly a bill amending the 'Open Meetings Act' was approved by the House and Senate and signed into law by Governor Thompson.

The Open Meetings Act was initially created to mandate that the public's business be conducted at public meetings rather than secluded smoke-filled rooms. There are three exceptions to this act, which are the discussion of personnel, land acquisition and litigation.

The new act, sponsored by our Attorney General, attempts to tighten up the old act and correct some of the deficiencies and problems which have occurred over the years. Although I feel that the new act will require some amending in the future, "I know that the vast majority of municipal officials agree with the intent of the act and will conduct themselves in accordance with it."

My only real problem with this act is the fact that it does not apply to our elected representatives in Springfield. Our legal counsel informs us that our state legislators are bound by the regulations of our State Constitution, which in a majority of cases are not as definitive or as stringent as this act. I know that this act was passed with a great deal of concern and sincerity for the well being of our mutual constituents, however, that concern and sincerity could be far better demonstrated by applying their law to themselves as well as the municipalities.

I honestly feel that my point on this matter is a valid one and one which is shared by appointed and elected municipal officials throughout the state. Every time I think of the matter an old quote from the Bible comes to mind - "Physician Heal Thyself".

What do you think?

Dear Residents of Worth Township,

I would like to thank Governor Thompson in declaring Worth Township a disaster area as a result of the flooding that occurred in June of this year. Governor Thompson has been very supportive of Worth Township in assisting our residents with getting Federal Emergency money. Approximately six weeks ago the Governor sent President Reagan a letter declaring Worth Township a disaster area. With the help from Governor Thompson and Congressman Russo, we are hoping President Reagan will concur and assist us in declaring Worth Township a disaster area.

I reminded the Governor that this was weeks ago and the people of Worth Township have not heard a thing relative to their most serious problems.

That is why today I have written another letter to Governor Thompson to remind him that our people are still waiting very patiently for his assistance. Again may I say how sorry I am for the hardships that the people of Worth Township have had to endure.

Please do not hesitate to call this office if you feel that I can be of help. The telephone number is 371-2900.

Russo names 'End Violence Handgun Week'

Congressman Marty Russo has introduced legislation in Congress to designate the week of October 25-31, as National End Handgun Violence Week. Already one of the sponsors of the week being organized by the National Coalition to Ban Handguns, Russo has been an advocate of concealable handgun control legislation since coming to Congress seven years ago and has introduced his own bill in Congress in which he has served.

The Resolution authorizes and requests the President to issue a proclamation designating the period from October 25, 1981 thru October 31 as "National End Handgun Violence Week".

"This week launches the largest grass roots demonstration for handgun control ever held in this country," Russo commented, "and we hope it will demonstrate the vast support that exists in this country for new measures to curb handguns, will raise funds and will raise awareness as well of the need for the controls."

"One out of every five fatal firearm accidents involves a child under the age of 15. . . Every 13 seconds a handgun is sold in the U.S. . . Every day 63 Americans are killed with handguns and since 1968 more than 250,000 Americans have been killed by handgun shootings - that is five times greater than the number of Americans who were killed overseas during the entire Vietnam War.

"These are the facts. This is what we have to realize is going on with this handgun proliferation. It's time to stop it; it's time to demonstrate our support for legislation," Russo concluded.

Russo says the resolution is bipartisan and that support around the country is widespread and that hundreds of high schools, churches, synagogues, community and civic groups around the country will sponsor events during the week.

Organizational endorsements come from groups that range from the American Civil Liberties Union to the Young Women's Christian Assn. of the U.S.A. National Board. Also included in the support list are the International Ladies Garment Workers Union, Americans for Democratic Action and the United States Catholic Conference.

These scholarships are offered to both male and female high school students who will be graduated and ready to enter college in the fall of 1982. Three year scholarships are offered for 1981 grads who will complete one year of college in 1981-82.

Upon graduation from college the scholarship students are commissioned as officers in the U.S. Navy and serve four years of active duty. Many elect to stay in the Navy and continue their careers in aviation, nuclear science, surface ships, or the Marine Corps. Those who decide to return to civilian life do so with four years of managerial responsibilities and experience added to their excellent college background, and are recognized by civilian employers as proven leaders. # Award winning designer opens hair styling shop in Oak Lawn Award-winning fashion hair designer, Laura Caifano, announces the opening of "Laura & Co." a unique hair styling and design studio at 4951 W. 95th Street, Oak Lawn, featuring her personally selected staff of experienced hair stylists.

The studio affords its clientele an elegant yet comfortable atmosphere in a setting geared to maximize efficient and personalized attention to all.

The studio reflects the achievement in design for which Laura is recognized. Its creative yet understated atmosphere is a culmination of a decade of dedication to the hair profession, during which Laura won 1st place in regional "total look" competition, and honorary membership in the National Hairdressers and Cosmetologists Assn. She and her equally competent associates have expert command of every aspect of today's world of hair design, including color, perming and French braiding, as well as professional hair styling.

Having worked in the Southwest metro area for many years, the designers of Laura & Co. have grown to appreciate fashion hair styling as an art form and a valid means of professional expression. As Laura herself states, "If a modern hair designer has really paid his dues and worked hard toward becoming the best for himself and his customers, he should consider himself on an equal plane with any other highly-regarded professional field. In a very real sense, hair designers promote the health and well being of the client and make them feel good about themselves."

In line with her philosophy, Laura uses Nexus products which combine scientifically natural ingredients formulated for the individual's specific hair type. To discern the hair type and quality of the client, Laura & Co. will perform a "tress test" on any client free of charge and prescribe the shampoo and conditioning treatment which will most benefit each.

This unique approach to hair design is the underlying theme of Laura & Co., name care and concern for the client as an individual.

MEET NEW ZEALAND

New Zealand is becoming a popular destination for more and more vacationing people from all over the world. There are still many though, who know very little about New Zealand's numerous attractions.

Diversity is the word that comes to mind when one visits this South Pacific land. Here are glaciers and snow covered mountains, tropical forests, spouting geysers and hot springs, and magnificent lakes and fiords. Although smaller than the state of California USA, New Zealand has a world of breathtaking scenery to offer.

The two main islands of New Zealand are North Island and South Island. The major cities are Auckland, the most highly populated; Wellington, the capital; and Christchurch. New Zealand enjoys a temperate climate with much milder seasonal changes than experienced in many sections of the United States. There is an

James Buschbach abundance of sunshine throughout the year and snow is limited to the mountains. New Zealand's seasons are different than in North America, with their summers corresponding to the winters.

Next time we'll talk about things to do and see in New Zealand. In the meantime, stop just thinking about that dream vacation and start making plans for it. Stop in at 5615 W. 95th Street and I'll assist with the preparations and make all the advance reservations for you. You just have to pack your bags and go.

Mal's men shop Oak Lawn landmark

"Mal's men's shop" is one of the jewels in the crown of the Village of Oak Lawn.

There is quite a bit of history behind the well-known men's clothing store. The original owner, Mal Jiganti who is still active in local affairs, opened the first shop in Chicago, Illinois on March 9, 1940.

Having the foresight to observe that Oak Lawn, on the south, was beginning to boom and population was on the rise, he moved his business location to the village.

In 1969, after enjoying the ownership of a successful shop for twenty-nine years, he sold the business to Gene Swanson, present owner of Mal's men's shop.

Tragedy struck in February 1976, when the store burned to the ground from unknown causes.

With the survival instinct intact, and a will to keep and service his regular customers, Gene Swanson relocated temporarily in a 500 square foot space in the rear of Baird & Warner, 5167 W. 95th Street, Oak Lawn.

In October 1976, "Mal's men's shop" was reopened, both a great deal larger and of modern design, at 5201 W. 95th Street, where the shop now dominates the southwest corner of 52nd Avenue in the heart of Oak Lawn.

The familiar shop handles only quality lines in men's wear such as Society, Petrocelli, Schoenaman, Palm Beach, Haggar, Jaymar, Arrow, Jantzen, Zero King and more. With any purchase one can receive personal service in matching shirts, ties, belts and other pertinent items necessary to complement the wardrobe selection. Alterations are free on all clothing at "Mal's men's shop" including those on slacks.

Gene Swanson, with an impeccable flair for men's styles, is a director of the Oak Lawn Chamber of Commerce, attends the majority of the board of director's meetings where he is often called on for his opinion and expertise in matters of importance.

"Citizen of the Decade," for a "Citizen of the Year" has been named since 1971, when Anthony DeSantis, owner of the Martinique

Restaurant-Drury Lane Theatres, became the "Citizen of the Decade."

Complete with fall leaves and pumpkins, symbolic of harvest time, co-chairman Joan Sieracki (far right), of St. Mary's and Evergreen Monument Company, holds a plaque, as she explains the significance of the "Citizen of the Decade" award to her committee (l to r) Jean Blasi, First National Bank of Evergreen Park; co-chairman Barbara Sherman, Heritage Standard Bank; Michael Fahey, Stewart's Family Store; and Laura Kresse, Heritage Standard Bank, who enthusiastically try to guess the identity of the mystery individual.

Also included on the agenda for the November 4th annual meeting is the announcement of the slate of officers and directors for the 1982 Chamber year. Guests may receive chances for turkeys and liquor baskets to be raffled that evening.

"Harvest Ball" tickets may be purchased thru Jean Blasi, First National Bank of Evergreen Park, 3101 W. 95th Street, phone 422-6700, at a cost of $20 each. Tickets purchased by Friday, October 23rd entitle the holders to chances in the early bird prize drawing to be conducted that evening.

Village board approves Northwest paving program

The Village of Oak Lawn passed an ordinance this past Tuesday, providing for improvements on parts of Nashville, Crescent Court, 91st Street, 89th Place, 88th Place, 88th Street and 87th Place. The residents will pay $22 a foot, or 26.78% with the public benefit at 73.22%.

Village attorney Pat Lucansky said before the ordinance was passed the interest rate on the homeowner installments had to be included. He said it would be set at 70% of the prime which is 18%, or, 12.6%. He said this is the highest the rate can go and should the prime come down before the bonds are issued, so will the rate of payment.

Trustee Jay Bergamini stated that he wanted to go on record as saying that he objected to the 26.78% resident portion and the 73.22% public benefit. He said that prior to the Public Hearing and Board of Local Improvements, they spoke of a spread of 65-35. Bergamini said that he should have spoken before about the homeowners paying less than originally proposed and the village is paying more.

"We locked ourselves in to $22," Bergamini said. "That amount was based on the percentage of a lower cost. When other figures were added on, and the cost went up, the homeowner portion should have gone up accordingly. When the spread is made and with construction costs going up, the homeowner portion can't go up.

"This is only part of a long program and when we move to another phase the people are going to want, demand and insist on the same cost and we can't afford it," Bergamini said. "Hopefully the bids will come in low."

Lucansky said that if the spread is made and estimates go higher that the village can go back and ask for supplementary funding.

Trustee Ron Stancik said that he agreed with Bergamini. "His arguments are valid," Stancik said. "However, we do have the option of rejecting the bids if the figures are prohibitive."

In other matters an ordinance relating to fire protection and prevention was amended.

Fire Chief Elmore Harker said that rather than take a policeman off the job to make an arrest, in relation to a fire, he has sent Fire-fighter Ed Finnegan to the fire academy for three weeks. While there, Harker said, they trained him to investigate fires without calling on the police and the revised ordinance would give Finnegan the power to make an arrest if necessary.

Police officer Michael Spellman, Sergeant Donald Idzik and Officer James Ball were all given Police Department Commendations.

cleaned by a professional chimney sweep to eliminate a buildup of creosote. Creosote is a by-product of burning wood, and an accumulation of it in your chimney could cause a fire.

Remember, used properly, fire can be a good friend; but if it is used carelessly or ignored, it may become a powerful enemy.

Fire Department tips for winter safety

Before we become deeply involved with old man winter and the inconveniences he foists upon us, the Oak Lawn Fire Department would like to pass on a few tips which could help you make it through the winter safely.

Homeowners should check and maintain the filters on their furnaces. A dirty filter can be a fire hazard, and it will decrease the efficiency of your furnace. Your chimney should be checked to make sure that birds or squirrels have not taken up residence there during the summer. Their nests can block the chimney and force the by-products of the furnaces' combustion (carbon monoxide, nitrous oxide, sulphur dioxide, etc) back into your home.

People who have and use wood burning stoves and fireplaces should have their chimneys checked and

Emergency service phone for hearing impaired

Trustee Jay Bergamini has announced that in keeping with the goals of the Village of Oak Lawn Committee for Service to the Handicapped, the Oak Lawn Police Department has installed an emergency service phone adapted to the needs of the hearing impaired. Thru the efforts of Sgt Scholtes, a grant was obtained to allow the Village to install this equipment.

Bergamini said that he appreciates the interest that his fellow Trustees and the Village staff has taken in bringing the service of the municipality on an equitable basis to all the residents of this community.

ABSENTEE BALLOTS AVAILABLE

Fuel change for Oak Lawn cars

An acknowledged skeptic, Oak Lawn Village Manager Dick O'Neill highly recommended the transition of all village vehicles from gasoline to natural gas, including the filling station, after a month long test of the installation on one squad car. After the report the board voted unanimously to spend the $104,000 for the conversion that O'Neill said would be paid back in savings in less than two years.

Police Chief John Haberkorn, who investigated the system and brought the proposal of the test to the board, was commended highly.

O'Neill said, "Special recognition is deserved by Chief of Police, John Haberkorn, for his leadership role in this program. He has demonstrated an administrative capacity that bodes well for the fiscal consideration that you are always facing in making your budgets."

O'Neill told the board, "At the termination of the project, Chief Haberkorn conducted a seminar with all the operators who generally had a very favorable impression about the operation of the vehicle utilizing this alternate fuel source. In my several inquiries throughout the country about this system, a consistent thread in every report was that pertaining to operator resistance. Chief Haberkorn dealt with this matter directly. It obviously will take a strong management position to convince personnel about the wisdom of the change. Questions concerning acceleration are realistic. When the management insists that the fuel be used constantly, the operators quickly adapt their driving patterns to any change.

"On the other hand," O'Neill said, "the operators brought out some excellent personal findings that will be valuable in implementing the system. The gauge indicating the amount of fuel left in the tank is not lighted and could not be read in the dark. Because of the operators comments the vendor will now provide a lighted gauge system."

In a comparison analysis drawn up by Haberkorn, the figures show that the squad car drove 1397 miles during the test period. The gas used to drive those same miles came to 155.2 gallons at $1.20 per gallon, or $186.27. The test car used 128.63 therms at $.37 natural gas cost per gallon, amounting to $47.60.

"Not included in these figures," Haberkorn said, "is the tremendous savings which we will realize since it will not be necessary to change oil or oil filters during the time we use these vehicles. We will also eliminate the changing of spark plugs, (estimated three times during our use time). There would be no use of the fuel pump which would eliminate possible replacement. There is a greatly reduced drain on the battery during the winter months due to instant starting."

Trustee Bob Bruce asked, "What can come back to bite us? Have you heard from any federal agencies that can find fault? What about a brown out and can you supply us thru infinity?" All questions were answered to his apparent satisfaction.

Trustee Jay Bergamini questioned David Newhouse of Northern Illinois Gas about the discussed deregulation of natural gas and the rise in cost.

Newhouse said that the system would pay for itself before deregulation and the most that could be expected was a 15% increase which would still be less than the cost of gas.

Trustee Ronald Stancik said if worse comes to worse we have the dual system to our advantage. He said, "We are saving $70,000 a year and I would like to congratulate our staff."

O'Neill said there are

Chamber Pet Parade winners

The Oak Lawn Chamber of Commerce Pet Parade was once again a huge success and enjoyed by participants and spectators many companies that could have been approached for cost but all were much the same. He recommended that the job go to Tri Fuels because of the proximity of this firm located in Justice. It is expected that the system will be installed within a month and the station be placed behind the Police Station to expedite refueling.

alike. This years first place winners of a trip to Disneyland for four, donated by the First National Bank of Oak Lawn, Heritage Bank of Oak Lawn, Oak Lawn Trust & Savings Bank and Heritage Standard Bank of Oak Lawn, were Kristi and Sandi Kacymark. The girls cleverly portrayed Popeye and Olive Oil with their dog as Sweet Pea. The second place trophy was won by Laura Lewalski and third place went to Ellie Hughes.

With less than two months remaining till Christmas the Chamber is now turning its attention to the festive Christmas Parade and Childrens Party. Chairman of this committee, Sam Mondello of Bars Unlimited, asks that you mark your calendar for November 22 and join to watch the parade and of course meet Santa.

To further add to the beauty of the Christmas season the Mayor and Board of Trustees of the Village of Oak Lawn have donated $4000 to the Chamber to help defray the cost of decorations for 95th Street and all intersections.

Monticello Candystriper of the Year

To honor employees and candystripers for their high calibre of care, Monticello held its annual Recognition Banquet recently at the Oak Lawn Holiday Inn.

Featured speaker, State House Speaker Harry "Bus" Yourell presented a resolution passed by the Illinois House of Representatives honoring Monticello's candystriper of the year.

The recipient was Miss Pam Leenheer of Justice, who has donated 1200 hours of candystripe work at Monticello.

Present at the banquet was Maryanne Leenheer, Pam's mother. Maryanne Leenheer previously received a five year pin for dedicated service.

Pins rewarding ten and five years of dedicated service were presented to employees by Joyce D. Hrabec, Administrator of the Oak Lawn Center and Joseph McGee, Executive Vice President of Monticello Convalescent Centers.

In the last ten years, candystripers and volunteers have dedicated over 100,000 hours of work at Monticello of Oak Lawn. Combined with Monticello's large dedicated staff, it's easy to see why they call it "quality care and quality living".

First Oak Lawn Senior Club announces coming events

The First Oak Lawn Senior Citizen Club was formed by seniors, who felt the need for such clubs. Organized in 1970, well attended and expanded to the limit of 70 members. Although the club has dwindled in membership, for various reasons, it is still very much alive.

For Halloween the officers furnished a free surprise Treat. A hot dog and trimmings. The Trick - each member to make the time a pleasant one.

A special Thanksgiving dinner and program has been planned and also a gala Christmas Party for the members.

"Big Mo", a captioned film for the deaf and the hearing impaired, will be shown on Saturday, November 7 at 2 pm at the Oak Lawn Public Library.

The movie tells the story of all-star basketball player, Maurice Stokes, who was struck down at the height of his career with a seemingly incurable illness and made an incredible comeback. Bernie Casey, Bo Swenson and Stephanie Edwards star.

The films are free and are for the deaf and the hearing impaired only. Because of occasional film cancellations, have a friend or family member call the library at 422-4990 before coming.

Christy offers help to smokers and dieters

"I've tried everything imaginable to quit smoking," the man explained, fidgeting noticeably as he scanned the room for an ashtray before the program started. "Nothing's worked, so I thought I'd try hypnosis."

It was the type of back-hand compliment to which Paul Christy has grown accustomed. For while hypnosis has always captured the literary imagination, it also has retained an aura of black magic and Svengali.

A resident of Hickory Hills, Christy has conducted earlier sessions at the Holiday Inn - Oak Lawn and has scheduled another for Wednesday, November 11.

Christy has been on many radio talk shows including the John Drummond Channel 2 show.

Attendance at one of the sessions promptly dispels many myths surrounding the subject. With few exceptions, the room is decorated so conventionally that it's almost a disappointment.

Any letdown, however, vanishes quickly with an introduction. There is an immediate sense of ease being in Christy's presence, a feeling of relaxation that comes with knowing, perhaps intuitively, that one is meeting a sincere person as he explains hypnosis.

Weight loss and "smoking" he does in groups. The charge is $35. Christy says that one visit is usually all that is necessary but if a person wants to come back for a "booster" the cost is $10.

He also handles other problems; sexual, pain, self-confidence, phobias, etc. The charge is $60.

The times for group seminars are; Weight - 11 am; Smoking - 1 pm; Weight - 7 pm; Smoking - 9 pm.

Christy is back at the same site every 4 to 8 weeks.

Huskey endorses Ryan for Lieutenant Governor

State Representative Herb Huskey has withdrawn from the Republican race for Lieutenant Governor.

"I have always been a strong Republican," Huskey said, "and I do not want to jeopardize party unity by staying in the race."

"Governor Thompson has selected George Ryan as his running mate, and I will abide by that decision," he said. "I have talked with Representative Ryan, and assured him that a Thompson-Ryan ticket would have my support and that of the Worth Township Regular Republican Org."

Huskey says he will seek a sixth term to the Illinois General Assembly next November.

"I was overwhelmed by the outpouring of constituent support and confidence when I announced my intentions to seek the Lieutenant Governor's post in August," Huskey said. "However, many of these same constituents are pleased that I will once again be available as their state representative."

"I will continue to be an ombudsman for my constituents, running a very people- and service-oriented office as I've done in the past."

Elected to the House in 1972, Huskey is chairman of the House Motor Vehicles Committee. He is also a member of the Cook County Republican Committee's Executive Board, and committeeman of the Worth Township Regular Republican Org. He owns a chain of auto parts stores in the Chicago metropolitan area.

Want to say this - about that!

Just have to say this about two subjects that came up just recently.

Aside from keeping Illinois money in Illinois, the plan that surfaced by the South Suburban Water Commission comprised of Chicago Heights Glenwood, Homewood, Olympia Fields and Flossmoor, to use Hammond, Indiana as a source of water only proves that someone has done a good selling job to the commission.

It is also very obvious that the commission has not done its homework very well or they would know that Hammond has not even been able to handle the sewer system efficiently and has been on the rack for polluting the very waters from which they would drink.

Ruling out Oak Lawn as the best and cheapest route to follow, when we already have the largest pumping station in the south suburbs built in and paid for, has to be part of a hard sell for the engineering firm that has made this ridiculous proposal. The towns involved would not only have to pay for the water to be piped but share a portion of the construction costs for the Hammond station.

Mayor Ernie Kolb has written a letter to Mayor Jayne Byrne to appraise her of the situation as Chicago was chosen as the alternative, or second choice. If Oak Lawn is not selected to supply the water at least the funds from Illinois towns should be kept in the state.

The other proposal that is also ridiculous was that made by John Oremus, Mayor of Bridgeview, that we form a "second city" uniting the suburbs outside of the Chicago city limits and all live under one roof. He claims it will cut down on overhead when all departments are combined, but cut down for who?

People that have lived in Oak Lawn these many years like it the way it is. Those that have moved here liked what they saw.

The towns surrounding Oak Lawn are mostly in need, Oak Lawn is not. To become involved in that situation we would be losing some of our goodies to fortify many small towns that are going broke.

At a recent "State of the Village" meeting with the Oak Lawn Chamber of Commerce, Mayor Kolb stated facts about the conditions in Oak Lawn. Sales tax was at a new high, building is still going on, we are adding two more car dealers which is a continued source of revenue and our taxes are not being raised and everything is just coming up roses. A "second city" - who needs it.

What do you think?

Threatening jurors now criminal act

Legislation co-sponsored by Representative Harry "Bus" Yourell to protect witnesses and jurors against harassment or intimidation by defendants in a criminal trial has been signed into law.

House Bill 576 makes it a felony to threaten or inflict bodily injury or to damage property of anyone or their families who serves as a witness or juror.

"Too many people are afraid to testify against criminals for fear of retribution by the criminals,"

Yourell said. "This law should encourage more people to come forth and testify by placing a tough penalty on those criminals who try to intimidate witnesses."

Furthermore, Yourell said his bill would discourage criminals from tampering with juries.

"We can't fight crime effectively if we can't get witnesses to cooperate and find public spirited people to serve on juries," Yourell said.

Free brochures for Cook County residents

Cook County Commissioner Ronald R. Larsen has announced the availability of a free brochure to assist the residents of Cook County. This brochure contains a directory of frequently needed government phone numbers and an inflation fighting/energy saving section.

Larsen stated, "During my seven years as your Cook County Commissioner, I have received thousands of constituent requests for governmental assistance. In this brochure, I have listed the agencies most frequently called upon for help or information. I have provided this type of brochure in the past. However, I believe the new, up-dated version is the very best quick-reference directory of its kind available."

If you are interested in obtaining a copy of this brochure, please write my office at 118 N. Clark St., Room 567, County Building, Chicago, IL 60602, or phone 443-4209.

Restaurant in Evergreen Park. Huskey has also been nominated for the Forum's state award that will be presented at an October conference in Springfield.

"This tribute is very gratifying," Huskey said.

Calls for practice of Open Meetings Act

The Cook County Board has approved a resolution proposed by Commissioner Carl R. Hansen calling on the State's Attorney to advise it concerning provisions of the recently revised Illinois Open Meetings Act.

"It is imperative that the Cook County Board scrupulously adhere to the provisions of the revised Illinois Open Meetings Act," Hansen said in offering his resolution to the Board. "Not only meetings of the Board itself, but also its committees, sub-committees and commissions must be thoroughly familiar with and follow the Act. As a result, it is imperative that the information and guidelines developed for all Cook County government meetings be carefully set forth."

"All citizens have a right to know what is being done with their taxes," Hansen stated. "The Cook County Board, which in the past has frequently been less than open with information on the public's business, needs explicit guidelines so this right to know is not violated in the future. In the past, for example, meetings of the county's Home Rule Study Commission were held without proper public notice and observation. Such practices must not be repeated. As a result, the passage of this resolution is particularly gratifying."

It is expected that the State's Attorney will provide the requested guidelines in the near future.

Time Tables Available

Rep Harry "Bus" Yourell has a supply of Illinois Standard Shooting Time Tables from the Department of Conservation for distribution to sportsmen in the district. As you know on any given day from September thru January, there is a wide difference in actual time for sunrise and sunset throughout the state.

These tables will determine the legal shooting times of sunrise and sunset at a specific location and will be a valuable aid to the hunter, our Division of Law Enforcement and the court system and the media.

If you have need of a copy, please contact Rep Yourell by writing to him at 4740 W. 95th Street or phoning him at 422-9300.

Please give your name and address and city, village goals of senior citizens, but it has also allowed me to act in their behalf.

"Rest assured that my offices will remain open to all senior citizens," he said. "I welcome their views, and I urge all of them to call on me whenever I can be of assistance."

The Region 13 1981 Senior Legislator Award was based on Huskey's voting record on issues important to senior citizens; his efforts to help them with questions and problems; his sharing of information about legislation, and available programs and services; and his senior directory, UPDATE. Region 13 covers suburban Cook County, and is one of 13 regions in the state.

Schnitz no stranger to Village of Oak Lawn

Howard M. Schnitz (Howie), owner and operator of S & S Men's Store, is no stranger to the men's sportswear, work clothes, and shoe business. His grandfather, Aaron Schnitz, founded S & S Men's Store in 1947 as a family business. In 1948, Howie's father, Alex, opened a store at 5253 W. 95th Street, Oak Lawn. In 1963 he moved to larger quarters at 5215 W. 95th Street, the present location. In 1975, a two-story adjoining building was erected to accommodate the steadily growing business.

Howard started working at S & S Men's Store when he was 13 - sweeping floors, washing windows and running errands. He gradually got into the sales and inventory aspects during high school. He attended the University of Illinois and graduated from Roosevelt University.

Before becoming totally involved with S & S, Howard worked for two manufacturers in related fields, garnering the experience those positions offered. He returned to the business in Oak Lawn in 1965. When his father retired in 1971, Howard assumed full responsibility for the operation of S & S. Alex Schnitz will be remembered by many old timers in Oak Lawn for his participation in community affairs, including President of the Chamber of Commerce for 2 years.

Howard served in the United States Reserves for six years. He is a member of the Oak Lawn Chamber of Commerce. He has been married to Donna for 18 years, and they have three children: Dale 14; Aaron 13; and Julie 9.

S & S Men's Store carries a complete line of men's wear and accessories, including the largest inventory of Nationally Advertised Brands of Boys and Mens jeans and slacks in all sizes for young and old - Casual and Western Shirts - Jackets - Work Clothes - Shoes and Boots. ## Today is Great!

By Helene Marshall

I was walking thru Governors State University in Park Forest South a few weeks ago doing some work on a research paper on nutrition, when this project is completed I will reveal the outcome to you; I looked around and stopped to think of the vast amount of culture and education under one roof available to anyone regardless of age, religious background; no limits barred.

Take a little walk with me thru the Campus at Governors State University. Did you notice the box office right down this hall? That's where they sell tickets for various theatre productions with excellent performances by students and also outside individuals who are interested in the arts.

Let's walk to the opposite end of the University, see that room on the other side; I accidentally walked in one evening and saw a jazz performance by a south suburban high school that was par excellence; the perfectionism of the band director and his students was amazing.

You'll notice some students are studying by the cafeteria; in the summer it's beautiful to sit outside those glass doors reading and studying.

When I first became a student at Governors State University, I decided to attend the orientation of new students; and I would recommend the orientation highly. It was arranged like a social gathering with refreshments and friendliness. Walk in, help yourself to some coffee and cookies and hear the enthusiasm of the staff; they're ready and willing to answer your question, explain the curriculum, and hear your opinions.

I know we just created an imaginary situation; you were unable to actually walk around the university with me and attend the orientation, but I hope this gave you the incentive to take this walk on your own. You'll be giving yourself a gift. I originated a certain phrase that I use quite often when it fits the situation; it seems apropos today - A gift of knowledge never wears out.

If you're thinking about converting your home to solar heat, the last step should be buying the collectors and hiring a contractor to install the hardware.

In fact, architects agree that the first step should be to upgrade your home's insulation and to tighten the structure so it holds the heat where you want it. Once you've done this, they add, you'll still realize savings on your heating and cooling bills and you may decide to hold off further action for a while. Half a loaf, in this case, is almost as good as a whole one.

Determining exactly the right solar heating system for your home is a consultant's job. How many collectors? Where will they be placed? Where will the pipes that transport the heat from the collectors to your heating system run? What about pumps? Storage tanks? Fans? All these vital components and more are needed for a solar heating system.

The architects also agree that you should try to incorporate as many passive solar techniques into your home as possible. Some of these are easy and cheap, too.

Passive techniques take advantage of the fact that the sun appears at various levels in the sky from season to season. The winter sun, for example, is much lower in the southern sky than the summer sun. Using this difference, you can make changes to block out the higher summer sun, while admitting the lower winter sun. One way is to install awnings on southern and western exposure windows. Another is to plant trees to provide shade in summer months when the sun's heat is greatest.

One important point to consider is that solar heating systems are better suited in northern Illinois for augmenting conventional systems rather than the other way around. This is due to shorter winter days and lower sun angles. Also, because we frequently experience extended periods of overcast skies, a back up heating system is essential.

If you choose clean electric heat as your back up system, you can take advantage of the same electricity rates offered to customers who use it to heat their entire home. If you choose the modern heat pump, which in itself is a solar heating machine, you'll help to conserve scarce fuels.

The heat pump gets its name from the fact that it "pumps" heat from one place to another. In winter, it gathers solar heat present in the air on even the coldest days and moves it inside your home. During summer, it pumps inside heat to the outside. It is very efficient, because it delivers at least 1.5 heat units for each energy unit consumed. No other conventional heating system can make that claim.

Oak Lawn to celebrate 100 years of Growth

Get set! The year 1982 will be a year of great celebrating in the Village of Oak Lawn. Perhaps some of our residents are unaware that the coming year will mark the 100th Anniversary of the Founding of the Village of Oak Lawn. According to records produced by Bill Sullivan of the Oak Lawn Historical Society, a village named "Oak Lawn" did exist 100 years ago. This discovery was presented to the President and Board of Trustees at a recent meeting, confirmed by them by proclamation and thus became a reality.

The Special Events Commission comprised of Davis Boyd, Chairman and members LeRoy Corradino, Bob Gaul, Linda Vorderer, Bill Strickfaden, Sharyn Guerin and Lenore Colson are already initiating plans to make July, 1982 one of the biggest celebrations in the history of Oak Lawn.

Extensive plans are underway, committees formed and a series of meetings have already been held with village personnel, service organizations and fraternal groups working together to create a year long celebration, with the highlights of the year from July 3rd thru 11th, 1982.

Kick-off for the celebration will be a Centennial Art Fair, July 3 and 4. An Ecumenical Service is planned for July 4 followed by a Pancake Breakfast which will be hosted by the Oak Lawn Richards Leo Club and the Oak Lawn High School Key Club. The Park District plan their annual Water Ball Contest, a Square Dance Jamboree with Statewide contestants, concluding the Fourth of July with Fireworks and big name entertainment.

An Anniversary Carnival is being planned. A Village Dinner/Dance will be held at the Sabre Room with top line entertainment and guests headlining this event. They anticipate over a thousand people will attend.

During the celebration, the village will host Food Fests at various locations thruout the village and will feature a variety of ethnic foods along with fun-filled entertainment.

A five-hour parade will highlight the Anniversary Celebration. The Shriner's Ensemble and their Black Horse Troop, the Budweiser Clydesdale Horses, bands from the various branches of the service along with local and state school bands, plus numerous floats are just some of the entries that are expected.

"A Century of Growth" will be the theme for the eight day celebration with the stores and homes decorated to depict the look of a century ago. It is hoped the residents of Oak Lawn will dress to create an aura of the olden days. Men will be expected to grow beards with a special jail sentence and fine being imposed on anyone without one. The commission is in the process of planning decals, badges, pennants, T-shirts, a souvenir book and other anniversary items.

The commissioners believe that more than a half-million people will participate in this Anniversary Celebration. They expect to have literature available after January 1, 1982 detailing the events being planned. The information will be available at the Village Hall, Chamber of Commerce, in local newspapers or by calling the Historical Society, 425-3424, or the Village Hall, 636-4400.

Park District to feature Christmas Craft Display

The Oak Lawn Park District is featuring a Christmas Craft display on Saturday, November 28, at Clark School, 105th and Lockwood, from 9 am until 4 pm. This is your opportunity to purchase beautiful hand made Christmas decorations and novelties in time for the holiday season.

If you would like to display your handcrafts, you may rent a space for $10. Registrations will be accepted in the Park District Office located in the McDonald School Building, 99th and South Kostner. All checks should be payable to the Oak Lawn Park District. Absolutely no commercial or business displays will be accepted. For further details call the park district office at 424-7300.

Ozinga 'Citizen of the Decade'

Martin Ozinga, Jr., President of the First National Bank of Evergreen Park and Clearing Bank, was honored as the "Citizen of the Decade" at the Harvest Ball Festival held at the Beverly Country Club on November 4. Robert E. Kennedy, President of the Evergreen Park Chamber of Commerce, is pictured presenting a mounted crystal evergreen to Ozinga as a symbol of his lifelong service to the people of the community.

Proclaim Michael Wilson Day Wednesday, November 25th

"Michael Wilson Day" was proclaimed by the Oak Lawn board this past Tuesday. Michael, an eight year old boy, was in an accident that occurred at 89th and Ridgeland and he now lies in a coma. Michael, a student at Harnew School, will have his ninth birthday on November 25, and the resolution asked that everyone say a prayer on that day for Michael's recovery.

A relief fund has been set up for Michael at the First National Bank of Oak Lawn, 93rd & Cicero. It was asked that the residents "open their hearts" in this cause to help defray the cost that is becoming prohibitive for the family. Send your checks made out to the Michael Wilson Fund.

An ordinance to allow the burning of leaves during certain hours on specified days was turned down by the board mainly for ecology reasons.

The leaf collection has been costing the village $50 to $60 thousand a year and according to Mayor Ernie Kolb the leaves are dumped at an additional cost of $8000.

Mayor Kolb warned the residents that this is very costly for the village and soon they will have to pay for pick-up. (When the leaves are bagged they will be picked up along with the garbage, when they are left loose at the curb the village trucks pick them up.)

In other matters the board denied the petition for a "Speedy Lu e" at 10620 Cicero and a request by Theresa Thomas for a business license to operate an arcade game room at 9022 S. Cicero.

Trustee Jay Bergamini has proposed that the official board meetings be reduced from three meetings a month to the 1st and 3rd Tuesday. The second Tuesday meeting would be used to study and discuss items to be brought before the board at the regular meeting. Many times agenda items have been introduced on such short notice that it leaves little time for perusal or knowledgeable discussion.

How to retire...

with over two million dollars!

It's entirely possible when you open an Evergreen Bank IRA (Individual Retirement Account) at either First National of Evergreen or Clearing Bank before the age of 30 (based on an interest rate of 15%)! If you are older, you have fewer years to build your nest egg, so funds will not accumulate as rapidly. Find your possibilities on this chart.

Today, if you're not covered by a company pension plan, open a tax deferred IRA that can outpace inflation and compound dramatically! Start now with as little as $500. You can add to this before you file your 1981 income tax (or before April 15, 1982) up to these maximum limits: $1,500 individually or $1,750 if filing jointly. A husband and wife, both working, can have separate individual accounts.

All income taxes on IRA accounts are deferred through the years until you begin to withdraw between the ages of 59 1/2 to 70 1/2. Imagine... you earn high interest on money you would have paid out in taxes. All IRA accounts are fully insured to $100,000.

Pre-planning freezes funeral costs!

With inflation, a funeral in six years may cost twice as much as now! Blake-Lamb Pre-need Funeral Programs prevent this. They fix the cost at today's prices - even less. Three-way savings are achieved: 1.) There is a 7% to 9% Blake-Lamb discount. 2.) No matter when the funeral takes place, the price is fixed at today's rates. The money is protected in Trust. 3.) Time payment plans are available with life and disability insurance included. Plans are tailored to fit every budget and start as low as $47.16 per month.

Realizing the need for a program such as this, Matt and Dick Lamb have assigned Joe Hennessey (center) the task of informing people about the Plans. Call Joe for complete information - 735-4242. There is no obligation, of course.

Park Lawn opens Tower Project

The Park Lawn Association, in continuing its twenty-six year tradition of excellence in programming, looks to the community for support and assistance as they begin their "tower project," supporting a lifetime residential care center for the mentally retarded. A committee, composed of family members of students of Park Lawn and representatives of local businesses, (l to r, seated) Maurice Barger, Jr., Dorothy Durante, Laura Kresse, Bonnie Kresse, Helen Maty, Laura Ipema, Matt Birk, Helen Birk; (l to r, standing) Tom Mines, Kay Fredenberger, Carol Jimmy, Martha Dumke, Mary Senkpeil, Pat Pratt, Mary Sullivan, and Joan Wynne, planned the luncheon and press conference. Co-chairman of the "tower project" are Dorothy Durante, director of public relations for Park Lawn, and Maurice Barger, Jr.

The Park Lawn Association hosted a V.I.P. luncheon and press conference on Friday, November 6 at their school and activity center, located at 10823 S. LaPorte Avenue in Oak Lawn. The luncheon, presenting "realization of a dream," was the kick-off for the residential program for the association. Having served over one thousand mentally retarded children and adults from Chicago and the surrounding communities in the school and workshop programs, phase one and two, the association is now about to begin phase three, the residential program.

Currently under renovation for the project is a building which has been purchased at 5831 W. 115th Street in Alsip. Although the doors of the center will not open until the spring of 1982, the response from the community has made a waiting list necessary, as in the inception of the first two program phases. Expansion plans are in process for the center, which will open with capacity for 41 residents. The third Park Lawn phase is designed so that those who have grown up together can grow old together.

Another 'First' for Oak Lawn?

The need for senior and young adult housing has grown beyond the stage of wishful thinking and has become a vital necessity.

Soon after Trustee Jay Bergamini took office, and living in an area where condo conversions have been on a larger scale than other areas of Oak Lawn, he realized the effect it was having on this group of people who could not afford to purchase their own homes and they were leaving the village.

Bergamini asked the Board of Trustees for a moratorium on conversions but the motion failed due to the very nature of the request that would violate the owners rights to do what they would with their own property.

A seven member Rental Development Committee was then formed to attempt to reach a housing solution whereby the seniors and young adults could remain in the village.

The committee was comprised of Bergamini; Trustee Charles Meloun; Quality Control Director Norm Bacon; LeRoy Corradino, Oak Lawn Trust & Savings Bank; Mildred Sujka, George Washington Savings & Loan; Beth McElroy, representing the young adults and John Hayes, senior citizen.

The committee, after exploring all possibilities for the site, plans for construction, operation, maintenance and cost, presented a special report recently to the Board of Trustees.

Statistics in the study proved that rental units were diminishing so fast each year that should it continue there would soon be none available for renters either young or old. By the same token, property where rentals could be constructed in Oak Lawn, is diminishing at an even faster rate. The ultimate conclusion is that renters will be forced to become homeowners, or pack up and move out leaving our population growth stagnant.

The largest and most practical site chosen by the committee was the trailer park owned by the village and deemed too valuable to go undeveloped. The artists rendering showed two buildings of 120 units each, one specifically designated for seniors and one for young adults. The cost was estimated at $10,000,000.

Bergamini said that five avenues of financing were studied, but the committee had concluded that interest rates were too high to fund the project at this time. He added that the committee will continue to seek means of financing or hold the project in abeyance until money conditions ease up.

The committee was commended for an excellent report.

The Village of Oak Lawn has always been proud of their many "firsts". Surely there is a way to finance such a project and once again lead the way for other communities to follow. Nothing is impossible -- not easy -- but not impossible. In five years, or when the rates come down, we may not need the housing anymore -- the renters and the young people that boost our population will have all moved out.

Oak Lawn will celebrate "A Century of Growth" next year. Wouldn't it be just great if we could top it off with the building program at least started. What a way to go!

Huskey speaks to greater senior protection

State Representative Herb Huskey was a featured speaker at the Senior Legislative Forum's 4th annual conference in Springfield on October 26.

The event was sponsored by the Governor's Office of Inter-Agency Cooperation.

Participating in a panel discussion on "Legislation Needed for Seniors," Huskey said one of his top legislative priorities is "to give senior citizens greater protection thru tougher anti-crime legislation."

"Stories about senior citizen attacks, robberies, swindles and other abuses are heartbreaking," Huskey told the conference participants, "but they also make me mad, and I hope you share that reaction, too."

Huskey proposed a change in state law that will tell judges to take into account that the victim of a crime was a senior citizen when pronouncing sentence on the convicted criminal. Currently, Huskey says, only the criminal gets special consideration during sentencing, as his or her previous record and other related factors are reviewed.

"My proposal doesn't increase penalties for a crime, but it can prompt the judge to render the maximum rather than lightest sentence to the criminal," he explained. "This get tough approach, in turn, will deter would-be offenders from preying on senior citizens.

"If someone in their 30's gets a wallet with $200 stolen it's, to be sure, a severe economic blow," Huskey said. "But if that victim happens to be a senior citizen living on Social Security, the loss of that $200 is devastating."

Huskey says he will introduce his senior citizen anti-crime legislation during the General Assembly's 1982 session. Additional information is available from him at 424-5000.

Oak Lawn Cancer Society offers Holiday Cards

The Oak Lawn Unit of the American Cancer Society, in cooperation with the South Suburban Unit, is offering Holiday Greeting Cards again this year for those who wish to combine their holiday message with an expression of support for the society's programs to prevent cancer and reduce its effects. Two selections are available this year and the insides of both cards carry a small imprint of the Sword of Hope with the legend, "This cards represents a gift to the American Cancer Society."

The featured card this year has a nature theme with multi-colored birds and an embossed "Seasons Greetings" message in gold. The other selection available is a traditional theme showing a Currier and Ives winter scene. Toni Lang, Oak Lawn Unit Chairwoman, announced this as one of the unit's fund-raising programs and your donation of $15 per box of 25 cards is tax deductible and, for an additional small fee, may be ordered with imprinting.

For further information or to reserve your cards, call the American Cancer Society at 747-0403.

Russo Reports from Washington

by Congressman Marty Russo

My congressional office has received some valuable cold-weather preparedness tips from the Illinois Emergency Services and Disaster Agency, I want to share with you. Also, in a different area of concern, but as important in many ways, the subject of children and the effect of television on them is of interest to all of us who are parents. The Television Information Office has set forth some suggestions on the subject.

*****

"With a little help from you, your children can get a lot more out of television," according to Dr Louise Bates of the Gesell Institute of Child Development. She suggests four steps to use television as an instrument for learning and for bringing the family closer together:

1. Know what your children are watching. Set limits to their viewing when necessary and watch with them when you can as a sharing experience. Suggest programs you feel they'd like.

2. Explain the things about a program that your children don't understand. You can help your child understand what's real and what's make-believe. You may be surprised what they know and also what they don't.

3. Discuss the program. Let the discussion lead to whatever interests or puzzles them. Listen to their point of view. This can help unlock feelings.

4. Watch television with your children as a way of getting to know them. You'll learn about their values and their tastes and they'll learn about yours.

TIME TO WINTERIZE: Just some old-fashioned common sense and some "be prepared" attitudes can avert discomfort or even death. The Illinois Emergency Services and Disaster Agency has these suggestions:

At home and at your business, make sure that battery-operated equipment is fully operational in case of conventional power interruption. Keep flashlights in convenient locations and keep a supply of candles on hand.

When you're outside, wear several layers of light, loose-fitting clothing, to prevent perspiring and subsequent chilling. Protect all extremities from bitter cold or extended exposure.

In your car, check the battery, anti-freeze, exhaust system, tires and ignition system. Carry blankets, flares, booster cables, matches, candles, a first-aid kit and flashlight. Hundreds of motorists are stranded each year and some die.

If trapped in a vehicle during a blizzard:

1. Stay in your vehicle. Disorientation can come quickly in drifting snow and being lost can mean certain death.

2. Turn on the dome light to help highway or rescue crews find you.

3. Signal for help by honking the horn. Use three groups of three honks.

4. Prevent carbon monoxide poisoning by running the engine and heater sparingly. Be sure the exhaust system is clear of snow and keep at least one window open slightly.

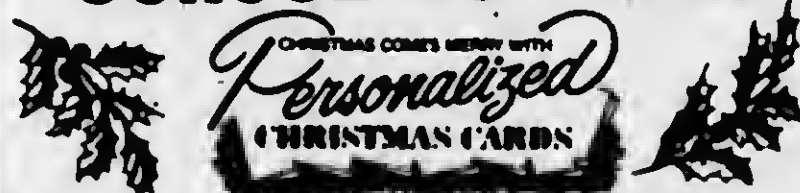

5. Keep watch. Do not permit all occupants to sleep at once.

6. Exercise by clapping hands and moving arms vigorously. Do not remain in one position too long.

For further winter weather preparedness tips, call or visit your city or county Emergency Services and Disaster Agency.

Decorative decoys displayed at First National

Fran Wirtz of Palos Heights has continued the work of her late husband "Tex" by mastering the complex art of duck carving. Aided by Greg Sumner, her tutored assistant, they start with a block of wood, shape it, carve and burn each and every feather, and then very carefully paint the ducks for a most realistic result. After completion this duck is called a "Decorative Decoy" and can be used as an ornament on fire places, curio or China cabinets. Perfect examples of this intricate work are presently exhibited at the First National Bank of Evergreen Park, 3101 W. 95th Street and will remain on display thru November 25. Also exhibited for this period are the paintings of the Town and Country Art League.

Reception funds vehicle for Father Felix Perel

Recently over 100 people attended the gala fund raiser reception for Father Felix Perel at the Lisle home of Mr. & Mrs. Richard J. Lamb, of Blake-Lamb Funeral Homes.

Father Felix Perel, a catholic priest from France, recently received his doctor or Chiropractic degree at the National College of Chiropractic, Lombard, IL. Before coming to America, Father Felix spent 17 years living and working as a missionary with the Congolese people in Africa, during which time his accomplishments were amazing. It has been the ambition of Father Perel's to go back to Africa and set up a self-sustaining Chiropractic Clinic, which could help thousands of people there.

The committee who worked on this fund raiser reception announced that the funds raised at the reception will help Father Felix buy a four-wheel

Buschbach speaks of unspoiled islands

Everyone dreams of an island paradise of majestic mountains and waterfalls, deep blue sea, golden shores, and flowers growing everywhere. But are there still unspoiled islands for travelers to visit? You bet there are -- and one of the most beautiful is Tahiti.

Tahiti, a French Polynesian island in the South Pacific, is a place where a visitor can forget all the pressures of the busy world he left behind. He can view colorful tropical fish or coral in a crystal-clear lagoon, go deep sea fishing, relax on the marvelous sandy beaches, or enjoy a Tamaara -- a luscious Tahitian feast. Those who want nightlife will find it in Tahiti -- and there are fine restaurants specializing in delicious French and Oriental cuisine. Shoppers love Tahiti for its Tuamotu pearls, pearl shell jewelry, native wood carvings, and colorful hand-painted shirts and dresses. There are also good buys on French James Buschbach perfume and other items from France.

Tahiti isn't just a beautiful place, it's also a place of beautiful people. The French Polynesian natives love laughter and fun. Their simple life and friendly ways are what make Tahiti a true island paradise.

Once again the students in Grades 3 thru 6 at Oak View Elementary School, 4625 W. 110th Street, Oak Lawn, are participating in a special reading program which is designed to encourage them to become better acquainted with books while giving them an opportunity to help others.

The MS READ-A-THON is a pleasure reading program in which youngsters read as many books as possible over a four week period. Approximately 17,000 people in the northern Illinois area are afflicted with Multiple Sclerosis, a disease of the central nervous system. ### Story Time at Lawn Manor Primary Center

Linda Johnson, children's librarian at the Alsip-Merrionette Park Library, visited the Lawn Manor Primary Grade Center on October 8. Miss Johnson presented an interesting story to each kindergarten and first grade class. The children in Mrs. Weis's first grade class thoroughly enjoyed the lively rendition of the Danish folktale, "Fat Cat", by Jack Kent.

Glenwood- A school for boys

"A day always starts out good -- how it ends depends on you!"

That message, written on the blackboard in the typing classroom at Glenwood School for Boys, is typical of the "positive mental attitude" that prevails at this private school for Chicago-area boys from single-parent families.

"The biggest motivation we try to use here is to develop the child's self-concept, to make him believe he is worthwhile, he is good, he can make the honor roll," says Glenwood Principal Fred Dunleavy. "Above all, we want the boys to believe in themselves."

The school is a residential community for boys aged 7 to 18. Second through eighth graders attend classes on the 175 acre campus at 187th and Halsted streets in south suburban Glenwood. High school students attend a nearby public high school.

The boys who come to Glenwood are usually referred by school counselors or community workers. They come from homes disrupted by death, divorce, desertion or extreme financial need. Often, their problems at home carry over and become problems at their public school.

Likewise, students with minor learning disabilities are given individualized instruction in the school's Learning Resource Center to help them overcome the problem. With this approach, "you see results almost immediately," says Dunleavy.

Glenwood's boys take all the usual elementary school subjects: math, science, social studies, language arts, literature, art, music and physical education. Sixth, seventh and eighth graders also take typing and journalism, subjects that are somewhat unusual in a grade school setting.

"We were one of the first grade schools to start a typing program," explains teacher Trudy Dykton.

In eighth grade, they begin producing a bimonthly newspaper called "The Word." In the process, they learn to edit copy and prepare several drafts before arriving at a finished product.

After school, Glenwood boys can participate in a wide variety of extracurricular activities, including intramural and interscholastic sports, arts and crafts, band and choir, a radio club, field trips and school dances.

Firefighters thrill children

The Merrionette Park Firefighters visited the Lawn Manor Primary Center in School District 125 on October 7. Kindergarten and first graders were instructed to stop, drop, and roll by a talking fire engine named Snuffy in a fire safety film. The children were then invited to inspect an ambulance and two fire trucks. The youngsters were thrilled and excited when firemen lifted them onto the fire trucks for a surprise ride through neighborhood streets. The children delighted in the blasting sirens and clanging bells of their first, real, honest-to-goodness ride on a fire truck.

Oak Lawn Chamber bringing Santa Claus to village

Guess who is coming to town! The Oak Lawn Chamber of Commerce is proud to announce that the 6th Annual "Christmas in Oak Lawn" will be held on Sunday, November 29 with Santa and Mrs Claus riding high in the parade to welcome in the greatest season of all. Mayor and Mrs Ernest Kolb and Sal Crivellone, President of the Oak Lawn Chamber of Commerce, will be the parade marshals.

A new parade route was formed last year, and will be the same this year, to acquaint the residents with many of the new shops in Oak Lawn.

The Christmas Parade Committee, Sam Mondello, Chairman, (Bars Unlimited); Tom Gavin (Oak Lawn Independent); Linda Kotsovos (Concordia Federal Savings and Loan) and Mary Lotz (House of Mary), have proclaimed this festive occasion the greatest of all with a huge turnout expected.

The parade will step off promptly at 12 noon from the K-Mart parking lot at 110th and Cicero. The parade will travel north on Cicero to 95th Street, then proceed west on 95th Street to Cook Avenue where it will disperse.

Then the fun begins for the young people and pleasure for the adults at the Johnson-Phelps VFW Post on 52nd Avenue. Cookies and hot chocolate will be served and gifts of candy and a beautiful coloring book will be given to the children. Coffee will also be served.

Santa Claus will be present in his merry red suit, and flowing white beard, to visit with the youngsters and ask, "Have they been good or bad". Garfield Goose, the incredible puppet, will be on hand to entertain the entire family.

Sal Crivellone promises a special Santa's Mail Box to be placed at 95th Street and Cook Avenue, next to the Village Christmas tree for the children to deposit their letters to Santa Claus.

Santa Claus can also be visited at a later date at various merchants in the village. Watch the local newspapers for times and dates.

'Home for the Holidays'

International Christmas will be the theme of the show as they travel thru the different countries of Germany, Ireland, Italy, China, Poland, Spain, France and returning homeland to the United States.

Participants, staff and many volunteers have been working diligently on music, costumes and dance routines.

To herald in the Christmas season, members of the Oak Lawn Chamber of Commerce and the Village of Oak Lawn, are on hand to light the great and beautiful Village Tree at 95th and Cook Avenue. Shown (l to r) are: Paul Lunk in the "Cherry Picker"; George Dempsey; Tom Gavin; Director of Public Works, Don Canning; Sam Mondello; Mayor Ernest F. ## Approve Oak Lawn funds for parking

Gov. James R. Thompson has announced the approval of a state - federal grant for the design engineering and purchase of land for added commuter parking facilities in Oak Lawn.

This grant represents the first phase in the construction of 362 long term parking spaces and 40 "kiss-n-ride" spaces in an area bounded by 51st Avenue, 96th Street, Tulley Avenue and the Norfolk and Western Railroad for commuters using the railroad.

In this 1981 International Year of the Disabled Person. For additional information contact Diane Johnson, 425-1602.

Construction is scheduled for some time after July 1, 1982. The full cost of the project will be determined after engineering is complete and purchase of the land is negotiated by the community.

This project is part of a total grant of $1,993,029 in federal grants that will be matched with a total of $351,711 in state funds.

The funds from the U.S. Urban Mass Transportation Administration were freed thru the cancellation of the Crosstown Expressway project.

"Mayor Ernie Kolb said, "This office is indebted to the assistance that was rendered to this community by our elected officials, namely, Representatives Huskey, Yourell and Barnes and Senator Frank Ozinga. Without the support of these elected personnel such an accomplishment would not be possible. Our Congressional Representatives, namely, Marty Russo and Ed Derwinski also deserve our thanks for their support."

The Michael Wilson Relief Fund has been established in Oak Lawn to assist Michael's parents, Mr and Mrs Hiram Wilson, with the continuing cost of medical expenses required for his care.

Michael, 8, a student at Harnaw School in Oak Lawn, was crossing 89th & Ridgeland on August 29th, when he was hit by a car. He has remained in a coma since then.

Presently, Michael is in Christ Hospital. Although his parents continue to hold out hopes for his recovery, doctors are uncertain as to the eventual outcome of his injuries.

The family is desperately in need of funds to continue the specialized medical and nursing care required, according to Sandy Gilbert, who heads the committee for the fund drive.

Donations should be mailed to the Michael Wilson Relief Fund, First National Bank of Oak Lawn, 9400 S. Cicero, Oak Lawn, IL 60453.

For further information phone Kay Slemeck, 599-3524 or Sandy Gilbert, 599-4494.

Scenes of Americana at Clearing Bank

John Slobodnik has captured the rustic beauty and charm of the United States in his paintings on exhibit thru November at Clearing Bank, 5235 W. 63rd Street.

John Slobodnik's work reflects an artist in love with America and the American people. It is his belief that little moments add up to great meaning in our lives.

"As an illustrator, I want to create an awareness of the apparently unimportant moments in all our lives that can slip by unnoticed and can so easily be taken for granted," said Slobodnik. This theme of gratitude fits in so well with the meaning of the Thanksgiving holiday.

Slobodnik's work is regularly featured on the covers and in the pages of national magazines such as "Ideas" and "Good Old Days", as well as on books and calendars. Most recently, he was selected to exhibit as a finalist in the Arthur A. Baer Memorial Art Competition in Chicago.

Chesterfield officer donates doll house to Villa Santa Maria

Bill DeHaan, president of Chesterfield Federal, Robert Cusack, constructor of the doll house and Sister Mary Domitilla.

Robert Cusack, assistant vice president and consumer loan officer for Chesterfield Federal, recently donated a doll house in Chesterfield Federal's name, for the first prize in a raffle held by the Villa Santa Maria Pre-school and Kindergarten during their annual fund raiser. The drawing was held October 28 at Villa Santa Maria, 167th and Oak Forest Avenue in Tinley Park.

Cusack constructed the doll house specifically as a donation to the school after building a doll house for his daughter. "This doll house was quite a project. It took approximately six months to build, working lunch and dinner hours. I thought that it was a great way to show my appreciation for the great work the Sisters are doing at Villa Santa Maria. My daughter attended the school and I've enjoyed helping the school in any way that I can," states Cusack.

Classes are conducted at Villa Santa Maria, Monday thru Friday from 8:45 am to 11:45 am.

Pre-school children must be 4 years old by December 1 and 5 years old for Kindergarten. Pre-school children master the Alphabet, numbers 1 to 10, have visual aids, seasonal programs and other activities appropriate for their age level. The Kindergarten class is introduced to modern math; use pre-reading skill books for the 1st and 2nd semesters and visual aids. Registration for both groups is the second Saturday in March.

"We're very grateful to Mr. Cusack and to Chesterfield Federal for donating the doll house for our fund raiser. It is a magnificent contribution and will be a great help toward achieving contributions. This doll house will make a wonderful gift or a beautiful conversation item in someone's home," states Sister Mary Domitilla.

In your best interest

At the request of Trustee Ron Stancik, a resolution opposing the "Second City" was approved unanimously by the Oak Lawn Board of Trustees. The resolution was a result of a planned meeting to discuss the issue and will be held on November 30, 8 pm in the Oak Lawn Community High School Little Theatre.

The resolution states that a small group of Southwest Suburban Mayors have proposed a single "Super City". Mayor Ernie Kolb has voiced his objection on numerous occasions and also to the news media. The resolution continues:

WHEREAS, a consolidation such as this would mean the establishment of a 250,000 person megalopolis that would create Illinois' second largest city; thereby abolishing the close rapport that our citizens have with their own local government officials who work with dedicated effort to make the highest quality of life available to them;

WHEREAS, additional personnel would be needed because many of the municipalities involved do not have full-time firemen or full-time policemen; the fact that some of these communities are in a Fire District and do not maintain their own Fire Department; with 80% of the Village of Oak Lawn's budget made up of personnel, this increase in manpower would call for additional dollars to be levied;

WHEREAS, there is a question of Police Pension Funds and Fire Pension Funds some of which are properly funded and funds that are lacking would have to be brought up to a proper level comparable to that of Oak Lawn,

WHEREAS, there is already in existence a Fire Department Mutual Aid Agreement between the Village of Oak Lawn and District One, District Two and the City of Chicago thus eliminating the need to create one massive city,

NOW, THEREFORE, I, MAYOR ERNEST F. KOLB, on behalf of the President

Look alike drugs felony with Yourell bill

State Representative Harry "Bus" Yourell has introduced legislation to out-law so-called "look-alike" drugs.

"Unscrupulous drug dealers think they have found a way around the law by manufacturing drugs that look like and have the same effect as illegal drugs, but contain no illegal substances," Yourell said. "My bill will make it a felony for anyone to manufacture, market or sell any drug that resembles an illegal drug."

House Bill 1988 places look-alike drugs under the same state statutes controlling the illicit drugs they resemble and makes any violation a Class 4 felony.

"Look-alike drugs can have the same lethal effect and Board of Trustees, do hereby publicly go on record as strongly opposing the concept of the "Second City" being proposed by some of the leaders of our neighboring suburban communities and urge our citizens to express their views to their legislators in Springfield.

as the real things," Yourell said. "In fact, they are more dangerous because people think they are safe."

Yourell noted that local, state and federal authorities have begun a crack-down on "look-alike" drug dealers.

"My bill will close the loophole these dope dealers have been hiding behind," Yourell said.

This legislation is another in a series introduced by Yourell in his campaign against the dope dealing business in Illinois.

One of his bills, House Bill 249, which was signed into law this fall, sets bail and fines for dope dealers at the same amount as the street value of the substances they possessed when arrested. By raising the ante

Air Force speaks to pay raise for recruits

Single men and women who enlist in the Air Force will now earn more than $800 per month in pay and allowances as a result of the recent military pay raise approved by Congress. According to Lt. Col. Boyce W. Wiltrout, commander of the Air Force recruiting, here, "Most single airmen receive quarters and meals in lieu of cash. Their monthly taxable income is $551.40."

A married enlistee will earn $891.90 monthly, while a married college graduate, newly commissioned as a second lieutenant, will begin earning $1430 per month in pay and allowances.

The Air Force also offers programs where eligible young men and women can enter the Air Force at an accelerated pay grade. One of these programs is the "Stripes for College Experience" program, where 17 to 27 year olds with 45 semester hours or 67 quarter hours college credit may apply for enlistment at the rank of Airman First Class (E-3 pay grade), Colonel Wiltrout said.

"We also expect this excellent pay increase to attract nearly 6800 men and women with prior military experience. We need more high quality middle-managers to help maintain this country's most technical fighting force," Wiltrout said.

Complete details of the pay raise, Air Force enlistment programs, and prior service opportunities are available from your local Air Force recruiter listed in the white pages of the telephone directory under "U.S. Government."

Fewer trucks breaking law with new Huskey bill

There will be fewer trucks breaking the law on Illinois roads and highways as the result of legislation sponsored in the House by State Representative Herb Huskey.

The proposal (SB 666) passed the Genral Assembly last spring, but was later amended by Governor Thompson's veto. The General Assembly accepted the governor's changes last month, thereby allowing the bill to become law.

"The Illinois Commerce Commission (ICC) issues certificates of operation to qualified carriers," Huskey said, "but enforcement of the motor carrier laws by the ICC and the State Police hasn't been tough enough.

"The new law gives the Secretary of State Police the same enforcement authority," he noted. "This expanded law enforcement will help decrease violations by trucks."

According to Huskey, the Commerce Commission estimates that the expanded enforcement authority will increase the fines collected.

Additional information is available from Huskey at 424-5000.

Realtors sell tickets on new home fund raiser

A $230,000 new home is the prize in a March of Dimes raffle to raise funds for the prevention of birth defects. Tickets, at $100 each, are being sold by Chicago area Realtors and volunteers.

The contemporary brick and cedar home is located in northwest suburban Sleepy Hollow, according to Dennis Spicer, the coordinator of the activity who said "This is a once in a lifetime opportunity to win an elegant and spacious home for the price of a raffle ticket while aiding the March of Dimes in the battle against birth defects, the nation's most serious child health problem."

Set on 5/8's acre of a wooded hillside, the multi-level home is only minutes from schools, parks, transportation and shopping. The home, designed and constructed by Oxford Builders, features eight rooms, including three bedrooms, sunken living room, formal dining room, dinette area, kitchen, family room and three bathrooms. In addition, there are two lower levels, perfect for more bedrooms, use as a family entertainment or exercise center and space for laundry facilities.

Other amenities include wiring thruout for a stereo speaker system and patio

Volunteer for Christ Hospital delivered meals program

A former senior engineer for People's Gas Company, Oak Lawn resident Thomas Johnston, on the first day of his retirement signed up as a volunteer driver for Christ Hospital's home delivered meals program. "I wanted to keep busy," he explains, "and I've been averaging better than two days a week since I volunteered due to the shortage of drivers." At 55 he is not looking forward to permanent retirement but instead is taking his time considering career alternatives, possibly drawing on his long-time interest in photography.

More volunteers like Johnston are needed to meet the expanding needs of the program, which serves southwest suburban adults who are shut-ins, convalescents or chronically ill and unable to shop and prepare meals. Anyone interested who has a car and free time between 11 am and 12:30 pm on any weekday should call 425-8000, ext 5258 or 5269.

tickets or more information contact your local Realtor; or call Spicer and Spicer, Ltd., 636-5555; or the March of Dimes, 341-1370.

Announce madrigal dinner feast

In the spirit of Renaissance England, Trinity Christian College is proud to present "A Great and Mighty Wonder," the annual madrigal dinner feasts. Once again the college Dining Hall will be transformed into a 16th century feasting hall complete with roving minstrels and court jesters.

The evening will begin with a trumpet fanfare announcing the procession of the Trinity Christian College Madrigal Ensemble, dressed in old English garb.

The second fanfare calls forth the bearer of the Wassail Bowl for the toast to the Christmas season. As the celebration progresses, additional fanfares announce the arrival of the traditional Boar's Head and Flaming Plum Pudding. An air of excitement fills the Feasting Hall as the Madrigal Ensemble, in word and song, tell the story of Christ's birth.

This year's Madrigal Dinners will be held Thursday thru Saturday on December 3-5 and 10-12. Reservations may be made beginning on Monday, November 2 thru the college's Development Office. Tickets are $12 and can be purchased in person or thru the mail. No phone reservations will be accepted. Doors will open at 7 pm and dinner begins at 7:30 pm. For more information, call 312-597-3000, ext. 29.

Heritage Standard donates grant to LCMH

Little Company of Mary Hospital has received a grant of $10,000 from the Heritage Standard Bank for their new thirty-one million dollar addition that will be built on the front lawn of the hospital.

vation of Little Company of Mary Hospital is a project in which everyone can become involved. By supporting this essential building program, foundations, corporations, individuals, businesses and organizations served by the hospital will be insuring for themselves, their families and their employees the highest quality health care in a most up-to-date facility. Through the generosity of friends and neighbors, LCMH will continue to grow and serve community residents.

by John Hogan

News Information Supervisor
Commonwealth Edison Co.

Two reports that crossed my desk recently indicate that vandals and con artists, both chronic problems for utility customers, have been busy in Commonwealth Edison's service territory.

A customer on Chicago's south side reported that a woman who claimed to be an Edison service representative telephoned to say she had a $60 deposit to be refunded. The customer alertly called Edison to double check and learned that the call was bogus -- at best a hoax or possibly the opening ploy of a confidence game.

Sometimes con artists, who work alone or in small groups, arrive at the door, claiming the utility owes a refund, but they require change for a large denomination bill. Other times, they might claim that a home's wiring is causing trouble in the power lines down the street, and they need to conduct an investigation.

Regardless of the method used, the intention is nearly always the same: to gain entry to the home in order to commit robbery. In some cases one imposter will keep the homeowner occupied in one room while his partner ransacks another part of the house.

Commonwealth Edison does not conduct unsolicited wiring inspections, and if a refund is due, it will be made by check. Bona fide utility workers carry picture identification cards and should display them when seeking entry to a home.

Householders who doubt the identity of a person claiming to work for Commonwealth Edison should do as the customer mentioned above did and contact the local Edison service office. The phone number is listed in the white pages of the directory.

Meanwhile, the next time electric power goes out in your neighborhood, there is a chance you will be able to thank vandals for the inconvenience. Thousands of electricity customers are deprived of service each year because some mindless persons' idea of sport is to shoot at wires or equipment on poles or cause other damage. Recently, nearly four thousand customers in the Kankakee area were without power for more than half an hour because someone shot out equipment atop a pole.

In some cases of vandalism, a power outage does not occur immediately. For example, insulators that support wires on a pole may be weakened by a shot but not give way till the next storm. When this occurs, the power line can fall to the ground. A downed wire can be extremely dangerous, and a person coming in contact with it could suffer serious injury or even death. Power outages are bad enough, but injury or death, perhaps to a child, would be a tragedy.

If you see anyone committing acts of vandalism to electrical wires or equipment, please call your local police immediately. You might be able to prevent a disruption of service to your own home or neighborhood, and you might even save a life.

SXC Theatre II plays

The delightful comedy, "Butterflies are Free" is scheduled on February 19, 20, 21, 24, 26, 27 and 28. The play tells the tender story of a blind boy who falls in love with the "dizzy" girl next door.

"Equus," by Peter Shaffer, will be presented April 23, 24, 25, 28, 30 and May 1 and 2. This stunning drama tells of a boy who blinds six horses and a doctor who attempts to exorcise the boy's fury without killing his passion for life.

Monticello extends warm welcome to Leslie Ohm

Joyce Hrabec, Administrator of Monticello Convalescent Center, expresses a warm welcome to Leslie Ohm.

Americana Healthcare Corporation recently announced the appointment of Leslie Ohm as permanent administrator of the Americana Healthcare Center in Oak Lawn.

Leslie, a native of Chicago, joined Americana in 1980 under the corporate Administrator-In-Training program. Prior to assuming her new position, she served as Acting Administrator of the Oak Lawn facility.

After serving in the United States Navy for four years as a Hospital Corpsman, Ohm graduated with honors from Southern Illinois U with a BA in Hospital Administration. She received her Illinois Nursing Home Administrator's license in January of this year.

The Americana Healthcare Center and the Monticello Convalescent Center of Oak Lawn are two of 58 facilities operated by Americana Healthcare Corporation in the midwest and southeast. The company operates a total of 24 facilities in Illinois.

Joyce Hrabec, Administrator of the Monticello Convalescent Center, also in Oak Lawn, expressed a warm welcome to Leslie Ohm on her appointment. The two administrators, working in cooperation, will support each other and provide the Oak Lawn community with a unique quality of care at both of the centers.

TO SLEEP IS HUMAN. TO SLEEP DURING THE DAY IS DIVINE.

If you were in our shoes, you'd think so too.

Because the way things are now, when nearly everybody's up during the day, it's not so divine. The cost of producing electricity goes up.

You see, the eight million people we serve use an enormous amount of electricity before they go to bed. And our main generating stations, the ones that run on coal and uranium, have an impossible time handling the demand. It takes our oil burners to pull us through.

But oil is far more expensive than coal and uranium. So during the day, electricity costs far more to make. Up to four and a half times more than at night.

Of course, if half of us would volunteer to start sleeping during the day, it would hold down the demand. Which would also hold down the amount of oil we have to burn, the number of new generating stations we have to build, and the size of the electric bills you have to pay every month.

Since that's asking an awful lot, though, you'll be relieved to know there are other ways to get the job done. Nothing earthshaking. Just conserving a little more in the daytime.

Like not using your air conditioner so much on those scorching summer days. Or not running the dishwasher till 9 or 10 p.m. Or the clothes dryer. Or other easy things like that.

When enough people go along, they really can make a difference.

All we have to do is do it together. That's the key. To keeping costs down. To getting some control over tomorrow.

If we only wake up.

Commonwealth Edison
Don't take tomorrow for granted.

Mr Sniffy, along with Fire Inspector John Butler, showed the students how to STOP - DROP - and - ROLL if you catch on fire. They also showed what to do at home if there is a fire during the night. You should roll out of bed, crawl to the door and feel it for heat. If the door is hot, don't open it. Crawl to the window and if it's a first floor window, climb out. ## Puppets aid French class

French classes at Oak Lawn Community High School use puppets when acting out skits they have written. The puppets, stage and backdrops were created by the French Club to represent different segment of the student population: the jock, the cheerleader and the blue jean set. Kermit et al were added to represent the fantasy or "adult" world outside.

"Often your most creative students are too self-conscious to act in front of their peers," says Marilyn Williams, French teacher. "With puppets, they attain a certain degree of anonymity since they can hide under the table and be invisible."

One of her animal puppets is a donkey from Germany. "When assigning roles, I only ask that the donkey not be the teacher," she added with a laugh.

Firefighters prepare teachers for proper use of fire extinguishers

This fall, 15 teachers from Oak Lawn Schools donned fire fighting gear to complete a course offered by the Oak Lawn Fire Department Bureau of Fire Prevention.

This course is a combined effort thru Moraine Valley Community College and the Oak Lawn Fire Department. The course consists of three 2½ hour classroom sessions and 4 hours of hands-on fire extinguishment.

During the classroom sessions, the teachers are instructed on the History of Fire Prevention, U.S. Fire Statistics, Chemistry of Fire, Fire Prevention, and Personal Fire Safety.

During Session Four, which is the hands-on session, they are instructed on how to use portable fire extinguishers, shown a demonstration of the burning characteristics of various clothing material, a demonstration of the burning characteristics of household furnishings, and extinguishing an interior fire.

The goal of the course is to provide this training to the teacher who will, in turn, share their experience and knowledge with their students.

One hundred thirty six teachers have completed the course since its inception four years ago.

Families advised have plan of action in case of fire

Winter, historically, is the time of year when property damage, injuries, and deaths increase because of fires in the home.

The danger of fire can never be ignored; and that is why, at this time of year, it is important to sit down with the entire family and discuss a plan of action in the event of a fire in your home.

Following are some basic hints that may help you effectively deal with a fire emergency in your home.

1) Install smoke detectors on each level of your home, especially near the sleeping areas.

2) Sleep with your bedroom doors closed. An ordinary door, if closed, will keep out the heat and smoke from a fire long enough for your family to escape from the house via the windows.

3) Have an escape plan. Make sure everyone understands the danger of smoke and the importance of keeping close to the floor in a fire situation. Teach everyone how to feel the door before opening it to determine whether or not there is a fire on the other side.

Does everyone in the family know how to open their bedroom windows and escape by this route? Be sure that everyone knows where to meet once they are out of the house and make certain that nobody goes back into the house until the Fire Department says it is okay. Do not call the Fire Department from your own home if you have a fire - get everyone out and use a neighbor's telephone.

When you leave your children in the care of a babysitter, take the time to familiarize the babysitter with your fire emergency procedures.

If for any reason, you have difficulty formulating a fire safety plan, feel free to contact the Oak Lawn Fire Prevention Bureau, 422-0388, and they will do all that they can to assist you.

It's beginning to look a lot like Christmas

*The Birthday of the Saviour is here, and we are once again reminded that Christmas is a family day . . . a day of reunions and feasting, and a day of joyous gifting. But let us not forget, as we fill the stockings and surround the tree with packages, the most important gifts of all
. . . the gifts that bear neither price tags nor gay wrappings, yet are of infinite value. These are the gifts of kindness, tolerance, consideration and compassion. Let us hope that this Christmas will revive the true spirit of giving that began with the Birth of a Holy Child . . . to bring peace and good will to all.*

Oak Lawn village board passes real estate transfer tax

No amount of persuasion by various Oak Lawn realtors and members of the Southwest Board of Realtors moved the village fathers into changing their minds on the passing of the "real estate transfer tax" of $5 per every $1000 on the sale of a home. The tax would cost the seller $500 on the sale of a $100,000 home. The vote was 5-1 with Trustee Charles Meloun casting the only "no" vote.

The board had considered a $5 increase in sticker license fees which would generate $150,000 but after discussion the fee will stay at $20. The senior citizen sticker cost was reduced from $9 to $7 in 1982.

A 10% raise in salary was approved for the department heads. Discussion on other raises for other personnel is still in executive session.

The property owners will have an increase this year of approximately 12¢ per every hundred dollars of assessed valuation. This is not the exact final figure as there is still work being done on the budget at this time. The tax rate last year was $1.64 per every hundred dollars of assessed valuation and jumped to $1.76½ per every hundred. The breakdown figures include a 6¢ increase in the General Fund, 2¢ increase in both the Police and Fire Pension funds and 2¼¢ for the Oak Lawn Library.

'Y' Camp Pinewood holding 6th Annual Winter Camp

It's Monday morning, December 28. Your holiday babysitter is late, the new toys need batteries or reassembling and the kids are complaining "cause there's nothing to do".

Relax, there is a solution. A good one. 'Y' Camp Pinewood is holding its 6th annual winter camp December 28 - January 1. Winter campers will depart early Monday morning and return late Friday afternoon (allowing parents to sleep in New Years Day. Think of the possibilities that brings to mind!! A quiet brunch? Another party? or just more shut eye).

All the cabins and building are heated, there is plenty of hot water for showers. Excellent food (pizza, spaghetti and all the favorites) is served up hot and tasty by the camp's full-time cook, along with plenty of hot chocolate and snacks. The program is an outstanding blend of outside and inside activities: sledding, skating, snow sculpting, crafts, sing-alongs, roller skating and more. The highlights of the week are downhill and/or cross country skiing.

For parents peace of mind, campers are carefully supervised by mature, trained camp counselors. A nurse is in residence (just in case) and campers are watched carefully for wet coats, hats and "where are your mittens?" etc. (Sound familiar?) Also, round trip coach bus transportation is included in the fee with pick up at your local YMCA.

Call Bill Mathis, Director at 748-0818 or the YMCA at G.S.U. 534-5800 or Southwest YMCA 385-6700.

Fight cancer with Holiday Cards

A way to say "Happy Holidays" and fight cancer at the same time is being offered by the Evergreen Park Unit of the American Cancer Society. Proceeds from the project will support programs in cancer research, education, service and early detection.

Jean Blasi of the First National Bank of Evergreen Park is pictured above on the left purchasing her supply of American Cancer Society Christmas cards from Gary Kummer, chairman of the Evergreen Park Unit and President of Concordia Federal Savings and Loan Association.

These cards are available in boxes of 25 and can be ordered with or without a personal imprint by contacting Mrs. Blasi at the First National Bank of Evergreen Park or by calling her at 422-6700.

"Last year, a large number of south suburban residents obtained holiday cards thru a contribution to the Cancer Society," Kummer said, "and we hope that even more people will take advantage of the offer this year. The cards are very attractive and also contain a logo showing that they represent a gift to the American Cancer Society. Sharing these cards with friends and loved ones is not only a nice way to wish them happy holidays, but also an excellent way to help in the efforts to conquer cancer in our lifetime."

What to wear on on Carribean trip

If you're one of those lucky women who's looking forward to a trip to the Carribean this season, you're probably already wondering what type of clothing you'll need for the warm climate. One thing to remember is that the marvelous Trade Winds make the evenings balmy and pleasant. The days are wonderfully warm and just tailor-made for unwinding on those beautiful Carribean beaches.

For daytime shopping trips, light cottons or synthetics are best. Sleeveless dresses that are belted and unlined are coolest. You won't want to waste a second of that precious vacation time, so be sure your dresses are the drip-dry type that don't need ironing. You'll need a couple of dinner dresses of linen, silk or other dressier material. Scarves to protect your hair from the strong breezes are a good idea too.

Bring a pair of comfortable, well broken in walking shoes, plus a pair of shoes for dress. You'll want a sweater or stole for evening. And of course, don't forget that bathing suit.

Our expert staff is anxious to assist you with all of your travel plans. Stop in at 5615 W. 95th Street and see us soon.

DE PAUL CHRISTMAS TOY PROGRAM

DePaul U's campus

by John Hogan

News Information Supervisor
Commonwealth Edison Co.

Wood burning stoves have become increasingly popular in recent years, so it's important that anyone who plans to install or operate one is familiar with some basic safety rules.

*If you're planning to install a wood burning stove, first contact your local building inspector to make sure you are in compliance with local building codes. Also have the inspector check the safety of the installation before you fire up the stove.

*Keep combustible materials a safe distance away from the stove and stovepipe.

*Do not dry clothing by placing it on or above the stove. Left unattended, clothes can heat quickly to the point of combustion.

*Place a fence or sturdy screen around the stove to protect toddlers. Teach children that a stove is not a toy, and remind them not to place any articles in or on the stove.

*Keep baking soda available when cooking to put out grease fires. Always have a fire extinguisher handy, and if you haven't already done so, install a smoke alarm.

*Do not place aerosol cans or anything else that might explode near the stove.

*Clean your stove regularly. Don't allow ash buildup to interfere with the operation of the draft caps, and don't allow ashes to spill freely out the front of the stove.

*Regularly inspect your stovepipe for creosote buildup and loose fitting joints. Also check the chimney for loose mortar and cracks that will allow heat and gases to re-enter your house.

Chimney installation is very important to safe operation and must be done correctly. If you plan to use an existing chimney, make sure it doesn't have any holes or openings in the joints or liner; make sure it is clean and free of creosote buildup; see that the top of the chimney extends several feet above the highest point on the roof; and never connect two stoves on the same level to one chimney.

If you follow these basic rules, you can look forward to many warm -- and safe -- days and nights in the coming winter months.

ministry, in cooperation with St. Vincent de Paul Center, a day care facility at 2145 N. Halsted Street, is sponsoring its annual DePaul Christmas toy giving tree program.

New toys for children ages 1-12 will be collected and distributed to the poorest families in the Lincoln Park neighborhood and on the near north side.

Toys may be delivered to the campus ministry's offices in room 1617 of the Frank J. Lewis Center, 25 E. Jackson Blvd., on DePaul's Loop campus, or second floor, Stuart Center, 2324 N. Seminary Avenue, and room 202 McGaw Hall 802 W. Belden Avenue, on DePaul's Lincoln Park campus.

Donations are also welcome. Checks should be made payable to Christmas Sotre. St. Vincent de Paul Center. Enclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope for your receipt.

Why your electric company is plugging coal and uranium.

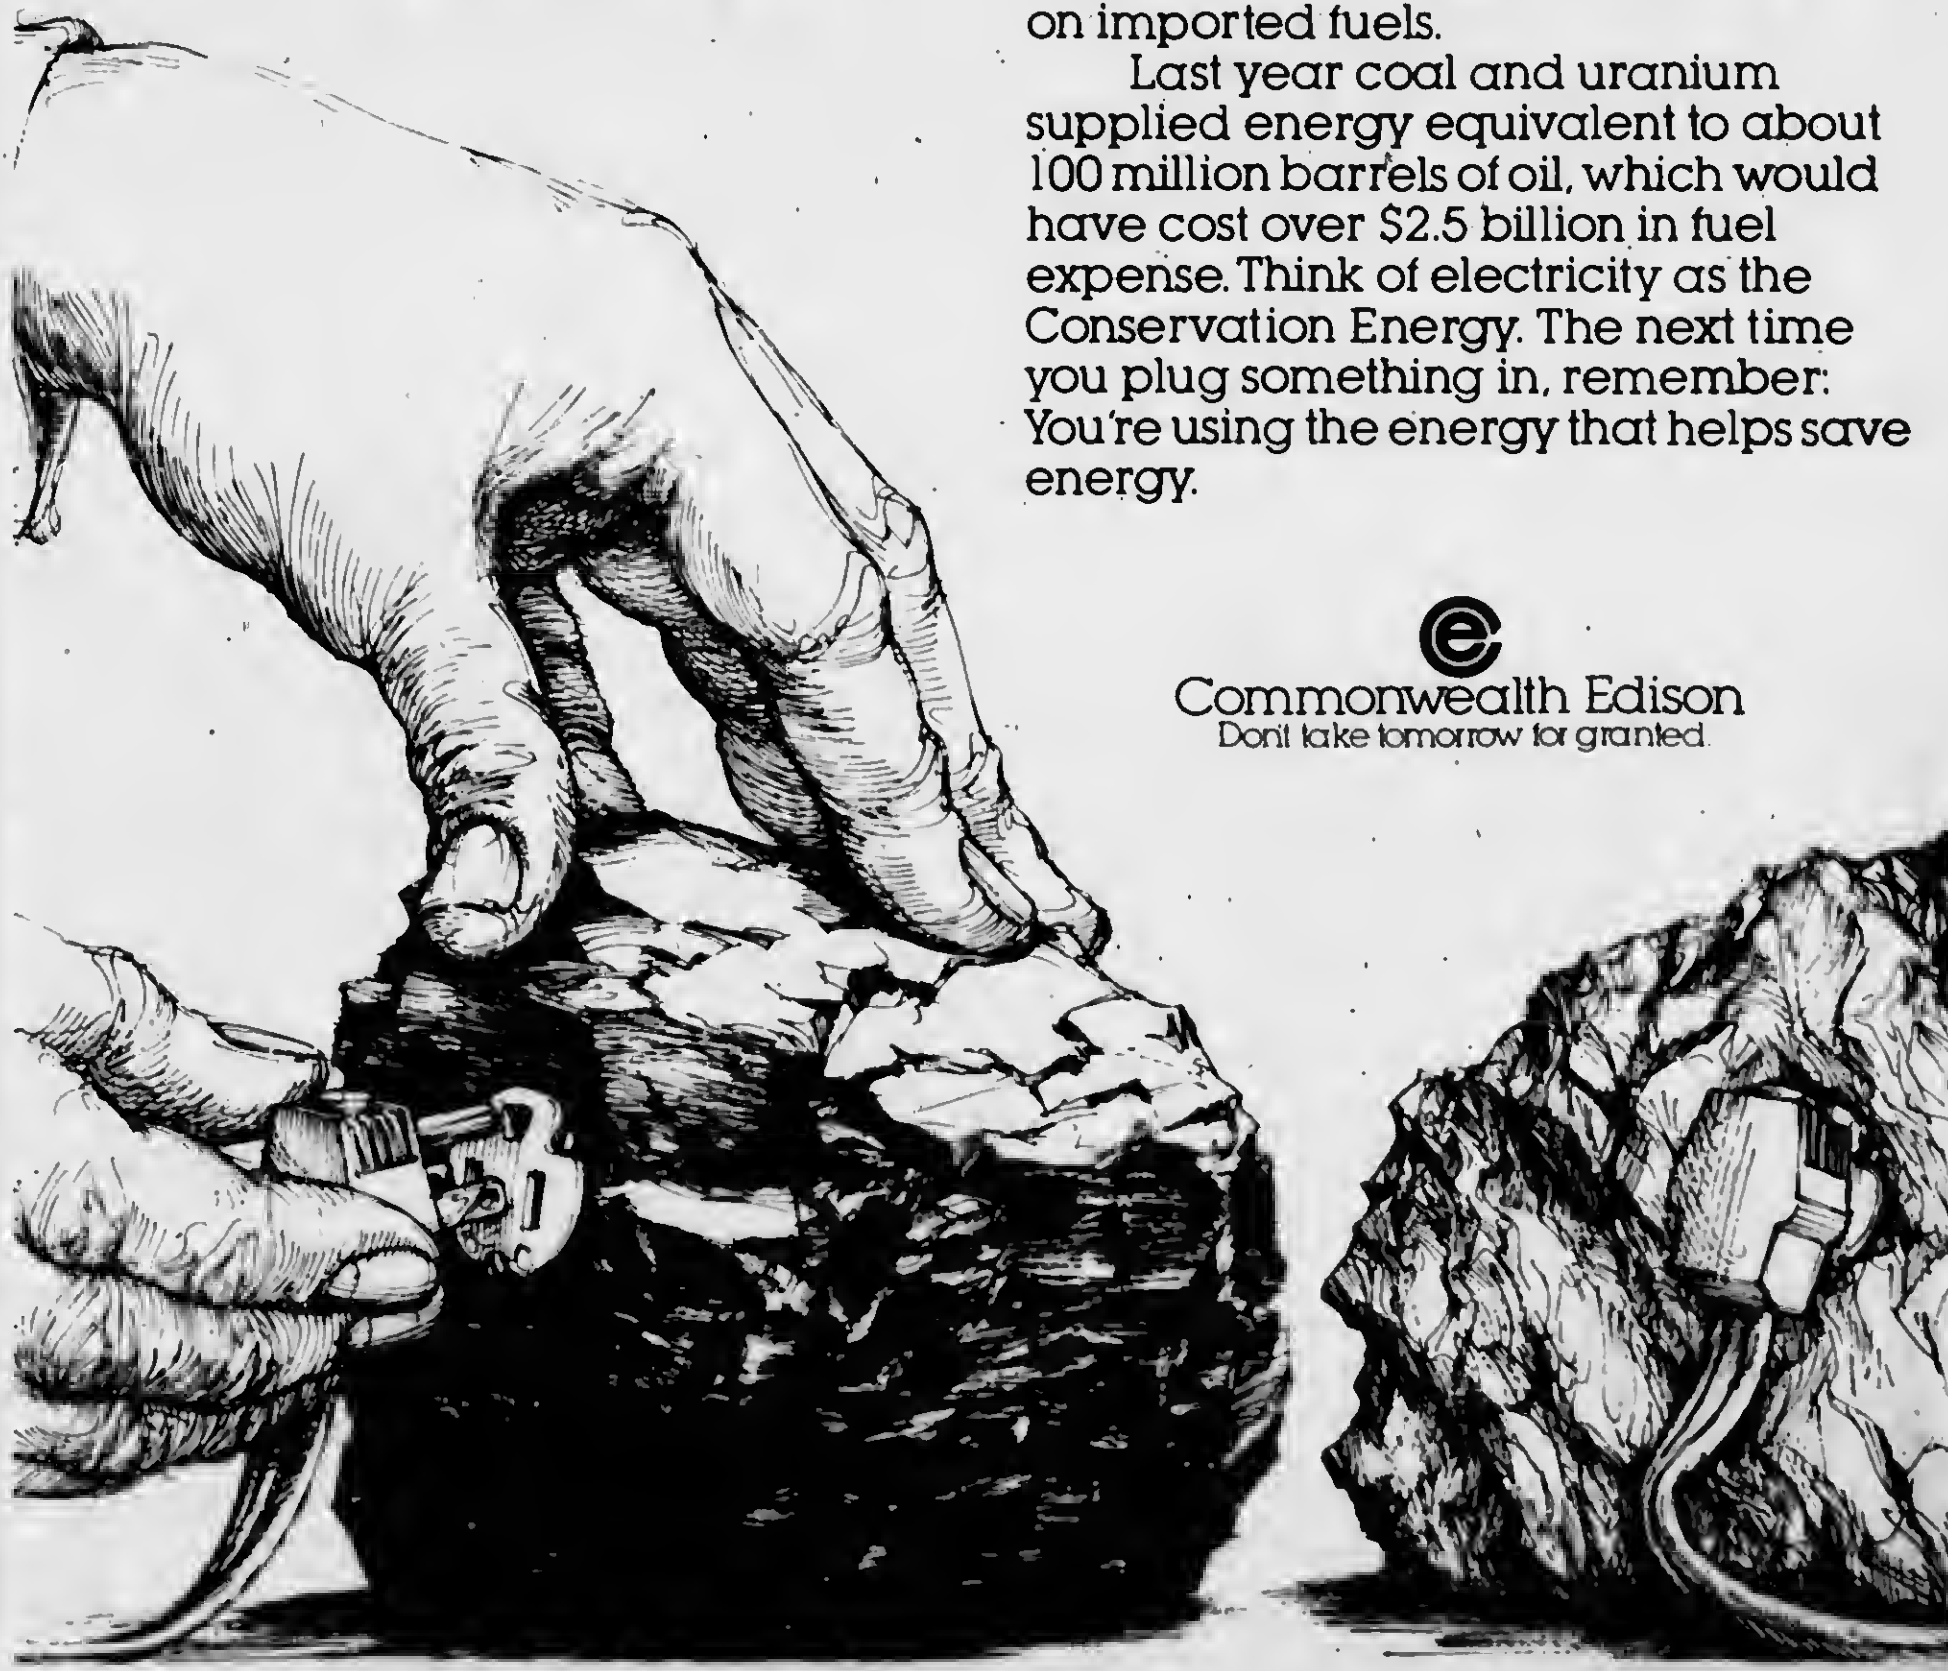

There are really only two fuels. The scarce ones and the abundant ones.

The more dependent we are on the scarce fuels to make electricity, the less certain we can be that there will always be enough electricity.

And the more costly that electricity becomes.

So at Commonwealth Edison, we make almost half of our electricity from coal and most of the rest from uranium. Both are abundant fuels. By using them, we're helping to conserve America's oil and natural gas resources for transportation and other vital energy needs. And we're lessening our reliance on imported fuels.

Last year coal and uranium supplied energy equivalent to about 100 million barrels of oil, which would have cost over $2.5 billion in fuel expense. Think of electricity as the Conservation Energy. The next time you plug something in, remember: You're using the energy that helps save energy.

New Year Message from Mayor Ernie Kolb

In July of 1982, the Village of Oak Lawn will celebrate the Centennial of its founding. I view the course of this hundred years, Oak Lawn has gone from a farm community to a rapidly growing suburban center to a mature residential community. To commemorate this "Century of Progress", the Village will hold a gala celebration from July 1st to July 11, 1982. Some of the events scheduled are a Dinner/Dance, Foodfest, Art Fair, Colossal Parade and numerous other civic events to commemorate this milestone in Oak Lawn's History.

During this period, Oak Lawn has developed into a progressive, vibrant community. But a "Century of Progress" also produces certain problems. As a community matures, vacant land available for development disappears and the growth of the Village's assessed valuation, which directly affects the amount of revenue generated by property taxes, slows. Also the general condition of the U.S. economy has slowed the growth of all Village revenue sources. With all of this in mind, the Village entered 1981 with a very austere, conservative budget. But even with an austere budget the Village has not had to resort to cutbacks in services. Thru the reorganization of several departments, the Village has been able to maintain our high level of services and still operate with a balanced budget.

In July of 1982, the Village of Oak Lawn will celebrate the Centennial of its founding. As I view the course of this hundred years, Oak Lawn has gone from a farm community to a rapidly growing suburban center to a mature residential community. To commemorate this "Century of Progress", the Village will hold a gala celebration from July 1st to July 11, 1982. Some of the events scheduled are a Dinner/Dance, Foodfest, Art Fair, Colossal Parade and numerous other civic events to commemorate this milestone in Oak Lawn's History.

During this period, Oak Lawn has developed into a progressive, vibrant community. But a "Century of Progress" also produces certain problems. As a community matures, vacant land available for development disappears and the growth of the Village's assessed valuation, which directly affects the amount of revenue generated by property taxes, slows. Also the general condition of the U.S. economy has slowed the growth of all Village revenue sources. With all of this in mind, the Village entered 1981 with a very austere, conservative budget. But even with an austere budget the Village has not had to resort to cutbacks in services. Thru the reorganization of several departments, the Village has been able to maintain our high level of services and still operate with a balanced budget.

Even in a period of austerity, the Village has been able to move forward on several programs.

Thru the aggressive efforts of elected officials and staff, the Village has received approval of a Federal Grant for the purchase and construction of the commuter parking lot. This project should commence in the Spring of 1982. Also all Police Department squad cars are being converted from gasoline to natural gas. It is anticipated that not only will this reduce fuel costs, but it will also reduce maintenance costs significantly.

Two major, future projects studied this year were the street improvement program for the northwest area and a few fire station for the west side of the Village. Public Hearings have been held and an innovative financing program has been developed which should enable us to begin construction on Phase I of the street project in the Spring of 1982. Construction may also begin this Spring on the fire station if adequate financing can be arranged.

Looking to 1982, the

Mayor Ernest F. Kolb

Village will again be on an austerity budget. Except for the two projects mentioned above, no new programs or services have been funded. Inflation has increased our costs, just as it has impacted the budget of every resident of the community. To continue to provide the level of services that our residents deserve and expect, it will be necessary to raise some taxes in 1982. But these increases will be kept to a minimum.

Oak Lawn may be a hundred years old, but it certainly has no intention of acting its age. Your elected officials and staff will continue to investigate and implement innovative programs which will continue to provide the highest possible level of services at the lowest cost.

On behalf of the Board and myself, I personally want to thank all the people in the Village of Oak Lawn for making it the community that it is. Without your help this couldn't be possible. For all your support and kindness to the Village Staff over the years is most appreciated. We want you all to have a most Happy and Healthy New Year in 1982.

Russo asks for time in Poland effort

Congressman Marty Russo recently called for a period of prayerful waiting over the latest crisis in Poland. "We have all watched with hope and inspiration the brave actions of the people of that troubled and brave nation," Russo said. "Now the reforms and victories won over the last 18 months are in danger of being wiped out with one ruthless stroke."

In a letter to President Reagan, Congressman Russo urged the Administration to use all diplomatic efforts to allow the Polish people the time and freedom to work out their own problems without interference from any outside entity. "This is not the time for the United States to react publicly or to take any action which could escalate the problem," said Russo, "but it is most emphatically a time at which we must let the Soviet Union and its Warsaw Pact allies know that there would be the most serious of consequences if they, in any way, interfere in the internal affairs of Poland."

Russo said that he hopes that the prayers of all the world could be directed toward asking for a peaceful mediation of this crisis by involving the military, the Church, the people of Poland as represented by "Solidarity," and all other elements within Poland in a quick end to martial law and peace with a new direction in Poland.

"If this happens, not only will the many people of Polish descent within this nation be better able to celebrate this most joyous of holidays, but the world can collectively give thanks for a deliverance from potential conflict and the beginning of a new tomorrow."

Wilson Relief Fund still open

Contributions continue to come in for the Michael Wilson Relief Fund according to Sandy Gilbert, chairman.

"So many groups and individuals have responded to the needs of this family, and we are grateful to each and every one of the individuals, who are a part of it."

Michael Wilson, 9, remains in a coma since August 29 when he was struck by a car. He was recently transferred from Christ Hospital to the Markland Children's Home in Bloomington.

The fund drive was initiated to help Michael's parents, Mr and Mrs Hiram Wilson, Oak Lawn, with the cost of continuing medical and nursing bills. Donations can be mailed to the Michael Wilson Relief Fund, c/o of the First National Bank of Oak Lawn, 9400 S. Cicero, Oak Lawn, IL 60453.

Rep Yourell added that "In view of the state fiscal condition, we must try to find solutions for errant medical payments made on behalf of recipients of medical assistance who were actually ineligible but were incorrectly determined eligible by the Department of Public Aid."

Rep Yourell concluded by stating that the committee shall consider input from recipients of medical assistance, pro-

Talking smoke detector teaches children nighttime evacuation

Chief Inspector Ron Murray and Firefighter Dan Czarnecki taught fire safety to first graders at the Lawn Manor Primary Center in School District 125. Ron Murray played the important role of Sniffy, the talking smoke detector, while Dan Czarnecki guided the children thru proper nighttime evacuation procedures. Sniffy's loud blast alerted a sleepy volunteer to roll off the bed and crawl to an appropriate exit. The children were rewarded for their attention and participation by receiving Junior Fire Marshal badges from the Oak Lawn Firefighters.

Social Security disability cases to be reviewed

Many people receiving Social Security payments will have their cases re-examined in the near future to make sure they continue to be eligible for benefits, Rosalie Thompson, Social Security District Manager in Evergreen Park, said recently.

Social Security is required to review most disability cases at least once every 3 years starting in 1982 because of the 1980 disability amendments. The reviews are conducted to determine if a person is still disabled," said Mrs

Thompson.

As an important first step in making the required reviews, Social Security is significantly increasing the number of continuing disability investigations it makes. About 350,000 cases will be reviewed during the remainder of this fiscal year. Next year, over 500,000 cases will be reviewed.

The initial cases to be reviewed will be selected based on studies which show those cases most likely to result in recovery. These first investigations will provide more data which should indicate other types of cases that should be reviewed soon.

Social Security disability benefits can only be made to people who have a severe physical or mental impairment expected to prevent them from working for at least 12 months or more or to result in death. People found no longer disabled during the case reviews will have the opportunity to appeal the decision.

TTY for hearing impaired

Telephone equipment, designed to make it easier for Oak Lawn residents who have hearing or speech impairments to place emergency telephone calls, has been installed in the communications room of the Oak Lawn Police Dept. by the Illinois Dept. of Public Health.

The Oak Lawn Committee for the International Year of the Handicapped was also instrumental in having equipment installed. The committee informed the village of the existence of TTY equipment and impressed upon them the need for providing a means of communication between our deaf and speech impaired residents and the Village's Public Safety Departments.

According to Sergeant Robert Scholtes (r), the equipment - a tele-typewriter (TTY) - will make it possible for those who cannot use the ordinary telephone to call for help when they need police, fire or ambulance assistance. "In order to have access to the TTY receiving unit, handicapped persons must install a home unit for sending and receiving messages," he explained. Handicapped individuals with sending units can communicate with the Police Dept. TTY by calling the regular Police emergency number (422-3141). Shown on the left assisting Scholtes is Dispatcher James Blackman.

It is anticipated that with the installation of the TTY equipment, nearly all households where there are handicapped persons will install home units, if they have not already done so. Information concerning home units is available from the Chicago Hearing Society.

The village's TTY was acquired thru a State of Illinois grant. Sergeant Scholtes was instrumental in processing this grant, and the village commends him for the time and effort expended in obtaining this valuable piece of equipment for our community.
